

The New North State.

THURSDAY, NOV. 23, 1871.

PROSPECTUS OF THE NEW NORTH STATE.

The want of a Republican Journal established upon a secure basis has long been felt in that section of the State of which Greensboro is the center.

The type, press and fixtures of the "Republican" having been purchased and placed under our control, with guarantees of material support from responsible parties, we propose to supply this want and publish a paper to be called THE NEW NORTH STATE.

In making this announcement we assure the people that there will be no more failures: our paper is to be published continuously, and those who give it their support can confidently rely upon receiving all they pay for.

Connected with our office will be a Job Department and it is our intention to compete for the patronage of the public.

Our plan of publication is to make a good family newspaper—a newspaper that will be welcome to every household.

So far as politics are concerned, the creed of the National Republican party will be the creed of the NEW NORTH STATE.

While we acknowledge the State to be subordinate and dependent upon the General Government, we yet desire and intend to make our paper an advocate of the interests of North Carolina; not the old, but the New North State: for we consider the new order of things to be better than the old, and faithfully believe that the newly established regime will bring to our people renewed activity and abundant felicity.

Organization is the soul of strength. Neither an army nor a political party can be successful without thorough organization.

Next year will occur the election of a President of the United States. It will be an election of vast moment to the Southern people.

As for ourself, we promise to labor earnestly and constantly to establish this new enterprise; and being certain of the permanency of our paper, we ask our party friends and the public generally to give us a hearty support.

TERMS:—Two Dollars a year invariably in advance. All subscriptions and communications should be sent to JOSEPH H. FETZER, Publisher, Greensboro, N. C.

TO OFFICE-HOLDERS.

The remarks we propose making will not of course apply to Democratic office holders, of whom, we are sorry to say, there are a few in North Carolina; but to those of our own political faith, who are somewhat numerous in the State.

We assume that every man of sense will see the value of a good newspaper in sustaining the organization and consolidating the strength of his political party.

We do not ask office holders, or others, to donate money, but we request and expect them to take our paper and use their influence to extend its circulation.

There are also numerous office holders who have at their command much patronage; but they give what printing they can control to Democratic journals, complaining at the same time, that they cannot rely upon the regular appearance of their own party organ.

Nothing is wanting to place upon a secure foundation a Republican newspaper in Greensboro, except systematized effort; and whom should the effort be made, if not by the men who are made leaders and representatives of their party?

THE TRUE SPIRIT.

The following extracts from the Raleigh Carolinian of Nov. 12th, speak for themselves.

No circumstances justify this sort of thing. There are instances when lynch law has seemed to have served a good purpose, and brought peace and quiet to the community.

The time has come for men to speak out plainly on this subject, and the Democrats must and shall repudiate these scourges and assassins, and aid in bringing them to punishment.

We are glad that a respectable and ably conducted Democratic journal, published in the State Capital, discarding the language of apology, denounces in fitting terms, the outrages against law and decency committed by wicked and unscrupulous men.

Hon. J. W. Holden is editor of the Daily Times, Leavenworth, Kansas.

THE NEW YORK ELECTION.

The great change in the State of New York at the recent election is a very gratifying one to the lovers of liberty and good government.

Last fall, when the President stationed troops in and about the city of New York, to insure an honest election, Democratic newspapers and orators exclaimed against the "outrage" as an infringement upon the liberties of the people.

By the uncovering of this iniquity, not only has the government of the City of New York been purified, but the vote of the State at large will hereafter have its due weight.

The Grand Duke Alexis, whose visit to this country is attracting so much attention, was born on the 14th day of January, 1850.

OUR MOTTO.—We place at the head of our first page a celebrated saying of ANDREW JACKSON. This motto has been used by many newspapers, but it can never wear out.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.—We are in receipt of this document too late to publish a synopsis. It is an able and comprehensive paper.

He handles our financial embarrassments with great ability. From the accompanying documents we learn that our State debt is as follows:

Principal of entire debt. $29,900,045 Interest due to Oct. 1st, 1871. 4,987,419 Total. $34,887,464

EDITORIAL PARAGRAPHS.

At first we shall be obliged to publish a small sized paper, for the reason that our press will not admit of a larger one, which at the same time will be well shaped.

We have ordered new type to be added to the supply we now have on hand and will receive it in two or three weeks.

We invite correspondence from the many Republicans in our midst of known ability as writers. We also hope that gentlemen in adjoining counties will keep us posted, by correspondence, or otherwise, with items of public interest.

When we have perfected our arrangements for exchanges, we promise to give a greater variety of news and selections than we can now do.

We hope our friends and the friends of Republicanism in adjoining counties will aid to increase our circulation.

The general result of the elections during the summer and fall, North and South, should encourage Republicans to persevere in their good work.

We call upon Republican journals in North Carolina to urge upon their party, thorough preparation for the elections of next year.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The legislature met on Monday. Up to Wednesday night nothing of importance had been done.

The introduction of a few local bills has thus far taken up most of the time of the legislature. The resolution asking Gov. Vance to return his credentials as U. S. Senator, was made a special order by a decided vote.

—We ask the farmers who are friendly to the NEW NORTH STATE to give us any information they can regarding their agricultural pursuits, which we will publish for the benefit of the farming population.

STATE NEWS ITEMS.

From the Wilmington Star: Nov. 15. Wilmington is among the ports, South, where the "cautionary signals" have been ordered to-day by the Signal Service Bureau at Washington.

One of the severest storms of the season passed over this city and vicinity yesterday morning, the tide in the Cape Fear having in the meantime risen to such a height that it seemed the "tidal wave" was in reality coming at last.

Yesterday morning, when the storm was at its height, an old colored woman was passing in the vicinity of Second and Market streets, with an umbrella over her, when the gust of wind suddenly wrenched it from her grasp, and the last we saw of the poor woman's umbrella it was sailing majestically over the top of the old City Hotel building.

The Steamer Mary Sanford, on a voyage from Wilmington to Philadelphia, sprung a leak and was beached off Hatteras, with six feet of water in the hold.

The fair closed on Saturday. The exhibition of articles was good, and on the whole the Cape Fear Agricultural Society have much encouragement from their great success.

Collector Young has asked the District Attorney to libel the ten barrels of whiskey detained from Mr. McAloo of Greensboro, by him, for internal revenue.

It is rumored that Collector S. H. Wiley, of the Sixth District, has resigned, and it is understood that Dr. J. J. Mott, of Catawba Station, has been appointed in his stead.

BIG INSURANCE.—We understand that Thomas Tate, of Charlotte, lately deceased, was insured to nearly a hundred and fifty thousand dollars. His premiums amount to one year to thirteen thousand. Mr. Tate was a very wealthy man outside of his insurance.

Five gentlemen of the Ku Klux Klan, of Harnett county, voluntarily came before Commissioner Shaffer a few days ago and made confessions. They were all let go under administration to go and sin no more.

THE GALLANT HENRY BERRY LOWREY.—This gallant Knight of the Bush recently captured a freight train and compelled the Conductor to "cross" with him in a bar-room near at hand.

The statement that a young lady was stolen from Salem Female Academy, which has been going the rounds of the papers, was a mistake.

Suit for Breach of Promise—$2,000 Damages.—At the last term of the Superior Court for Chatham County, Miss Delany Thomas recovered a judgment against W. W. Womack for the sum of $2000 for a breach of promise of marriage.

Suits of this kind seldom occur in our State.
