THE BEAUTIFUL ARABIAN HORSE

YEMEN.

WILL stand the ensuing season, at my stable in Hillsborough, on the following terms: thirty dollars the season, due the first day of January next, which may be discharged by twenty five dollars in cash; forty dollars to ensure a mare to be in foal due when that fact is ascertained; and for season or insurance, (as the horse is not my property,) is requested that all gentlemen sending mares will at the same time forward their bonds to avoid all those misunderstandings incident to accounts.

YEMEN is a beautiful grey, with dark mane, tail and legs, shining black hoofs of the finest shape. He is about fourteen and a half hands high, and unites the highest finish to great strength in all those points essential to the formation of a superior horse. The subscriber is of opinion that no description could convey a just impression either of his symmetry or action and therefore invites all who have a taste for fine horses, or a wish to breed them, to call and view this first genuine Arabian ever offered to the patronage of the people of North Carolina.

YEMEN has made two seasons in the south, and has shown that he is both a good and a sure foal getter. In 1832, he had one hundred and twenty-seven mares put to him, of these one hundred and twenty-five brought colts; and these are generally considered to be as fine colts as any ever dropped in South Carolina; they are large, handsome and bloodlike; to a beautiful forehead, they invariably unite a strong back and loin, with the finest legs and feet. For some of these the highest prices have been offered and refused although neither mare was bred a race horse.

YEMEN was presented by the present Sultan of Constantinople, to our Agent Mr. Rind, with whom he had just concluded a treaty, as a genuine Arabian purchased for his use at Aleppo from the Arabs of the Desert.

It is fair to presume that the Sultan would not, under the circumstances of the case, have made a present of an inferior horse, and I am therefore induced to believe that he is of the purest Arabian blood. This is the evidence of his stock, and he is only to be seen to have it admitted that he presents the beau ideal of an eastern courser of the purest blood.

The following reasons should induce his patronage by all breeders of fine horses.

No horse has ever distinguished himself on the English turf as a race horse, four mile heat, unless he was entirely of Arabian blood; and those most in vogue in the present day, and those were most. The same rules apply to stallions both in England and in the United States. None are bred but those of the purest Arabian descent, and these are the best which are the most nearly and deeply imbued in that blood. It is asserted by well informed English writers, that no horse has acquired reputation in that country as a distance horse, that was not descended from the Darley or Godolphin Arabians.

It is a well established fact, that the immediate descendants of Arabians, on an average, remain useful horses at least ten years longer than the blood horses of the present day. This is an important consideration with those who raise merely for ordinary uses.

An opinion has been advanced by some, that the colts of Arabians seldom race, but that in the second and third generations they distinguish themselves. Now the fact is this, the best race horses on record were gotten by Arabians. Childers, by the Darley Arabian, is at this day thought to be the best race horse ever trained in England.

The Godolphin Arabian got more race horses than any other stallion in the kingdom, and his colts were particularly distinguished for mile heats. Lath Downum, Regular, Black, Cade, were the best runners in their day, and afterwards the best stallions.

Those who breed for the turf should avail themselves of this chance to raise from a genuine Arabian, because it offers a fair prospect of getting real game stock, and at the same time holds out a promise to correct the most prominent defects of our present turf horses, and bestow that durability and lastingsness now so rare.

The great beauty of the Arabian stock always ensures a ready sale to those who breed horses for market; and the pure blood, longevity, united to their great strength and uncommon powers of endurance, must always render them valuable to those who raise them for mere plantation use.

The subscriber has made arrangements to have the mares, and the boys sent with them, boarded at farms in the vicinity. The mares being thus separated on different plantations, will have a better chance of pasture and attention, and at the same time avoid those various accidents to which they must be liable in crowded lists. They will be well kept, on moderate terms, and gentlemen will be expected to discharge the expense on their removal.

The season commences the first day of February, and ends the first of July. No liability for accidents. The groom will expect a compensation with each mare for his attention in the case.

The editors of the Raleigh Star and Milton Spectator will publish the above one month, and forward their accounts.

SEEDS

Trees, Plants, Domestic Animals, Implements, Books &c &c

For Sale at the AMERICAN FARMER ESTABLISHMENT, No. 16, S. Calvert street, Baltimore, Md.

THE subscriber presents his respects to farmers, gardeners, and dealers in Seeds throughout the United States, particularly his customers, and informs them that he has received from Europe from his own Seed Garden and from various parts of this country, his annual supply of FIELD AND GARDEN SEEDS; and that he is prepared to execute orders, wholesale and retail, with promptness and accuracy, at as low prices, and on as favorable terms as can be afforded by any dealer in the United States, for first rate articles.

FRUIT and ornamental trees and plants, grapevines, strawberries, gooseberry, raspberry, currant, and strawberry plants, bulbous and other flower roots, will at the proper seasons, be procured to order from the best sources including all the principal nurseries and gardens in this country, for most of which the subscriber is agent, also.

PLOUGH, harrows, cut-vators, straw cutters, wheel fairs, corn shellers, threshing machines, and all other kinds of agricultural and horticultural implements, will be procured from the best manufacturers in Baltimore, at the manufacturer's prices.

DOMESTIC ANIMALS, particularly cattle of the improved Durham Shorthorn, the Devon and the Holstein breeds, Sheep of the Bakewell, Southdown, and various fine woolled breeds, Swine of several valuable kinds, especially of the Barnitz breed; Doves of several varieties for our farmer and sportsman; various kinds of Poultry, such as wate turkeys, Brant and Vespalia geese, game and other fowls, and several other species of animals, all of choice breeds, (and no others,) are either kept for sale at the experimental and breeding farm of this establishment, or can be procured from the best sources, to order.

BOOKS, agricultural, horticultural, and botanical, in much greater variety than at the bookstores, some of them rare and particularly valuable, are kept constantly for sale. In short, all articles wanted by farmers and gardeners in the prosecution of their business, are introduced either to be kept on hand, or procured when ordered, for a small commission.

And though last in order here, yet FIRST IN IMPORTANCE to every tiller of the soil and keeper of Domestic Animals, the subscriber offers to them THE SEEDS OF KNOWLEDGE in their vocations. "fish and genuine," having been carefully gathered from the field of experience, and the garden of science—the whole done up in papers and labelled "THE FARMER AND GARDENER AND LIVESTOCK BREEDER AND MANAGER," and dispensed from the printing press of this establishment every Friday in the form of a weekly Agricultural Paper, at $5 a year, payable in advance.

N. B. This periodical is essentially similar to the late AMERICAN FARMER, the publication of which has been for some time past suspended. Address

RURAL ECONOMY.

"May your rich soil, Exuberant, nature's better blessings pour O'er every land."

PRODUCTIVE SMALL FARM.

The Ohio Repository furnishes the following product of 15 acres of improved land. Mr. Thomas Gibbons of Harrison Co. Ohio, has a farm of twenty acres of land, fifteen of which are improved. He keeps three cows, sells 12 lbs. of butter per week, and from 50 to 60 lbs. of cheese per annum. He killed 2,200 lbs. of pork; sold 1,723 lbs. and keeps 7 hogs over winter. He raised 100 bushels of wheat, and 2½ acres of corn, mowed 3 tons of clover hay, and one of timothy; and has from 7 to 8 bushels of clover seed for sale. He keeps two horses and ten head of sheep; has 3 children; and his hired labor cost him but $5.

ORCHARD GRASS.

The graziers of the valley pronounce it more nutritious than either Timothy, Clover or Herds Grass, and it is by uniting this grass with the two first that the proverbially fine pastures and meadows of the central counties of Pennsylvania are formed. It resists the heat of our summers, and recovers from the effects of the houl and the tooth very rapidly; for seed lots two bushels should be sowed to the acre, and for the scythe, or for pasture, the mixture should be one bushel of orchard grass and one gallon of timothy seed, over which a gallon of clover should be scattered in March.

CUTTING TIMBER.

In reply to the inquiry, made by D. R. respecting the proper season for cutting timber, we say that where durability is the object, it should be cut at that season, when there is the least sap in it—say in February; but where it is for the purpose of clearing land, and the timber to be cut is of a kind that is likely to sprout, then it is desirable to have it cut when there is most sap in it, as that not only prevents the stumps from sprouting, but they rot much sooner than when cut in February.

DOCKING HORSES.

We do not know of a more barbarous practice that receives the countenance of intelligent men, and men claiming to be moral and religious, than the practice of docking horses. If there be any one of our humane readers who has never witnessed this inhuman operation, we ask him, before he purchases a horse with only half a tail, to procure a book on farriery, and read a description of it; and we venture to say he will afterwards lend his aid towards abolishing the barbarous practice, by resolving never to buy a horse that has been subject to it. A very small portion of the community acting upon this principle would be sufficient to abolish the practice, because a docked horse would be less saleable than a perfect one. Docking horses appears to us much worse than useless, aside from the barbarity of the practice, for to our view it disfigures the animal; and it appears a mystery that religious persons, in particular, should encourage an attempt to improve what they consider as the work of the Creator. Many farriers have given up docking, and we hope their example will be speedily contagious.

YANKEE ENTERPRISE.

Our marine list announces the arrival of the sloop Exchange, Capt. Taylor, from Ohio via Attakapas! The first trip we imagine, made in the same circuit. We presume Capt. Taylor is from New England; we presume he built the sloop on the Ohio, and filled her there with Bacon, Pork, Lard, Flour and Whiskey; we presume he came down the Ohio and Mississippi, and through the river La-ourche entered Attakapas; we presume he sold his cargo at one hundred per cent. profit over original cost, and took in return the sugar of Attakapas, which he will sell at thirty per cent. over cost; we presume now he will fill with freight for Yankee land; and we presume he will stand there;—slap a clear sailing of the enterprise, and we presume with a chest full of Mexican dollars. If we have presumed wrong, we will apologise for our presumption.

Cheap Travelling.—So great is the competition between the Steam Boats Patriote and Voyageur, which ply on the St. Lawrence, that the former took up steerage passengers for Montreal from Quebec, a few days since, at 5c. each, and the latter at 2s. 6d. —or 40 cents for 180 miles!

CONSUMPTION.

This is one of the most fatal as well as fearful scourges of civilized man. In this country the ravages of consumption are dreadful, particularly on the sea board; and it is to be regretted that the cause of the disease cannot be ascertained, and some preventives or remedies discovered. It appears to be increasing in some parts of Europe also, within a few years; and it is stated that of 65,359 deaths which occurred in London for the last four years, more than one-fourth are to be attributed to consumption! Is this owing to peculiarity in food or clothing, or to some radical defect in the constitution of its victims? Boston Journal.

ASTHMA.

We learn from an intelligent friend, who has long been afflicted with this most distressing complaint, that the fumes of burning paper, saturated with solution of saltpetre, gives him perfect relief. He keeps a quantity of paper—which has been simply soaked in strong saltpetre water, and afterwards dried—constantly on hand, and on the recurrence of a paroxysm obtains almost instant relief from burning half a sheet or a sheet in his room. Others who have been similarly affected, have tried it with corresponding benefit. Is no case has it been known to fail, so far as his information extends. We deem the testimony sufficient to warrant the publication of the prescription, which certainly has the merit of simplicity. If it shall prove generally efficacious, its value is beyond price. It can be readily tested. Newark Dai. Adv.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

A decision has been recently made by one of the Judges of Kentucky, to the effect that the "Bank of the Commonwealth"—a bank said to be owned chiefly by the state, is unconstitutional, being in contravention of the clause of the constitution of the United States which prohibits the separate states from issuing "bills of credit."

This decision is in conformity with the ground taken by Messrs. White and Wilde in a similar case before the Supreme Court of the United States, at its last term. The case was held over for advisement by the court, whose opinion on it will, it is presumed, be delivered at the next term.

Notwithstanding the opponents of the United States Bank have maintained with great confidence and perseverance that its charter was incompatible with the constitution, yet we have ever considered it more clearly warrantable than the banks chartered by states. There can be no reasonable doubt that the framers of the constitution intended to place the whole matter of the circulating medium under the exclusive control of Congress. It was their purpose to guard against local, depreciated and fluctuating currencies—an evil under which the people of this country are now suffering, and which they must continue more intensely to suffer, if the present "Experiment" is allowed to continue. If a bank bill is not a "bill of credit," then there is no force in language, or confidence in the reposed in its terms. That a bank note is a bill, no one can doubt—and if it does not possess a present value from its intrinsic worth, and if its only plus is from the promise it contains to which credit is given, then it must be, by every principle of just construction, a "bill of credit," which the states are restrained from issuing. Restricted themselves, they cannot confer upon a corporation any power which they do not themselves possess. N. Y. Com. Adv.
