

The necessity of taking immediate and efficient measures to counteract the extraordinary efforts which the Love leaders are making to introduce again the ruinous experiments which so lately spread distress and dismay over every region of our country.

In this Whig circular is the following paragraph: "We should all remember the inexorably important matters which depend on the Election of November."

The meaning of this paragraph is as plain as the English language can make it; yet the editors of the Standard and the Signal, and even the "Democratic State Central Committee," have attempted to pervert it into a threat of revolution.

It is base offspring of party malignity, and springs with becoming grace, indeed, from those who are supporting for the highest office in the nation, the descendant of a Tory of the Revolution—those who, by secret irregulars, endeavored to excite the gallant people of the West against their brethren of the East—

Richard Hines, George E. Badger, Charles Manly, John H. Bryan, Henry W. Miller, Weston R. Gales.

Extra Standards and Extra Signals have been sent out in large numbers, for the purpose of circulating on the eve of the election the address of the Democratic State Central Committee; a paper which, we venture to assert, was not seen before it was published by one half of those whose names are appended to it for effect, and which for rant and cool impudence, perhaps has not been excelled during the campaign.

It is not necessary farther to extend this article. If any reader of ours has a lingering doubt, we refer him to the following card issued by the Whig central committee:

A CARD.

The attention of the undersigned has been called to an article in the "Standard" of today, commenting upon a Circular letter, addressed by the Whig Central Committee to their political friends in this State, urging the most efficient organization for the approaching Presidential Election, and warning them against the falsehoods and frauds which they have every reason to believe, will be propagated and practised by many of the leaders of the Polk and Dallas party on or before the day of election.

Another Whopper.—The ink had scarcely got dry when the above was written, when a boy came trudging in with a huge Turnip, as a present from our neighbor Maj. John Taylor, which measures twenty-three inches in circumference, and weighs four pounds. These indicate the glorious times we are to have. Whig principles triumphant, and the vegetables to boot.

General McKay's Tariff Bill, introduced at the last session of Congress, proposed a duty of ten per cent. on coarse blankets, such as are made in the United States, and a duty of five per cent. on the wool of which they are composed; in effect offering a bounty of five per cent. to the foreign manufacturer to compete with the American manufacturer and destroy his business.

At the last session of Congress, a amendment was offered to the General Appropriation Bill by Mr. Pollock of Pennsylvania, directing that the articles purchased for the use of Congress (stationery, &c.) should be of American manufacture, provided they could be obtained of as good quality and on as good terms as the foreign.

One who was behind the curtain at Washington City, and knew well what was going on, namely, Thomas H. Benton, has proclaimed that "Disunion is at the bottom of this long concealed Texas machination. Intrigue and speculation cooperate; but disunion is at the bottom, and I denounce it to the American people; under the pretext of getting Texas into the Union, the scheme is to get the South out of it."

M. CLAY, yielding to his feelings excited in behalf of the son of a Revolutionary patriot who was captured at Mer, a citizen of Alabama, addressed a letter to President Santa Anna requesting his liberation. We understand that he has just received a polite letter from President Santa Anna informing him of the prompt discharge of the captive according to his request.

WHAT ARE THE LOCOS FOR?—In this part of the country, they are for 20 per cent. duties on all dutiable imports; that is, for a return to the Compromise Act, by which no duty was to exceed 20 per cent; and Jas. K. Polk himself, in his speech a Jackson, Tenn. on the 3d of April 1843 as quoted in the last Standard, said that "he was in favor of reducing the duties to the rates of the compromise Act."

Here is a confession for the Southern Free Trade! The Globe itself says that Gen. McKay reported a bill giving a BOUNTY to the manufacturer, in the shape of "protection of from fifty to ninety-one per cent!" And that such was the policy of the "democratic party."

But the iron duty was necessary to any hope of the vote of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, &c. for the Locofoco candidates. There's the secret of it. Fug. Obs.

The oft-repeated fallacy of the Locofocos, that the duty laid by the Tariff, is just so much added to the price of the article, has lately found a very zealous advocate, it would appear, in the youthful Editor of the Wilmington Journal; and the way his ignorance is exposed by the Chronicle, should be a caution to all visionaries.

A Large Potato.—We have been presented by our friend Mr. John Lockhart, now living in Wake county, with a Sweet Potatoe of the Yam species, measuring twenty-four inches one way and nineteen the other, and weighing four pounds ten ounces.

Another Whopper.—The ink had scarcely got dry when the above was written, when a boy came trudging in with a huge Turnip, as a present from our neighbor Maj. John Taylor, which measures twenty-three inches in circumference, and weighs four pounds. These indicate the glorious times we are to have. Whig

Terrific Calamity.—During the thunder shower yesterday afternoon, while some of the Millstones were severely frightened at what they supposed was the beginning of the end, the Locofoco pole in the 12th ward, near the Avenue, broke short off, about half way up and fell upon a man's head, from thence to the ground, with a tremendous crash, and eight ladies were killed.

A hickory pole was used in Wilmington on Monday night, about ten feet from the Post Office door. A flag with Polk, Dallas & Texas lettered on it was run up to the top. During the night, five or six of the staff broke off, and fell, bringing Polk, Dallas & Texas down with it. Ominous, Mr. K. said.

Tremendous Gale on Lake Erie.—The storm and wind at Buffalo Friday night the 18th inst. was tremendous. The wind raged like a hurricane. Big, schooners, steam and canal boats, were driven ashore—some of them high and dry upon land. Many houses were smashed—this I saw down. The loss of property was immense.

The public debt of Texas is now not less than twenty-two millions of dollars, and as the Dutchman said of his horse, "is getting no better."

METHODISTS.—A Liverpool paper states that a large number of Calvinistic Methodists, (a thousand or more) from Canton and Anjole, are preparing to emigrate to this country, with a view of forming a community on the bank of the Mississippi.

Respect for Freedom of Opinion!—The Utica Gazette says that Mr. Nutt, of the town of Marey, Oneida county, who has recently renounced Locofocoism and come out for Clay, was taken the other night by a gang of Locofocos and rode on a rail!

The London correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser states that Captain Basil Hall is dead.

For the Hillsborough Recorder. Mr. Editor: A good joke came off the other day in old Orange, which I think ought not to be lost.

A thorough going Whig, not a hundred miles from Hillsborough, having a couple of Democrats in his employment, they determined, in his absence, to exhibit to the world the height of their zeal for Democracy by planting a hickory pole, the top of which reached about 16 feet above old mother earth, from which flowed a large bunch of pork stalks. A small board was nailed to the pole, on which was a label something like this:

A dose of Polk is perfect poison To Henry Clay and Freighbyson.

The proprietor on his return was somewhat astounded to see this bold Democratic flourish at his very door, and at first felt disposed to order the pole to be taken down; but after a moment's reflection he considered that every freeman had a right to exhibit his political principles, so it was permitted to remain.
