Admiral Nelchimoff is said to have been killed by a shell.

The loss of the allies in the various battles is represented to have been comparatively small.

Lord Raglan is understood to be favorable to a long bombardment, in preference to an immediate assault.

Per contra, the Me-Weimer Luland publishes the following account, dated Bessarabia, 29th October:

On the 25th Gen. Lepandi attacked the detached camp of the English, took four redoubts which protected their position; also, took eleven guns. At the same time a powerful attack by cannonades was made, which cost the English one half of their light cavalry, and Lord Cumdijan, who commanded, escaped with difficulty. Lord Dunkellin was taken prisoner.

The Greek accounts from Odessa confirm this, and say that the English cavalry lost five hundred.

It is certain that the Russians had received considerable reinforcements, and still stronger corps were expected from Perekop.

It is said that two Russian men of war, that had been careened over in the harbor to serve as batteries, had been sunk by the fire of the allies.

The supply of water is beginning to fail the besieged in Sebastopol.

Lord Raglan's chief interpreter, a Greek, having been detected as a Russian spy, has been sent to Constantinople for trial.

Menschikoff reports officially that the loss of the Russians at Alma was 4,500.

Fort Constantine was much damaged, and bastion number three had thirty-three guns dismounted by the fire of the allies.

Prince Gortschakoff was apparently strengthening his fortifications on the Danube.

There are contradictory rumors current as to the progress of negotiations.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times says he is informed that the French Government has in its possession positive evidence of the participation of Mr. Soule in some vast plan for revolutionizing nearly the whole of Europe. It is even added that these plans occupied the attention of the American Diplomatic Congress lately held at Ostend.

Mr. Mason, United States Minister at Paris, has had another interview with the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, who assured him that there were good reasons for the conduct of the French authorities in reference to Mr. Soule, and that they should be forthcoming at the proper time. In the mean time, Mr. Mason might confer with his Government.

Everything was quiet in Spain. Generals Dulse, Concha and Prim, have been named deputies for Barcelona.

The Clamor Publico, published at Madrid, says that Prance, like England, and acting in accord with her, is to send a strong squadron to Cuba to protect it, if necessary, from any attack on the part of the United States.

The cholera was raging fearfully at Corunna.

POSTSCRIPT

BY LAST NIGHT'S MAIL.

The Legislature.—We learn, through stage passengers last night, that both Houses of the Legislature were organized on Monday by the election of officers.

Warren Winslow, esq., of Cumberland, was elected Speaker of the Senate, and Hon. John Hill, of Stokes, Principal Clerk, and Quinten Busbee, esq., of Raleigh, Assistant. All Democrats.

Samuel P. Hill, esq., of Caswell, was elected Speaker of the House, and Mr. Marriott, of Raleigh, Principal Clerk. We did not hear who had been elected Assistant Clerk. All the officers of the two Houses are Democrats, with the exception of an Assistant Doorkeeper.

It is said that there are three candidates for Comptroller, in place of Major Clark, who declines a re-election. The contest, it was supposed, would be quite animated—the parties not agreeing to a decision in caucus.

NOVEMBER ELECTIONS.

New York.—The New York Evening Post of Saturday last publishes what purports to be official returns of the election for Governor from all the counties in the State but two. Clark's majority over Seymour in these is put down at 953, which the Post says there is no chance to overcome.

Massachusetts.—The election in Massachusetts, which took place on the 12th instant for Governor, Legislature, and Members of Congress, was carried almost entirely by the Know Nothings, in opposition to the Whigs and Democrats.

Delaware.—In Delaware, the election took place on the 14th. The Know Nothings elected the Governor, Legislature, and Members of Congress, by large majorities.

The French Interdict Against Mr. Soule withdrawn.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The Secretary of State has received a telegraphic despatch from Sandy Hook, stating that the interdict upon Mr. Soule's passing through France has been withdrawn. The Emperor, in all probability, only meant to give Mr. Soule a hint.

Obituary.

Died, on the 8th inst., at the family residence in this county, Mrs. Delia Smith, widow of the late Dr. James S. Smith, in the 69th year of her age.

During her last illness, Mrs. Smith made a profession of her faith in God—the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost; and was received into the communion of the church, and partook of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, administered by the Rector of the Episcopal Church at Chapel Hill. [Com.]

Died, in this county, on the 18th instant, of Consumption, Mrs. Rebecca Jane Chambers, wife of Mr. E. P. Chambers, in the 30th year of her age.

Died, in this county, on Saturday the 18th instant, of Scarlet Fever, Alston Gray Nelson, son of Col. Paisley Nelson, aged 9 years and 3 months.

Also, on Monday last, of the same disease, Martha Jane, daughter of Col. Nelson, aged about 6 years.

Died, in Aberdeen, Miss., on the 11th of October, of cancerous affection on the face, Col. Nathaniel I. King, in the 56th year of his age. Mr. King was a native of this county, and at one time was elected to the House of Commons. The Aberdeen paper says he stood high in that community, where he had been living about ten years.

Female School at Graham.

A SCHOOL for the thorough education of Young Ladies, will be opened at Graham, Alamance county, N. South Lowell Academy.

THE 12th Session of this institution will commence on Wednesday the 10th of January next, and continue five months. The public may rest assured that every possible attention will be paid by the Trustees, the Principal and his Assistant, to maintain the high stand this School has taken. It is located eleven miles East of Hillsborough, and fourteen miles North of Durham's Depot on the North Carolina Rail Road. The country is remarkably healthy, there not having been a case of protracted sickness among the students for six years, nor a death. We have no whiskey, no loafers, nor persons of questionable character in the community. Parents and Guardians who may choose to place their sons and wards here, may rest assured that every attention will be paid to advance them both mentally and morally.

TERMS.
