

The Legislature has adjourned. Cotton in Charlotte 20 @ 21 cents. Gold in Charlotte 110. Silver 105. The Junior Editor is again at his post. Forney has resigned as Collector of the Port of Philadelphia. Gen. Grant wants a war with England. He can then be Dictator. The fastest railroad time in England is eighteen miles in fifteen minutes. Fifty-nine new theatrical and musical journals were started in Spain last year. Joseph W. Holden has returned to Raleigh after a twelve months stay in Kansas. Blackwell at Durhams has built him the prettiest looking Warehouse in the South. North Carolina cured hams sell in Portsmouth for twelve and a half cents per pound. Halifax Courthouse (Va.) is to have a horse and mule cotton factory and also a tobacco warehouse and factory. Timing a horse trotting on the ice is a difficult matter and can only be done by the aid of flags and good glasses. The young men in Petersburg are discussing an organization to capture the Lowery gang and get that big reward. A child is living in Nausmond county (Va.) that has five grandfathers. It hardly stays a fifth of its time with its mother. During last January there were forty-five deaths in Norfolk. Of these thirty-three were blacks and only twelve were whites. Alfred Dana, a Methodist in New York, in a religious quarrel with his wife who is a Catholic, beat her to death with a...

Underwood has again interfered with the State courts of Virginia and acts on the assumption that there is no Court of Appeals. C. W. White, a heretofore very respectable citizen of Charlotte county (Va.) has been arrested on the charge of robbing the mails. The Goldsboro Messenger says it is rumored that the railroad agent at Kinston is a defaulter to the amount of fifteen hundred dollars. The fastest mile ever trotted in America was by Dexter, Bonner's horse, in June, 1867, on Fashion course, Long Island. Time made 2.16. A stock company out west advertises for a managing editor of its newspaper, thusly: "Wanted a man who fears the Lord and weighs two hundred pounds." The best way to lobby in the world is to get one or two old honest farmers from 'up in your section' to sit around the members and tell 'em what 'our people' want. What is that quack advertisement of 'a frog who lived in a spring' that we read as local matter in nearly every paper in this State? For mercy sake, take it out. James A. Cowardin, senior Editor of the Richmond Dispatch, is confined to his bed by severe rheumatism. We trust our accomplished old friend will soon be on his legs again. H. A. Atkinson, young lawyer of Richmond, severely convicted, W. F. G. Garnett, another. Blood is feared and after blood will come 'speaking' in the courthouse by the other lawyers. Gen. Hanscock said to a reporter the other day in regard to his running for the presidency: "You can state that I never decline anything before it is offered to me, and, of course, I could not have declined the Presidency. I should, however, prefer to be considered not a candidate rather than to appear as seeking the office." A cat that belonged to a Brooklyn grocer knocked a box of starch off the shelf, the box hit a can of oil causing a leak, the oil flowed and was ignited by the stove, and the whole store burnt up and the one adjoining it also. Costing the owner of the cat fifteen hundred dollars and other parties five thousand. Yow!

Brother Yates of the Charlotte Democrat promises the city Commissioners if they will forego the payment of taxes that he will write as good 'a notice' of them when they die as they can find on a gravestone in any country churchyard. Up to the first of this month four hundred and seven thousand and three hundred and seventy-seven pounds of smoking tobacco have been shipped from Richmond in bond since the first of October 1871. We want a picture of that business man who declares 'Advertising don't pay.' An old lady down in Shakerag writes us for an 'interesting and peart looking bismis man to help her raise chickens and 'tend to the lot generally,' and we'll enclose her the picture. Beecher says if Paul had known how many stupid men preachers we would have in this day he wouldn't have forbid women to speak in public. He says further: 'And if you ask me if a woman ought to speak in meeting, I say no, unless she has something to say. We want woman, because she is sweet and gentle, to bring her fragrance into our work. We have harsh music enough; let us have flutes. Women, if you do not desire to speak, do not speak. If wedded, love and the nursery is your sphere. Rejoice in it. But if God has given your heart a swell for something else, there is nothing in God's Word that should hinder you. Go forward and bear the scoffs of men patiently, and work to the end and rise to be crowned of God.' The following are the Senatoria Districts under the new apportionment bill which passed the Legislature: 1st. Camden, Currituck and Pasquotank. 2. Hertford, Gates, Chowan and Perquimans. 3. Martin, Washington, Tyrrell and Dare. 4. Beaufort, Hyde and Pamlico. 5. Bertie and Northampton. 6. Halifax. 7. Edgecomb. 8. Pitt and Wilson. 9. Franklin and Nash. 10. Craven. 11. Lenoir and Green. 12. Onslow, Carteret and Jones. 13. Duplin. 14. Columbus and Robeson. 15. Johnson. 16. Wayne. 17. Wake. 18. Warren. 19. Granville. 20. Orange. 21. Chatham. 22. Caswell and Person. 23. Rockingham. 24. Guilford. 25. Alamance. 26. Cumberland and Harnett. 27. Sampson. 28. Moore and Montgomery. 29. Randolph. 30. Anson and Union. 31. Mecklenburg. 32. Calhoun and Stanly. 33. Davin and Rowan. 34. Davidson. 35. Stokes and Forsythe. 36. Surry and Yadkin. 37. Iredell. 38. Alexander and Wilkes. 39. Catawba and Lincoln. 40. Gaston and Cleveland. 41. Polk and Rutherford. 42. Burke and Caldwell. 43. McDowell, Mitchell and Watauga. 44. Alleghany, Ashe and Yancey. 45. Buncombe and Madison. 46. Haywood, Henderson and Transylvania. 47. Clay, Cherokee, Jackson, Macon and Graham.

U. S. SENATOR. We see that the Committee has reported in favor of seating Abbott as one of North Carolina's U. S. Senators. This certainly cannot be true! It is an outrage upon the State of North Carolina too gigantic and shameful—too corrupt and villainous—to be believed. It would be no less an outrage for that Committee to have reported in favor of seating the notorious Henry Berry Lowrey. Abbott's claim to the seat is no better than a claim from Lowrey, because if the Legislature had a right to elect a Senator it clearly elected Gov. Vance, and if he proved ineligible to the seat, then it is clear that there was no election, or, rather, that the election comes back to the State. Abbott failed to get over a handful of votes, and if he failed to get a third of the vote necessary to a choice, by what roguish right does he set up a claim of election—and by what corrupt authority does this corrupt committee award him the seat? We guess it is understood between Abbott and the Committee and they are to share largely in his per diem! It is so much like radicalism, which is another name for communism.

ADVERTISING THE AMENDMENTS. We perceive that the Statesville American, Hickory Tavern Eagle and other papers in this State are lambasting the Legislature for ordering the proposed Constitutional Amendments to be published only in the political papers of Raleigh. Our grave legislators no doubt thought "the Country papers" would esteem it a great honor and high privilege to publish these proposed amendments for nothing, seeing that most of these papers are in the habit of publishing advertisements (such as Warehouse sales, and the like,) as news matter. It may be that the Legislators thought it only necessary to let the few readers of the Raleigh papers see these amendments—or they supposed as a matter of course that every voter in the State and all the world beside read the Raleigh papers! We think it more likely, however, that they took it for granted the "Country papers"—in their wonderful anxiety to serve the State as well as individuals with gratuitous advertising in the guise of "news"—would jump at it like a pike at a roach, to "fill up." And they thought right: Jump at it they did, and seeing all the papers in the State jumping at it, we jumped a little too and published the set in last week's issue—but it went monstrously "agin the grain" to publish an advertisement for which the Legislature pays the "city" press as a gratuity in these columns. It would be just as reasonable to insert "Vinegar Bitters" or "Worm Lettingers," or some man's crack "Warehouse sales." The excessive liberality of the "Country press" in doing advertising at half price or for nothing, has scattered newspaper graves over North-Carolina so thick that you can hardly make a step without treading on the ashes of a defunct journal. And, if we may judge from the "lights" before us, the time is not distant when there will not be room in the State to dig a journal's grave without molesting the inanimate bones of another. The graves of nearly a thousand journals already deck the paper cemetery of the City of Raleigh, notwithstanding many of them were backed by the State and propped and "stuck up" as party organs. They went up, however—and to-day there is not a man in Raleigh publishing a political paper who has published it the brief period of half a dozen years! and not one that has been in existence fifteen years, if we except a couple sustained by the State. At least that they pay.

THE SENATORSHIP. The Asheville Citizen is terribly fretted because the Legislature did not elect a man living in the Western part of the State to the U. S. Senate, to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of ex-Gov. Vance. This cry of "West" and "East" is silly and foolish. It may do for children, but for grown men it is simply ridiculous. A senator goes to the Senate not as the representative of the West or the East—of this county or that—but the whole State. It matters not where he lives in the State. As well might each County in the State kick up a ridiculous fuss because each was not honored by the election of U. S. Senator. For our part we care not a pinch of snuff where the senator live in the State—whether in the East, West, North, South or interior—if they are the right sort of men. We regard Gen. Ransom as a statesman who will watch, protect and defend the whole interest of North Carolina—the interest of the West equal to that of the East. This being true why this great "ad" because he does not live in the West? Who cares a fig except a few senatorial aspirants and their particular friends?

War! It is thought by many that the United States and Great Britain are about to lock horns on the Alabama claims, so-called. Some one has to back-down in this matter and we feel curious to know who it will be. Wonder if the negroes will be as anxious to fight Grant's battles as they are to vote? It is rumored that in the event of war it is Grant's intention to put the negroes in the front of the battle—so as to keep them from running and make breast-works of their dead carcasses. RICHMOND. We take from Whip, Dispatch and Enquirer: The married ladies in Richmond are wearing breakfast caps. Dr. Goddin is in prison for mal-practice. The Italians of the city have had a ball. DANVILLE. We take from the Times: Harry Wooding isn't dead. A mistake. He's the same clever fellow and is selling goods as cheap as ever at Estie and Wooding. We see no account of the Meningitis being in Danville.

Graves Warehouse is still 'flush' with tobacco. CHARLOTTE. We take from the Democrat: Thank you, brother Yates, for your compliment. Two horses stolen the other day from the post where they were hitched. The building and grounds known as the Military Institute, was sold in this city on Tuesday last at $13,150, to L. W. Sanders, J. H. Carson and S. B. Alexander. It is one of the best locations for a Female School in the State. RALEIGH. We take from the Carolinian: No coal and no street lamps is the cry in Raleigh. A hunchback in Raleigh goes on his all fours and barks like a dog. WILMINGTON. We take from the Journal and Star: We learn, from good authority, that the Right Rev. James Gibbons, D. D. will be in Wilmington on Sunday the 25th inst. His return and permanent stay will correct the idle, and too many distressing rumors of his transfer to the Richmond diocese. During the past week the various butchers of this city slaughtered 47 hives and 101 hogs. Mr. W. A. Johnson, of this city, Grand Chancellor Knights of Pythias of the State of North Carolina, has been presented, within the past two or three days, with twins, which he has christened 'Damon' and 'Pythias.' The young men of this city wear a lock of their hair nearly touching the eye brows. NEWBERN. We take from the Commerce: Continuous peals of thunder along the sea coast were mistaken for 'heavy guns' in Newbern. Mrs. Bayard Clarke writes poems for the Commerce. A masquerade ball at Lowthrop Hall Monday night. HOW THE MEN THAT FREED THE NEGRO NOW TREAT HIM.—A poor negro, named Harris, who had been smitten by the small-pox, entered the town of Flint, in Michigan, and instead of meeting with humane treatment, was thrust into a railway car going South. Having no money to pay his fare, and admitting to the conductor that he had the small pox, he was put off the train to perish in the cold. He set out in the night through bitter cold weather for the village of Holly, but was driven away by an officer at the muzzle of a loaded pistol. Sick, starving, freezing and exhausted, where he was graciously permitted to die in an old shed—Washington Chron. Well! if that don't beat all. And the freedom shriekers out there wanted to send him South to his white rebel friends to take care of, did they? And they drove him off with a pistol, did they? And left him in an 'old shed' to die, did they? And this is what the Washington Chronicle tells on them, is it? Well, well. FRANK BLAIR ON GRANT. The reporter of the Chicago Tribune interviewed Frank Blair in the Marble Room of the United States Senate, and we call the following for the benefit of our readers, said he: 'He has an immense personality, the awful incarnation of self. He is running this government without principles, on the theory of personal success. He must be a big man, for who ever saw a confirmed drunkard and borrower raise himself up late in life, unless he had left some strong human elements for capital? His government is not comprehensible, not intellectual, only personal. The American people are in more danger to-day from a man of this character than they would be from Aaron Burr or men of much higher parts. Under Grant we are approaching that period of political complacency and indifference, as a people, which will make the incoming of a despot quite proper and natural. Grant cares nothing for party or principle; he runs the thing for himself, and many of the business interests of the country are so situated that they can afford to drop into the line of a powerful President's prejudices and ambition than to join the mass of the people in fighting him. Grant has committed but one mistake as a politician—of course, I am talking to you, boys, as one politician to another—and that mistake is shaking off the old abolitionists who have retortionized the country, for the sake of certain Swiss, like Morton and Cameron, who never cared for the darkey more than Grant himself.' Said Frank, further: 'Grant always treats me well, and there are a few democrats he does not treat well. He reserves his frowns for the independent republicans who will not join in with his usurpations.' 'No,' he continued; 'as a democrat, I tell you, gentlemen, that Trumbull, Schurz and these other folks command our respect. They have a policy; the President has none but Grant.'
