

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR, Gen. W. R. Cox

OF WAKE COUNTY

DISTRICT CONVENTION

A Convention of the Democratic Conservative voters of the Fourth Congressional District will be held in the city of Raleigh on Tuesday the 13th day of June next...

By order of the District Executive Committee.

H. A. LONDON, Jr., Chairman

March 31st

THE SENATORSHIP

Naturally enough the Milton Chronicle takes issue with the Recorder on the question of Senatorial selection, claiming that Caswell and Person stand precisely on the same footing as regards equality of right...

AGRICULTURAL HUMBUGS

The Agriculturist very opportunely calls attention to the many novelties advertised which are very apt to deceive the unwary, and burden the hearts of farmers by the effect of deception against the introduction of what is really valuable...

But this disposition to accept additions to our stock of vegetables, grains and forage is taking advantage of by adventurers to impose upon the farmer worthless things with extravagant representations of qualities...

Mexico is stirred up from the bottom. There has been so far no active fighting, but the revolutionists have about 20,000 men in the field roaming about...

SPEECH OF HON. JOE DAVIS

On our first page will be found the speech of the Hon. J. J. Davis in favor of the proposition to appropriate $4,000 to the establishment of an assay office at Charlotte.

In this connection, we hope the county Convention will instruct its delegates to vote for the re-nomination of Mr. Davis...

This district will be unwise to attempt a change. It is clear that Mr. Davis is stronger in public estimation than he was two years ago.

COUNTY CONVENTION

We hope there will be a full attendance next Saturday. The Convention is a very important one, and on its action depends the harmonious action of the Democratic party during the campaign.

The people of this county have suffered heretofore by their own negligence. They have delegated to others what they should do themselves, or they have suffered their best interests to go by default.

This campaign must not be entered upon with any action of the Convention that is not fully satisfactory to all the people. There must be no sting of resentment left behind which will beget indifference to the great questions of the summer's work.

The Petersburg News which lately fell under the hammer, has been succeeded by the Post, under the editorial management of Mr. E. H. Glass and Son.

Within the last few weeks, Tilson of New York has grown strong in the Presidential race, and the indications are that he will get the nomination at St. Louis.

The Republicans are looking up for an honest man as their presidential candidate, and such a one seems hard to find. Honesty is their card, but they play a bad hand.

THE SENATORSHIP

The Milton Mercury very pleasantly holds out a bait to Orange to yield her claim to one of the Senators from this district by the presentation of the name of an Orange Caswell man in the person of Giles Mabane.

As we have said before, the subject will not suffer to be made one of unpleasant controversy, and Orange would yield rather than endanger harmony.

The Californians seem bent on driving out the Chinese. It is rather a hard case. The Chinese come here by virtue of treaty stipulations, and to meet a labor demand.

The Centennial opens on the 10th inst. and will undoubtedly be a grand occasion. The articles on exhibition are mostly in place, and in extent and variety, as well as in the size of the buildings and beauty of grounds, the American Exposition will far exceed any yet held.

North Carolina is not represented except by individual exertion. We learn that Blackwell and Carr of Durham have arranged a space at large expense where they will exhibit their tobaccos to the best advantage.

The impeachment trial of Belknap drags slowly along. The plea to the jurisdiction of the Court is still under discussion, and as the Court has agreed to postpone the farther consideration of the case until after the recess taken by Congress...

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON D. C., May 5th. President Grant has sent some curious messages to Congress during his term of office, but the one sent to the House on the fourth, in response to the resolution of the 3rd of April, is certainly the most singular.

The Petersburg News which lately fell under the hammer, has been succeeded by the Post, under the editorial management of Mr. E. H. Glass and Son.

The action of the British government in refusing to deliver Winslow, was held as an emphatic reason for the abrogation of the Ashburton treaty.

papers sent from London by McDougal, President of the Emma Mine company, place General Schenck in a bad light.

The argument in the Belknap impeachment, as to the right of the Senate to try an officer who has resigned, is now being made, and the point will be submitted as to whether he had resigned or not.

The House is discussing the Post Office appropriation bill. As reported it saves $300,000 from last year. Considerable opposition is developed amongst Southern and Western Democrats as they say the saving will be made by restricting mail facilities in those sections.

The friends of Tilden, Thurman, Bayard and Hendricks are all work for their favorites and a new man, that of ex-Gov. Joel Parker of New Jersey, is brought out.

Washington, May 2.—The President and the Cabinet will go in a body to the opening of the Centennial on May 10th. The President has recognized Teodoro La Barrera as consul of Spain at New Orleans.

The portraits of the Postmaster-Generals from Franklin to Jewell, inclusive, have been forwarded to the Centennial Exhibition.

The State Department's official advice from the Rio Grande represent that all is quiet. Diaz was quiet, and the Mexican Government was sending heavy forces against him from the interior.

Gen. Terry commands the expedition, which is about to leave Fort Lincoln, so as to allow Gen. Custer to remain in Washington and testify as to post-trader frauds.

Gen. Reynolds denies to Clymer's committee that he has been in contact with contractors or received bribes from them.

The Senate discussed the resolution of Mr. Hamlin to amend the rules so as to have the deliberations of the Senate in impeachment trials in public.

The action of the British government in refusing to deliver Winslow, was held as an emphatic reason for the abrogation of the Ashburton treaty.
