

BLACKWELL'S DURHAM WAREHOUSE IS THE PLACE TO SELL YOUR TOBACCO.

The Hillsborough Recorder.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 20, 1878.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Term of the RECORDER for 1878.
For 1 year, $1.50.
6 months, .75.
Payments always in advance.
Job printing done neatly, cleanly, and promptly.

See fourth page both for Ads and interesting reading matter.

WITH THIS ISSUE THE RECORDER ENTERS UPON ITS 5TH YEAR.

We are much indebted to Mr. Alonso Phillips of Chicago for many and valuable favors in the shape of welcome copies of the leading dailies of that great city.

Tobacco Report.

We begin in this issue, with the opening of the tobacco trade, a report of the markets of Hillsboro, Durham and Danville, compiled from the most authentic and recent sources, and corrected weekly. Our country subscribers will get these reports in their combined form sooner than in any other weekly paper, and this fact will give additional value to the RECORDER.

Let the planters of Person, Alamance and Caswell make note of this, as well as our own people of Orange.

Pique sold bright yellow tobacco on Wednesday at $42. All sales during the past week have been highly satisfactory to the sellers.

Come on with your tobacco. A MILLION POUNDS WANTED; and will be ready for us good prices as can be got anywhere.

Did Cameron, of the RECORDER come to town without calling to see us? — Danielle Times.

Natgully, brother Bouldin, have not been to Danville yet. Will be there next week. To go to Danville and not see Bouldin would be to go to Roanoke and not see the Coliseum.

D. A. Robertson gives us information that he will be in Hillsboro Monday the 25th inst., and will be pleased to meet with those with whom he has formed engagements as well as all desiring his professional services.

Mad Dog.

A mad dog was shot by a negro on Thursday last near the blacksmith shop on the Greensboro road, near Mr. James Riley's, four miles West of town. We do not learn that he had bitten any animal. We would be glad to hear that many more canines were caught in the act of cutting strange capers. It would cause a wholesome thinning out of a very abundant surplus.

Work on the Streets etc.

The town Commissioners are doing some little patch work here and there; and are engaged in the very useful work of putting out trees where they are most needed, which we are glad to see, are put in with some regard to vitality.

We beg leave to call their attention to the foot-way or rather total absence of foot-way—along the street leading from the Court House square East. It is a most important thoroughfare leading to one of the principal Churches, and hourly used by ladies. Yet by the protection of a bank never cut down, and the encroachment by fence on the top of that bank over which it was originally designed, a sidewalk should run, pedestrians are actually forced into the street at its narrowest point, where it is cut into a perfect grille by the constant passage of vehicles.

It is a marvel of human endurance that such a nuisance should have been so long tolerated. A good side walk can be made, ought to be made. Letting Commissioners see to it at once.

This is a dangerous season, and often the fondest mother's care is no protection against Coughs, Colds and Inflammations. Dr. Bell's Cough Syrup should be kept in readiness. Price 25 cents.

Death of a Former Member.

Jacob T. Brown, Republican member of the House in the Legislature of the session of 1870-1 was found dead on the morning of Monday the 11th inst. about one mile from Lexington. He had been drinking freely, and leaving a still house on Saturday night to endeavor to reach home, became bogged in a marsh he had to cross and miserably perished.

This is the second tragic death of late members departing recently. C. F. Young of Yancey having been found dead from death in a snow storm about three weeks since.

The Richmond Dispatch has the following of the February number of The Planter, published in Richmond, Virginia, $1 a year:

"The Southern Planter and Farmer for February sustains the well-supported position of that periodical. It is almost entirely made up of original articles from the pens of practical farmers and scientific agriculturists. Dr. Hiley, Dr. Pollock, the editor, and others, combine to produce a periodical that is a credit to the State. Our views do not coincide with theirs on some of the topics which they treat, but we appreciate now the less the value of the Planter and Farmer."

See the ad. of Vass & Co. of the genuine Plow for $3.50.

COUNTY POLITICS.

It is not very long before active agitation will begin upon the subject of county nominations. It is time therefore that the people should be thinking of whom they want to serve them, and put their names in definite form for action.

We have said, and we repeat it again, that if the people have been disgruntled by the actions of nominating conventions, it is their own fault. They have permitted those conventions to meet without troubling themselves by preliminary action to secure their proper constitution. Those bodies meet at the appointed time, make their nominations, and then there always goes up a loud cry of dissatisfaction from some quarter sometimes from all quarters. But who is to blame but the people themselves? The convention meets as fairly constituted as the people choose to make it. Its acts and those acts must be binding on the whole party, if anything like party organization or party harmony is to be maintained.

The real and only remedy lies in full and hearty primary action. Let due previous notice be given in each township of meetings to be held in the respective townships to select delegates to meet in general County Convention at the Court House in Hillsboro at such time as the Chairman of the Executive Committee shall appoint. Let these delegates go up instructed or untrammelled as the case may be; but let them go up with the full understanding that they fully, fairly and unequivocally represent their townships, and that their action in convention finally and unequivocally binds the township to their selections.

The convention system is just in the best and fairest mode, if properly carried out, by which expression of the public choice can be given. It is only by neglect to observe preliminary caution and scope general participation that abuses have crept in. Packed Conventions of which we hear a good deal of at this time, are impossible if the people choose to guard them properly. The new project of primary elections we presume has few advocates. We have pointed out before some of their objectionable features, and will only add in conclusion, that such a mode of selecting candidates makes it very possible that Democratic choice shall be determined by radical votes; just as in the last election, radical votes were liberally used in the endeavor to give us a "Democratic" Senator.

Be ware of the trap.

Orphan Asylum.

We had a visit on Friday last from Mr. Jas. A. Leach, member of the Legislature last winter from the county of Davidson, who is now travelling on behalf of the Orphan Asylum at Oxford. We learn from him that he is meeting with a fair degree of success; but scarcely proportionate to the needs of the Institution.

He tells us that there are at present about 130 inmates of the Asylum, and the yearly expense are between $14,000 and $15,000—a little over a hundred dollars a-piece. To meet this there is the generous fund of $2,000 per year provided in quarterly payments by the Grand Lodge of the State and—the backward charities of the public, kept alive by most persistent, but necessary appeals.

The Asylum is doing too much of substantial good to be left to such precarious support. The act of saving single human being from degradation, from physical and from moral ruin, is triumph enough over penury and vice to rouse every Christian to liberal effort. What then ought to be the stimulus, when hundreds thus rescued? About four hundred children in all have received the benevolent care of the Asylum. All of these are plainly but thoroughly educated in the common branches of English. Many boys have left well able to earn their own living and are doing it creditably and successfully. A large number of girls have been provided with comfortable homes and a few have shown such progress and talent as to be taken in charge by the higher female schools to be educated as teachers. The Greensboro Female Academy has charge of one, the Institute at Murfreesboro (another) and there is one more of whom Mr. Leach could give no account.

Brethren of the press, is not the Orphan Asylum worthy of your labor in its behalf?

THE PARENT OF INSOMNIA.

The parent of insomnia or wakefulness is, in nine cases out of ten a dyspeptic stomach. Good digestion gives sound sleep, indigestion interferes with it. The brain and stomach sympathize. One of the prominent symptoms of a weak state of the gastric organs is a disturbance of the great nerve center, the brain. Invigorate the stomach, and you restore equilibrium to the great center. A most reliable medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which far preferable to mineral sedatives and powerful narcotics which, though they may for a time exert a soporific influence upon the brain, soon cease to act, and invariably injure the tone of the stomach. The Bitters on the contrary, restore activity to the operations of that all important organ, and their beneficial influence is reflected in sound sleep and a tranquil state of the nervous system. A wholesome impetus is likewise given to the action of the liver and bowels by its use.

Our friend S. R. Carrington of Durham, has a very pleasant way of providing for the inner man, dry, as well as wet. No better meal than his restaurant provides can be had anywhere. Our foreman, Mr. Franklin speaks sincerely and feelingly on the subject. Call on him.

MARSHFIELD.

At University Station on the 13th inst. by Alvis Durham Esq; Mr. Robert Riley, and Miss. Atelia Hicks. All of these

BRIDGES Roads &c.

We wish the attention of our County Commissioners would be aroused more energetically in the direction of improvement to the various modes of intercommunication between the different sections of the county. We have no words of censure for anything that seems to savor of past neglect. They are intelligent, conscientious men, fully impressed with a sense of the responsibility weighing upon them, aware of the distress of the people and reluctant to add what may seem to be new burdens upon them. It is this fear of oppression that causes them to hale where they should move, and to withhold when they should dispense liberally. By their honesty, their frugality, and their sagacity, they have freed the County from debt, and they can point with a just pride to a treasury full and free from the claim of the public creditor. But that treasury goes on in the accumulation of its store, and the Commissioners must now begin to apply its resources in a way to add to their own character as wise public servants to purposes of public and permanent welfare.

In no way can so much be done as by the erection of much needed bridges. Orange County is traversed by three principal streams; the Eno, Flat and Little rivers, rising in the Northwestern part of the county, and widely separating in the upper part of their courses, uniting to the Southerner border to form the Neuse. These streams, soon after reaching the dignity of rivers, assume a bold, impetuous character, strong and swift, easily affected the rains which fall on the steep hill sides, and swelling into impetuous torrents, defying transit, and for the while, separating the people into isolated communities. If this were all vexation as it is, it might be borne with philosophic patience. But other communities besides those of Orange suffer. The traffic of other counties finds it way to market through our territory. That traffic builds up our own town and adds largely to our taxable capacity. It is the part of wisdom to invite increase of that traffic by every facility that can be offered to tempt to our direction. To leave existing obstacles in the way, is to repel it and turn it into other channels. If we would retain and increase the business of the county, steps must be taken to make all parts of it accessible to all others, at all times, by the erection of bridges wherever experience shows they are most needed.

No stronger inducement can be held out to immigration which we so much need, as that of good roads, and good and frequent bridges. When good roads are made, we shall believe the millennium is at hand. But even the wicked may presume to make bridges, because the completion and maintenance is within the scope of possibility. And by their erection, the whole county becomes compact and united, instead of remaining at the mercy of every summer storm or winter rain, when neighbor looks despatchly across at his opposite, between him and whom there is a "great gulf fixed;" and when the wayfarer, abruptly checked in his journey, berates the barbarism of a country that still contents itself with the rude thoroughfares of the savage.

No better investment can be made in the public monies than in permanent improvements to means of communication. Private property assumes new value, creates new demands from abroad, induces strangers in our midst, stimulates business of all kinds, enhances the subjects of taxation, largely adds to the public revenue, and an investment, pays back to the county, not indirectly, but absolutely and directly, a large profit on the outlay; besides, and not the least consideration, making our people better satisfied that they are paying taxes for some more solid considerations than compensating juries and supporting criminals, and us.

Let our Commissioners, who are ardent friends of the public money, see to it, that they lay it out profitably, and to no detriment with the community of the unprofitable servant, that they handed over their talents to their successors, nicely done up in a napkin, neither bigger nor smaller than when they took charge of it.

THE PARENT OF INSOMNIA.

The parent of insomnia or wakefulness is, in nine cases out of ten a dyspeptic stomach. Good digestion gives sound sleep, indigestion interferes with it. The brain and stomach sympathize. One of the prominent symptoms of a weak state of the gastric organs is a disturbance of the great nerve center, the brain. Invigorate the stomach, and you restore equilibrium to the great center. A most reliable medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which far preferable to mineral sedatives and powerful narcotics which, though they may for a time exert a soporific influence upon the brain, soon cease to act, and invariably injure the tone of the stomach.

The Bitters on the contrary, restore activity to the operations of that all important organ, and their beneficial influence is reflected in sound sleep and a tranquil state of the nervous system. A wholesome impetus is likewise given to the action of the liver and bowels by its use.

Our friend S. R. Carrington of Durham, has a very pleasant way of providing for the inner man, dry, as well as wet.

No better meal than his restaurant provides can be had anywhere. Our foreman, Mr.

Franklin speaks sincerely and feelingly on the subject. Call on him.

MARSHFIELD.

At University Station on the 13th inst.

by Alvis Durham Esq; Mr. Robert Riley, and Miss. Atelia Hicks. All of these

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT TO THE MEMORY OF DR. J. LONG BROWER.

WHENAS it has pleased the Great Disposer of all events to his wisdom and mercy to remove from earth our valued friend, our fellow trusted and worthy counselor:

WHEREAS for years he has been among us laboring for our common interest in the exciting cause of education, and has presided with ability, honor, and success over our School, and has done so much to awaken the people to the vital importance of their interests, and in educating publ. sentiments.

Therefore be it

Resolved 1st. That while we do humbly and sadly submit to that stroke of Providence which has taken from us our fellow trustee and beloved friend, we deeply mourn his untimely fall.

Resolved 2nd. That in his sudden fall, we have suffered a loss irreparable, a friend tried and valued, and a protector noble and trustworthy.

Resolved 3rd. That while we now so freshly remember his labors, and so sensibly feel an aching void, we will hold in fond and grateful remembrance his memory and the recollections of his brilliant though brief career.

Resolved 4th. That we tender to the sorrowing members of his family our testimony to the lovely traits that adorn his noble, christian character; and also our sincere condolence and heartfelt sympathy in this sad and unexpected bereavement which has so much distressed them.

Resolved 5th. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased; and that a copy be spread on the Secretary's book; and also be sent to the Hillsboro RECORDER, Durham Tobacco PLANT, Raleigh Christian ADVOCATE and the Randolph REGULATOR for publication.

G. S. BRADSHAW, J. S. H. JORDAN, C. M. W. MCKEE, L. W. HALL Chairman.

H. T. HARRIS Sec'y.

Caldwell Institute Orange County N. C.

A C A R D.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c; I will send a recipe that will cure you FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. ISMAY, Station D. Bible House, New York City.

DR. D. A. ROBERTSON.

Surgeon Dentist.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

WILL spend the fourth week of each month at his office in Hillsboro.

Orders left with Charles M. Parks' will be promptly attended to.

May 30, 1878.

George Gibson, Jr.

Successor to

KELLOGG & GIBSON.

Importer and Dealer in china, Glass, Queensware,

AND

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS,

No. 1207 Main Street.

Sept. 19, 1878.

RICHMOND, VA.

THE

Packing, Curing, and Smoking Establishment!

AND

STEAM SAUSAGE MANUFACTORY

Office of V. BEUHLER, Jr. & BRO.

18 and 20 First Market, Packing House

East 25 Street, Richmond, Va.

FOR many years the only establishment in the South, and, by its long experience, the best known for the manufacture of sausages, smoked Meats of all kinds, Tongues, Ham, Beef and make of the Celestial Hecular Sausage.

Now so much known and so largely consumed in North Carolina.

Smoked sausages 12 cents per pound.

Send in your orders to Sept. 19, 1878.