1846. THIRTY-THIRD YEAR. 1878.
THE HOME JOURNAL,
 IMPROVED IN QUALITY.
 REDUCED IN COST.
 THE HOME JOURNAL takes the earliest occasion of the week to return to its old subscribers the price of two dollars a year. This was its price during nearly the entire period of its existence. It has been added, with a full review of the news of the best society at home and abroad of every week, making what the press has always unanimously declared to be "The Best Literary and Society Paper in America."
 This marked gain to the subscriber the publishers are gratified to be able to make without loss to themselves by reason of the present large circulation of the paper. In the same direction they count on still greater advantages for their subscribers, constantly increasing the value of the paper and retaining the price, thus keeping it in the future as it has been in the past, the CHEAPEST AND CHEAPEST exponent of culture in the land. The leading departments of the journal comprise Editorials, original essays, American Literature, and Portraits of American Life; Editorial Reviews of new events in the world of Letters, Letters, Painting, Sculpture, Science, Music, and the Drama; Original Essays, Analyses, Excerpts from the best European Writers, Replies to Letters from correspondents in all the great Capitals of the World; original extracts from New Books; and rare accounts of voyages, discoveries, and changes in the human mind; embracing the very freshest matters of interest in this country and in Europe—the whole completely mirroring the wit and wisdom, the humor and pathos, the news and sparkling gossip of the times.
