

The Greensboro Patriot

GREENSBORO, N. C. Wednesday, July 27, 1901.

The GREENSBORO PATRIOT is published weekly every Wednesday afternoon...

Greensboro's Early Future.

Greensboro is more prosperous and her hopes for the future brighter to day, than at any other time within the last ten or fifteen years.

The hardships through which she has been passing has prepared her for the conflicts that are necessary for the attainment of the grand possibilities that lie in the early future.

She is purged of all the dross and drosses, she is trained to industry and economy, and all her departments of business are steady and unfluctuating.

There is already four railroads coming from different parts of the State continually pouring the wealth of these different sections into the lap of the "City of Flowers."

These railroads alone will make Greensboro a manufacturing town; and when this is done, the still streets will be stirred with the bustle of business, and real estate will rise to its full value.

Elegant buildings will take the place of the little old smoky cabins on our principal streets; large wholesale houses will crowd out the little cake shops, dime stores, and five cent counters.

An industrial school is to be established at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., as a family reformatory and preventive school for young girls who are exposed to temptation.

An excellent idea, it would be well to establish such a school in every town and city in the United States.

The President was taken worse a few days ago. The change in his condition was caused by a collection of pus along the channel of the wound in a little sack.

The skilled physicians in attendance soon discovered the cause and performed an operation by which the President was greatly relieved, and he is now about as well as usual and the symptoms are about as encouraging as they have been, still he is not thought to be out of danger.

Not Struck, but Killed Out Right.

"A guilty conscience needs no accuser." In the North State of July 21, we notice a little article signed TRUTH, which is ostensibly a misnomer, and headed "Struck but not Killed."

TRUTH says, he was "struck but not killed," now if he meant to defend Capt. Fulghum by his article he has made a clear case of what he aimed at, and struck the object of his defence right "between the eyes and killed him too dead to skin."

He says our "charges of the 13th inst. that Capt. Fulghum's position on the prohibition question was secured by a money consideration, are not true," and now just here, allow us to say parenthetically, that if TRUTH means to assert that we said Capt. Fulghum's position on the prohibition question was secured by a money consideration, he lies, that's all.

TRUTH says that it is not true that Capt. Fulghum's position was secured by a money consideration because he (TRUTH) was a member of the anti-prohibition committee in good and regular standing, and present at the meeting when the matter was discussed.

In regard to other statements of ours, we don't know what ones he refers to, but he just says "and the other statements I believe to be false." Now if TRUTH says generally that our statements are false, we say he lies, and we use the expression for the lack of a more suitable one.

What we have said has been without any personal feelings, but when our statements are disputed we feel that it is a duty we owe ourselves to maintain them, and we do not wish to say anything more on this subject.

But if the parties interested want this matter thoroughly ventilated, although we have no desire to take the trouble, still if they insist upon it, we will do it—for their accommodation.

Sitting Bull Surrenders.

Coming Into Camp With His Followers and Giving Himself Up.

FORT BUFORD, July 20.—Sitting Bull and about two hundred Indian people arrived at exactly twelve o'clock to-day and surrendered their arms and ponies to Major Brotherton. No speeches have yet been made, as Sitting Bull and his orator were fatigued and hungry. They were placed in compartments between the post and the host landing and are as securely in Major Brotherton's charge as if they were in irons.

Four negro incendiaries will be hanged in Greenville, S. C., on September 9th for burning the Academy of Music at that place in December, 1879.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Prohibition and Politics.

EDITOR PATRIOT.—At the outset of the prohibition movement in this State, it was asserted by its advocates that the measure had no political significance.

Again: "Should the Legislature refuse to pass a prohibitory law, I doubt not that the next step will be toward securing a Legislature that will."—J. Atkins, Jr., in same paper of Feb. 2d.

Excuse me, Mr. Editor, for digressing at this point. In the Advocate of March 9th, is a communication signed A. A. Serogga. Mr. Serogga is evidently a scholar, and I have no doubt a gentleman and a Christian.

Now, my dear sir, I have shown by this tract, that the principle involved in that particular feature of the prohibitory bill which forbids the manufacture of alcoholic liquors anywhere within the limits of the State, for medical, chemical and mechanical purposes, has been utterly condemned and repudiated by one among the most intelligent and sagacious of the prohibitionists there.

Returning to the political aspect of the question, and dropping the Advocate of the 10th, I am following from a letter of Hon. Neal Dow, published in the Battle Ground of July 9: "As a general proposition, this is the true policy: to demonstrate to the dominant party in the State, that if it ignores prohibition, it must and shall go to the wall; that it cannot stand without the votes of temperance men."

At the outset of this movement, as already remarked, assurance was given that it should have nothing to do with politics. Now, as these extracts show, the very men who gave this assurance, are threatening in their factious omnipotence, to annihilate one or both of the great political parties of the State, and thus at one fell swoop, to crush out and forever obliterate those essential principles of civil and religious liberty which lie at the very foundation of free government, and have made the American State the cynosure of all eyes, and the admiration of the world.

"Blind."

EDITOR PATRIOT.—Sometimes ago I noticed an article in your paper headed "Prohibition in the Pulpit," and written by a Mr. "Blind," and as the article reflects upon our minister, and also upon the people of our whole community, I deem it due to reply to the strictures of Mr. "Blind."

The most of this flock are temperance people, and, fortunately, have a temperance minister who by request preached a temperance sermon on that occasion, in the course of which he gave his views on Prohibition, and in so doing he dealt in very plain facts, but in language not calculated nor intended to offend any one.

Board of Agriculture.

The Board of Agriculture, at its session just ended, entirely re-organized the State system of immigration.

During the past winter an arrangement was made that the State and the Associated Railways, the lines of which are within this State, should operate in conjunction in bringing in immigrants, and Col. Pope was appointed by the board.

GENERAL NEWS.

Dean Stanley is dead. Syracuse, N. Y., had a $300,000 fire on the 19th inst.

An Indiana man stopped his paper because it had not contained a circus advertisement in three years.

The heroine of the Life Saving Service is Ida Lewis. She is a brave woman, and Secretary Windom does well in awarding to her the gold medal.

The peach crop in Delaware is reported to be an entire failure. It is estimated that there are 5,000,000 trees, and that in a favorable year the annual product is worth $3,000,000 to the owners of the orchards.

To such base uses has the work of a great man come, Read and think: Most of the teas in London within the last few weeks have been packed in leaves of "Endymion," which have been given away by the publishers.

The Texans have rather set down on their Governor for not joining in the movement for a day of thanksgiving, &c.

Conkling is having all of his traps and household comforts at Washington packed up for shipment to Utica. He does not contemplate spending this winter at the Capitol.

In commuting the death sentence of Hesse Helfmann, who was implicated in the murder of Alexander II, the Russian government did only what a decent regard to humanity required.

Some of the anti-prohibition editors have been hunting over the State to find prominent men who will commit themselves on their side. They have plenty of testimony on the other side and from the most prominent men of both parties, in the State; yet they ignore those.

A counterfeit dollar—a new and dangerous counterfeit silver dollar is now in circulation. The imitation is in all respects perfect, showing that the machinery used is of a high order.

STATE NEWS.

Winston Sentinel: Hubbard Frazier lost three children last week by diphtheria. This disease is prevailing to a considerable extent in some sections of the county.

Weldon News: The crops are in an excellent condition all over the county; we hear of no complaints from farmers and if the remainder of the season is good, there ought to be an abundant harvest in the fall.

Durham Recorder: The work of laying the rails on the University road was begun a fortnight ago, but owing to the scarcity of labor, little progress has been made.

Charlotte Observer: They tell of an engineer on the Air Line who saw a fire in a brick kiln some distance ahead of him, when approaching Gastonia one night last week, and thinking it another train he reversed his engine and ran back to Lowell before stopping.

The Landmark: A citizen of this place who is traveling Caldwell, Wataga and Ashe, reports that there is an unusually large number of tourists in the mountains. The boarding houses at Blowing Rock are filled to overflowing, and the proprietors are compelled to refuse lodgers every day.

We learn from the Lenoir Topic that there is an organized band of robbers in Alexander county in this State. A negro was arrested a few days ago near Taylorsville on suspicion of being connected with the band.

FIRE AT NEWBERNE.—At four o'clock on the 19th inst., the Stanley building Newberne was discovered to be on fire. This building contained the post office, the Register of Deeds office, the court room and the clerk's office.

Hillsboro Observer: On Monday afternoon another storm struck Hillsboro. At the Rev. J. Paget's there were several men in the back lot threshing wheat. The horses had been taken from the machine and were being led into the stable when the lightning struck a tall sycamore tree within a few feet of the machine.

Piedmont Press: A man by the name of Sparks, employed by Mr. P. A. Abernathy in a nation store at Bakersville, became offended at him by some means and threatened last Saturday morning to kill Mr. A. before sundown. That afternoon he attempted to carry out his threat, whereupon Mr. Abernathy shot him. He is held under a bond of $1500.

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S Celebrated American WORM SPECIFIC OR VERMIFUGE.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS. THE countenance is pale and leaden-colored, with occasional flashes of a circumscribed spot upon both cheeks; the eyes become dull; the pupils dilate; an azure semicircular ring along the lower eyelid; the nose is irritated, swells, and sometimes bleeds; a swelling of the upper lip; occasional headache, with humming or throbbing of the ears; an unusual secretion of saliva; slimy or furred tongue; breath very foul, particularly in the morning; appetite variable, sometimes voracious, with a gnawing sensation of the stomach, at others entirely gone; frequent nausea and vomiting; violent pains throughout the abdomen; bowels irregular, at times costive; stools slimy, not unfrequently tinged with blood; belly swollen and hard; urine turbid; respiration occasionally difficult, and accompanied by hiccupping; incessant sometimes dry and coughing; grinding of the teeth; variable, but generally irritable, &c.

Whenever the above symptoms are found to exist, DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE will certainly effect a cure. IT DOES NOT CONTAIN MERCURY in any form; it is an innocent preparation, not capable of doing the slightest injury to the most tender infant.

The genuine DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE is prepared by DR. C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. in New York.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS are not recommended as a remedy for all the ills that flesh is heir to, but for Biliousness, Dyspepsia and Sick Headache, &c. of that character, they stand without a rival.

AGUE AND FEVER. No better cathartic can be used preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. As a simple purgative they are unequalled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. The genuine are never sugar coated. Each box has a red wax seal on the lid with the impression of Dr. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS wrapper bears the signatures of DR. C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLANE spelled differently but same pronunciation.
