

Mrs. C. W. Ogburn is still very ill.

The tobacco warehouses are silent.

Col. Andrew, of the N. C. R. R., passed up the road Sunday night.

Another baptizing occurred at Oakdale Mills last Sunday.

Sowing wheat is now in order, although the soil is exceedingly dry.

Services will be held at the Methodist church every night this week.

Communion services were held at the Methodist church Sunday.

Mr. J. B. Greter is out again after a slight illness.

Dr. Benbow is building a new baggage wagon.

Nice showers fell Monday afternoon—enough at least to lay the dust.

Two Italians with violin and harp were in town last week.

The graded school is full up. The roll numbers over 220.

No new cases of diphtheria have appeared.

The chilly watermelon is still seen on the streets.

Gen. M. B. Taylor and family, of Wilmington, are at the Benbow house.

There is a rumor of a paper being started in our neighboring town of High Point.

An extra train was run between Greensboro and Raleigh during the fair, leaving here at six in the morning.

It will take at least a week's rain to wet the ground thoroughly, still more to do any account to the wells.

Luther Benson, well known to the citizens of Greensboro and vicinity, spent a few days with friends near here last week.

The Grand Lodge of Good Samaritans met in their hall in the Mendenhall building Tuesday morning.

Sheriff Gilmer reports slow progress in collecting taxes. He is at D. P. Foster's today.

The different churches were well attended Sunday, notwithstanding the heat and dust.

Will J. Steiner, Register of Deeds for Guilford county, left for Yorktown Sunday morning, to see the sights.

Many of the delegates to the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Good Samaritans arrived in the city Monday night. The attendance is large.

The action of our Board of Justices and County Commissioners, in making provision for a supply of corn for Guilford county, is highly extolled by the press of the State.

Geo. M. Daskin, of Alabama, brother-in-law to Judge Settle, spent a few days in the city last week. Col. Daskin has recently been confirmed as U. S. District Attorney for Southern Alabama.

From the present outlook, there will not be many distilleries in operation in this county the present season. Corn is so scarce. Those that will run have made arrangements to get meal from Richmond and other markets.

We were shown, by a merchant of this place, a few days ago, a Confederate silver dollar. Only few hundred dollars of such currency was issued by the Confederate government. The coin is a fine piece of work.

It is predicted that corn will not average over 60 cents per bushel this winter. It has been ascertained that a very large amount of old corn is on hand in the various granaries, more than enough to supply the demand.

Mr. C. N. McAdoo, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed citizens of Greensboro, will celebrate the 72nd anniversary of his birth on Saturday next. He will entertain a few friends at "Woodlawn," the elegant and hospitable home of Mrs. Annie McAdoo.

Only twelve more days, and the hunters will be turned loose on the birds. The fields will be full of every man who owns a "gun" in this burg, should engage in the destruction. We advise them to be careful, as very many farmers have their lands posted, and somebody may get into trouble.

The entrance fee for the glass-ball shooting at the New Garden Fair is $1.00. Tickets can be had from Mr. C. W. Ogburn in Greensboro any time before the start of the day. After paying the entrance fee of the balls the best will get two-thirds, and second best one-third of the entrance money. Twenty balls will be used.

Save your pennies. A genuine circus is coming some time in November.

Stateville Court.

The officials of the United States Court left Monday for Stateville to hold the term of court.

Upside Down.

The driver of the Benbow House bus left Sunday morning at the depot, bringing out the pole and otherwise deranging it.

Remove Them.

Empty boxes, barrels, &c., calculated in any way to obstruct the sidewalks in the city should be removed. Such things are a nuisance.

Water Wares.

Some of our citizens are taking out the curbing of their wells and digging them deeper. Every well in town, with only a few exceptions, has gone dry.

Beautiful Dwelling.

Mr. L. M. Scott's new dwelling near the depot is about completed. It is a beautiful and costly building, and occupies one of the prettiest sites in the city.

Gene.

Mr. G. Rosenthal, one of our Jewish citizens, "The Poor Man's Friend"—has pulled up stakes and left Greensboro, &c. He deals in second-hand clothing.

An Old Hele.

May Thomas Case, near Summersfield in this county, has had a child who died of cholera in the arms of American Henry at the battle of Guilford Court House.

Variegated Fruit.

A. McMichael, of this county, raised two crops of peaches from the same trees this year. One was a large white peach—ripened in June. The second crop of small red peach—ripened in October.

Cold Weather.

We may now look out for cold weather. A large flock of wild geese were seen Sunday, wending their way southward. This is usually accepted as a sure sign of approaching winter.

OFF FOR YORKTOWN

Mr. R. G. Callan, of this place, but recently connected with the Western Union Telegraph Company at Charlotte, has been assigned to duty at Yorktown during the celebration. He left Thursday morning last.

Prohibition Thorough.

We hear some of the distillers in this district refuse to run this winter, if the Collector insists on sending them a Storekeeper who voted the Prohibition ticket. They say prohibition and the manufacture of spirits don't work together.

State Fair.

Greensboro will be well represented at the State Fair last week. Those in attendance report the exhibition a success. The racing and exhibit of machinery was excellent. The crowd was immense. Dust was plentiful and water scarce.

Paralytic.

James Donnell, an old citizen of Guilford, residing three miles east of Greensboro, was stricken with paralysis last Thursday. The whole of the right side is affected, and it is with great difficulty that he can speak, his tongue being also paralyzed to some extent.

Real Estate Sale.

Notice is called to the advertisement, in this issue, of Real Estate for sale by J. A. Hoskins citizen of this place. There are five different tracts of land advertised, all of which is valuable. Persons desiring to invest in such property should read the notice and attend the sale.

The Market.

Prices at the market this week run as follows: Chickens 15 cents; Eggs 18; Butter 30; Beef steak 10; Roast 8; Mutton 10; Pork 12 1/2; Sweet Potatoes per bushel $1.00; Irish Potatoes 50 cents; Turnips 10 cents per bushel. The market is very quiet, with but few exceptions of chickens, butter and eggs, which are always in demand.

News of our Streets.

We think it would be a capital idea to put up sign boards or something of the kind, at the street crossings, giving the names of the streets in the city. We venture the assertion that not one person in ten of our citizens knows the names of the different streets of the city. Why not a little more pretentious, and paint the names of the streets on the lamp-posts?

Just a Periodical Attack.

Hugh Peters' dray-horse—"Bob"—had one of his periodical attacks again Monday. He ran about two blocks, but didn't damage the harness a great deal. The harness was completely demolished. The horse attached to another dray near by also became frightened and attempted to run, but was stopped before he got under way by the driver, however, was thrown from the wagon to the ground, knocking him senseless for a time. Old "Bob" runs away about every good opportunity.

Fall Snakes.

There is an old darter in this place—Edmund Eckel—who verily believes in the kind of snakes. He says they remain quiet during the day, but as soon as night comes they commence their work. They go up and down his legs, round his back and breast, through his head and arms, and all over him, being under the flesh all the time. He says he was given a drink of whiskey last summer by a man prohibition brother which, after he had drunk it, turned to snakes. He wants to be cut open and have them taken out, but he has not yet found a physician willing to accommodate him. He honestly believes the snakes have been "conjured," and wants to indict the darter who gave him the liquor.

Tramps and Beggars.

Mayor Eckel wants it understood that he is not the President of the Richmond & Danville, or North Carolina Railroad, nor is he a salaried officer of those institutions. He has been "conjured," and wants to think so. Almost every one who strikes the town, visits him for the purpose of getting a free pass to some point on the road. People in town are in the habit of sending such persons to him, when they know he cannot do anything for them. They only do it to get rid of their importunities for help. The mayor is getting tired of such work. If people have anything to give, they should give it to the proper authorities, and not to him.

The Military.

Several military companies passed through this place Sunday and Monday, en route to Yorktown. Sunday night the Winston Light Infantry came down. They were met at the depot by a squad of the Guards, which accompanied them to their barracks, where they remained until Monday morning, when they took the 7:30 train for Richmond.

The Salisbury Riflemen passed Monday morning.

The Charlotte company, thirty-six strong, passed through Sunday night. The Salisbury and Charlotte troops each wore the State uniform.

The Savannah Light Artillery passed through on the 9:30 train Monday morning.

The North Carolina Agricultural Experimental Station.

By Act of the last General Assembly the "Experimental Station" has been removed from Chapel Hill to the Agricultural Experiment Station at Raleigh. With spacious quarters and vastly increased facilities it is hoped the Station will be able to do more than ever for the advancement of agriculture. The work of the Station includes, among other things, the analysis of all fertilizers legally on sale in the State.

The analysis of agricultural chemicals, of compost and home-made fertilizers; the analysis of soils, manures and manure; the examination of seeds with reference to their purity and capacity to germinate; the examination of grasses and weeds; the study of insects injurious to vegetation; the analysis of minerals, ores and minerals; the analysis of drinking waters, articles of food, &c., for the State Board of Health.

Practical experiments upon different crops, with different manures, are conducted upon an experimental field.

Numerous publications upon these and kindred subjects are invited upon all subjects pertaining to scientific agriculture. Address Dr. Chas. W. Dabney, Raleigh, N. C.

LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the Post-office at Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 19, 1881.

Miss Bird Anderson, R. J. Bailey, Preston Bass, Capt. M. Cook, J. C. Cooper, Mary E. Coble, J. C. Cook, Miss Jessie P. Crump (2), Miss Sarah Gilmer, Miss Nellie Graves, Miss Laura Hines, Willie Harris, D. J. Houston, Miss Maggie Hunt, Joseph A. Jackson, Miss Emma McCrary, A. Morris, Albert Moore, A. F. Purcell, Mr. J. Rankin, Miss Nancy Reed, W. C. Rice, Jesse Wilson, John H. Wagoner, Wm. M. York.

Persons calling for any of the above letters, will please say they are advertised and give date of list.

J. D. WHITE, P. M.

New Goods.

J. H. May is receiving a large stock of fall and winter goods; the largest and best in the market. His advertisement will appear next week.

CORRY NOTES.

NORTH AND SOUTH MONROE. North Monroe has two schools for white, and one for colored people. None of them are now in operation. The prospect for a good tobacco crop was good, but was damaged greatly by the frost. Most of it has been cut and hauled. About one-fourth of a crop of corn will be raised. People are now sowing wheat.

CENTRE GROVE. Corn about one-third of a crop. Tobacco crop small; not injured very much by the frost. There are no free schools in operation in the township, but a fine subscription school has been established at Hillsdale under the management of Miss Lou Winchester, a lady of rare accomplishments and very good nature.

BRUCE. The corn crop will average one-third. About half a crop of tobacco will be raised. One-third of the tobacco has been ruined by frost. People are beginning to sow wheat, although the ground is very dry. There are four white and one colored school in the township, but none in operation at present. There is a splendid academic school in Summersfield under the control of Mr. F. S. Blair. There are also two dry good stores kept by H. C. Britain and G. J. Smith.

OAK RIDGE. has two colored and three white free-schools, none of which are now running. There is a fine academic school at Oak Ridge under the management of J. A. and M. H. Holt, with a scholarship of over $200. Splendid stores by W. O. Donnell and A. J. Balding. This is a splendid neighborhood. Something near a third of a crop of corn will be gathered. Tobacco was badly injured by frost, but had a crop will be cured.

DEEP RIVER. The yield of corn will be about one-third; tobacco the same. Upland tobacco was not injured by the frost, but the low ground crop suffered materially. There are three white schools and one for the colored people in this township. One school is now in operation. Upland tobacco, Davis, a very clever gentleman, is doing a good business merchandising.

FRIENDSHIP. None of the public schools are now in operation, although there are five for white and two for colored people. One-third each of corn and tobacco will be raised. Tobacco not hurt by frost.

BELLA'S LETTERS.

No. 4.

AUTUMN LEAVES AND FLOWERS. These rollicking autumn winds are making sad havoc, and I notice that the cautious ladies are all having their flowers brought in from the reach of the winds and the mischievous fingers of "Jack Frost"; I hope we will be more successful in preserving our flowers this winter, as we have prepared their quarters more snugly. We were highly served last winter for our negligence in the loss of almost every plant.

Almost every day one may see a party of young girls passing on their way to the woods to gather autumn leaves, and have their weary heads bent with the burdens of the exquisitely colored leaves, which, pressed and varnished, make beautiful ornaments for our winter parlors.

OYSTER SUPPERS. I am almost willing to hasten the footsteps of winter that we may renew our acquaintance with our animal and vegetable friend, the oyster. He is beginning to make his appearance, though slowly, and I am sure it will be to the great satisfaction of all when his season is once more established. Oyster suppers were in vogue, and no doubt the Good Templars, who always head the lists in such enterprises, will soon call us to a tempting banquet in their hall; they never "call" in vain.

FORTUNE-TELLERS. I heard some very startling facts the other day that made me think, though this is an age of enlightenment and civilization, that we have the "dark and mystic rites of Egypt" being performed in our midst. I have heard that there are quite a number of conjurers in Greensboro at this moment black and white; we can no longer complain of having no fortune-teller, and if any have a troublesome enemy whom they wish to obliterate, they will have no difficulty in finding assistance or advice as to how to make him "shuff-les off this mortal coil."

BEAUTIFUL EDIFICES. No, we have no other architect in town than Mr. Swain, and I ask the question: Why need we desire any other when we have in our midst the many beautiful edifices he has designed? For example the new houses of Mr. R. L. Vernon and Mr. L. M. Scott, which in themselves are sufficient to establish his fame forever; Truly we can say with heart-felt fervor:

THE MARKET. Ask me not of the "Market Square," rather ask the matrons for information upon that subject, for so far as I am concerned the Market could as well be in the Antipodes as here, as I so seldom frequent those regions. However, I hear that all is prospering there and good beef is "rare."

THE NATIONAL BANK. Our bank is the same steady old institution, but beyond that I can tell you no more as I am ignorant of all its business affairs. Mr. Ellinger is very quiet, and I do not think he will ever lose his place, and Messrs. Jesse Wharton, Jr., and Hayward Alderman seem to be established there just as firmly.

Mr. Alderman made a recent visit to Baltimore, and returned with a joyous light in his eyes that could be seen in those of no other whose mind is not at rest and whose destiny has not been sealed.

HUNTING, &c. This is the month for hunting to begin. We betide the unwary bird that tries to cross the range of the visionary organs of our huntsmen, who, in their modern skill and opportunities exceed beyond all bounds that old fellow of so much repute—Nimrod.

A party of ladies and gentlemen went one morning last week on a rabbit hunt, and I have been informed, were very successful, the ladies more so than the gentlemen.

BELLA'S FRIENDS. Our popular friend, Mr. Terrell, has bought that neat little cottage next to his residence, and has moved into it, to which he and his family moved last week.

Mr. K. A. Foard has now a large and flourishing school near Greensboro. I hear that he is very popular as a teacher, and has many warm friends there. His friends in Greensboro rejoice at his success.

Mrs. Nicholson still sings as sweetly as ever; she has a large class of pupils whom she is very successfully instructing in vocal music. Greensboro is very proud of having so sweet a songstress within her borders. Several of us were indebted to her for some very kind invitations to attend the Oriole celebration held in that city last week; a great deal of music was expended on it and it was of course a grand and brilliant affair. Mr. Yates has made many his old friends here, and I never forgets his old friends never forget him.

Mrs. Hunley, after an absence of six weeks, returned last week; the greater portion of the time she spent in New York city with her son, who is in business there, and the remainder she spent near there.

Historical Poem.

Concluding with the Capitulation at Yorktown. BY GEORGE S. STUART.

In times primeval once a lad led his cohorts to a famous strait, and said: "Here is the point to the mortal foe's; Proclaiming that the world's end he had found; The out-most stretch of Jove's green earth was here; 'Twas splendid stores by W. O. Donnell and A. J. Balding. This is a splendid neighborhood. Something near a third of a crop of corn will be gathered. Tobacco was badly injured by frost, but had a crop will be cured."

DEEP RIVER. The yield of corn will be about one-third; tobacco the same. Upland tobacco was not injured by the frost, but the low ground crop suffered materially. There are three white schools and one for the colored people in this township. One school is now in operation. Upland tobacco, Davis, a very clever gentleman, is doing a good business merchandising.

FRIENDSHIP. None of the public schools are now in operation, although there are five for white and two for colored people. One-third each of corn and tobacco will be raised. Tobacco not hurt by frost.

BELLA'S LETTERS.

No. 4.

AUTUMN LEAVES AND FLOWERS. These rollicking autumn winds are making sad havoc, and I notice that the cautious ladies are all having their flowers brought in from the reach of the winds and the mischievous fingers of "Jack Frost"; I hope we will be more successful in preserving our flowers this winter, as we have prepared their quarters more snugly. We were highly served last winter for our negligence in the loss of almost every plant.

Almost every day one may see a party of young girls passing on their way to the woods to gather autumn leaves, and have their weary heads bent with the burdens of the exquisitely colored leaves, which, pressed and varnished, make beautiful ornaments for our winter parlors.

OYSTER SUPPERS. I am almost willing to hasten the footsteps of winter that we may renew our acquaintance with our animal and vegetable friend, the oyster. He is beginning to make his appearance, though slowly, and I am sure it will be to the great satisfaction of all when his season is once more established. Oyster suppers were in vogue, and no doubt the Good Templars, who always head the lists in such enterprises, will soon call us to a tempting banquet in their hall; they never "call" in vain.

FORTUNE-TELLERS. I heard some very startling facts the other day that made me think, though this is an age of enlightenment and civilization, that we have the "dark and mystic rites of Egypt" being performed in our midst. I have heard that there are quite a number of conjurers in Greensboro at this moment black and white; we can no longer complain of having no fortune-teller, and if any have a troublesome enemy whom they wish to obliterate, they will have no difficulty in finding assistance or advice as to how to make him "shuff-les off this mortal coil."

BEAUTIFUL EDIFICES. No, we have no other architect in town than Mr. Swain, and I ask the question: Why need we desire any other when we have in our midst the many beautiful edifices he has designed? For example the new houses of Mr. R. L. Vernon and Mr. L. M. Scott, which in themselves are sufficient to establish his fame forever; Truly we can say with heart-felt fervor:

THE MARKET. Ask me not of the "Market Square," rather ask the matrons for information upon that subject, for so far as I am concerned the Market could as well be in the Antipodes as here, as I so seldom frequent those regions. However, I hear that all is prospering there and good beef is "rare."

THE NATIONAL BANK. Our bank is the same steady old institution, but beyond that I can tell you no more as I am ignorant of all its business affairs. Mr. Ellinger is very quiet, and I do not think he will ever lose his place, and Messrs. Jesse Wharton, Jr., and Hayward Alderman seem to be established there just as firmly.

Mr. Alderman made a recent visit to Baltimore, and returned with a joyous light in his eyes that could be seen in those of no other whose mind is not at rest and whose destiny has not been sealed.

HUNTING, &c. This is the month for hunting to begin. We betide the unwary bird that tries to cross the range of the visionary organs of our huntsmen, who, in their modern skill and opportunities exceed beyond all bounds that old fellow of so much repute—Nimrod.

A party of ladies and gentlemen went one morning last week on a rabbit hunt, and I have been informed, were very successful, the ladies more so than the gentlemen.

BELLA'S FRIENDS. Our popular friend, Mr. Terrell, has bought that neat little cottage next to his residence, and has moved into it, to which he and his family moved last week.

Mr. K. A. Foard has now a large and flourishing school near Greensboro. I hear that he is very popular as a teacher, and has many warm friends there. His friends in Greensboro rejoice at his success.

Mrs. Nicholson still sings as sweetly as ever; she has a large class of pupils whom she is very successfully instructing in vocal music. Greensboro is very proud of having so sweet a songstress within her borders. Several of us were indebted to her for some very kind invitations to attend the Oriole celebration held in that city last week; a great deal of music was expended on it and it was of course a grand and brilliant affair. Mr. Yates has made many his old friends here, and I never forgets his old friends never forget him.

Mrs. Hunley, after an absence of six weeks, returned last week; the greater portion of the time she spent in New York city with her son, who is in business there, and the remainder she spent near there.

Married.

At the residence of the bride's parents on October 16, by Rev. Mr. Bailey, Mr. H. H. Tatum, of Greensboro, to Miss Cora Webster, of Madison, N. C.

DIED.

On the 14th Oct., 1881, in Greensboro, N. C., at the residence of Mr. John Chastain, the child of Clarence Henry Augustus, aged 20 months and 24 days.

On Saturday evening the 15th Oct. after funeral services, this darling infant was laid in the grave, just one week after it had been sealed in "Christian baptism." "Suffer"—this little one—"to come unto me."

Soon thy little feet have trod The skyward path, the seraph's road; That bid thee back from man to God; "Yes, thou art gone! I not lost, but flown; Shall I then ask thee back, my own? Back—and leave thy robes of whiteness? Back—and leave thy robes of whiteness? Back—to earth and man? I rather Would I live in solitude! I would not ask thee, if I could; But patient wait the high decree; That calls my spirit home to thee." J. H. S.

IN MEMORIAM.

At a meeting of the Faculty and students of Greensboro Female College, held in the Chapel on the 14th inst., the following paper was presented and unanimously adopted:

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT. How impressive at this solemn hour the words of Scripture—"We all fade as a leaf—our life is a vapor that appeareth for a little while, and then vanisheth away—man cometh forth like a flower and is soon cut down; whose grass flourisheth but he is cut down; whose fragrance was a rich boon to her teachers and fellow pupils, and whose memory will be a precious tribute of respect to the many who richly deserved their choicest offerings."

In view of this sad dispensation of divine providence—Resolved, That we bow with humble submission to the just decree of divine will. Resolved, That in the death of Katie Bynum Warren, of Greenville, N. C., who departed this life on the 9th inst., this Institution has sustained a loss that is felt to be real and manifest in that her exemplary deportment and diligent attention to study gave satisfactory assurance, that her life in its mature development would have reflected decided honor upon her Alma Mater.

Resolved, That we who were intimate with the deceased have sustained a personal loss of which we are most deeply sensible, in that our lamented friend and classmate possessed of such lovable character and such disposition of disposition, as to endeavor her, in no ordinary degree, to all who came within the circle of her acquaintance.

Resolved, That we have great consolation in the fact that in believing that our beloved pupil and schoolmate in passing from the trials and sorrows of earth has entered upon the bliss of the better land, and while our hearts are sad at her absence, we enjoy the comfort of her rest, but glorious and eternal home.

Resolved, that we tender our sincerest sympathy to the parents and family of the deceased, and pray that sustaining grace may support and bless them in this their severest affliction.

Resolved, that the Raleigh Christian Advocate, the Greenville Express, and the Greensboro Patriot be requested to publish these resolutions, and that a copy of the same be sent to the parents of the deceased.

Resolved, that in token of our sincere grief, we will wear the usual badge of mourning, on every day of the week, until the funeral services.

Done in the College Chapel at Greensboro, N. C. T. M. JONES, Pres. W. F. ALDERMAN, Sec. October 14th, 1881.

Obituary Testimonial. At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the National Bank of Greensboro, held October 12th, 1881, the following minutes of the meeting of the Board of Directors were reported and adopted, and its publication requested in the city papers:

The recent death of JED. H. LINDSEY, our associate in the Board of Directors, calls for the expression of our feeling of sorrow for his loss, and for some fitting and respectful tribute to his memory upon our journals. We desire to place upon record—

1. Our testimony to the care and watchfulness which he manifested in his position as Director of the National Bank of Greensboro, and to the respectability of his private life.

2. Our high estimate of the personal worth of our deceased associate and friend, whose whole business life, from youth to old age, was illustrated by strict integrity and honor, and whose conversation was marked by probity and honor, and a promptness and candor of thought and expression, commensurate with the confidence and respect of his associates and of all with whom he had to do. He was a man to be depended upon, and whose integrity and honesty were examples to young men commencing a business career.

3. We also wish to express our sincere sympathy with his children in the loss of their father, and to extend our warmest wishes for their success in life.

This testimonial is signed by the several members of the Board of Directors and sent to each of his three sons.

W. B. HILL, J. Com. L. SWAIN, Sec.

Gentle Hand-made Boots and Shoes in twenty different styles at SAMPLE S. BROWN'S. Oct. 19th.

Silk Cord and Tassel—and Colored and Black Silk Fringe for the thousands at SAMPLE S. BROWN'S. Oct. 19th.

One Thousand dollars worth of new Clothing opened yesterday at Oct. 19th. BROWN'S.

Sample Brown expects to receive tomorrow a handsome line of Ladies' Sewing Machines, made especially for him and warranted by him. Oct. 19th.

W. E. Forbis & Bro., Wholesale and Retail dealers in FURNITURE, Benbow Corner, are daily adding to their already large stock of latest styles of CHAIRS and KINGS FURNITURE.

They have three large floors for displaying their elegant stock and are now offering special bargains in their line. Oct. 12-14th.

Disolution. The firm of Porter & Greter, insurance agents, Greensboro, N. C., has been dissolved. W. C. Porter, October 12th, 1881-4w.

Notice to Yorktown. On and after October 12, round trip tickets between Greensboro and Yorktown via Richmond and Newport, good to return until Oct. 25, will be on sale at Greensboro at $10.00. A. POPE, Oct. 12-3t.

Capt. L. M. Hawkins, authorizes us to say that after the 15th of October no ICE will be delivered, except to parties buying 25 lbs., or upwards at a time. 2t

MAYOR'S OFFICE.

GREENSBORO, Va., April 19, 1879. Messrs. Hutchinson & Bro.—It affords me pleasure to testify to the great virtues of your "Neuralgia" for the cure of neuralgia and sick headache. It