DEMOCRATIC SUPREMACY FOR THE GOOD OF ALL, AND A DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION ADMINISTERED BY DEMOCRATS.
GREENSBORO, N. C., FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1888.

ESTABLISHED IN 1855.
NEW SERIES, NO. 1,122.

THE GREENSBORO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Among the organizations in our city for the upbuilding of our waste places, none stand out more conspicuously than the Chamber of Commerce. Its members have taken upon themselves a great work, a work which we believe will in the end be appreciated by our citizens, one and all. At present they may not see how we are to accomplish the end they have in view, neither can we but when four fifths of the business firms of our growing city, such as are represented in this body, turn their thoughts and efforts in one direction, there will be abundant success at no distant day.

We have a beautiful and attractive city, as well as the chief Railroad centre of the State. Its surroundings are much more than ordinary, and strangers are attracted and animated by them. It is therefore only necessary for a little united action to develop our inexhaustible resources, and make Greensboro the Atlanta of North Carolina in every sense of the word. It is an old saying, "that proof of the pudding is chewing the rag," and Greensboro has been in a position for the past few years with some experience, to know that the most important step now to be taken is the furtherance of the tobacco interests of the city. That the Chamber of Commerce is fully alive to this fact, is evidenced by the action taken last Saturday night by the Board of Directors in recommending to the Chamber the formation of an organization in the shape of a joint stock company to build brick houses, leaf factories &c. to be rented at a nominal low figure to all who wish to come hither and work for the upbuilding of our tobacco market.

Large manufacturing concerns as well as smaller ones, can be induced to come to Greensboro. They must be encouraged in many ways than one. We must hold out inducements to them and let them feel that their success is ours. We must encourage them by giving them financial aid in case they ask it as an inducement to locate with us, when possible and expedient. Why should this be done? Many will ask. For various reasons, viz: If every man would invest a little of his surplus income in manufacturing concerns that care to receive such investments, provided the stock is offered by such concerns as locate in our midst, the amount would be of little importance to the investor, yet, if all the capitalist and business concerns and real estate owners in Greensboro would invest one or two per cent. of their capital in assisting and inducing manufacturers to locate here, the growth of our city within five years would be marvelous and of such character as to excite the admiration of the world. The value of real estate itself would increase ten fold, say nothing about the income from the investment. Now gentlemen, we cannot expect a few to do this alone, neither can we expect the members of the Chamber of Commerce alone to do it. Neither can we expect our large business men or capitalist to accomplish all this within themselves. Every citizen of Greensboro must put his shoulder to the wheel and be wide awake to the new era that is fast dawning upon the far famed "city of flowers." Every one must contribute his mite and the result in a short time will astonish the natives.

That some will make light of this suggestion and criticize our zeal by saying "that's all right enough, let these wide-awake, energetic men put in their money, I do not propose to discommodate myself for the sake of others' profit," we do not question. But let us say in conclusion, that such men are blind to their own interests, and a silver dollar is as big in their eyes as the first full moon in June.

All the same, the belief is that our citizens have become wide awake to the fact that Greensboro shall become a great city, and the petty jealousies and envy that has heretofore existed must sooner or later become things of the past. Let the prevailing sentiment of all be to welcome, encourage and foster business and manufacturing and say to the outside world: We welcome you! Come within our gates! We have every advantage to offer you!

Fall in, the Salisbury Truth, a weekly paper adapted at the last State Assembly of the Knights of Labor, as official organ of the order in North Carolina, has come out squarely for Democracy and raises the National and State ticket at its mast head.

THE FOURTH AT REIDSVILLE.—From all accounts the Fourth of July celebration at Reidsville last Wednesday was a grand success as it was elsewhere. The speeches were patriotic and soul-stirring and the parade was fine.

WIND AND RAIN.—A heavy wind and rain passed over this section yesterday evening inflicting considerable damage to the growing crops, besides blowing down a number of trees, fences, &c.

DIED.—Mr. Will L. Apple, son of Mr. J. M. Apple, of Star Warehouse, breathed his last at his father's residence in this city last night, July 5, '88, at 12 o'clock, aged about 21 years. The burial services will take place to-morrow at 11 o'clock, a. m., with military honors, Mr. Apple having been a member of the Guilford Grays at the time of his death.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.—The Woman's Missionary Society of the North Carolina Methodist Episcopal Conference adjourned at Newbern day before yesterday. It now numbers 1,266 members, who during the past year contributed $1,368.23 to missions. "Bright Jewels," an auxiliary composed of 2,500 children, contributed $745.47 during the past eight months. The next meeting of the society will be held in Charlotte. Mrs. J. A. Cunningham, of this city, was elected President, for which we extend our congratulations.

On the 15th and 16th the annual fair of the State Horticultural Society will be held in Metropolitan Hall. Large premiums are offered and will be paid cash down.

This will be the most important farmers' convention ever held in the United States.

FREAK OF NATURE.—The Madison Leader says that a duck was hatched out at J. B. Vadin's last week which had four perfectly formed feet and legs, the extra two growing out just behind the regular ones. Otherwise it was a perfect duck, with the exception that its bill was reversed, the flat side being on top.

A COTTON FACTORY.—A cotton factory company has been incorporated at Tarboro' with a capital stock of $100,000. We remember distinctly when the agitation of this project was commenced at Tarboro', and the same thing was agitated in Greensboro long before. To-day Tarboro' has her factory, what does Greensboro propose doing?

A HANDSOME SHOWING.—Mr. S. H. Mendenhall, of Deep River in this county, has sold from his orchard of 4 acres, so far this season, 131 crates of peaches of 3 pecks each. As yet, he has gathered but two kinds, and will still have a quantity of the later varieties. He has fed to big hogs those too soft to ship North—about to bushels.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON.—An eclipse of the moon will occur on the 22nd of July, and will be more interesting than the one of January 28th. The diameter of the earth's shadow will be much larger at that time in proportion to the diameter of the moon, darkening the place at midnight when the moon is higher in the heavens, and it will be visible in this section.

THE R. & S. R. R.—Another stumbling block seems to have been discovered in the way of the Roanoke & Southern R. R. The Darville Register says: It will be remembered that Horry county voted $100,000 in bonds to the Roanoke & Southern railway and the company has been depending largely on those bonds to carry on the work. Last week the board of supervisors met at Martinsville for the purpose of issuing the bonds, but Judge Henry Mullins, the county's agent, refused to sign and deliver them.

Dear to Our Hearts. Major S. H. Smith has shown the Winston Sentinel the old battle flag of the 42nd Regiment, which was used during the war. The number of bullet holes in it is convincing that it, like many an old soldier served through many a conflict. Maj. Smith had the old flag on exhibition at the encampment of old soldiers in Winston on the 4th of July.

During the storm Thursday evening last a negro was killed by lightning near Gibsonville.

THE PATRIOT regrets to hear the farmers of Chatham county speak so disparagingly of the tobacco crop. They say, almost without exception, that they do not expect over half a crop. Their great hopes are centered on the late planting. The other crops are more promising.

Geo. S. Bergeman's speech. We append below the text of Mr. George S. Bergeman's speech accepting the Presidency of the Cleveland and Fowle Club, delivered in the Court House last night, July 6th:

Gentlemen of the Democratic Club of Greensboro, N. C. I am here to night to thank you for the honor you have done me. It is perhaps unnecessary for me to say that nothing could have been a greater surprise. As some of you are aware, I was not in the city at the time of your meeting last Friday evening, and I had been from home for several days. In fact the first intimation I had that even the formation of such a Club had been thought of, was on last Saturday morning as I went to work from a northern train, and I was accosted by every friend I met as "Mr. President."

Now, Gentlemen, in the first place I wish to say that had I been here on last Friday night, I should not have stood where I stand to-night. Had I been here I should most certainly have declined it. Not only does my business engagements interfere with my giving to this position the attention it should receive, but I feel awkward and ill at ease in filling such an exalted position. Then, I am no politician. I have not the rudiments of a political education. No, my friends, nothing short of the fact that I have been elected to the Presidency of your Club, without my consent, or knowledge, and even before I had become a member thereof, and thereby bestowing upon me a compliment and an honor which I do not think the most honorable citizen of our town could afford to treat with indifference, I say, that nothing short of finding myself in such a situation as this could induce me for one moment to consider the possibility of my accepting the position.

In politics I am a democrat. I have always voted the democratic ticket, and expect to do so at our next election. In addition to being a democrat, I am a temperance man and in favor of prohibition. I believe that the God of our fathers has blessed our country with the best—all our temporal affairs and political destinies. I believe that the temperance sentiment is gaining ground, and year by year grows stronger and stronger in the hearts of our people. I do not believe that the Bible forbids the temperate use of wine. Neither do I think that that Book, which is the greatest of all guides, prohibits slavery, yet we have signs that in God's providence slavery has disappeared from every christian country on earth, entirely from the American Continent and almost if not entirely from the face of the globe. In like manner I think I can see in the signs of the times, with unmistakable certainty, the hand of God moving for the overthrow of the liquor traffic. I believe that there is such a temperance sentiment growing in the minds and hearts of the people of this country that it will not be far in the distance when a prohibition plank will be found in the platform of every political party, and I feel sure no party will insert such a plank with more promptness and pleasure than will the democratic party, when every majority of our people say put it in. Until then, no party has the right in this free country to insert it.

In reply to a question which may be asked by some of my friends who entertain similar views to my own on the prohibition question, as to why I do not avail myself of the opportunity offered at the coming election to endorse those sentiments by voting the third party ticket now in the field, I will say that, viewed from every reasonable standpoint, I think prohibition will be secured sooner through the Democratic party, and then the Democratic party favors principles and supports as a rule men who are more in harmony with my feelings. In addition to this, the third party platform contains measures which I think if ever inaugurated in this country will inroduce evils never outdone by the liquor traffic.

I have said this much relative to myself and my political and temperance views, thinking it not improper to inform the Club exactly how I stand, and especially in regard to the great question of prohibition. If these, my sentiments, are not in ill accord with those of this Club, and with a promise from you to overlook my errors, and support and aid me in the discharge of the duties of the office, I will again thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me, and promising as faithful a performance of all the duties of the office as my very limited knowledge in such matters will admit, I will accept the Presidency of your Club.

A Wheel Horse. David Rigby, the man who carries the U. S. mail from Mt. Airy to Fancy Gap, on foot, says the Winston Sentinel, and bare-foot at that, is a good walker, and receives 62 cents for the 26 miles he travels. He not only carries the mail, but frequently takes on freight, such as buggy tires, chairs &c. His charges are moderate, and it is said that for a nickle he will carry an article of freight a considerable distance. He is so punctual that people say they set their watches by him. Rigby walks with the greatest ease, and never tires. He has no use for a horse and buggy and avoids riding at all times.

WINSTON'S CELEBRATION.—A report of the Fourth of July celebration at Winston-Salem on yesterday—such a report as its excellence deserves—would tax the space of a much larger paper than ours, and we must therefore content ourselves with a cursory review of the programme, with its many attractive features.

Gen. Hampton and Hon. M. W. Ransom arriving on the 11:20 train in the forenoon, were met at the depot by a great concourse of people, who formed in two long lines, down which the distinguished citizens moved, amid enthusiastic cheers. Immediately afterwards the procession was formed, passing over the route published, and occupying a distance of at least one mile. The floats in line were magnificent, combining historical illustration, and incident in a grouping of striking tableaux—the aboriginal Indians, the first settlers, the colonists, the Continental soldier, the awakening of progress and its onward march, and the full-fledged civilization of to-day, as evidenced by the mercantile and manufacturing enterprises—tobacco, hardware, flour and corn-milling, hardware, groceries, millinery, dry goods, agricultural implements, etc. One of the most imposing and admired features of this parade was the thirteen beautiful young lady equestrians, representing the thirteen original States, splendidly mounted on prancing chargers, their graceful forms attired in habits trimmed with the national colors.

At a little after 12 m. the procession concluded its route, and the immense crowd assembled about the large and tastefully decorated stand on the square in front of the Salem Academy, where Mr. Frank Fries, in a brief but graceful congratulatory address, opened the ceremonies by invoking Rev. W. C. Norman, who in eloquent words invoked God's blessings on the day. The Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence was then read by Mr. Henry R. Starbuck, of Winston, and the National Declaration by Mr. W. G. Burkhead, editor of the Durham Tobacco Plant. Both readings were splendidly done. Prof. W. A. Blair having been unavoidably detained elsewhere, Mr. Fries, in announcing that fact with regret, expressed the pleasure which it gave him to present a distinguished patriot of another State, and asked of Gen. M. W. Ransom the performance of the pleasing task of introducing Gen. Wade Hampton. Gen. Ransom's remarks were eloquent and impassioned, and greeted with frequent applause, and at the conclusion Gen. Hampton responded to the enthusiasm with which his audience greeted him by an address which held the crowd of thousands of listeners in unwaried interest to the close. The exercises at the stand were then brought to an end by the benediction by Rev. G. R. Rindthaler.

At 4 p. m. the display of live stock was made by street parade, during which the reporter had the pleasure of seeing some as fine stock—horses and cattle—as could be gathered together anywhere in the State. "Western Chief" and two or three others on exhibition were magnificent specimens of horse-flesh.

The "Fantastic" parade was not omitted, coming soon after the live stock display, and created much hilarity and laughter. Many of the barbaques were very good, especially that of the Salem Orchestra, which was boisterously applauded.

Nothing created more general interest than the ex-Confederate soldiers' encampment and reunion. Hundreds arrived the night before, and went into camp, where they received a great many visitors, who watched them giving out and cooking rations, recalling the scenes of the past, &c., all in the manner of veritable camp life. Soldiers to the number of 517, were present and encamped on the register, and in the afternoon of yesterday there was a dress parade with special music by Gen. G. Hampton and Ransom, Gen. G. Brown and others.

Unfortunately a heavy rain at night rendered it impossible to have a display of fire-works, and also made the attendance at the ball very small.

The people of the two cities may well feel gratified of yesterday's great success, and we congratulate Chief Marshal Buxton, Messrs. Fries, Blum, and others on the unparalleled attractions which they offered to their guests.

REMOVED.—Mr. Bollen, civil engineer for the R. & D. R. R. made an informal survey of the High Point & Randleman R. R. the other day and intimates that the road would be built by frost.

Mr. John Callum, who had his leg broken in a railway accident at Durham, a year or two ago, died at Burlington yesterday.

Mr. Sergeant Accepts.—The Cleveland and Fowle Club met in the Court House last night and ratified the election of Mr. George S. Bergeman as President. A good crowd was present, and the wildest enthusiasm prevailed. Mr. Sergeant's speech of acceptance was received with round after round of applause, the text of which appears elsewhere.

Mr. A. T. Whitsett sent in his resignation as corresponding secretary, and Mr. W. R. Land was elected by acclamation to fill the vacancy. Mr. B. C. Sharp moved that a committee of five be appointed by the chair to report names from which to select an Executive Committee; carried. On motion of Mr. Forbis a committee of three was appointed, to select a room for the future meetings of the club. On this committee the chair appointed J. W. Forbis, J. J. Nelson and John Whitt. Mr. Sharp moved that white beavers be adopted, bandanna handkerchiefs be red as the uniform of the club; which was carried, and on motion of Mr. Lyon the merchants of Greensboro were requested to put in a bid to furnish the same. Mr. Branch Merriam moved that we have a torch light procession next Wednesday night in honor of the nominee of the Democratic convention which meets here that day; carried. A committee was appointed to take the matter in charge.

The Danbury Reporter places the wheat crop of Stokes county at one-third of last year's yield.

A Cleveland and Fowle club will be organized and thoroughly officered at Centre, this county, this evening.

The building committee appointed to let out the contract for the erection of the 30,000 hotel at Piedmont Springs met in Winston last Wednesday and awarded the contract, work to commence at once.
