> NOT A STRANGER TO THE FARMER.-Col. Jas. T. Morchead, the Democratic nominee for Congress in this district, is certainly closely identified with the interests of the agriculturist. He owns and cultivates well two or three large farms in the county, and it is said by those who know him well that his real strong predilections are with the routine and doings of every day farm life-which are dearer to him than even the professional life in which he is so deeply engaged, or the affairs of politics, into which his love for the State throws him now and
