OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

There is no time like the old time, when you and I were young. When the birds of April had come and the fields of corn were young. The garden's brightest glories by summer's side are faded. But oh, the sweet violets, the flowers that opened first!

There is no place like the old place, where you and I were born. Where we first drew our breath on the shoulders of the world. From the milk-white breast that warmed us from the chilling winds that here, where the dew drops glistened over us that will last on to no more.

There is no friend like the old friend who has shared our morning days. No greeting like his welcome, no home like his hospitable. Plans of the world are smaller, with the golden crown of gold. But friendship is the breathing rose that sweetens in every hour.

There is no love like the old love, that we carried in our pride. There is no love like the old love, that we carried in our pride. There is no love like the old love, that we carried in our pride.

SHALL WE LOSE THE GIRLS' INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL?

Propositions Made to the Trustees Yesterday by Durham, Thomasville and Graham.

The Board of Trustees, appointed by the last General Assembly, of the Female Industrial School to be established at some point in this State, met here yesterday morning to consider propositions and bids from the towns which desire to secure the school. A full board was present, Major Finger, Chairman, presiding.

Delegations from Thomasville, Durham and Graham appeared before the board and made propositions.

Thomasville was represented by Messrs. J. A. Leach, W. C. Wilson and J. H. Mills. Mr. Leach at some length presented the advantages of Thomasville to the board and laid before them the propositions of that town which were two, Thomasville's offers were as follows: First, to donate the Thomasville Female College building, a very well arranged and desirable building, and six acres of ground on which it is located and additional buildings not to exceed a cost of $10,000; second buildings to be erected to comply with the plan and specifications, furnished by the Board of Trustees, not to exceed a cost of $20,000, including a site of not less than six acres, land to be guaranteed to the students in private families at from $5 to $10 per month.

Mr. Leach addressed the committee at some length setting forth the superiority of Thomasville as the location of the institution, the location of the healthy climate which exists there all the year round, the abundance of chickens, eggs, milk, butter, vegetables, etc., and the cheapness of living, the cheapness of building material in that section, the advantage of the town in being located on a great railroad thoroughfare, and in the central and best part of the State.

Durham was represented by a strong delegation composed of Messrs. S. F. Tomlinson, E. J. Parson, Geo. W. Watts, R. I. Rogers and Mrs. A. Jordan, who ably presented Durham's claims to the board. Durham's proposition was a desirable site and $22,000 in cash, the choice of two locations being offered, one on Fowler Hill and the other to the east of an in front of Trinity College. The committee was addressed by Messrs. Tomlinson, Parson and Watts in behalf of Durham and they brought strong arguments to show why the institution should be located there. They pictured in graphic manner the progressiveness and industrial advantages of Durham, her beautiful climate, her central location and her growing importance as a school center. They presented her claims with force and ability.

Graham was represented by Messrs. J. A. Long, Capt. E. S. Parker, J. W. Hardin, J. H. Hardin, J. S. Scott, J. B. Kernodle and J. W. Minefee. Mr. Long addressed the board in behalf of Graham. His proposition was to donate $20,000 of bonds of the town of Graham and a site. Choice of several sites was offered, ranging from seven to forty acres, two of which it was offered to donate and the others at a price. Graham also offered the use of the Graham College buildings and grounds for one year, till the other buildings are erected with the $20,000 of bonds offered. Mr. Long spoke ably and convincingly of the advantages of Graham for the location of the school in the midst of a section where girls are doing much for themselves.

A written proposition was received from the President of Floral College, near Maxton, offering it as a donation provided the institution be located there. Greensboro has also intimated an intention to make a proposition.

When the propositions had been considered the board took them into consideration and finally decided to visit all the competing points and examine the locations.

The board will accordingly leave in a body this morning for Durham, where they will spend the day, and will go from there to Graham and to Thomasville.

The members of the board who were present yesterday were Dr. J. M. Spaulding, Col. McAllister, Dr. Stancell, Messrs. Shaw, Chatham, Gilmer, Goodwin, Noble, Aycock and Maj. S. M. Finger, chairman.

HE WILL BE LYNCHED
The People Wrought to Frenzied Rage By a Brute.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 16.—Thomas Cowie, an eighteen-year-old boy of Martin's Ferry, was yesterday made an outrageous assault on the nine-year-old daughter of Brad Brooks in a cemetery, while she was planting flowers on her mother's grave.

The child's screams brought assistance and the brute fled. He was captured yesterday near Newburg, after a desperate struggle with the officers, and arraigned on the Court at Martin's Ferry today. It was then developed that at least two other little girls have been victims of Craig's lust.

JOHN KNOX'S BIG OLD CLOCK
A Timepiece at Huntingdon that was Ticked for 331 Years.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., June 16.—A big eight-day clock that was built at Paisley, Scotland by Edward Skeoch in 1560, and was owned by John Knox, is now possessed by W. H. Woods, of this place, a descendant of the great Scotch reformer.

It was also owned after the middle of the Eighteenth century by John Witherspoon, a member of the Continental Congress and signer of the Declaration of Independence.

The clock is still a good time-keeper, and may be sent as a gift to the World's Fair.

Gen. Longstreet's Book.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Major J. H. Stine, of the Treasury Department in Washington, to-day received a letter from Gen. Longstreet in which he speaks in a encouraging manner concerning his health. He says in part, "My health is better than it has been for some time, and I am getting stronger and am planning to resume work in September."

A STROKE AS FROM HEAVEN
Brothers Die the Same Night—though Ten Miles Apart.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 16.—Henry and William Trumbauer, brothers living in this county, ten miles apart. On Sunday both retired to their beds in the best of health. The next morning both were found dead in bed by their wives. Representatives in each family went to communicate the sad news, when they met on the road half-way distance between the homes.

Telegraph Companies in the S.

NORFOLK, Va., June 16.—Representatives have issued against the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies and Postal Telegraph business without a license. The finance committee of the month council in their report that body to-night recommended that the Western Union company pay their tax by the first of the three months to be removed from the streets.

Southern Facts.

The South may yet develop a big thing in the cotton seed oil trade. It is already large, but it promises to grow into greater dimensions. The Southern mills pay higher wages than the Northern mills of the same kind pay. Negroes do the work in the South with a white manager and two or three white foremen. We understand that the wages run from $1.75 to $3.00 for skilled workmen, and there has never been a strike among all the Southern cotton oil mills. It is said to be a fact that in all Southern land in the cotton mills there has never been but one strike of any importance, and that only extended only through a few weeks.

The South has many advantages over the North in many things, but the moneyed men and mill managers are slow to discover them and admit the fact. But they will learn more and concede more before many years.

The cotton mills, the cotton seed oil mills, and the iron furnaces all produce cheaper goods and of good quality than the Northern mills and furnaces. This is so, and it is folly to deny facts that are easily discovered. Labor is satisfactory as the results show, and much of it is near labor.—Washington Messenger.

THE DEAD HEROES.
Whose Memory Should be Perpetuated in the South.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 2.—The college of Charleston, S. C., issues a circular in which it earnestly invites the co-operation of all Southern colleges in the forming of an association to raise funds to be applied to the erection of a monument to perpetuate the fame and memory of Jefferson Davis, Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson, and the Confederate dead in general.

In order to arrange some definite mode of procedure, it is proposed that a convention of southern universities and colleges be held in Charleston, at such time during the coming fall as may be found most expedient and convenient, and that an interstate oratorical contest be made a feature of the proposed convention, each institution being represented by one contestant.

Every southern university and college is earnestly requested to send a representative to the convention, whether such delegation takes part in the contest or not.

HORSES KNEW THE INFANT.
The Team Refuses to Run Over a Child in Its Baby Carriage.

CANTON, O., June 10.—A remarkable illustration of equine intelligence is reported from Buck Hill. A man named Marshall was driving into town with a two-horse team pulling a load of hay. He fell asleep, leaving his team to go as it pleased. A hired girl of one of the neighbors had been traveling a Bible child in a low-wheeled buggy, and while stopping to chat with a friend carelessly left the buggy in the middle of the road, just as the heavily loaded wagon came along.

The driver of the wagon was suddenly awakened by the wagon coming to a standstill. The sleep-fellow rubbed his eyes, and saw two quiet and sensible horses calmly investigating the buggy and its infant occupant, which was directly in their path, and which had refused to run down. The child in the buggy had been struck by the wagon tongue, upsetting it and throwing the child under the wheel.

NORTH CAROLINIAN'S INVITATION.
The Tar-Heel Delegation Will Upon President Harrison and Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—More than a hundred delegates, representing the two Carolinas, Maryland and Texas, visited the President at 12:30 o'clock, commencing his attendance at the Southern Exposition. Universal disappointment was expressed because Governor Holt was prevented from attending. Senator Ransom was spokesman, and presented the invitation, prepared by W. B. Asby, the colors, and of certain medals, medals, and buttons. The President gives serious consideration to the invitation, and will, if possible, accept. Special committees visited all of the Cabinet officers' and departments, including the Educational, Patent Office, Signal Service, Coast Survey, Geological Survey and Fish Commission, and all expressed interest, while several expressed their intention to come. Some will have a display from their department.

AN ENGINEER'S TERROR.
Red Lights Ahead of the Philadelphia Flyer.

PHILADELPHIA, N. J., June 10.—Engineer of the Philadelphia Flyer, Michael Moynihan, was almost scared to death a Saturday night. Around a curve just at the Green Brook tanks at a mile a minute, he saw two red lights. They were like two red lights, flashed through his mind as he reversed his engine and waited for the crash. The train pushed by the lights, however, which two bicycle riders had dashed for a joke at the train.

Moynihan nearly fainted after three seconds of terror. Detectives are after the jokers.

GENERAL NEWS.

Mrs. Charlotte Smith wants the President to send two women to Europe to help investigate the immigration problem.

Rich is at work again on his tuberculin, and hopes to improve it during the next few months, after which he will publish his own report upon it.

All the checks for pensions now outstanding were presented for payment all the available cash in the Treasury would be expended and there would be a deficit of $1,500,000.

The New York Herald says: "It ain't always de man dat makes de most religion, deah breddern. A rascal kin make mo' racket wif his mouh dan a dozen good hosses, but when it comes to gittin' up an' gittin' de mouh shet dar?"

Mrs. U. S. Grant has all the love letters written to her by the General, then Lieutenant Grant, and said of them recently that during the four years of his absence every mail brought her a letter, every one of them full of sweet nothings, love and fear, and now and then some pressed leaves and flowers.

The St. Petersburg papers credit a lady of rank with a new invention which they predict will be very popular. It consists of a mirror which is fastened to her coachman's collar when he is on the box. In this mirror she is able to command a full view of herself, and she gets at the same time a glimpse of the people and vehicles which follow.

Miss Alice Tourgee, the daughter of the author of "A Fool's Errand" has been awarded the prize for superior excellence in illustration by the Philadelphia School of Design for Women. This prize is given by George W. Childs, and consists of a finely engraved gold medal of the value of $50.

Sam Jones says: "This whiskey question has got to be settled. There was lots of blood spilled in this country to make free men out of 4,000,000 slaves, and I don't see anything wrong in a little more blood being spilled to save the women and children from the misery and sufferings that result from this damnable traffic. I don't care when the light comes. I am willing to get in the head of the procession with any rifle."

Declines the Honor.

Gen. Moore, of the Crawford (Pa.) Herald, is forced to decline an intended honor in the following terms: "An editor has been appointed on a committee of the southern interstate immigration bureau of North Carolina to call on President Harrison some time soon to ask him to be present at a big do in Raleigh, N. C. We failed to find means among the papers appointing us to pay our expenses to Washington, and it is too far to walk and too long to do without something to eat, we will have to decline to act in that honorable position. It is a long way to Washington, D. C., if you have to walk."
