JUDGE NOT.

Judge not; the workings of his brain
And of his heart thou can't not see;
What looks to thy dim eyes a stain,
In God's pure sight may only be
A scar, brought from some well-won field,
Where thou wouldst only faint and yield.

The look, the air that frets the sight,
May be a token that below
The soul has closed in deadly fight
With some infernal, flery foe,
Whose glance would search thy smiling gra
And cast thee shuddering on thy face.

The fall thou darest to despise —
May be the slackened angel's hand
Has suffered it, that he may rise
And take a firmer, surer stand;
Of trusting less to earthly things
May henceforth learn to use his wings.

And judge none lost, but wait and see,
With hopeful pity, not disdain;
The depth of the abyss may be
The measure of the height of pain
And love, a glory that may raise
This soul to God in after days!
