AFTERNOON IN FEBRUARY.

The day is ending, The night is descending; The marsh is frozen, The river is dead.

Through clouds like ashes The red sun flashes On village windows That glimmer red.

The snow recommences; The buried fences Mark no longer The road oler the plain;

While through the meadows, Like fearful shadows, Slowly passes A funeral train.

The bell is pealing And every feeling Within me responds To the dismal knell. Shadows are trailing,

My heart is bewailing And tolling within Like a funeral bell. -LONGFELLOW.
