

SCOTT'S CORNER.

THE BIG STORE VS. THE LITTLE STORE.

A great many people seem to think that the bigger the store and the more goods that are sold the higher the prices will be. Now this is simply absurd. In the first place, the more goods we buy the cheaper we buy them, and the more goods we sell the cheaper we can sell them; and besides that, the more goods we sell the quicker we move them, thereby never having any old stock, stale or shop-worn goods on hand.

We do a big business, it is true, but it is our aim to treat the small customer that comes to our store with the same attention and courtesy that we do the larger buyer. And as to our prices, if you will take the trouble to make comparisons, you will always find us as low if not a little lower than the "other fellow" quality of goods considered. Come to see us when in town. Respectfully,

W. SCOTT & CO.

Verses Inscribed on the Wall of the Old Blandford Church in 1841.
EDITOR PATRIOT:—Some time in 1853 or 1854, while rambling through the old Blandford church cemetery, near Petersburg, Va., in company with Jack Heister, of Person county, I saw the enclosed lines written on the plastering. The roof had rotted off the old church and the walls were crumbling away. I have thought of the lines since and often wished that I had copied them. Some time ago I came across them in the Monthly World. I clipped them and now send them to you. You can publish them if you see fit.

Yours, &c., P. WALL.
Scaleville, N. C., Jan. 19th.

Thou art crumbling to the dust, old pile!
Thou art hastening to thy fall,
And round thee in thy loneliness
Clings the ivy to thy wall.
The worshippers are scattered now
Who knelt before thy shrine;
And silence reigns where anthems rose
In days of "auld lang syne."

And sadly sighs the wandering wind,
Where oft, in years gone by,
Prayer rose from many hearts to Him,
The highest of the high.
The tramp of many a heavy foot,
That sought thy aisles is o'er,
And many a weary heart around
Is still forever more.

How doth ambition's hope take wings?
How droops the spirit now?
We hear the distant city's din,
The dead are mite below.
The sun that shone upon their paths
Now glids their lonely graves,
The zephyrs which once fanned their brows,
The grass above them waves.

Oh! could we call the many back
Who gathered here in vain,
Who've carelessly roved where we do now,
Who'll never meet again!

How would our very hearts be stirred,
To meet the earnest gaze
Of the lovely and the beautiful—
The lights of other days.

What Next?

It does seem as though the seedsmen would stop somewhere, but here comes a work of art. Think of it, twenty-four pages lithographed in colors, not gaudy chromos, but from photographs in colors, upon an entirely new plan. This, in itself, is enough to turn every woman's head. Then follow about one hundred more pages, filled with handsome half-tone illustrations of flowers, fruits and vegetables, photographed from nature, all printed on fine paper and enclosed in an elegant cover of white and gold. Vick's Garden and Floral Guide also contains full descriptions and directions for planting flowers and vegetables, plants, small fruits, etc. It explains a new departure in selling vegetable seeds by weight in place of old style of packets; also a grand offer giving customers credit for full amount of purchase to apply on order for implements and useful articles. This splendid work of art will be mailed with a due bill good for 25 cents worth of seeds for only 15 cents. With James Vicks Sons, Rochester, N. Y.

Executions and Lynchings in 1898.

The Chicago Tribune's returns of legal executions in 1898 were 100, as compared with 128 in 1897, 122 in 1896, 132 in 1895, 132 in 1894, 126 in 1893 and 107 in 1892.

The executions in the several states and territories were as follows:

Louisiana.....	10
Arkansas.....	6
Alabama.....	3
Mississippi.....	6
Tennessee.....	2
Missouri.....	5
Florida.....	1
Maryland.....	1
Massachusetts.....	3
Oregon.....	2
Minnesota.....	2
Connecticut.....	1
Ohio.....	2
Georgia.....	8
Virginia.....	8
South Carolina.....	4
Texas.....	10
North Carolina.....	2
Indian Territory.....	2
Kentucky.....	2
California.....	10
New York.....	3
Illinois.....	6
Washington.....	1
Pennsylvania.....	7
New Jersey.....	1

"It will be noticed," says the New Orleans Picayune, commenting on these figures, "that the greatest number of the executions were in the southern states. This does not show by any means that the greatest number of the crimes that merit death were committed in the south, but that the court of justice is more swift and sure." It is not so much to the credit of the south that it punishes certain crimes just as promptly, but by what is known as the administration of popular justice. This is applied in the shape of lynchings, and if the Tribune's report can be taken as correct, the record of 1898, is:

Arkansas.....	17
South Carolina.....	14
Georgia.....	12
Missouri.....	6
Kentucky.....	6
Louisiana.....	10
Texas.....	3
Maryland.....	2
Oklahoma.....	1
Washington.....	1
Illinois.....	1
Indiana.....	1
Mississippi.....	15
Indian Territory.....	3
New Mexico.....	1
Alabama.....	4
Alabama.....	12
North Carolina, 4 Tennessee.....	4
Virginia.....	4
Florida.....	1
Alaska.....	1
Kansas.....	1
Montana.....	1

Of these lynchings 118 occurred in the south and 6 in the north. Of the total number 102 were negroes, 23 whites and 2 Indians.—Galveston Daily News.
