WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1899.

Dewey will be relieved by Watson at Manila, but who will come to his rescue when the American girl attempts to Hobsonize him?

A FRATERNAL gathering of the old soldiers of the blue and gray would be a fitting sequel to the demonstrations of sincere patriotism and loyalty which have prevailed throughout the country recently, and the proposition to hold a reunion of the veterans of the North and South is worthy of favorable consideration.

AND NOW it is stated that the Western packers who furnished the army with rotten beef are after General Miles. Their indignation on account of the charges he made against the beef is so great that they openly declare their determination to wreak vengeance on him. It is well known that Secretary Alger failed in his attempt to have Miles displaced by General Merritt, and it is difficult to see how the beef packers can accomplish what the war secretary failed in doing. We have never been a very ardent admirer of General Miles, but he seems to be everlastingly right in this instance.

THE Washington correspondent of The New York Herald declares that the president has practically made up his mind to call an extra session of Congress about October 20. It is thought best, not only for political reasons but for public advantage, to give opportunity to settle the important questions of future colonial policy and currency legislation before the assembling of the nominating conventions next year. Not since the period of reconstruction following upon the ending of the civil war has congress been called upon to deal with graver issues. The course of parties will be largely shaped by the discussions in congress, and there is likely to be an extraordinary shifting of the lines which now divide Republicans and Democrats.

A CONVENTION of Virginia Democrats was held in Richmond last week for the purpose of discussing the propriety of electing United States senators by a direct vote of the people. Democrats representing every shade of opinion in the party were present, and no step was taken in defiance of party regulations or government. Resolutions were adopted declaring in favor of an amendment of the federal constitution so that United States senators may be elected by a direct vote of the people of the several states instead of by the legislatures thereof. Pending the adoption of such an amendment it is proposed that Democratic candidates for the United States senate shall be nominated at state primary elections legalized by the general assembly. To meet the present issue, the Democratic state central committee is urged to call a state convention to nominate a candidate for the senate, who will be voted for at the next session of the legislature.

We have previously referred to the next session of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, which will be held at Morehead City, June 13th-18th. These gatherings of Tarheel educators are annually growing in interest, and all teachers, school officers and friends of education should avail themselves of the advantages offered by the assembly. A circular recently sent out by the secretary says: "Rail road and hotel rates are reduced to less than one-half, and no better time will ever be offered you to visit the seaside. It promises to be the grandest educational gathering ever held in the state. A magnificent program has been prepared. Make your plans now to attend or you will surely regret it. Every educator and friend of educational advancement in the state should resolve to be present. Hundreds who are not teachers will go to avail themselves of the low rates. Everybody will be made welcome, and you are cordially invited to attend. Full programmes may be had of the secretary, W. T. Whitsett, Whitsett, N. C."

THE following editorial paragraph in the Philadelphia Record, a Northern newspaper of influence, might be studied with profit by those from whom emanates so much criticism of the South's treatment of the negro: "Our colored brethren are just now receiving a great deal of very gratuitous advice. They are told, among other things, to learn to be carpenters, masons, plasterers, blacksmiths, tailors and to become masters of other handicrafts. Will their benevolent advisors inform the black men how they are to break through the trades-unions, and from apprentices become skillful mechanics? In the first place, the blacks have few opportunities to learn mechanical crafts; and, in the second place, it is doubtful whether the most skillful colored mechanic could obtain remunerative employment in the North, such is the prejudice of race in this section of the country. Whatever may be said of the race conflict in the South, it is a matter of common observation that there is much less prejudice against the employment of colored mechanics in the South than there is in the North. A black man can occasionally become a skillful mason or bricklayer in the South, but in the North he rarely gets farther than carrying the hod."

A Lynching Prevented.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 15.—Winnie Roach, a mulatto woman, came near being lynched by an angry mob of incensed negroes tonight, at the corner of Scofield and Hilliard streets. The crime with which she and her husband were charged was brutally burning their four children almost to death by igniting paper saturated with kerosene, with which their bodies had been wrapped. The man, Lawrence Roach, ran away during the afternoon, when he heard that his treatment of the children had been reported to the police.

The woman had been away from home all day and did not know that her cruelty had been found out. She was in the house when the mob gathered and was in the act of applying more fire to one of the children when the crowd broke in. Telephone messages were sent to the police station by white people living in the neighborhood, who said they believed the woman was about to be burned by the crowd. A wagon load of officers was sent to the place. One of the children had all the flesh burned from her legs in several places and will die. The other three are badly burned.

He Goes to the Limit.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, May 16.—Ex-President Cleveland is stopping at Mr. Leroy Brooks' cottage at Middle Bass. He was sitting on the front porch yesterday when a photographer arrived and began to chat with him.

"What success have you had here in fishing?" was asked.

"The law allows one fisherman to catch only twelve bass in a day," replied Mr. Cleveland, "and I have invariably gone to the limit of the law."

"What will be the leading issue in 1900?" was the next question.

"Don't ask me," said Mr. Cleveland. "I am not paying any attention to politics."

Later Mr. Cleveland consented to be photographed in a group with some of his companions.

Alex Grubb, a one-armed Confederate veteran of Rowan county, found, on his return from the Charleston reunion, that his house had been broken into and all available valuables stolen. About $54 in cash and several suits of clothing were among the articles taken.

Words of Commendation.

We have had numerous calls for copies of the handsome special edition of the PATRIOT, issued two weeks ago, the requests coming from all sections of the United States. We are free to say that Greensboro and Guilford county have never before been so widely advertised, and we believe the results will be most beneficial. We hope we will be pardoned for any seeming lack of modesty in reproducing a few of the many nice things said of the special edition:

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.,
May 8, 1899.

W. M. Barber, Esq.,
Greensboro, N. C.

MY DEAR SIR:—I must congratulate you on the industrial edition of the PATRIOT. It is an exceedingly handsome and complete piece of work. I think the illustrated part of it is the best newspaper work of this kind that I have ever seen issued in the South. * * *

Yours truly,
JAS. E. BOYD.

I have seen the special illustrated industrial edition of THE GREENSBORO PATRIOT, and I am delighted with the excellence of its general appearance and the execution of the work, as well as its arrangement and subject matter. It is a big advertisement for and credit to our city.

Respectfully,
JOHN A. BARRINGER.

The industrial edition of THE GREENSBORO PATRIOT is a truly representative publication and reflects credit alike on the publishers and our city and county, whose citizens have made such an edition a possibility. The chapter on the bench and bar, by Alfred Collins, is especially interesting. The PATRIOT is in the van of the progress which is making Greensboro the coming metropolis of North Carolina.

W. P. BYNUM, JR.

We have carefully looked over a copy of the special industrial edition of the PATRIOT and consider it well gotten up. We think it will be a big advertisement for Greensboro.

C. M. VANSTORY & CO.

From Rev. J. D. Andrew, Burlington, N. C.: I congratulate you on the splendid extra illustrated industrial edition of the PATRIOT. It is a credit to you and the city it advertises.

From Hon. Josephus Daniels, editor Raleigh News and Observer: Please send me two copies of your special edition. It is a thing of beauty—the finest special edition that has appeared in the state.

NEW YORK, May 9, 1899.

Messrs. C. M. Vanstory & Co.,
Greensboro, N. C.

GENTLEMEN:—We desire to thank you very much for the elegant paper called THE GREENSBORO PATRIOT, which you were kind enough to send us. It is a great sheet and does honor to your city and merchants, and we beg to extend to you, one and all, our best wishes and congratulations. With kindest regards, believe us to be,

Yours sincerely,
HELLER, ROTHSCHILD & LANG.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 8, 1899.

Mr. Howard Gardner,
Greensboro, N. C.

DEAR SIR:—We have just received a copy of the special edition of THE GREENSBORO PATRIOT, advertising very thoroughly Greensboro's many advantages. We notice your advertisement in the lot, and desire to congratulate you upon such a creditable sheet. We are pleased to note that you mentioned Nunnally's candy in the ad.

Yours very truly,
THE NUNNALLY CO.
CHICAGO, May 8, 1899.

C. M. Vanstory & Co.,
Greensboro, N. C.

DEAR SIR:—We beg to thank you for your kindness in sending us copy of THE GREENSBORO PATRIOT under date of Wednesday, May 3rd. We have been pleased to look over same and are very much interested in its contents. We beg to assure you of our very high regard.

Very truly yours,
WILSON BROS.

Fabulous New Gold Lands.

TACOMA, WASH., May 16.—St. Michael advises confirm the discovery of the new gold district equaling the Klondike in extent and richness, at Cape Nome, on the Alaska mainland, a hundred miles north of St. Michael. Everybody at St. Michael and Golovin Bay has stamped there. Two men cleared up $60,000 in ninety days. Others have gathered nuggets by the sackful. It seems to have literally rained gold along Snake and Suske Rivers and their tributaries. The news has created great excitement in the Northwest. Thousands of persons will leave for Nome as soon as vessels can be outfitted.

Volcanic Eruption

Is something new for this section, but then you need not be surprised to see or hear of great changes now-a-days, especially at

HARRY

BELK BROS.

We are always springing something new and this volcanic eruption is going on at our establishment daily. We are throwing out bargains in Shoes, Clothing, Dry Goods, Gents' Furnishings, Hats and Notions. You don't see any hot goods, or smoke arising, nor do you hear the sound of rushing wind, but in reality genuine HOT STUFF—the kind that tickles you from the crown of your head to the sole of your feet. It is the hope of the rich, the joy of the middle classes and a blessing to the poor. More and better goods for less money than any house on the continent is the combination that unlocks the pocketbooks of the masses. This is the key to the situation, and we have it. Listen, Read and Run: Sheetting 2 1/2c., Calicos 2c., Plaids 2c., Pant Cloth 5c., Pants 25c., Undershirts 10c., Overshirts 10c., Plain Worsted, worth 12c., at 5c., Towels 2 1/2c., Ladies' Vests 3c., Whites Laundered Shirts 25c. New line of Embroideries just received; be sure and see them.

The crowds of eager buyers that scooped in bargains from our counters last week were delighted with them. "Never saw goods so cheap" was the expression of many.

Each of the following articles only 1 cent: 24 sheets paper, 3 ball sewing thread, box of blacking, paper of needles, paper of pins, safety pins, 26 marbles, 1 paper best garden seeds, 2 cakes soap.

Hurry up! The cream of the goods are going at buttermilk prices.
