

FARM IMPLEMENTS!

AND

WHERE TO BUY THEM.

The Osborne Columbia Mower.

CONSIDER THESE FEATURES:

- The new square main frame, cast in one solid piece.
- The great width between the main wheels, straddling the entire swath.
- A crank shaft box, independent of the main frame.
- Flexible cutter bar, which adjusts itself to uneven ground.

The Osborne Columbia Harvester and Binder . . .

- Low Elevation.
- Main frame and platform frame one piece of steel—no lap joint or rivets.
- Force feed roller to prevent leakage.
- Relief spring taking jar from machine.
- Self aligning boxes.
- The strongest and lightest machine on the market.

The Osborne Self-Dump Hay Rake.

- Bicycle wheels, strong and durable.
- Patent whiffletree which adjusts the collar to horse's shoulder.
- Floating teeth, which prevents hay from rolling and packing.
- Adjustable for fast or slow horse.
- Reversible dump rods and axle, which double the wear of the rake.

Osborne Farm Implements:

COLFAX, N. C., May 10th, 1899.

Gents—I want to say now what I intended long ago—that the Osborne Binder bought of you last season gave perfect satisfaction in every respect. I want to say that after the machine was set up we drove into wheat that would yield 25 bushels to the acre (without using the scythe as a starter as is generally done,) and to my amazement it waded right through, doing the binding to perfection without any readjustment, as is most generally the case in other machines. It is a light draft machine with draft equally divided. I also find by close inspection that it is a better and neater finished machine than many others. While it may look small by the side of some others, I found that it would do as big work as if it was four stories high.

If any one using another machine than the Osborne and think they can do as nice, good, clean work with the same power, tell him to come to my fields this coming June and we will test the matter.

Most respectfully,
D. L. GRAY.

Sirs—I am much pleased with the Osborne Mower and Hay Rake I bought of you. I think it is the best Mower and Rake on the market.

Respectfully,
J. L. HOLZ.

Gentlemen—In reply to yours of March 6th, I can cheerfully say the Osborne Binder I purchased of you last season is everything you claim for it. It is a perfect machine, cutting the grain clean and binding perfectly. I fully tested it both in light and heavy grain. I cut wheat, rye and oats with it. It did perfect work on every occasion, and was run by my son who had never had any experience in running a Binder. I could not be better pleased with a Binder. No one will be disappointed in purchasing the Osborne Binder.

Dear Sirs—The Osborne Binder bought of you last season in my opinion is the best Binder on the market. It gave me perfect satisfaction in every respect and was all that you claimed for it.

Gentlemen—The Osborne Binder I bought of you last season gives me entire satisfaction. It did good work in small and large grain. I consider the machine well made and believe it will prove durable. As to draft I think it is as light, if not lighter, than any I have ever seen used. Anyone thinking of buying a Binder will do well in my judgment make a mistake in buying the Osborne.

Gentlemen—The Osborne Binder purchased of you last season gave me satisfaction. I consider it strong and light of draft, doing its work well in any kind of grain if handled right, and will say that farmers contemplating buying a Binder will not make a mistake in buying the Osborne.

Yours truly,
J. H. SHANNON.
