Take an Interest In Fruit Growing AND GIVE VARIETY TO LIFE AND LABOR.

When a tree does not bear good fruit, it is not all, it is hewn down. We have yet been hewn down, but to the contrary, more of our trees are bearing good fruit than ever. 20,000 patrons testify to this annually. It's a fact that there are all sorts of every-thing, so of fruit trees—ours bear good fruit, true to name. Our growth for over 30 years is a positive proof. Fruits for all sections. Five varieties of Japan Plums, ripening in October; twelve varieties of Peaches, ripening in succession from June till late fall, without a break; and so of Apples, etc.

Your Debts.

A cherry word to the heart oppressed,
And a smile for the lonely one,
A gentle caress as your love expressed,
And frowns and cold words for none.

A word of honest praise for your friend,
A sigh and a tear for his pain,
A loyal love that stands near to defend
And rejoices to mark his gain.

A little cup of life's wine of love,
A crumb of comfort given,
A little glimpse of the life above,
A foretaste of love in heaven.

Your honest debts, friend, Oh, pay them all,
With a willing hand and free,
Lest at Judgment day on your ear
should fall:
"You did it not unto Me!"
—O. H., in Presbyterian Standard.

Planting the Seed of Death.

A few days ago a large herd of dairy cows, the milk of which had been sold in Charleston, S. C., for family use, was tested with tuberculin, and twenty-three of them reacted, showing the presence of tuberculosis in these animals. With a conscientiousness which is rare as it is commendable, the owner, at his own expense and to his heavy loss, at once had these affected cows slaughtered, and every one was found to be afflicted with tuberculosis. In some of them as much as three pints of tuberculous matter was found in the lungs or glands affected, and the average was a pint to the cow. Up almost to the day when these cows were slaughtered, their milk had been freely distributed about the city, fed to the children and infants of the customers of that dairy, and nobody can tell what seeds of that dread disease, consumption, had been implanted in these tender frames.

Only a few days before that a herd of twenty-seven cows, which for some months had supplied, with others, the family of the governor of Illinois with milk, were taken from Springfield up to Chicago to be tested for tuberculosis. The governor himself went up to witness the test, and his horror when he realized the actual condition of these cows, from which himself and family had been supplied daily with milk may be better imagined than described. He left the city determined that nothing he could do should be left undone to stamp out this terrible disease from the cattle of Illinois.

On the other hand, the bold soldier Governor of New York has called a halt to this tuberculosis cattle scare, and he has declared that he will not approve the expenditure of another dollar to remunerate the owners of slaughtered cattle until the question shall have been settled by further rigid investigation. There are Northern experts who declare that it is by no means settled that the tuberculin test is an infallible proof of the prevalence of tuberculous condition or consumption in cattle. To the contrary, they assert that it is abundantly demonstrated that for some time preceding and following parturition this test is of no value; and, further, that tests have been made which indicated the prevalence of tuberculosis in the system of the animal when an autopsy disclosed nothing of the kind.—Florida Times-Union.

By way of reply to numerous recent letters of inquiry from American heirs to millions supposed to be awaiting claimants in the "Bank of Holland" the United States Consul at The Hague has issued a circular of warning to all fortune-seekers to waste no time or money in the pursuits of a will-o'-the-wisp. There is no "Bank of Holland," and there is no fabulous wealth locked up in the coffers of the States General of the Netherlands for distribution among lost heirs. By a law enacted by the Dutch parliament in 1852 all unclaimed inheritances are irrevocably escheated to the state after a lapse of five years, and if any of the old Dutch claims so much noised about in the United States ever existed they have passed forever into the possession of the Dutch government. The supposed heirs of Brandt, Metzger, Webber, Leitner, Van Fleet, Dubois and others are requested by our consul to take notice of this fact, and are assured that all persons inviting them to spend money in the prosecution of actions for the recovery of supposed estates in Holland are swindlers.

There is a probability that the next session of the Southern Baptist convention will be held in Asheville in May, 1900.

The Boss Snake Story.

Mrs. Warren W. Jessup, residing near Conklin Forks, was the hysterical witness a few days ago of an exciting battle between two snakes, the prize they were after being her 3-year-old child. Last summer the Jessup farmhouse was infested with rats and mice. Every effort to remove the vermin proved ineffectual. Suddenly they began to disappear, and when all had left the premises Farmer Jessup found the cause to be a black snake that had taken up its residence under the kitchen porch. He gave orders the reptile should not be injured, and even set a pan of milk for it occasionally.

The snake became quite tame, and grew to be the pet of 3-year-old Margery, who fed it daily. The snake got to know the little one, and showed no fear when she was near. Last week Margery was playing about the yard when the mother, hearing a strange whirring sound, looked up and saw a large rattler coiled on a stone in the doorway ready to strike. She dare not scream and precipitate the tragedy, and was in a frenzy of terror when from under the porch the black snake glided direct toward the foe. So quick was the movement that the rattler did not see him until too late. He reared and struck forward toward the black snake, but the latter with lightning speed coiled himself about his enemy's throat, rendering his jaws harmless. In vain the rattler tried to strike. Tighter and tighter drew the coils until the intruder fell back limp and dead. Then the black snake uncoiled itself and retreated to the porch.—New York Press.

A Vivid Picture.

We look into a cradle and behold a crying male babe. At the age of 10 he is a noisy kid with half the buttons off his pants and an eye for meanness; at 15 he is the devil in the print shop; at 20 he is the publisher of a country newspaper at the head of every enterprise calculated to improve the town or enrich the business men thereof; at 35 he's an emaciated worn-out man with a bald head and holes in his pockets, and at 50 he's a corpse in a cheap coffin and his only resources left behind two cases of long primer, a Washington hand press and a subscription book with 678 delinquent subscribers, who line up and march past his coffin saying "he was a public-spirited fellow, but he could never save anything."—Franklin Press.

Divers 1,600 Feet Under Water.

This is an age of new inventions, and the newest is a medical apparatus for deep sea diving. The inventor is M. Pateo del Pazzo, of Venice. The bell is of cast iron and sphere shaped, and is covered with oil cloth three inches thick. It is thus well equipped to resist the enormous water pressure. The diving globe is constructed to work at a depth of about 1,600 feet—that is, more than a quarter of a mile. At this great depth there is very little light, but provision is made for that.

The men inside the diving bell are permitted to see their surroundings clearly by a powerful electric light placed over a strong lens, through which they look. The light, of course, is worked from the inside.

An Epidemic of Diarrhoea.

Mr. A. Sanders, writing from Cocoanut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there. He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Careful Comparison

Will convince the practical, up-to-date buyer that we make no extravagant claims for the Walter A. Wood Machinery when we insist that it stands without an equal on this market. For our "Roller Bearing" Mower we claim the LIGHTEST in weight, the LIGHTEST in draft, the most SATISFACTORY to use. Costs less to keep in repair—needs less repairing. Will work where others will not and costs no more than an inferior make.

Our Hand and Self-Dump Rakes

Are easily managed, simple in construction and are made to last. They do the work intended for them in the most satisfactory manner.

If you want the BEST (and we are confident that you do) come to see us.

IS IT RIGHT

For an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

Erom Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.:

It may be a question whether the editor or a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Chairman Travis, of the executive board of the penitentiary, has written a letter to each of the 300 creditors of the penitentiary, in which he says the board is fixed in its determination not to recall and alter the warrant sent out covering the $119,000 of debt up to March; that the warrants are drawn exactly in accordance with law and that State Treasurer Worth must pay them; that if he will not do so the creditors can by mandamus compel him.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

A REMEDY FOR THE Effects of Tobacco.

THE excessive use of tobacco, especially by young men is always injurious and undoubtedly shortens life materially. Mr. Ed. C. Ebsen, compositor on the Contra-Costa News, Martinez, Cal., writes: "I have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and received much benefit from it. I was troubled with nervousness, dizzy spells and sleeplessness, caused by the use of tobacco and stimulants. I took Dr. Miles' Nervine with marvelous good results, allaying the dizziness, quieting the nerves, and enabling me to sleep and rest, proving in my case a very beneficial remedy." Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is especially adapted to restoring the nervous system to its normal condition under such circumstances. It soothes, heals and strengthens. Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on diseases of the heart and nerves free. Address: DR. CHOOSE YOUR DRUGGIST CAREFULLY.

A druggist can do more harm or good than most people give him credit for. There are different qualities in drugs just as there are in dry goods, and to the outsider all qualities go by the same name. The difference between pure, high grade drugs and cheap, inferior drugs of the same name, means the difference between keeping sick and getting well. When a doctor writes a prescription, he means best quality. When some druggists fill a prescription, they think only about big profits.
