—Judge R. M. Douglas returned to Raleigh Monday to resume his work on the Supreme court bench. He is greatly improved in health, though he is not yet entirely well.

—If you wish to know what can be done with ten dollars, read the advertisement of Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud and Rees. This firm is accustomed to giving good and wholesome advice.

—Mrs. Ella B. Troy, wife of Rev. John C. Troy, who is well known in this section, died at her home in Jonesboro Sunday morning. Her husband has been an invalid for a number of years.

—Midnight prowlers continue to infest Greensboro. One night last week some one entered Mr. G. S. Gaudin's residence and stole several articles, among them being a good overcoat and a razor.

—Mr. D. F. St. Clair, a New York newspaper man, was here Saturday. He was formerly engaged in the newspaper business in this state, having been editor of the Sanford Express and later of the Charlotte Chronicle.

—A few of the many points of excellence of the Chattanooga chilled plow are enumerated in the Greensboro Hardware Company's advertisement. If you are not familiar with this plow it will pay you to call and examine it.

—Have you seen those high cut hunting shoes at Thacker & Brockmann's? They are equal to boots, but look a great deal better. You can wade snow and water with them and use them for all round everyday and Sunday wear also.

—Bradstreets Commercial Agency has established a branch office in Greensboro under the management of Mr. P. D. Gold, Jr., of Wilson. Nice offices have been fitted up in the Southern Loan and Trust Company's new building.

—W. H. Gilbert, a hardware dealer of Winston-Salem, has left for parts unknown under suspicious circumstances. Before leaving he sold his stock of goods to another firm for less than half cost. It is said that he is badly involved.

—Mr. Willie R. Danny, of McLeansville, is delivering the city mail on Mr. Schoolfield's route while the latter gentleman is recovering from the injuries sustained last week. Mr. Danny passed the civil service examination only a few weeks ago.

—Last Thursday's Webster's Weekly says: "Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Reid's legion of friends will hear with genuine regret of the death of little Lucile, their only child, at the residence in Wentworth yesterday morning. She will be buried at Greenview cemetery in this place this evening."

—The Oak Ridge football team played the University team at Chapel Hill last Friday, being defeated to the tune of 16 to 0. The Oak Ridge team did not hope to win from the University, but they will be heard from when they begin to line up against the college and high school teams of the state.

—Mr. J. M. Cunningham has been removed from his position as storekeeper and gauger in the revenue service and is succeeded by Mr. J. D. White. Mr. Cunningham received his appointment under Cleveland's last administration and is the last Democrat connected with the service at this place to "walk the plank."

—The Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer has the following to say of the High Point exhibits at the state fair: "The collective exhibit made by the High Point manufacturers is very remarkable, not only in its scope, but in the quality of the articles. The only trunk factory in the state is at High Point. As to furniture, the styles and the materials are in wide range."

—Asheboro Courier: "On account of ill health Mr. H. M. Worth has resigned the position of secretary and treasurer of the two mills of the Worth Manufacturing Company and Mr. J. Worth McAllister has been elected to fill the position. Mr. Worth is now in Washington under treatment and we are gratified to learn that he is improving and the physicians promise him a cure in time."

—An election to decide the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $50,000 for water works and a sewerage system in High Point was held Monday. But little interest was manifested by the citizens of the town and the bond issue was defeated, less than a hundred votes being cast in its favor. It is to be regretted that the people of High Point have let slip this opportunity to demonstrate to the outside world something of their enterprise and progressive spirit.

—During a revival in Davie county E. D. C. Pope was converted. He was the owner of a government distillery, and immediately after his conversion he went to his distillery and tore the stills from the furnace and destroyed what beer and mash there was in the tubs. What whiskey was on hand was in the government warehouse, and he had no right to trouble that without stamping it. He will have to account to the government for the beer as though he had converted it into whiskey and this will cost him about $32.

—Mr. B. N. Mann, of Siler City, has acquired an interest in the business of the Elite Confectionery Company, which has been so successfully conducted during the present year by Mr. M. His family will remain at Siler City for the present.

—Some of our readers doubtless remember a man by the name of R. O. Woggaman, who was a resident of Greensboro about ten years ago. He married a Miss Cheek, of Orange county, living here only a short while after his marriage. Several years ago they separated, Mrs. Woggaman returning to her home in Orange. She was here a few days ago and gave out the information that her husband had entered suit for a divorce in Lincoln county, where he now resides. It is said that he wished to obtain the divorce in order that he may marry another woman. Mrs. Woggaman will contest the suit. They have three children.

FROM OUR STANDPOINT

Cost is no Consideration,

Value is no Consideration,

Profit is no Consideration.

The objective point of our business at this time is to realize cash from our goods and accounts. We have prices on our stock which ought to move it in the limited time at our disposal. This is our side of the question
