HE DIES BY FIRE.

The Horrible Crime of Joseph Leflore is Horribly Punished.

Memphis, Tenn., October 20--A special to the Selmetar, from Canton, Miss., says:

"The little town of Saint Anne, 20 miles east of Canton, in Leak county, was last night the scene of a tragedy--a sequel to the burning of the Gambrel family the night before. Joe Leflore, a negro, who was captured by a posse, confessed that he, in company with other negroes, had tied Mrs. Gambrel and her four children to the floor of the house, saturated the surroundings with kerosene and burned them alive. The negro after a confession of the crime, was promptly roped to a stake and burned to a crisp, while the citizens looked on in silence.

"Another negro, Bob Smith, was saved in the nick of time, as there was doubt as to his guilt.

"The Gambrel tragedy occurred Thursday morning and it was first thought that the fire was the result of an accident. A casual investigation was made and it was soon established beyond doubt that the family had been murdered and the house fired.

"Poses were immediately formed to scour the country and followed every possible clue. Before the poses left Saint Anne it was discovered that Joe Leflore, a negro who lived in the neighborhood and who had heretofore borne a good reputation had disappeared. Early last evening Leflore was captured several miles from the scene of the murder. At first the murderer denied any knowledge of the affair, but he finally broke down and confessed that he and Bob and Andrew Smith, two other negroes were guilty. He hoped for no mercy and told with a brutal frankness all the details of the crime. In the yard where the Gambrel residence had stood Leflore was tied to a stake and burned alive. No one sent a merciful bullet into his body to kill him. Andrew Smith escaped from the mob while Leflore was being burned, and has not been captured. Bob Smith was tied to another stake and a fire started, though he was finally released as there was a possibility of his proving his innocence.

"Andrew Smith will be recaptured and if it is proven that he and his brother Bob are guilty, it is thought no power can save them from a similar fate meted out to Leflore."

OPERA NEXT WEEK.

Dan Packard and His Company Went Through Sunday Night to Winston.

Dan Packard and his opera company went through last night to Winston, where they will play all this week, coming to Greensboro to-night week for an engagement of three nights.

Mr. Packard is well known in opera circles throughout the country, having played in Greensboro, his last engagement being with "Wang" when it first went through en route South. He says he has as fine a company as was ever on the road and refers to the press notices received from day to day, not the stale and stereotyped write-ups of professionals.

In Danville Mr. Packard made a decided hit. This notice is from the Register of Sunday morning and refers to the last performance at that place:

"The Dan Packard Opera Company closed their three days' engagement at the Academy of Music last night before an audience which, although not as large as the merits of the play and players deserved, was nevertheless a highly delighted and most enthusiastic one. "Said Pasha" was presented, the first time before a Danville audience. It is probably the funniest, the most tuneful and altogether the best opera in the company's repertoire, and to say that those who were so fortunate as to have been present last night thoroughly and most heartily enjoyed it, would seem to be a term of supererogation. In view of the frequent and enthusiastic outbursts of applause which greeted the principal vocal numbers and choruses.

"Whilst every character in the cast enacted his or her part in a highly artistic and excellent manner, it should not be taken as an attempt to detract anything from the merits of the others by making special mention of the splendid comedy work of Mr. Gilbert Clayton as "Haddad, an adventurer," and Mr. Mountjoy Walker as "Nockey, his accomplice." These two were simply inimitable in their respective roles, and their every advent on the stage was the signal for an outburst of applause from the delighted audience.

"The Chimes of Normandy" was presented at the matinee in an almost faultless manner, before a large attendance, principally of ladies and children.

"The company opens a week's engagement at Winston-Salem Monday night, and The Register takes pleasure in assuring the theatre-goers of the twin cities that a rare treat is in store for them."

The Statesville Landmark says the average cost of maintaining the Iredell county home for the aged and infirm for the year 1898 was only $2.46 per month for each inmate. The average cost for the past six years is only $2.54 per month for each inmate.

A TERRIBLE SNOW STORM.

Ten to Twelve Feet Deep in Drifts--Three Feet on a Level.

Chicago, Oct. 23.--A dispatch from Lelona, Mont., the northern part of the State, says that for four or five days of last week it snowed almost unceasingly. The snow is twelve feet deep in drifts and three on a level.

The bodies of eight sheep herders were found in Teton county. Fifteen others are missing. Twenty thousand sheep in Teton county have perished. It is believed the loss of life will be above twenty.

FIFTY SPEECHES A WEEK.

Mr. Bryan More Than Filled His Contract for 6 Speeches a Day in Kentucky and Ohio.

Sandusky, Ohio, October 21.--Col. William J. Bryan to-night closed the most remarkable week in his eventful career of campaigning.

He was scheduled for six speeches daily the first three days of the week in Kentucky, and for the same number the last three days in Ohio. He has been continuously on a special train since last Monday morning and has made more than thirty-six speeches on the schedule. In traveling thousands of miles during the week, most of the time at unusually high speed, stops were made at various points not on the schedule, and speeches were made from the rear of the train, as well as from platforms. He made over fifty speeches during the week and many more short talks at stations along the way.

Bryan's closing day of the Kentucky and Ohio week was the most active and remarkable of all, especially in the meetings at Fostoria, Bellevue, Clyde and other points not on the program. He started earlier than on other days and finished later at night, apparently as vigorous after the last meeting as he was last Monday morning.

He left late to-night for Chicago en route to Nebraska and will spend the last two weeks of the campaign in his own State in a similar manner to his canvases in Kentucky and Ohio this week.

THE NEXT CONGRESS.

Little Work Will Be Done Regarding Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines.

Washington, Oct. 21.--Congressman Hopkins, of Illinois, who as a defeated candidate for Speaker, and who will have a prominent position next session, says little of importance will be done during the coming session beyond enacting a moderate bill of monetary reform.

Congress will undertake little new legislation. He believes Congress will find information in regard to Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines so meagre that it will be inadvisable to undertake the formation of systems of government for those islands. At present it will likely leave them in the hands of the President, as military control, wherewith he can experiment with the administration of the islands according to progress and events, which will probably be more effective than any hard and fast system that Congress will be likely to adopt.

Mrs. W. N. Mitchell, of Atlanta, Ga., has started a movement to have the picture of Gen. Robert E. Lee placed in the gallery of superintendents of the National Military Academy at West Point.

A MURDERER'S DASH.

Edward C. Flanagan, The Doomed Murderer of Three Persons, Attempts Escape.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 21.--Edward C. Flanagan, the DeKalb murderer, broke from his cell in the DeKalb county jail this morning. As he dashed through the door and past the guard who had the murderer's breakfast in his hands, he snatched up the 2-year-old baby of Sheriff Talley. Drawing a long knife from his sleeve and clapping the child to his half clad breast, the prisoner fled down the jail stairway toward the street and liberty. Down one flight of steps and then through a corridor leading to the sheriff's residence, the only avenue of escape from the prison, Flanagan sped, holding the screaming child in his left arm and brandishing his knife in his right hand. But for the presence of the sheriff in the corridor, Flanagan would have escaped. Sheriff Talley happened to be in the room into which Flanagan dashed. Mrs. Talley, the child's mother, was also in the room. The father and mother simultaneously sprang upon the escaping prisoner, Mrs. Talley wielding a broom and the sheriff clutching Flanagan by the neck. The guard came running down the steps at the same instant in pursuit of the prisoner and the three of them overpowered Flanagan and tore the child from his grasp. The sheriff then drove him back up the steps and into the cell at the point of his pistol.

Flanagan has been confined in the DeKalb jail since last February, awaiting a new trial on the charge of murdering Miss Ruth Slack, Mrs. Dixon Allen, and attempting to murder Mr. George W. Allen and inflicting injuries on the latter's father, Dixon Allen, from which he afterwards died. He has been sentenced to hang, but on a plea of lunacy he has been allowed repeated trials.

Weekly Tobacco Review.

Throughout the entire week the wagons have been coming in from all sides and from parts of our territory. Almost every neighborhood in reach of Greensboro has been represented here this week and have expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the prices. Many of them over-joyed with prices.

We have had the largest breaks of the season this week with a very lively market. All our buyers have been out in full force and bidding has been quite spirited all the week. The best prices of the season have been paid for tobacco throughout the weeks transaction and as long as prices hold good we may look for tobacco to rush in and keep our tobacconist hustling.

NO CURE-NO PAY.

That is the way all druggists sell GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC for Chills, Fever and Malaria. It is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

Troops Loaded with Whiskey.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 21.--The Forty-sixth Regiment of Volunteers, en route from Massachusetts to Manila, was delayed here by enforced drumhead courts-martial on account of an epidemic of drunkenness. The first section arrived yesterday over the Chesapeake & Ohio and held high carnival. They had whiskey secreted on the train. Colonel Hegler immediately called a drumhead court martial which sent thirty of the worst offenders to the Columbus barracks.

As the other sections arrived during the day it was found that there was plenty of whiskey aboard of them also, and the supply was greatly increased here, so that the four sections were all side-tracked west of the city, at Valley Junction, for more trials by drumhead court-martial, and additional installations were to-day sentenced to the Columbus barracks guard house, awaiting further action. Everything has been in readiness by the Big Four Railroad since yesterday noon to carry the regiment to St. Louis, but the trains are this afternoon still held at Valley Junction.

Western North Carolina.

More than forty years ago the late Bishop Thomas Atkinson, a native of Virginia, after visiting western North Carolina, told us that its scenery was incomparably fine, much grander than any other he had seen in Virginia or elsewhere. The Washington Post, noting the beauty and grandeur of our western scenery, had this to say, and it is a gracious, deserved compliment:

"To one who has seen the mountain region of North Carolina it seems incredible that so many thousands of people in quest of pure air, magnificent scenery and healthful surroundings, should annually flock to the Adirondacks of New York and the White mountains of New Hampshire. These latter resorts do not compare in any respect with the North Carolina country. Their so-called mountains are dwarfed by those of the 'Old North State,' while, as for lakes, trout streams, hunting grounds and landscapes at once gracious and majestic, there is no approach to a comparison."

The baseball season of the National League for 1899 has closed. Brooklyn being the champion, having won 101 games and lost 47. Financially the season was not a success.
