—Mr. J. A. Caviness, who is associated with Dr. R. D. Patterson in the drug business at Liberty, was a welcome caller Monday. He was in the city purchasing goods. Dr. Patterson is at present taking a special course of lectures in Philadelphia.

—Mr. W. S. Hemby, a former editor of the PATRIOT, but now editor of a Chicago iron and steel publication, was in the city last Friday. He is making a tour of the iron and steel plants of the South and visited the Empire Steel and Iron Company's plant while here.

—Johnson & Dorsett are making a special run on a line of men's and women's $2.00 shoes, guaranteed to give satisfaction. Whether you want a low or high-priced shoe, this firm can supply you, for their stock is full and varied. Read their new ad in this issue.

—Last Friday was "bargain day" at J. M. Hendrix & Co.'s, as advertised, and during the day their store was visited by large numbers of customers. This week shoes are advertised and a visit to their store will convince you that they have good reasons for every assertion made.

—Judge and Mrs. Robert M. Douglas have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Madeline, to Mr. Edward W. Myers, of the United States Geological Survey. The ceremony will be performed at the family residence on Asheboro street next Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock.

—Those who attended the performances of the Dan Packard Opera Company at the Academy of Music Monday and last night were highly entertained. This is undoubtedly one of the best companies that has visited Greensboro in a long time. Tonight "The Bohemian Girl" will be presented.

—Mr. George F. Walker, of Boggs town, Ind., came in recently on a visit to his brother, Dr. William Walker, of Guilford College, who has been very ill with kidney trouble for the past four weeks. His condition is critical and it is not thought that he can survive much longer. He is eighty-seven years old.

—"The Real Widow Brown" will be presented at the Academy of Music Saturday night and those who enjoy the purest comedy extant should not fail to attend. This company has been well patronized in other cities and nothing but expressions of pleasure have been heard. Tickets are on sale at Fariss' drug store.

—The inclement weather of the early part of the week caused the tobacco sales at our warehouses to be light, though big breaks are expected for the remainder of the week. Farmers who have their tobacco in condition for marketing can bring it to Greensboro with the assurance of receiving the highest prices at all times.

—Rev. P. D. Risinger, who has been pastor of the Lutheran mission in this city for the past year, has resigned to accept the pastorate of a church at Lone Star, S. C. Mr. Risinger is a young minister of promise and during his residence in Greensboro has made many friends who regret to see him leave. His successor will soon be appointed by the Lutheran board of missions.

—Auction Sale!—I will sell at public auction, for cash, on Tuesday, November 7, 1899, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the residence of the late John W. Stewart, 150 bushels of corn, in the ear, and several stacks of hay and wheat straw. Sale to begin promptly at 10 o'clock. Would like to deliver goods on day of sale. Also two farms for sale. Bids received on either.

M. C. STEWART, Agent.

—Mr. W. T. Hurley, until recently superintendent of the Mt. Pleasant Manufacturing Company's cotton mill at Kimesville, has moved his family to Liberty. Not long ago he patented a device which is bringing him in a handsome revenue. Ill health caused him to resign his position at Kimesville. His successor is a Mr. Cunningham, from Providence, R. I., who is thoroughly conversant with the manufacture of cotton goods.

—The dispensary case did not come up before the Supreme court last week, as was expected. It was reached just before court adjourned for the day on Saturday, and as so short a time remained for argument it was continued until the February term, as were the nine other cases from Guilford county. The time for hearing cases from the Fifth district expired with Saturday's sitting of the court, and for this season none of them can come up at this term of the court.

—Mrs. Henry A. Wilson died at her home four miles northeast of the city Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. She had been in bad health for the past five years, suffering from a cancer, and for the past two years had been confined to her room. She was a devout Christian and a faithful member of Midway Presbyterian church, where the funeral services were held yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. Mc. L. Seabrook. The deceased leaves a husband and nine children to mourn her death.

—Mrs. Jesse F. Coltrane was reported last Friday as being seriously ill at her home near Coltrane's mill, Randolph county, but we are pleased to know that she is now much improved. Her sister, Mrs. Rachel Kirkman, of Friendship, and her daughter, Mrs. Rev. A. P. Tyer, of Wilmington, are with her. Her son, Rev. N. E. Coltrane, of Roxboro, was also called to her bedside, but returned to his home Monday. Mrs. C. G. Patrick, of Lamont, Mo., another daughter, arrived yesterday. Mrs. Coltrane is eighty-one years old.

—Mrs. Minnie Maiden died of typhoid fever at the Twin-City Hospital, Winston-Salem, last Friday and was buried at Friendship Saturday morning. Rev. A. G. Kirkman conducted the funeral services in the presence of a number of sympathizing friends. The deceased was a few days over twenty-three years old and was a devout member of the Methodist church. She leaves a husband, Mr. John Maiden, and three small children to mourn her departure. They formerly resided in Friendship township, but moved to Forsyth county about a year ago.

—St. Benedict's, the beautiful new Catholic church on North Elm street, was formally dedicated Sunday. The dedicatory services were conducted by Bishop Leo Haid, of Belmont, and Father Anthony, resident priest, assisted by several visiting priests. The services were beautiful and impressive and were witnessed by a large congregation. Bishop Haid delivered an interesting address, explaining some of the principal doctrines of the Catholic Church, and making special reference to the attitude of this church on the divorce question and the love and veneration in which the church and its institutions are held by Catholics.

—Coming, the Big City Show.

Friday and Saturday nights, November 3rd and 4th, with a special Saturday children's matinee, the famous Ferguson Brothers' Congress of Novelties will exhibit here under canvas on the lot on Walker avenue, near the Woodroffe factory. This show is a very novel entertainment of its kind and should draw large crowds.

Some of the leading features of this mighty aggregation are Zeb and Labelle, who have gained the reputation of being the champion trick and fancy bicyclists of the world. Col. Higley is another feature. He was six years with Buffalo Bill's wild west show and has gained a world-wide reputation for his marvelous exhibitions of horsemanship. His wife, "Setting Sun," is also worthy of praise for daring riding. Prof. Arnold and Lolo Metzlie present a wonderful performance. Lasso Joe is famous for his remarkable marksmanship. There are many other features too numerous to mention.

The management will spare no pains to provide for the comfort of its patrons. The show should draw large crowds. It is rated to be the best 25-cent show on the road today.

—For Sale—Good 5-room cottage on Walker avenue, near Normal School. Call on or address W. P. Turner, this office.

—Six Frightful Failures.

Six terrible failures of six different doctors nearly sent Wm. H. Mullen, of Lockland, O., to an early grave. All said he had a fatal lung trouble and that he must soon die. But he was urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. After taking five bottles he was entirely cured. It is positively guaranteed to cure all diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs, including Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Croup, Whooping Cough, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Holton's drug store.

—A pleasant drive to Brick Church, Kimesville, Julian, Climax and Pleasant Garden last week disclosed the temporal abodes of many of the PATRIOT's good friends. The same generous hospitality that characterizes the people of other sections of the county which we have recently visited was no less apparent all along the way. Old and new friends seemed to vie with each other in making our brief stops as pleasant as possible. One of the most interesting personages we met on the trip was Mr. J. W. Murray, of Kimesville. Despite his ninety-one years Mr. Murray is blessed with a clear mind, good eyesight and an elastic step, disdaining the use of either glasses or cane while walking about the village. He justly counts every soul in the community his friend. For over sixty-five years he has read the PATRIOT, and is, with the exception of David Wharton, Esq., of Gilmer township, perhaps the oldest subscriber. Mr. Wharton's subscription dates from 1828, and like Mr. Murray his faculties at the age of 95 are practically unimpaired. Mr. Murray divides his time between his friends, his library, his animal pets and his fishing outfit. He says he hopes to pay another visit to relatives and friends in Greensboro before he gets too old to travel. We sincerely hope he may be spared to enjoy that pleasure. Kimesville is a busy place. The cotton mill there runs full time, being ably managed and skillfully operated, the chief credit for which reverts to Mr. White and Mr. Cunningham. Mr. W. A. Wheeler runs a first class flour mill there also, which serves well the requirements of a large scope of country roundabout. Two other good flour mills we visited were those of Mr. Geo. Huffman, at Brick Church, and the Julian Milling Company's plant, at Julian. Both are modern establishments and enjoy a fine patronage. Mr. G. A. Garrett is now the active manager of the last named mill, succeeding Mr. Ernest Hardin, who now holds a good position with the new Revolution cotton mills company in this city. Julian is a busy little place. It is the shipping point and market for a large and prosperous farming section. We met a number of the good people there and left reluctantly. At Climax we found Messrs. Hutton & Hutton, the general merchants, preparing to move to Greensboro to live. They will be succeeded in business there at an early day by a son of Dr. J. A. Curtis. Mr. Vaughn, the railroad agent, was quite sick. Coming on to Pleasant Garden we found a quiet village in which were several congenial people. Frank Ross was busy in his store. He has had a fine trade this fall, particularly in fertilizers. Farmers throughout the section we visited were quite busy, and as a rule were well along with their seeding. What wheat is up looked, if anything, too well, fears being entertained that continued warm weather might cause injury from the fly. The recent rains have been quite acceptable, no doubt, as the weather has turned much cooler.

—Rev. J. W. Frank and wife left Monday morning on their long trip to Yokohama, Japan, where they go as missionaries of the Methodist Protestant Church. The trip will occupy three or four weeks' time. Mr. Frank occupied the pulpit at Grace M. P. church Sunday morning, preaching an able sermon that was heard with interest by the congregation. At night a farewell service was held in honor of these consecrated young missionaries. Brief and feeling addresses were made by Rev. T. J. Ogburn, secretary of the board of missions of the Methodist Protestant Church; Rev. T. M. Johnson, pastor of Grace church; Rev. J. F. McCulloch, editor of Our Church Record, and representatives from the various departments of local church work. The services were very impressive and were attended by a large number of people, whose prayers and best wishes follow Mr. and Mrs. Frank to their new field of labor in far-away Japan.

—Capt. William Smith, of Raleigh, died at the residence of his daughter in this city, Mrs. T. C. Gayle, early Monday morning. He had been in feeble health for a long while and came here on a visit about two weeks ago. The deceased was sixty-five years old and was a member of the Episcopal church. The remains were sent to Wilmington, Capt. Smith's old home, for interment.

One day last week a genteel looking stranger stopped at Clegg's hotel and registered as J. L. Roberts, of New York. He made himself very agreeable, and soon after his arrival asked Mr. Clegg to cash a small check for him. He procured $10 from Mr. Clegg, after which he went to the McAdoo House and registered under a different name. Before being shown to his room he asked the clerk to cash a check for $5 and was accommodated. The checks which he had succeeded in having cashed were drawn on a Durham bank and were returned unpaid. Thinking the forger had probably gone to the Winston horse show, his description was sent to the police officers of that city with the request that they look out for him. Word was received from Winston that a man answering the description had been arrested, and Mr. Clegg and Policeman Whittington went up to identify him and bring him back to Greensboro. He was placed in jail here until Monday afternoon, when he was given a hearing by Mayor Taylor. Roberts realized that the proof against him was conclusive and made no defense whatever. He was bound over to the December term of court under a bond of $250, in default of which he was remanded to jail. He will probably be heard from later on the public roads of Guilford county.

When Rev. W. L. Grissom sent his carriage driver out a few days ago to hitch up his carriage horses he found that some thief had visited his stables the night before and stolen a nice set of double harness. The police were at once notified of the theft and they soon had the harness located. Chief Scott found them in a box at the southern's freight depot marked for shipment to "John King, Raleigh, N. C." The harness were taken out and restored to Mr. Grissom, after which the box was shipped to its destination. The officers of Raleigh were wired to arrest and hold the person calling for the box, which was done. Chief Scott went down Sunday and brought back Ed. King, a negro carriage driver of this city, who represented himself to be John King during his brief sojourn in the capital city. When he was arraigned in the mayor's court Monday afternoon he was confronted with the charge of assaulting a negro woman. This charge he vehemently denied, saying he only "struck her a few times with a buggy whip." This warrant was dismissed, but he was bound over to court in the other case. He will board at Hotel Gilmer until December court, after which time he will probably be a member of Superintendent Bergman's road force.

A bold robbery was committed at the Carolina Shoe Company's store Friday night. An entrance was effected through a door in the rear end of the building by breaking a large glass in the door and prizing off an iron bar. The robbers were evidently scared off, as appearances indicated a hasty departure. Chief Scott went over to Reidsville Sunday night and Monday morning brought back two boys—Joe Ware, white, and Walker Penn, colored—charged with the offence. In the mayor's court Joe Ware plead guilty and told of the robbery in detail, saying they both entered the store and took five pairs of shoes. His colored comrade stoutly denied having had anything to do with the affair, but implicated himself in trying to correct young Ware in some of his statements. The mayor sentenced them to jail to await the December term of court. The boys are youthful criminals, neither appearing to be more than sixteen years old, though they are probably as hardened as more experienced offenders of maturer years.

—Rev. Robt. R. Manner, of Julian, a brother of Mr. N. A. Hanner, of this city, died on Monday, Oct. 23rd, from accidental injuries received while at work on his farm and was buried at Tabernacle the day following. Rev. G. F. Milloway officiating at the burial services. Rev. Hanner was in his sixty-sixth year at the time of his death. For over fifty years he had been a member of the Methodist Protestant church, devoting over twenty years of his life to the ministry. Three years ago his health gave way and since then he has lived a quiet life among those who loved and honored him most. A wife and two children survive him.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J.
