HIATT & LAMB.

—Judge W. P. Bynum, Jr., spent several days last week in Richmond, Va., where he had business before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

—Mr. W. W. Leigh spent several days here last week and left Monday on a commercial trip to the eastern part of the state. He will probably be away until Christmas.

—Rev. R. L. Wharton is this week engaged in conducting a revival at the North Winston Presbyterian church. He will soon leave for Cuba, where he will be engaged in missionary work.

—A petition is being circulated among our merchants to close up on Thanksgiving day. That's right; give the boys a chance to go rabbit hunting or to spend the day with their best girls.

—Mr. J. C. Hockett, of Sumner township, who is teaching at New Salem, in Randolph, was one of our callers Saturday. He reports a flourishing school and commendable interest on the part of his scholars.

—Mr. M. C. Stanback, one of the Merchants Grocery Company's traveling representatives, died at his home in Sanford Saturday morning. He was thirty-five years old and leaves a wife and one child.

—Mr. E. R. Fishplate returned Sunday from a business trip to New York. His health, which has been poor for some time, is much improved and he will again go on the road for a wholesale clothing concern of New York. He left last night on a trip through the South.

—Mr. E. B. Wheeler, of Whitsett, has moved his family to Greensboro, where he will engage in the livery and sale stable business with his nephews, the Wheeler Brothers, on East Sycamore street. He is rated as one of Guilford's best men and we are glad to welcome him to the Gate City.

—The hunting season is now on and the Greensboro Hardware Company is prepared to supply you with the best guns, ammunition and all kinds of sporting goods at the most reasonable prices. This firm's stock is full and complete and you are invited to call and examine what they have, whether you wish to purchase or not.

—We are under obligations to Prof. T. Gilbert Pearson, of the faculty of Guilford College, for a copy of his "Preliminary Catalogue of the Birds of Chapel Hill, N. C.," with brief notes on some of the species. The pamphlet is taken from the journal of the Elisha Mitchell Society and reflects credit upon Prof. Pearson as an ornithologist.

Millions in Sight.

Last week's High Point Enterprise tells a most remarkable and interesting story concerning the heirs of the late A. T. Stewart, the merchant prince of New York. It seems that many years ago there lived in Randolph county four brothers by the name of Edwards, who married four sisters, Hamiltons, also of Randolph. All of them went into business in New York—moving there—and were very successful. Only one child was born into the household, a daughter. The property of all four brothers went to this girl at their death. This same girl is said to have become the wife of A. T. Stewart, the merchant king.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart were childless, all the property falling to the wife at Stewart's death. Mrs. Stewart died last winter and the heirs were advertised for. It is now claimed that the lawful heirs live in Randolph county, two or three of them; one man by the name of Brewer and another named Harris, who are closely related to the original families that went to New York years ago.

The matter was brought to the attention of the heirs through a merchant at Jackson Hill, N. C., who was in New York buying goods. He saw the advertisement for the heirs and knew them. He secured a lawyer, looked into the matter and came home and revealed it to the heirs. They have employed three other attorneys. The parties interested say that their lawyers have reported $18,000,000 already in hand and that the entire estate is worth $64,000,000. The Enterprise is informed that one of the heirs lives at Cedar Falls, another at New Salem and a third at or near Randleman.

The Patriot hopes there is foundation for the story and that these Randolph people may come into possession of the millions left by Mrs. Stewart.

—Governor Russell has pardoned Ed. and Arthur Orrell, who were sent to the county roads a few weeks ago to serve out a sentence of twelve months for breaking into a house. They were convicted at the last December term of court, along with Charles Roberson, who has also been pardoned. An appeal was taken to the Supreme court, where the verdict of the lower court was confirmed. Pending the hearing of the appeal the Orrell boys departed for parts unknown, returning a few weeks ago, when they were arrested and sent out to the convict camp. We do not doubt that the granting of pardons is just and proper in some instances, but we are of the opinion that the prerogative is often abused. If the lick is to be kept up the taxpayers will begin to wonder why the necessity exists of putting the county to the heavy expense of detecting and convicting criminals if they are to be immediately pardoned upon petition of interested friends and relatives. When persons are guilty of some grave offence, and the evidence of guilt is conclusive, we are unable to see any reason for granting a pardon. Such action does not further the ends of justice.

—Mr. N. A. Page died at his home, a short distance west of the Battle Ground, last Wednesday and was buried at Guilford College the day following. Rev. A. G. Kirkman conducted the funeral services. The deceased was fifty-one years old and leaves a wife and several children. He had been in declining health for several months. Mr. Page was a good citizen and will be missed in the community. About eight years ago he made a profession of religion and connected himself with the Methodist church at Morehead's Chapel. He was an active worker and an official member of the church, having served as steward, trustee and Sunday school superintendent. He was prepared for death and his end was peace.

—Mr. J. M. Gant died Sunday at his home four miles northeast of this city, and was buried at Mt. Pleasant church Monday afternoon. The funeral was conducted by Rev. J. B. Tabor, pastor of the deceased. Although Mr. Gant had been in poor health for some time, his death was unexpected, being caused by heart trouble. He was a good citizen and will be missed in the community, where he was held in the highest regard. He leaves a wife and two daughters, one of whom, Mrs. J. H. Gilliland, is a resident of this city.

Money Saved is Money Made.
We have ten Empire and Bickford & Huffman wheat drills that we will sell at old prices. It may seem late to buy drills, but you can save money, as prices will be much higher in 1900. You will need a drill in February to sow oats and again in June to sow peas. Come quick. Terms easy.

Six Frightful Failures.
Six terrible failures of six different doctors nearly sent Wm. H. Mullen, of Lockland, O., to an early grave. All said he had a fatal lung trouble and that he must soon die. But he was urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. After taking five bottles he was entirely cured. It is positively guaranteed to cure all diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs, including Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Creep, Whooping Cough, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Holton's drug store.

—We gladly give space to the following from the Stanly County Enterprise: "The North Carolina Journal of Education, published at Greensboro and edited by Professor P. P. Claxton, should be in the hands of every teacher in the Old North State, and teachers in other states, for that matter. Besides the valuable contributed articles, it gives best thoughts from best educators throughout the country and keeps up with all the movements tending to educational advancement in this and other states. We are proud to see the name of 'North Carolina' at the head of this educational publication, for it ranks with the foremost of its kind."

—Farmers who feed pumpkins to hogs should see that the seeds have been extracted. At several points in the North hogs have been dying off by the hundreds on account of indigestion caused by pumpkin seeds. Cholera was supposed to have been the cause of the deaths, but a post mortem examination of several porkers disclosed the fact that the stomach was packed with undigested seeds.

FROM OUR STANDPOINT

Cost is no Consideration, Value is no Consideration,
Profit is no Consideration.

The objective point of our business at this time is to realize cash from our goods and accounts. We have prices on our stock which ought to move it in the limited time at our disposal. This is our side of the question

FROM YOUR STANDPOINT

Price is some consideration, value is greater consideration. These two elements, combined as they now are in our store, are arguments clear, cogent and convincing. Greater values for less money than you can approach elsewhere. If we have what you want, we can be of substantial benefit to you. Call and see us.
