—The prize Guilford county turnip, so far as the PATRIOT is aware, was raised this year by Mr. W. D. Kirkman, of Pleasant Garden. It was grown from T. W. Wood & Sons', Richmond, seed, and weighed 9 1/4 pounds. It measured 26 1/2 inches in circumference and was admired by many before it succumbed to the fate of all vegetables that come our way.
—Mr. Marvin Carr and Miss Blanche Boyles were married at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. F. C. Boyles, last Thursday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Woosley, of Randleman, after which the couple left for the home of the groom's parents at Trinity. The marriage was a great surprise to the friends and relatives of the contracting parties.
—At Guilford College next Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock the young ladies of the Philogorean Literary Society will give an entertainment for the benefit of their new society hall. The exercises will be held in the auditorium and the admission will be 15 cents. Refreshments will be served. The young ladies hope to make the entertainment a very enjoyable affair.
—We wish to notify all our friends and the public at large that we have bought Mr. S. A. Kerr's stock of groceries at the Houston Brothers' old stand, where we hope to do a large retail business, giving all our customers the worth of their money and allowing them the highest market price for their produce.
W. L. WHARTON & Co.
—The names of all persons in Guilford county who are liable for a special license tax, and who have not paid the same by next Monday, December 4th, will be presented to the solicitor, who will indict them for their failure to comply with the law. This tax is payable to the sheriff and applies to lawyers, doctors, photographers, wood and coal dealers, undertakers, laundrymen, etc.
—Mr. Howell Cobb, proprietor of the Carr-olina Hotel, Durham, has leased the Benbow House from Mr. B. H. Merrimon and will assume the management upon the completion of the building. Mr. Cobb hopes to have the hotel open for the reception of guests by the first of February, and from the progress now being made on the building this would seem a probability. He will continue to operate the Durham hotel.
—The A. M. E. Zion Conference, which held its sessions in one of the colored Methodist churches of this city, closed Monday night. The conference was presided over by Bishop J. W. Hood, of Fayetteville, who is recognized as one of the leading colored ministers of the South. The conference was attended by a large number of ministerial and lay members and much interest was manifested in the business brought before the body.
—Mr. R. A. Harvey, a well known printer of this city, died at his home on South Ashe street about 4 o'clock yesterday morning. About four weeks ago he was attacked by fever, which was followed by other complications. He was about thirty-five years old and had spent much of his life in this city, where he learned the printer's trade early in life. He leaves a wife and two small children. The funeral was held at Mt. Pleasant church today at noon.
—The Greensboro Loan and Trust Company has just installed a new vault which is the wonder and admiration of all who have seen it. It is the Mosler make and is absolutely fire and burglar proof. It might be possible for expert burglars to blow open the outer doors, but the inner door is protected by a strong combination and three time locks and no burglar can ever open it. So closely does this inner door fit that oil cannot find its way through the crevice. The vault is a most wonderful piece of mechanism and is the third of the kind to be brought to North Carolina. Its weight is between twelve and fifteen thousand pounds.
Vacancies in the A. & M. College.
Young men desiring to enter the A. & M. College at Raleigh may be examined Saturday, December 16, 1899, at the county court house of this county, at 10 o'clock a. m., by the county superintendent of schools. The subjects of examination are arithmetic (complete,) algebra (to fractions,) English grammar and American history.
There will probably be about twenty-five vacancies in the college, and young men will be selected to fill these vacancies who pass the best examinations and have the best endorsements as to character. This is a rare opportunity for worthy boys to fit themselves for success in life by means of a practical education. Those desiring to be admitted would do well to write to President Winston, Raleigh, N. C.

METHODIST CONFERENCES.
Pleasant and Profitable Sessions—Some of the Appointments.
The Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, met in Central church, Concord, last Wednesday morning and adjourned Monday night. The sessions were presided over by Bishop Joseph S. Key, of Sherman, Tex., one of the ablest men in the church.
A great deal of business was transacted and the reports indicated progress and development along all lines. The last session of the General Conference ordered that a fund be raised throughout the church, averaging $1.00 per member, to be known as "the twentieth century educational fund." This gives to the Western North Carolina Conference the allotment of $70,000 to be raised by January 1st, 1901. The presiding bishop made a stirring address on education Monday morning, after which he raised a collection amounting to $10,185 for this fund.
The board of church extension recommended that Rev. W. L. Grissom, of this city, be appointed field secretary in the interest of church extension. This report was concurred in by the conference, Mr. Grissom being appointed missionary secretary.
Before the conference adjourned Rev. L. W. Crawford, D. D., editor of the North Carolina Christian Advocate, published in this city, made a talk regarding his paper and asked for volunteers to increase the subscription to the paper by securing ten subscribers at $1.50 each between this time and February 15, 1900. More than fifty persons responded to this request. The Advocate fills an important place in the work of the church and we are glad to know that Dr. Crawford is receiving the united support of his brethren.
The next session of the conference will be held in West Market Street Methodist church, this city, and will convene on Wednesday before the fourth Sunday in November, 1900. Greensboro Methodists and our people in general will welcome this opportunity of entertaining the body. The last time conference assembled in Greensboro was in 1889, when the North Carolina Conference was divided.
The following are the appointments on the Greensboro and Winston districts for the ensuing conference year:

THE M. P. CONFERENCE.
Another religious assemblage in which a large number of our people are interested is the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, the seventy-fourth annual session of which convened in Friendship church, near Plyler, Stanly county, last Wednesday. Rev. J. S. Williams, of Henderson, formerly pastor of Grace church, this city, preached the annual sermon. The conference was well attended and the various reports made were very encouraging.
The conference recommended that a twentieth century fund of $3,000 be raised and applied to church extension in North Carolina.
Strong resolutions were adopted against the seating in the house of representatives of Congressman Roberts, the Utah bigamist.
Rev. T. J. Ogburn, corresponding secretary of the board of foreign missions, reported the gratifying fact that the assessment of $1,800, assumed by the conference last year, was more than paid by $60. This is more than $400 in advance of the highest sum ever contributed to foreign missions before by the conference and speaks well for the missionary zeal of North Carolina Methodist Protestants, as well as the perseverance and energy of Mr. Ogburn.
The conference extended sympathy to the president and faculty and the students and patrons of the State Normal and Industrial College in the trouble which has overtaken them.
Among the conference visitors were Rev. Dr. T. H. Lewis, president of Western Maryland College, Westminster, Md.; Rev. Dr. D. S. Stephens, chancellor of Kansas City University, Kansas City, Kan., and Miss Anna Forrest, a returned missionary from Japan. All these made addresses.
The next conference will be held at Pinnacle, Asheboro, Randleman and other places asked for the next session.
Revs. W. F. Kennett, of Stokesdale, and T. M. Johnson, of this city, were re-elected conference president and secretary respectively.
The following were elected delegates to the General Conference, which meets at Atlantic City, N. J., next spring: Ministerial—T. M. Johnson, J. F. McCulloch and J. R. Hutton, Greensboro; W. A. Bunch, Tabernacle; W. F. Kennett, Stokesdale; T. J. Ogburn, Summerfield; G. F. Millaway, Liberty, and C. L. Whitaker and C. A. Cecil. Lay—Prof. J. Allen Holt, Oak Ridge; J. Norman Willis and R. H. Brooks, Greensboro; W. P. Fickett, High Point; R. T. Pickets, Lexington, and W. C. Whitaker, Dr. J. N. Hadley, A. J. Harris and W. K. Hartsell.
