—Dr. E. W. Smith left Monday for Toronto, Canada, where is on the program for an address before the International Missionary Conference, which meets in that city today. He will be absent a week or more. Mrs. Lucy Robertson and Miss Laura Coit are also in attendance at the conference.

—Warren Beatty, a negro boatblack, was bound over to court Monday for an assault on W. F. Clegg. Mr. Clegg had ordered the boy away from the Clegg Hotel and had turned to go back in the house when a rock thrown by Beatty barely missed his head. After a chase of several blocks the boy was captured by Officer Alexander.
—A strong lean and trust company has been organized in High Point with W. H. Ragan as president, James A. Turner vice president, John A. Lindsay secretary and treasurer and Westcott Roberson attorney. The authorized capital of the concern is $100,000, but $10,000 will be employed at the opening. This makes three banks in the place.

—The Greensboro water works cases are to be heard in the Federal court here tomorrow before Judges Simon and Boyd. The matter of a successor to Charles F. McKesson will probably be considered at the time. It is conceded that the plum will fall in the lap of W. S. Hyams, private secretary to Senator Pritchard.
—George Holt, a negro, was arrested Thursday for negligence in disposing of the carcass of a mule. He left the carcass uncomfortably close to the waterworks, and while no contamination of the water resulted, such would have been the case had it not been removed before the heavy rains set in. Holt will have to answer in Superior court for his sin of omission.

—Messrs. I. R. Cobb, W. M. Michel and W. T. Cummings, of eastern Guilford, shot four big wild turkeys, two opossums and a lot of rabbits in one day's hunt last week. Robble Rumley, a twelve-year-old boy of the same locality, caught a coon and an opossum the same day that were more than he could carry. Good hunters, these.
—Another rain that froze as it fell caused the earth hereabouts to be coated with ice last Thursday night, lasting until Saturday morning in most places. At Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York the weather was the worst since the blizzard of '88, immense damage being done to wires and trees by the weight of ice in which they were encrusted.

—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Loan and Trust Company, held on the 18th inst., the following board of directors was elected: H. T. Ham, E. P. Wharton, A. W. McAlister, Z. V. Taylor, E. E. Bain, David White, J. M. Hendrix, A. M. Scales and R. G. Vaughn. The company begins the current fiscal year with a capital of $100,000; surplus, $25,000, and undivided profits, $4,543.47.

—The money order department of the postoffice may now be found in the room at the northwestern corner of the building. The room vacated is used for a registry division and a stamp salesroom, relieving the general delivery window of that branch of the business. The building will never be adequate for the transaction of Uncle Sam's business here until it is enlarged, and any temporary expedients adopted only serve to confuse the patrons of the office.

—The students of the State Normal and Industrial College last week subscribed over $2,000 to the students' building fund. This subscription represents an average contribution of about $5.00 for each student and is a most commendable exhibition of liberality. The literary societies of the college are contemplating the organization of an association to work for the improvement and beautifying of the free public school buildings in the State. There are, on an average, about twenty-five former students of the State Normal College in every county in North Carolina, and it is believed that the proposed association could do much good along the lines suggested.

TOBACCO NOTES.

Items of Interest to the Grower, the Dealer, and the Manufacturer.
MARKET REPORT.

Owing to the rough weather which prevailed our receipts have been small for the past week except on yesterday, when we had quite a nice sale and our buyers were able to get enough tobacco to keep them at work for some time. As soon as the rain is over with we look for large receipts, which no doubt our buyers will welcome with a glad heart.

The quality of the offerings for the past week has been only fair and not fully as good as they were for the preceding week. Prices on all grades remain unchanged to a shade higher, with the market quite active and buyers anxious for the weed.

C. W. Kirkman sold a load of common tobacco here this week at a very satisfactory price.
G. D. Green, of Brown Summit, sold over 4,000 of leaf here yesterday at an average of 15 cents.
Mr. W. D. Palmer, of Randolph, made a good sale of the last of his 1901 crop here last week.

Eugene Huffines made another good sale here last week, getting over a $23 average on more than 600 pounds of leaf.
W. T. Southard and H. L. Boon were two of the well pleased Rockingham farmers on this market within the past week.

G. R. Maysard and J. M. Walker, two of Alamance county's best men, make very satisfactory sales here last week.
Our friend John Wagoner and two of his sons, of Elon College, made an excellent sale here yesterday on common grades. They are firm friends of this market.

W. H. Vickory, R. A. Kirkman, Samuel Pitts, A. A. Michael, J. H. Stanfield, J. F. Doggett, P. M. Fryer and W. L. Lindsay were among the Guilford farmers on the market the past week.
Some of our buyers are receiving new orders, and are making things lively on sales to get their share of tobacco, so we think it a good time to sell a load or two, as you can realize a good price.

A bill has passed the Kentucky senate forbidding the use of paris green on the tobacco crop. Tobacco growers are up in arms against the measure and doing their best to defeat its passage by the house.
Bray Bros. shipped ten cars of leaf Monday to the various concerns for which they buy and are now better fixed than ever to relieve the farmers of their weed. Their shipment Monday was one of the largest that has gone out of Greensboro for some time.

Special attention is called to the well-written article of State Chemist B. W. Kilgore, which appears on another page of this issue. His suggestions as to fertilizers are of vast importance to the tobacco growers of this section, and we hope to be favored with other articles on kindred subjects.

It is quite common to hear a farmer say at the end of his business year, "I've spent a lot of money this year, but I can't see where it's gone to," or something to that effect. He has probably made a good crop and the money has gone out in dribs and drabs. A simple system of book-keeping would show him "where he is at." There is a deplorable lack of genuine business system among our farmers. If the farmer himself cannot spare the time, the wife or daughter should do it. A small ledger in which the receipts and expenses are accurately recorded would stop many of the leaks in the family exchequer.—Farmers Home Journal.
