FARM FOR SALE.—One hundred acres of good farming land, over half in timber, lying near Milboro and Worihville, can be bought at a bargain. Fine orchard, plenty of water, good buildings, etc. Write for particulars to W. B. Webster, Central Falls, N. C. 1f.

An effort will be made to have a substitution of the city postoffice established out near the State Normal and Industrial College this fall. It would be a great convenience to the people of that section of the city and facilitate the handling of the rapidly growing business of the postoffice.

Mr. J. E. Edwards, who lives out near the carpet mill, brought a land terrapin to town the other day that was exquisitely marked. Some of the marks were perfect representations of anchors and butterflies, while others were strikingly similar to some of the capital letters of the alphabet.

Register of Deeds Kirkman, Court Clerk Nelson and County Commissioner Tucker went to Winston last week to inspect the modern court house there with a view to making recommendations for the improvements in the court house here. The Forsyth officials were very courteous to the visitors and made their stay there quite pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Smith, of Kernersville, have filed a claim against the Western Union Telegraph Company for $2,000 for mental anguish, caused by the delay in the receipt of a telegram announcing the illness of the mother of Mrs. Smith and which was not received until after her death had occurred. The case will probably come up at the next term of Forsyth Superior court.

The premium lists for the coming fair will be ready for distribution in a few days. Secretary King tells the PATRIOT that the fair this year promises to eclipse its predecessors in every particular, especially in the matter of farm exhibits. We are glad to see the people of Guilford taking an increasing interest in the fair, as the vast resources of the county can not be too well advertised to the world. There is no better medium than a good county fair.

The county board of health has served notice on a number of property owners along North Buffalo directing them to abate certain nuisances that exist in that locality. The Messrs. Cone, of the Proximity mills, Mr. Sternberger, of the Revolution mill, and Mr. Lindau, of the Finishing mill, through their attorneys, King & Kimball, brought the matter to the attention of the board, and it is to be hoped that it will result in further improving the sanitary condition of the territory in question, as chills and fever have already become manifest nearby.

Col. A. C. Boon, of Pleasant Garden, who recently bought the Gallberry swamp, including the Suggs mill pond property, in Bladen county wants to purchase a large pack of good coon dogs to place on his hunting preserve. Any one having such to dispose of would do well to see him at an early date. J. R. McCulloch, his architect, will go down soon to erect a lodge house and dog kennel and have everything ready for the opening of the hunting season this fall. Mr. Boon is having a large boat built which he will place on the pond.

Do Your Feet Scald? Are they tired? Do they perspire? If so, use McDuffie's Witch Hazel Foot Healer; it will cure them. 25 cents. 10-ly.

GUILFORD'S OLDEST CITIZEN DEAD.

The Venerable David Wharton Passed Away Monday at His Home North-east of the City.

The death of Mr. David Wharton, which occurred Monday evening at his home three miles northeast of the city, removes from Guilford one of its most interesting citizens. Mr. Wharton had attained the ripe old age of ninety-eight last December, and entered upon his ninety-ninth year with excellent prospects of becoming a centenarian. He was born December 18, 1803, and was unquestionably the oldest citizen of the county. At the time he was born Jefferson was president of the United States, Washington had been dead only four years, Bonaparte, not yet emperor, was first consul of France, Greensboro was in primeval forest and Guilford county had the appearance of a pioneer settlement. He was nine years old when the war of 1812 began, and twelve years old when the Battle of Waterloo was fought. His great age was doubtless due to an inherited strong constitution, regular and temperate habits and a remarkably equable temperament. His first wife was Miss Elizabeth Donnell, a daughter of Major Robert Donnell. With her he lived for fifty-four years. In 1851 he married Miss Rachel Donnell, who died about five years ago. By his first wife he had five children, Mrs. Elizabeth McLean, Mrs. Julia Caldwell, wife of Rev. Cyrus Caldwell, Mrs. Mary Cannon, John E. Wharton, now of Sherman, Texas, and William D. Wharton. In early manhood he joined the Presbyterian church, in which he served as a ruling elder for over half a century, and by his quiet, modest christian character exhibited to the world his strong and abiding faith in the teachings of Holy Writ. He was a loving and tender husband, a kind father, a considerate neighbor and friend and an upright and successful business man. It was only a few years since that he relinquished the active management of his affairs, his mental faculties having been retained almost to the close of his remarkable career. Truly it can be said of this old patriarch that the world was made better by his living so long in it, as his influence was always cast on the side of right and justice to his fellow man.

The PATRIOT feels a distinct loss in the death of Mr. Wharton, as he had been a staunch friend of this publication for four-score years. He subscribed for the paper in 1828, at the time of his first marriage, and his name has been on the list continuously since that year. Prior to his marriage he read the paper in his father's family for several years.

The funeral services over the remains of Mr. Wharton took place yesterday evening at 5 o'clock, conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. McL. Seabrook. Interment was made at Buffalo church.

Mr. Bernard G. Gilmer and Miss Minnie Reid surprised their most intimate friends last Friday night by getting married on what appeared to be the spur of the moment but which was in reality the culmination of a purpose that had been mutually agreed upon for some time. When Mr. Gilmer learned that evening that Miss Reid's family intended making a visit of some weeks at a neighboring city he set about to arrange matters so that even a temporary separation from his inamorata would be obviated. Accordingly he sent a messenger for a marriage license and a minister and in a short time both were forthcoming. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Turrentine in the presence of the bride's family and a few friends who happened to be present and was not generally known until the next morning. Mr. Gilmer is an excellent young man. He is a brother of Attorney General Gilmer and also has two or three brothers prominent in business here. He has been working at the Southern depot here as an operator for some time. His bride is a daughter of the late Dr. Frank Reid, and is a young woman of varied accomplishments. For a couple of years she has been a teacher in the graded schools here and has many friends.

A. and M. College.
 This great industrial school is now ready for five hundred pupils. If you wish your boys taught to work, prepared for industrial life, trained in habits of economy, regularity and punctuality, write to President Winston, Raleigh, N. C., for booklet, "A Day at the A. and M. College."

C. D. Higgins, of 926 Ashboro street, has a four-year-old bay horse (perfectly gentle) and second-hand top buggy for sale at a bargain. Will sell separate. 1f

Fruit jars, Jelly glasses, fruit jar rubbers and extra tops for jars at Hiatt & Lamb's. 26-2t.

TOBACCO NOTES.

Items of Interest to the Grower, the Dealer, and the Manufacturer.

MARKET REPORT.

The receipts on our market for the past week have been the largest for several weeks, owing to the rains which we had during the early part of week, giving farmers an opportunity to handle their tobacco. We think that this season has practically wound up last year's crop and that we will have very little more tobacco before the new crop comes in. Prices remain about the same and the market is active on what is being offered, as our buyers seem to be very anxious for the weed. These rains have afforded good seasons for planting and replanting and we presume that all of our farmers are through with their work. We trust that they will make good crops this year.

Mr. G. O. Wilson spent Monday in Durham on a business trip.

Mr. P. R. Casey came in from Winston yesterday and is busy prizing his tobacco.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bray spent Sunday in Winston with their old friends, Mr. W. L. Ferrell and family, and had a most enjoyable day.

Contracts for the improvements in the big building to be occupied by the American Cigar Company's plant here have been let the past few days and work will proceed on the building as fast as material can be secured.

Some leaf this week, and from the quantity they have on hand we think they will have to make big shipments every week from now until the new crop comes on to get their house ready for new tobacco.

Durham Recorder: With the fight on the coming season between the American Tobacco Company, the Imperial Company, of London, England, and the Universal, the prospect for good prices for tobacco is flattering. So long as they are separate, all right, but combined—goodbye, Miss Nancy.

The Danville Bee says: "New York city has just adopted an anti-expectoration ordinance in which the prohibition is extended to side-walks as well as to public vehicles and the floors of public places. San Francisco has had a similar law for some years. So has Danville, Richmond and other places, but the spitting goes on just the same. There has been no decrease in chewing tobacco on this account." Nor need there be. The observance of common decency in spitting out tobacco juice removes prejudice against the chewing habit, and has a tendency to increase the demand for plug.

The State crop report for the week ending Monday June 23, says: "Conditions during the past week have been very encouraging to farmers, as the weather was decidedly favorable for the growth of crops and for farming operations of all kinds. As anticipated the beneficial effects of the general rains at the close of last week appear in the reports of crop correspondents for the week ending June 24. Frequent local showers over the eastern portion of the state this week have supplied the deficiency in moisture which obtained in several eastern counties, so that now there is no immediate necessity for more rain except in scattered localities. The rainfall of the 15th and 16th was very heavy over counties on the Upper Yadkin, where lands were badly washed and lowland crops injured over limited areas. Farm work had been so well kept up, and crops were in condition to receive so much benefit from the rainfall that growth was very rapid during the week. In regard to the staple crops, cotton and corn must now be considered in very fine condition, and tobacco has also greatly improved. Cotton has grown rapidly, with healthy color; there are some complaints of damage by lice from a few southern counties. Corn has been immensely benefited by abundant moisture, its growth has been rapid, and its appearance is excellent; plants are coming into silk and tassel in many counties; laying by is proceeding rapidly. Tobacco shows some improvement and has come out well in some sections; transplanting was completed during the week. The weather was very favorable for harvesting winter wheat and oats, which is approaching completion in the central-east portion of the state, and is now under way west of the Blue Ridge; a little wheat has been threshed, and shows well-filled grains. Spring oats are low and poor. A large crop of field peas has been planted in stubble land, and seeds have sprouted well. The Irish-potato crop is turning out inferior both in quality and yield. Prospects for sweet potatoes are also poor at present. Melons are doing well, and also rice and peanuts. Huckleberries and dewberries are abundant and of good quality. On account of so much dropping this season the condition of peaches, apples and pears is below the average, but the yield will be better than for several seasons in the immediate past; peaches are ripening, and some shipments have been made; grapes are very promising."

Michaux-Roberson Wedding.

The most interesting social event of recent years in the charming neighborhood of Guilford College occurred last Thursday evening, when Miss Cornelia Roberson became the bride of Dr. Edward R. Michaux, of Greensboro. The ceremony took place in Memorial Hall, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The ushers were Messrs. Elmer Leak and Wm. W. Michaux. Mrs. Chas. Ragan, of High Point, presided at the piano and rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march and Schubert's serenade in an artistic manner while the ceremony was being performed by Rev. Eli Reece, whose words were impressively spoken. The bridesmaids and groomsmen entered the hall in the following order: Miss Helen Smith, of Guilford College, with Mr. A. G. Corpening, of Greensboro; Miss Annie Michaux, of Greensboro, with Mr. Z. V. Conyers, of Greensboro; Miss Berta Ragan, of High Point, with Dr. Charles Roberson, of Greensboro; Miss Henrianna Hackney, of Guilford College, with Mr. Jno. J. Nelson, of Greensboro; Miss Jennie Ragsdale, of Jamestown, with Mr. Wescott Roberson, of High Point. Next came the maid of honor alone, Miss Florence Roberson, of Guilford College, sister of the bride. The groom entered with his best man and brother, Mr. John S. Michaux, of Greensboro, and proceeded down one aisle, the bride going down the other side, escorted by her brother, Mr. George Roberson, of Guilford College, who gave her away. The bridesmaids were becomingly attired in pure white and carried pink roses. The maid of honor wore white organdie over pink and also carried pink roses. The bride's costume was a very beautiful one of white crepe de chine with chiffon and panne velvet trimmings. She wore the bridal veil caught with orange blossoms and carried an exquisite bouquet of Bride roses and ferns. After the ceremony was concluded the party repaired to the home of the bride's mother, where a delightful reception was enjoyed. The array of presents was quite imposing, attesting the unusual popularity of the contracting parties. Following the reception the bridal party drove to this city, where the bride and groom took a train for the north, where they will spend a week or more at the popular resorts. A large number of people from the city witnessed the interesting ceremony.

Base Ball Notes.

Greensboro took two of the games from Newbern last week and lost to Raleigh Monday on the home grounds here. Yesterday rain blocked the game in the eighth inning, the score standing four to four. Two games will be played today. The attendance at the games has increased since the street railway began operations.

Mr. D. L. Patton, police officer and tax collector at Gibsonville, was sent here Saturday under commitment to the county road force for failure to pay a fine and costs assessed against him by Magistrate Berry Davidson. Patton claims to have paid one fine and costs for the offense that caused him to be hauled before the magistrate, and says that his prosecution arises from a spirit of revenge for his efforts to collect delinquent taxes in his town. Mayor J. A. Davidson came up Saturday evening and paid the costs in the case, thus securing Patton's release. The matter will probably be aired in the courts, as Patton threatens to sue the magistrate for damages.
