LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. J. H. Gilmer has gone to Jackson Springs for a few weeks.
Dr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Scott went to Sanford Saturday for a short visit.
I have a lot of tinware that I am selling out cheap. G. W. DENNY.
Four car loads of shingles at Townsend & Co.'s at $1.35, $1.50 and $2 per thousand. 19-4t

Mr. J. Neal Thompson, night clerk at The Benbow, is on duty again after a fortnight's illness.
Fancy head rice 3 pounds for 25 cents, and good medium rice at 5 cents a pound, at Denny's.

Mrs. R. B. Glenn, of Winston, came down Saturday for a short visit to Gen. J. D. Glenn's family.
Mr. J. E. Osborne, who has been in poor health for some time, went to Baltimore last week for hospital treatment.

Mrs. J. W. Menefee has returned to Graham with her two sons to spend the summer. Mr. Menefee will spend his Sundays there.
Prof. T. Gilbert Pearson, of the State Normal faculty, lectured before the North Carolina Academy of Science at Wake Forest last week.

Mr. Melville P. Troy, of Havana, Cuba, arrived yesterday afternoon to visit his mother and sister. This is his first visit in four years.
Miss Mabel Jeter, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, was able to be removed from the Greensboro hospital to her home on North Davie street Monday.

Police officer Arthur Jordan, who has been off duty for some time, is still quite sick at High Point, where he went to visit his aged parents. Mr. D. W. Marsh is substituting for him on the force.
Mr. R. H. DeButts, the clever ticket agent of the Southern here, has been under surgical treatment at the Greensboro hospital the past two weeks. He expects to be able to return to work in a few days.

Dr. J. P. Turner has awarded the contract to Mr. John Y. Smith for the erection of a modern $5,000 residence on his recently purchased lot on West Market street, just beyond Mr. J. C. Watkins' home.

Several guests from surrounding towns are here to attend the marriage of Mr. A. E. B. Alford and Miss Mattie Satterthwaite, which takes place this evening at 8 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church.
Dr. H. Baldwin Dean, rector of St. Barnabas Episcopal church, went to Red Springs Monday afternoon to deliver the address at the North Carolina Military Academy commencement. He will return this afternoon.

The brick work on the new Sisters of Charity hospital, on Summit avenue, is progressing satisfactorily, being now above the second floor. It is conceded to be one of the prettiest pieces of work of the kind ever done here, the new government building not excepted.

Prof. and Mrs. W. C. Jackson will leave next week for New York, where Prof. Jackson goes to become supervisor of summer schools for the Baptist City Mission Society. Mr. Jackson is a teacher in the city schools and will return in time for the opening of the fall term.

Miss Nannie Lee Smith returned Saturday from a short but successful trip in the interest of the rebuilding fund of Greensboro Female College. She attended district conferences at Monroe, Rockingham and Aurora and added over $1,500 to the fund for which she is so zealously laboring.

Paul Faison, the young man convicted in the Superior court last week of stealing a ring from the Schiffman Jewelry Company, made an unprovoked assault on Mr. S. Schiffman, the proprietor, Sunday. He was tried before the mayor Monday, sentence being deferred until next Saturday.

Judge Spencer B. Adams, of South McAlester, I. T., is here on his way to Washington, D. C. On his return home he will be accompanied by his daughter, Miss Lillian, who is now a student at Hollins Institute, in Virginia. Miss Kathryn Jeter will accompany them to St. Louis, where they will all take in the exposition.

W. R. Pleasants, who had the contract for the brick work on the Benbow building on South Elm, 100 by 107 feet, finished up the job in a hurry, building a basement and five stories in just 41 days and four hours. With favorable weather the roof will be completed in a very short time. Four floors are ready for the plasterers, while the plumbers and electricians are pushing their work right along with the other contractors.

GREEN MCADOO LANDED IN JAIL.

Chief of Police Scott Returns from West Virginia With the Wife Murderer.
Chief of police W. A. Scott returned from Charlestown, W. Va., Sunday evening with Green McAdoo, colored, who is under indictment here for murder, the victim being his wife. The crime was committed over a year ago and save for an occasional arrest of some suspect invariably turning out to be the wrong man it might have been forgotten ere this. Recently, however, Chief Scott received a letter from a colored boy who formerly lived here stating that he knew where McAdoo was and asking for a warrant for his arrest. The chief was satisfied that the boy knew McAdoo, and wrote him that the best plan would be to have the murderer put under arrest by the proper authorities. The boy knew there was a reward of $300 outstanding for McAdoo and after making a written agreement with the chief of police at Charlestown as to a division of the reward told the latter officer that the man wanted was a cook at the Ruffin, Charlestown's leading hotel, going by the name of Henry Young. Immediately after the arrest Chief Scott was notified and he set out for West Virginia to secure the fugitive. Reaching his destination a day late because of a railroad wreck which delayed traffic he found the prisoner to be the man he had so industriously sought for several months. The recognition at the Charlestown jail was mutual, and had the circumstances been different the chief might have had good reason to believe that Green was really glad to see him. He said he was tired of the suspense and was ready to return to Greensboro without a requisition. The trip home was uneventful, the prisoner making no trouble whatever and maintaining a discreet silence except as to his movements after the murder. Regarding his crime he said but little, other than that his wife was unfaithful, though he did not intend to kill her. He denied that he was drunk at the time of the murder, and appears to believe that he can explain matters satisfactorily when brought to trial. There were eye witnesses to the tragedy, however, and their testimony is a matter of record. After shooting his wife McAdoo says he went into the Jackson woods and made his way to old West Green, beyond Pomona, where he spent the rest of the night in the bush. The next day he started up the big road to Winston. After spending a couple of days there and learning of his wife's death he walked back to Greensboro in the night, stopping a few minutes at his mother's home. From there he went to South Boston, Va., and remained until May, when he came to Roxboro, in Person county, where he stayed until August. Then he went by way of Lynchburg to Charlestown, and since last September had been cooking in the hotel there. Aside from shaving off his moustache he has changed but little in appearance since he left here, yet he would hardly have been identified by the picture sent out by the authorities, which was made from a crayon. McAdoo will be tried at the August term of Guilford Superior court.

Site for a New High School Building.
The city authorities have purchased of Mr. A. T. Robinson his lot near the intersection of West Washington and South Spring streets, having a frontage on Spring of 172 and a depth of 300 feet, and will locate the new high school building there. The location is desirable, as it is near the center of population and likely to remain so for several years. The overcrowded condition of the schools rendered this step inevitable, and while it is not possible to erect a building there before the next school year opens it paves the way for increased facilities that can not much longer be delayed. Greensboro is determined that her advancement along educational lines shall keep pace with her advancement in other respects, and the time is near at hand when a child can enter the kindergarten here and pass through all the grades, including a thorough high school course, and emerge fully equipped for the duties of life or prepared to enter any college or university in the country.

State Normal and Industrial College Commencement Program.
The program of the State Normal and Industrial College commencement for 1904 is as follows:

Quick Arrest
J. A. Gullledge, of Verbena, Ala., was twice in the hospital from a severe case of piles causing 24 tumors. After doctors and all remedies failed, Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly arrested further inflammation and cured him. It conquers aches and kills pain. 25c at all druggists.

JONES AND STUART DEPART.

Union Revival Services Conducted by the Evangelists Closed Friday Night.
Friday night marked the close of the most notable revival services ever held in Greensboro. The churches of the city united in the invitation to Evangelists Sam Jones and George Stuart, and the presence of these gifted men fulfilled every expectation. Interest in the meeting never flagged for a moment, and the last day's services were, if anything, more largely attended than those of the first day. At Friday night's meeting, the last of all, there were between five and six thousand people present, the big warehouse being more densely packed than at any other service. Mr. Stuart had started to his home in Tennessee the night previous, and Mr. Jones was left to bring the meetings to a close. He made a profound impression in his closing remarks and scores were moved to a declaration of their intention to lead a better life. When he asked how many had been benefited by the meeting fully five thousand arose.

Following the sermon Dr. Turrentine read a set of resolutions signed by the ministers thanking Messrs. Jones and Stuart for their excellent work here and also thanking Mr. Edward MacKenzie, the chorister, and Mrs. Mary Mays, a daughter of Mr. Jones, the pianist, for their efficient services, together with an acknowledgment of gratitude toward everyone who had in any way helped to make the meetings a success. The entire assemblage endorsed these resolutions.

The collections for the incidental expenses of the meetings just about met the requirements and with the money that will be realized from the sale of the seats it is thought there will be no deficiency. About $1,200 were contributed in the collections taken for the benefit of the evangelists.
Mr. Jones and his daughter and Col. Tom Durham, who has traveled with Mr. Jones for years, have gone to their home in Georgia. Mr. MacKenzie left for his home in Kentucky Saturday night.

A strong temperance sentiment which developed during the closing days of the meetings crystallized into a demand for prohibition in Greensboro, and petitions for an election to be held at the earliest possible date are now being freely signed. No one seems to doubt that prohibition will carry here when it comes to a vote. The petition will be submitted to the board of aldermen at their next regular meeting. Not even a ray of hope in the shape of a dispensary lights the horizon of the old towners now.

State Convention Preliminaries.
Active preparations for the Democratic state convention, which meets here June 23rd, have been undertaken by competent committees selected from the authorized representatives of the various business organizations of the city. At a meeting last week presided over by Mayor Osborn an executive committee and finance committee were named as follows:
Executive committee—Messrs. Z. V. Taylor, chairman; A. M. Scales, F. P. Hobgood, Jr., J. S. Michaux and C. G. Wright.
Finance committee—T. J. Murphy, chairman; R. M. Rees, C. H. Ireland, E. A. Brown, O. C. Wyson, P. D. Gold, Jr., G. A. Grimley, T. A. Glascock, B. E. Smith, R. J. Mebane, Dr. J. E. Brooks and R. R. King.

On Monday the executive committee closed a contract for the use of the Banner warehouse during the convention. The building is large, conveniently located and can be admirably adapted to the needs of the convention. The four thousand or more seats used in the Jones-Stuart meetings will be retained and hundreds of others added. The platform will be lowered a little and reduced in size, thus adding to the floor space. Scores of additional electric lights, electric fans and other conveniences will be added, and several more ventilators placed in the roof, so that the comfort of those who attend may be assured. Beyond doubt the convention will be the largest gathering of the kind ever known in the state, as at no time in the past has it been possible for any city to offer the facilities that Greensboro affords this year.

Closing of the City Schools.
The commencement exercises of the city schools will take place on Thursday and Friday nights of this week.
On Thursday night the graduating class exercises will be held in the chapel of Lindsay street school. At that time prizes, etc., will be awarded.
On Friday night at the Grand the annual address to the graduating class will be made by Hon. Hamilton W. Mabie, associate editor of The Outlook, of New York, one of the most distinguished men of letters in the world. The diplomas to the graduates will be awarded after the address.
The commencement exercises of the colored schools will be held at Bennett college Wednesday night.

Cabbage plants and sweet potato slips now ready for delivery. Price 15 cents per hundred, or $1.25 per thousand. Write George Blake, Greensboro, or phone 2601. 17-4t

You can buy Mason's best jars and jelly glasses at the right price from G. W. Denny.

Possibly Another Murder Case.

An investigation of the death of a colored girl named Mary Ganf, aged nine years, step-daughter of Johnson Stroud, may lead to a charge of murder being preferred against Stroud. The family has lived on North Gilmer street for several years in almost constant turmoil, which once caused Stroud to be sent to the roads for beating his wife and finally ended by her leaving a week or so ago and going to Graham to live, taking her daughter with her. Stroud followed and tried to get them to come back home, but they refused, whereupon he beat the woman terribly and threatened to kill her, for which offense he was sent to the roads in Alamance. Last Friday the woman and child came home. In cooking supper some corn meal was used that Stroud had brought to the house the day before they left, and soon after eating they became violently ill. The woman got better during the night but the child grew steadily worse, and notwithstanding the fact that a physician was called she died early Sunday morning. That afternoon Coroner Turner held an inquest over the remains of the child, sending the stomach as well as some of the meal to the state chemist for analysis. It is believed that Stroud poisoned the meal, knowing his wife's fondness for it. Since the inquest certain developments have strengthened the belief as to the man's guilt. Stroud can be secured at any time the authorities here feel that his presence is necessary, and in the event the state chemist's examination is delayed beyond the expiration of his sentence he will be taken into custody to await developments.

McAdoo-Killian Marriage.
Mr. Thomas J. McAdoo, a prominent business man of this place, and Miss Louise Killian, of Greenville, S. C., were married last Wednesday in New York, the ceremony being performed at the Calvary Baptist church by Rev. Robert S. MacArthur.
Miss Killian is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Killian, of Greenville. Her acquaintance with Mr. McAdoo is said to have begun about two years ago, and he went to New York about two weeks ago to insist on an early marriage, which was duly referred to her parents and their consent obtained.

Miss Killian has been spending the winter in New York and has been connected with Dr. MacArthur's church in the training of children's choruses, while she has frequently filled the soprano's place in the choir, and is a great favorite with the congregation. Her musical attainments have been recognized in many ways by the musical world of New York, and she has assisted in many concerts and other entertainments, where her magnificent voice has attracted general attention and much favorable criticism. She will be a charming addition to the social circles of this city.

The happy couple came to Greensboro Saturday evening and have since been busy receiving the warm congratulations of hosts of friends. From here they go to Greenville to visit the bride's parents, and later they will visit friends in Virginia.

Republicans Offer Up Reynolds as a Sacrifice.
The Fifth district Republican convention met here yesterday and nominated Postmaster C. A. Reynolds, of Winston-Salem, for Congress, the honor being bestowed in a perfunctory manner. The convention met in the county court house, all the counties of the district being represented. Chairman J. T. Benbow, of Winston-Salem, presided. Mr. Reynolds' name was the only one proposed for congress and the nomination was made by acclamation. The nominee thanked the convention and said he would make an effort to win, intimating that he would challenge Congressman Kitchin, who will be renominated by the Democrats without opposition, to a joint debate. Mr. Reynolds will not relinquish his grip on his present job, however, in order to make the canvass. Messrs. W. T. O'Brien, of Durham, and R. D. Douglas, of this city, were chosen delegates to the national convention, and Messrs. R. S. Petree, of Stokes, and C. D. Turner, of Orange, alternates.

A large number of Republicans, including all the wheel horses of the party, have gathered here for the state convention, which meets today in the opera house. Zeb Vance Walsler, of Lexington, will likely receive the nomination for governor. The convention will be a lilly white affair.

Odell-Merrimon.
The following wedding invitations has been sent to friends: "Mr. and Mrs. Branch Hugh Merrimon request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Bessie, to Mr. Fred Chambers Odell, on Wednesday, June the 1st, 1904, at half after eight o'clock, West Market Street Methodist Episcopal church, Greensboro, N. C." Enclosed are cards announcing a reception immediately after the ceremony at The Cedars.

GREENSBORO TOBACCO MARKET.
MARKET REPORT.
The receipts on our market for the past week have been very good, considering so many farmers have sold out about all of their holdings and the fact that the Jones-Stuart meeting was in progress pretty nearly all the week. The offerings consisted mainly of good working tobacco and the commoner types, with a very few good to fine wrappers, but all grades of desirable tobacco were in very active demand at the best prices of the season. We now consider our prices better than they have been during the present season. The Banner warehouse is again straight for business and had their first sale yesterday morning since the the great meeting. All three of the warehouses are in full blast and prices better than they have been any time this year, so we think that now is the best time our farmers will have to dispose of the remainder of their tobacco and we would urge sales as early as you can conveniently get it on the market. Our buyers are very anxious for the weed and are making a regular scramble for it when it shows up.
