R. C. Bernau has gone to Cincinnati to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the American Jewelers' Association.

Ex-Sheriff Jordan and family have gone to Manchester to spend the remainder of the winter at their hunting lodge at that place.

Mrs. H. L. Hopkins, Southern manager for the Atlantic Refining Company, of Cleveland, Ohio, left last night on a business trip to Cuba.

Mr. R. G. Vaughn was called to Winston-Salem Monday afternoon by the sudden and critical illness of his niece, Miss Cassandra Vaughn.

Miss Alma Sikes returned home yesterday from Rockingham county, where she taught a successful three-months' school near the state line.

The windstorm that passed over this city and section Sunday was one of the severest experienced in several years, although no serious damage was done.

Mr. E. H. Lee, a well known cotton merchant of Greensboro, who suffered a stroke of paralysis about ten days ago, is desperately ill and fears are entertained for the worst.

SALESMEN WANTED—to look after our interest in Guilford and adjacent counties. Salary or commission. Address THE HARVEY OIL Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

Miss Ida Wemmack, who is connected with the music department of Greensboro Female College, gave a delightful recital Monday night. She was assisted by Miss Susie Gwynn, soloist.

Police Officer Cochran, of High Point, was placed under a $50 bond yesterday to answer in Superior court for an assault on a young man named Wilborn at Mechanicsville during the holidays.

On the first of February Wharton Brothers will move their place of business from No. 206 South Elm street to the store formerly occupied by Duffy & Co., florists, a few doors farther south in the Benbow block.

A meeting of the Guilford and Forsyth districts of the Convocation of Charlotte convened in St. Mary's Episcopal church, in High Point, yesterday and will be in session through today.

A number of Episcopal ministers and laymen are in attendance.

Mrs. M. S. Powell, who resided on Maple street, at White Oak, died at St. Leo's hospital at an early hour Monday morning. She was 44 years of age. The body was carried to Glen Alpine, Burke county, the former home of the family, yesterday for interment.

Mr. J. C. Morris, a well known builder of this city, has been awarded a contract for the construction of extensions to the Southern Railway's roundhouse yards at Spencer.

The contract includes the building of a number of concrete cinder pits about 100 feet in length.

C. R. Vanstory, secretary and treasurer of the Vanstory Barber Supply Company, of this city, made a trip to Charlotte a few days ago in search of J. W. Poindexter, an employe of the firm, who has been missing for about ten days. His trip was fruitless of results.

A union service was held at Centenary Methodist church Sunday night in the interest of the Young Women's Christian Association. The congregations of the Friends, Westminster Presbyterian, Asheboro Street Baptist and First Reformed churches joined the Centenary people in the service.

The handsome edifice erected by the congregation of St. Matthew's Methodist church, colored, on South A-b-e street, was dedicated Sunday with appropriate exercises. The church is a handsome and costly structure and is a credit to the members of the congregation and the colored population generally.

The two-weeks term of civil court to convene in this city on February 10th will be presided over by Judge Fred Moore instead of Judge Webb, the two jurists having arranged for an exchange of courts.

While Judge Moore is in Greensboro, Judge Webb will hold court in Charlotte; which is near his home town of Shelby.

Mr. S. Glenn Brown, one of the younger members of the Greensboro bar, has been appointed local attorney for the Southern Railway. He succeeds Mr. G. S. Ferguson, Jr., who has formed a connection with Mr. John N. Wilson. Messrs. Wilson and Ferguson represent the Southern in the capacity of assistant division counsel.

Rev. D. A. Higbfill, of Liberty, was a welcome caller Monday morning. He was returning home after filling his regular appointment in southwestern Guilford, and stopped over in Greensboro to see his aunt, Mrs. W. S. Moore, who is critically ill. Mrs. Moore has been in very poor health for some time. She is almost wholly paralyzed.

Rev. Melton Clark, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, preached a special sermon to the Knights of Pythias of White Oak, at Buffalo Presbyterian church, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Despite the disagreeable weather, a large number of Pythians and others attended the service, which was of an enjoyable and helpful nature. The music was a special feature.

"The Mikado," a Japanese opera, was presented by local talent at the Grand opera house last night. The program was rendered in a delightful manner and was enthusiastically received by a large and critical audience.

The performance will be repeated tonight. The proceeds go to a fund to provide an entertainment on an elaborate scale during centennial week next October.

Farmers who have been on the Greensboro tobacco market during the past few days continue to be highly pleased with the prices the local buyers are paying for the weed. Yesterday a prominent farmer from the northern part of the county told a PATRIOT representative that he had received better prices than he had expected, although he had been informed that tobacco was selling well on the Greensboro market.

Mr. E. W. Stratford has sold his farm of 112 acres, lying three miles northwest of the city, to Messrs. T. C. Johnson and E. C. Lassiter, who have been living here a year or so, the latter being engaged in the lumber business.

Mr. Stratford had one of the best farms in Guilford and has long been considered one of the county's model farmers. He has leased the Weston property, on Buffalo Heights, and will move there in a few days.

Judge James L. Webb has rendered a decision making permanent the injunction granted a short time ago forbidding the establishment by Dr. John Roy Williams of a tuberculosis hospital on Chestnut street.

The injunction was granted on the application of a number of property owners and residents of Chestnut street, who object most seriously to the location in their neighborhood of a hospital for consumptives. Dr. Williams will probably take the case to the Supreme court on appeal.

WILL McADOO UNDER BOND

Must Answer Charge of Manslaughter for Killing Ed. Aldred—Coroner's Inquest Held Saturday.

Charged with recklessly and carelessly firing a pistol that resulted in the death of Ed. Aldred, Will D. McAdoo was arrested Monday and placed under a bond of $5,000 for his appearance at the next criminal term of Guilford Superior court, which will convene on February 24th, to answer the charge of manslaughter. The bond was signed by Mr. Walter D. McAdoo, the defendant's father.

It will be remembered that Aldred met his death on the afternoon of January 14th, while on a hunting trip with McAdoo and others in the eastern part of the county.

Coroner Turner visited the scene of the tragedy immediately, but after hearing the statements of the eye-witnesses, all of whom were positive that the killing was purely an accident, he deemed an inquest unnecessary.

Last week, however, certain information came to him that caused the coroner to reconsider his previously formed opinion, and accordingly he summoned a jury to hold an inquest Saturday.

The following gentlemen comprised the jury: W. C. Boreu, F. R. Ricks, E. A. Brown, C. W. Battle, O. C. Wysong and J. C. Anderson.

The coroner and the jury assembled in the county court house at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and examined several witnesses before adjourning for dinner.

Other sessions were held in the afternoon and at night. The following witnesses were examined: Dr. J. V. Dick, Mack Donnell, Sam Dock, Hyman Aldred, Frank Aldred, Tom Overman, Charles Overman, J. S. Wade, F. M. Smith, Orl Phillips, Lee Wharton, J. M. Tyson, C. F. Huffman and Maudy Cobb.

The last named witness, a colored woman, refused to obey the summons to come to Greensboro, and it was necessary to send an officer to her home near Gibsonville and place her under arrest.

After hearing the testimony of the witnesses, the jury agreed on a verdict, which was kept secret until Monday morning, when Coroner Turner filed the following verdict in the office of the clerk of the Superior court:

"We, the undersigned coroner's jurors having been summoned and duly sworn as jurors, took testimony in the matter of the cause of death of Edward Aldred and do for our verdict say that Edw. Aldred came to his death as the result of a pistol recklessly and carelessly fired by the hand of Will D. McAdoo while partially intoxicated."

JOHN W. LINDLEY DEAD.

Good Citizen Called to His Reward—Funeral This Afternoon.

Mr. John W. Lindley, who has been seriously ill for some time, died at his home near Jamestown yesterday morning at 10 o'clock.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. A. G. Kirkman, a long-time friend of the deceased, at Hickory's chapel this afternoon at two o'clock, after which the remains were carried to High Point for interment.

Mr. Lindley has been in failing health for several months, and recently he suffered a relapse from an attack of typhoid fever. His death was not unexpected, although it comes as a shock and great sorrow to his loved ones and many friends.

The deceased was a well known and highly esteemed citizen of southwestern Guilford. For several years he was employed as a clerk in the office of the register of deeds of this county and later returned to his occupation of teaching school.

More recently he has been the mail carrier on route 1 from Jamestown.

The Republic Club Rate.

The club rate on the PATRIOT and semi-weekly St. Louis Republic this year will be $1.35.

This is a very attractive offer, and our readers should take advantage of it at their earliest opportunity.

The PATRIOT can be relied upon to give all the home news of general interest, while the Republic gives an abundance of general news from all parts of the globe.

In addition it regularly contains departments of special interest to every member of the household.

Sample copies will be sent on application. Address all orders to THE PATRIOT, Greensboro, N. C.

Notice to Jurymen.

Notice is hereby given that jurors summoned to appear on February 10, 1908, will not be needed until Tuesday morning, February 11th, as no jury cases will be taken up on the first day of the term.

By order of J. L. Webb, Judge presiding. B. E. JONES, Sheriff Guilford County. 4-8t.

TWO SATURDAY FIRES.

Blaze in Doggett Building Does Much Damage—Mr. Cartland's House Destroyed.

A stubborn fire on South Elm street Saturday afternoon resulted from the explosion of a gasoline stove in the Gate City Novelty Company's place of business, in the Doggett building.

The flames spread over the building rapidly, practically destroying the Gate City Novelty Company's stock and seriously damaging the stock and fixtures of the Gate City Candy Company, which occupies the greater part of the building.

About 25 operatives of the candy factory were at work on the second floor at the time, all escaping without accident.

John Copeland's barber shop, which occupied a small section of the building, was damaged to some extent.

The Gate City Candy Company carried insurance on stock and fixtures to the amount of $10,000, but until an adjustment is made, it will be impossible to estimate the loss accurately.

The stock of the Benefield Furniture Company was damaged by smoke and water to the extent of about $500.

The building, which is badly damaged, is the property of Mr. W. O. Doggett, of Brown Summit.

The residence of Mr. J. Leslie Cartland, on Bragg street, in South Greensboro, was destroyed by fire Saturday night.

The fire originated from the explosion of a heater in the bathroom and the flames spread so rapidly that it was impossible for the firemen to save the building.

Practically all the furniture was saved.

DEATH OF C. MEBANE.

Well Known Citizen and Member of Distinguished Family.

Mr. Cornelius Mebane, who was stricken with paralysis on the morning of Christmas day, died at his home in this city yesterday afternoon.

His condition had been hopeless for several weeks, and for the past few days death had been expected at any time.

The funeral was held from the family residence on South Ashe street this afternoon at 3 o'clock, the service being conducted by Rev. Melton Clark, of the First Presbyterian church.

Interment was made in Greene Hill cemetery.

Mr. Mebane was a member of an old and prominent family and had made his home in Greensboro for more than a quarter of a century.

He was born at the old Mebane homestead, in Orange county, in 1839. Soon after graduating from the University of North Carolina, he entered the Confederate army, serving with distinction throughout the war.

The deceased married Miss Julia Paisley Sloan, a daughter of the late Robert Sloan. She survives him, together with a daughter, Miss Berta Mebane, and two sons, Messrs. Robert S. and Hal B. Mebane, the two latter residing in Graham.

Death of Former Editor of the Patriot.

Mr. J. H. Myrover, of Fayetteville, a former editor of the PATRIOT, died last Thursday night, after an illness of a few days' duration.

He was 65 years of age and a gentleman of most attractive personality. He was a gifted orator and one of the strongest writers connected with the state press.

For a period in the '80s Mr. Myrover was editor of the PATRIOT, and during his residence in Greensboro made many lasting friends.

Later he did editorial work on the Charlotte Observer, but for the past 15 years had resided in Fayetteville, representing a number of papers in the capacity of special correspondent.

Death of Mrs. Dicks.

Mr. D. T. Dicks, of this city, received a message last Thursday informing him of the sudden death on the previous day of his aged mother, Mrs. Nancy Dicks, who was visiting relatives in Stokes county.

Mr. Dicks left immediately for Stokes and accompanied the remains of his mother to Randleman, where the funeral was held Friday.

Mrs. Dicks was a well known resident of Randleman and leaves a large number of relatives and friends to mourn her departure.

Farmers' Warehouse.

Farmer friends, those of you who have tobacco to sell, your day has at last come, for I can safely say that not during the many years I have been in the warehouse business have I been able to get as good prices for all grades of tobacco as I am now getting.

My sales for last week and so far this week have made a GENERAL AVERAGE of $12.50 to $14.00 for everything on my warehouse floor.

DON'T THAT SOUND GOOD?

Well, bring me your next load of tobacco and you shall have these good prices. I am looking for you.

Your friend,
E. L. MORGAN.

Do You Want to Sell?

We are having inquiries for several improved farms on macadam road, 2 to 7 miles from town, containing from 75 to 200 acres. If you have such a farm and want to sell, let us hear from you.
