We owe our Guilford College and McLeansville patrons an apology for the delay in the receipt of their papers last week. In the rush incident to mailing day the large packages for those offices were misdirected. No one regrets the oversight more than the people in this shop.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis, of Winston, who were hurt some months ago in a wreck on the Southern near Greensboro, while on their wedding tour, have entered suit for damages against the road. The complaint has not yet been filed, and it is not known what amount of damages will be asked.

In a game of baseball played Saturday afternoon at the carpet mills the Bessemer high school team won over the Revolution team, the score being 13 to 4. Kimbro and Sharpe were the batteries for the high school, while Fulk and Shelton formed the receiving and dispatching ends for Revolution.

The young society men of Greensboro, acting upon the initiative and leadership of Mr. Paul W. Schenck, entertained in royal style at a beautifully appointed german Monday night in honor of the baseball teams of the University of Virginia and the University of North Carolina and visitors in the city.

Confederate veterans who wish to obtain crosses of honor are urged to send in their applications for blanks at once, as there must be in the hands of the general custodian in Savannah three weeks before the presentation on May 10th. Blanks can be obtained from Mrs. R. F. Dalton, 122 West Sycamore street.

The Chamber of Commerce has received and placed on file for the convenience of Greensboro business men a directory of the business firms in Philadelphia, also one giving the name and street address of the citizens of that city. The twenty-first report of the Interstate Commerce Commission has also been received.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Baptist church has opened a nursery in the Sunday school annex, where mothers can leave their babies and small children during the services. No admission fee will be charged, but each mother will be expected to make a free will offering of five cents toward the support of the nursery.

Pierce Young, colored, who was convicted of retailing and firing upon police officers during a raid on a colored club in this city several months ago, and who afterwards jumped his bond and went to Norfolk, was arrested upon his return to Greensboro several days ago and sent to the roads to serve a sentence of twelve months.

Mr. J. A. Coltrane has purchased another tract of land on the Guilford College-Battle Ground road adjoining a tract he had previously purchased and contemplates moving to that locality after he retires from the service of Uncle Sam. He has the contract for carrying the mail between the city postoffice and railroad station.

Mr. Holt Laird, of Haw River, who has been in the employ of the Cone Export and Commission Company in this city for some time, left yesterday for New York, from which place he will go to San Francisco. After remaining there a few weeks, he will sail for Australia and expects to spend about a year in that country in the interest of the Cone company.

Mr. M. H. Justice, Jr., and Miss Mary Merrimon are to be married this evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Merrimon, on West Washington street. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Dr. G. H. Detwiler at 9 o'clock. The ceremony will be followed by a wedding reception, after which the bride and groom will leave for a bridal trip north.

The North Carolina Christian Advocate announces that Mrs. L. W. Crawford, so long the editor of that paper's woman's foreign missionary column, is to retire. Ever since the death of Dr. Crawford she has been quite ill at the home of her son, Mr. R. B. Crawford, in Winston, and while she is now much improved, she fears that her strength will not permit any work for some time to come.

FEDERAL COURT IN SESSION.

Judge Boyd's Interesting Charge to Grand Jury—Smithtown Blockaders to the Front.

The April term of the United States District court was convened in this city by Judge Boyd Monday morning, the greater part of the first day's session being consumed in organizing the jury, delivering the judge's charge, etc. The following were chosen as members of the grand jury: R. A. Gilmer, foreman; Lee Davis, J. F. Neal, B. W. Johnson, R. F. Eyerly, John T. Joyce, C. A. Wharton, Walter F. King, C. M. Pritchett, J. T. Griffin, Ellis Y. Coleman, C. M. Hauser, Amos Hinshaw, James D. Schoolfield, J. L. Brockmann, Charles B. Aiken, D. I. Reeves, S. N. Allen, C. D. Rominger and John H. Alley. R. T. Stone, Prof. Charles D. Cobb, James K. Norfleet, J. A. Dalton and S. A. Vest were excused from jury service.

Judge Boyd's charge to the grand jury was unique and interesting. He departed from the usual custom, and instead of going into a lengthy explanation of the law, he made a patriotic and instructive talk on the duties of citizenship and the importance of the proper home training. He said that the Federal courts courts of the people, just as the state courts are, and they were adopted and established by the great architects of the government. Federal courts have no police jurisdiction, as the state courts have, but are intended to try cases that cannot well be tried in the state courts.

Speaking of home training, Judge Boyd said: "The foundation of all good citizenship is laid around the home altar, where the children get their first impressions. And I regret to say that we have too little of the home government these days. The youths are turned loose too early. Only go down the streets of Greensboro any night and you will see boys not over nine years old out on the streets, going where they please. They see things that are wrong and see men do things that are wrong. Say what you please, but some things of the old times are better than the things of today. Children were formerly not allowed to stand around the corner and chew tobacco and smoke cigarettes and hear all kinds of profanity. They were kept at home, and they knew that they had to stay at home."

Fletcher Smith, of Stokes county, was convicted of retailing, but not sentenced. He is one of the Smith brothers of Smithtown, one of whom, Jim Smith, is suspected of having had something to do with the killing of Deputy Collector J. W. Hendrix last December.

Albert Lineback, of Davidson county, was found guilty of illicit distilling. Sentence was not pronounced.

A true bill was returned against "Rev." Whitaker, who is now in jail in Asheville. The charge is using the United States mails for fraudulent purposes. Whitaker is the man who is said to have fleeced a number of people in connection with a supposed great estate in England to which he said he and others had fallen heir. The case will be tried in Asheville.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Petitions Granted for Six Public Roads—Other Matters.

The county commissioners were in session Monday and yesterday, transacting the usual amount of routine business.

The board purchased an adding machine to facilitate the office work in the court house.

Petitions for six public roads were granted as follows: Two in Washington township and one each in Friendship, Greene, Summerfield and Center Grove.

A petition was received for a drainage district to be established to extend from the mouth of Horsepen creek to the William Smith bridge, on the Guilford College and Oak Ridge public road. The petition is made in accordance with an act of the legislature of 1905.

The board received petitions for two new roads in Monroe township, one in Morehead, one in Fentress, and for a change in the road leading by the Guilford College graded school.

Manager McKeivitt, of the Greensboro club, had four of his men at the ball grounds yesterday afternoon trying them on the firing line. These were Drago, Fry, Huggins and Thorpe, each of whom has seen service with professional teams and is highly commended. Hicks, who is at home on the initial bag, and Walsh, who is to be tried out at the receiving end of the battery, were also at the grounds.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

Important Religious Body in Session in Burlington—Prominent Speakers.

Many Christian workers from all sections of North Carolina are in Burlington in attendance upon the annual convention of the State Sunday school association, which met yesterday and will be in session through tomorrow. The large attendance, the prominent speakers, the attractive musical features and the perfection of the arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors combine to give promise of the best convention ever held by the association.

Prominent among the speakers on the programme are President James A. B. Scherer, of Newberry College, W. C. Pearce, of Chicago, and Mrs. J. W. Barnes, superintendent of the elementary department of the international association. Messrs. Tullar and Meredith, of New York, are directing the musical features of the programme.

Thursday will be the big day of the convention, when the speakers will include Governor Glenn and President Poteat, of Wake Forest college.

The officers of the association who are in charge of the convention are: President, Dr. C. M. Poole, of Salisbury; vice-presidents, L. W. Clark, of Spray; Rev. P. H. Fleming, of Burlington, and Rev. P. B. Hall, of Kinston; secretary, Miss Maud Reid, of Raleigh, and treasurer, H. W. Jackson, of Raleigh.

Rural Telephone Lines.

Mr. J. M. Erskine, of the farmers' line department of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, is in the county with the view of installing a number of farmers' lines in Guilford. He makes Greensboro his headquarters and goes out from here to see the farmers.

This is a very busy season with Guilford farmers and Mr. Erskine has not been able to accomplish very much as yet, but he expects to place, before he finishes his work in the county, fully one hundred phones in Guilford.

Today he goes to Brown Summit in connection with the arrangements for an exchange of 25 phones there. Greensboro subscribers can talk to Brown Summit subscribers without extra cost.

The Bell Company has over three hundred phones scattered through Rowan county and contracts have been entered into for 125 in Rockingham and 250 in Alamance.

Registrars and Judges to Receive $2 Per Day.

Mr. A. Wayland Cooke, chairman of the county board of elections, furnishes us the following in explanation of the compensation of registrars and judges of elections:

"Many people have asked me if the last legislature did not increase the pay of the registrars and judges of elections in this county. In answer, I would state that the change was made by the acts of 1906, page 935, which reads as follows: 'The county commissioners of Guilford county shall pay to the registrars and judges of election of Guilford county the sum of two dollars per day, instead of one dollar per day as is now required by law.'

"The law was made general and applies to the whole state by chapter 760, page 1082, acts of 1907."

Distinguished Speaker Here Tomorrow Night.

Mr. Richard H. Edmonds, of Baltimore, editor of the Manufacturers' Record, has accepted an invitation from the Chamber of Commerce to make an address in this city tomorrow night. The address will be along the industrial and financial conditions of the South. It will be principally to the members of the Chamber of Commerce and the business men of the city, but the public has a most cordial invitation to hear the address.

Mr. Edmonds is probably the best posted man on the industrial and financial conditions of the country that can be found and some highly interesting facts about the progress of the South can be learned by those who hear the address.

Petition in Bankruptcy.

Late yesterday afternoon in U. S. court a petition in bankruptcy was filed against the W. H. Dunbar Company by Justice & Broadhurst, counsel for petitioning creditors. The creditors and the amounts due them are given in the petition as follows: L. Dannenbaum & Sons, Philadelphia, $450.04; Robischou & Peckham, of New York, $107.10; William T. Horstman Co., of Philadelphia, $66.77. It is alleged in the petition that the W. H. Dunbar Company is insolvent and has committed acts in bankruptcy. Judge Boyd will take action on the petition later.

Prof. Holt's Explanation.

Mr. Ernest Clapp, Greensboro, N. C.

Dear Sir:—I desire to state that the reference in my circular to allowing changes on the cash book of the clerk of the court, which have been made since the debate between myself and Mr. Brooks, was made merely to facilitate the examination of the books by those who are conducting investigations for the board of education and the county treasurer. I do not understand that the additions involve the matter in controversy between Mr. Brooks and myself. The clerk of the court, Mr. Clapp, is in no wise involved, nor is his administration or character attacked. My sole reason in calling public attention to it was that it seemed to have been delaying the speedy termination of the investigations and these delays might affect public opinion.

It will be noted that in my circular I call attention to it in connection with the sentence in which I ask for a speedy report from the county board of education. Respectfully,
J. ALLEN HOLT.
