It is learned here that several Danville liquor dealers are preparing to open places in South Boston, Va., which has come to be quite a market for booze. Probably the larger portion of Greensboro's mail order whiskey business has been going to Danville, and the information that that town had gone "dry" did not come as pleasant news to the Morally Stunted here.

The basket ball teams of Greensboro Female college and Salem Female academy played an interesting game on the grounds of the former team in this city Monday afternoon, the Greensboro girls winning by a score of 6 to 4. During the progress of the game the grandstand collapsed and precipitated a large number of spectators to the ground. There was a great deal of excitement and several young ladies received minor injuries.

A dwelling house on Gregory street, some distance out beyond the Holiness church, burned Sunday afternoon, together with all its contents, which belonged to the tenant, Mr. P. C. Heath, who with his family was at church at the time. The fire was not discovered until the flames burst through the roof. The building, which was insured, was owned by Mr. H. M. Patterson. Mr. Heath bad no insurance on his household goods.

The national government is to be asked to assist in making a success of Greensboro's centennial celebration next October by sending the Marine band to this city during the week of the celebration. A committee composed of the following gentlemen left Greensboro today to lay the matter before the President: Mayor L. J. Brandt and Mesers. G. S. Bradshaw, C. M. Vanstory, Garland Daniel and Charles D. Benbow. The committee will be accompanied to the White House and introduced to the President by Senator Overman tomorrow morning.

Occasionally the Marine band is permitted to leave Washington, and it is believed the chances are favorable for securing this splendid musical organization for the centennial celebration. provided the date does not conflict with some other engagement.

THE REVIEWERS' CLUB.

Mrs. Thompson.

Under the auspices of the musical department of the Reviewers' club, a most delightful musical afternoon was held at the home of Mrs. M. W. Thompson, on North Elm street, bered about thirty-five, and it was one of the most enjoyable occasions of the whole year. The programs were in pink and white, the club colors, and these colors were carried out in the refreshments and the decorations. At the conclusion of a charming program of music and elocution, the hostess served a course of dainty refreshments, consisting of pink and white ice cream, fruit cake, Nabisco wafers, pink and white mints, coffee and whipped

Republican State Convention Next Week.

The least discussed subject in political circles here is the forthcoming Republican state convention, which will assemble in Greensboro a week from cates of the state prohibition bill to be tomorrow, April 30th. The certainty voted on May 26th and has entered of the action that, in all probability, will be taken reduces the interest in is an eloquent speaker and will inthe event to a minimum.
