It is learned that no speeches against prohibition will be made in Guilford prior to the election on the 28th inst. It was thought that Hon. Many readers of the PATRIOT will be interested in the announcement of the death of Mrs. Thomas Ruffin, widow of the late Chief Justice Ruffin, of the Supreme court of this state, which occurred suddenly at her home in Hillsboro yesterday. After the meeting it was stated that the unions would not enter politics in North Carolina.

The PATRIOT is pleased to acknowledge the receipt of a long letter from an old and staunch friend whom we hold in high esteem, Dr. W. A. Coble, of Brick Church. Dr. Coble is one of the useful men whose lives have really enriched the world, and his mature observations regarding events and conditions that go to make history are logical and refreshing as compared with the vapors of men whose perspective is dimmed by the shadows of greed or personal aggrandizement. The frosts of 76 winters are reflected in the gray hairs of our venerable friend's head. Fifty-five of those years were spent in ministering to the sick and afflicted with rare tact and skill. Since his early youth Dr. Coble has been a reader of the PATRIOT, his father having been a subscriber as early as 1823. Such constancy is valued in this office. We hope the life of this good man will be spared many years and the physical ills that now oppress him will vanish at the coming of the warm season.

Boy Drowned at White Oak.

Philip Paschal, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Paschal, of White Oak, was drowned Sunday afternoon a short distance below a pond where a baptizing was in progress. It appears that the little one was playing along the stream with several other children, and when his companions were attracted to the baptizing, he attempted to follow them and fell into the creek.

About half an hour later the body was discovered by several children who were passing, and their screams attracted a number of people to the scene. The body was brought out of the water by Mr. John D. Campbell, superintendent of the White Oak mills, and although three physicians were hastily summoned, it was impossible to resuscitate the little fellow.

The body was carried to the former home of the family in Reckingham county Monday for interment.
