Mr. J. S. Kuykendall, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is in Charlotte with a quantity of literature advertising Greensboro which he will distribute among the people attending the Democratic state convention.

Compare our goods and prices with all the rest. Remember they are all warranted for twelve months. We still say it is nobody's business how we got them; they are paid for.

C. C. TOWNSEND & Co.

The Central Carolina fair ground is being enlarged by the extension of the fence to include the ten-acre grove on the west recently purchased by the association. The grove will afford a splendid hitching place, in addition to its other advantages.

The board of governors for the centennial celebration held an enthusiastic meeting at the Elks club Monday night and named several important committees. The board is much encouraged over the bright prospects for a successful celebration.

Gen. W. H. Taft, the Republican candidate for president, is expected to be among the distinguished visitors Greensboro will entertain during the centennial celebration in October. Mr. Taft has promised to visit Greensboro at that time if other engagements do not conflict.

Is it the name you are after, or the actual value in a vehicle? You pay in some cases $20 for a name, when you could buy one of equal worth for $20 less and get the same one-year guarantee. See Townsend & Co. Look their stock over and be convinced. 4t

The following young men enlisted at the local recruiting station of the United States army this week and were sent yesterday to Fort Slocumb, N. Y.: Thomas J. McDowell, of Asheboro; David D. Crouse, of High Point; Daniel H. Harris, of Greensboro, and John E. Burgess, of Ramseur.

Mr. R. Moore has a force of laborers at work removing the two cottages from the site of the auditorium to the lot of D. C. Suggs, on North Forbis street, and the job will be completed within a week. The lot is being graded and levelled so as to be ready for the placing of the material as rapidly as it arrives.

A party of young people composed of the following and chaperoned by Mrs. Myra Albright left Monday for a week's outing at Roaring Gap: Miss Martha Pearl Holleman, Miss Madge Johnson, of Rock Hill, S. C.; Miss Cecile Hudson, of Birmingham, Ala.; Mr. Dennis Craven, Mr. W. D. McLean and Mr. Vivian Blackburn.

Prof. Thomas R. Foust, superintendent of public instruction in Guilford county, is the new president of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, he having been honored by an election to that office at the annual meeting held in Charlotte last week. He succeeds Prof. J. A. Matheson, of the State Normal and Industrial College.

The PATRIOTS intended for our McLeansville patrons failed to reach their destination last week. We take it for granted that any postmaster receiving a bundle of newspapers that were evidently misdirected would promptly notify us or any other publisher interested, hence we are at a loss to know what has become of the missing papers.

A young baby who had been abandoned was found by Mr. Caleb Pickel, of Elon College, Thursday morning. The infant had been left in a buggy in Mr. Pickel's carriage house with a bottle of milk and a bundle of clothing. The little one was brought to Greensboro and is being cared for by the North Carolina Children's Home Society.

A brazing and welding plant has been added to the shop of the Clymer Machine Company, in this city, the cost of the installation running up into the thousands of dollars. Under the process now to be used at the plant, it will be possible to braze or join two pieces of metal so that the joint is as strong as any portion of the casting of like dimension.

During the absence of the family a thief entered the home of Mr. W. E. Lusk, at White Oak, Monday night and stole $100 from the trunk of Miss Sarah Southard, a young lady boarder. Nothing else was missed. On the same night a horse was stolen from a neighbor, a Mr. Mills, and the presumption is that both thefts were committed by the same person. There is no clue as to the identity of the thief.

Mr. J. Henry Stewart, a native of Guilford county, who has made his home in Asheville for the past quarter of a century, is lying at the point of death, the result of a fall he received last Thursday. Mr. Stewart fell from a second-story window to the ground and injured himself internally. He has been unconscious the greater part of the time since the accident. Mr. John R. Stewart, a cousin, returned yesterday from Asheville, where he spent several days with the injured man.

The doors of the city school buildings are to be so changed that they will open outwardly, instead of inwardly, as at present. Orders to this effect were given at a meeting of the board of education Monday, the purpose of the change being to prevent any danger of a crush at the doors in event of a sudden dismissal of the scholars from the building. A general improvement in the sanitary condition of the buildings was also ordered and a committee appointed to draft plans and submit these to contractors for bids.

No Humbug.

No humbug claims have to be made for Foley's Honey and Tar, the well known remedy for coughs, colds and lung troubles. The fact that more bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar are used than any other cough remedy is the best testimonial of its great merit. Why then risk taking some unknown preparation when Foley's Honey and Tar costs you no more and is safe and sure. All druggists.

YOUNG BOY DROWNED.

Member of Picnic Party Loses Life in Hamburg Pond.

While bathing in the pond at Hamburg mill, eight miles north of town, Saturday afternoon Jesse Durham, a 15-year-old boy, was drowned. Young Durham, who was a member of a picnic party from the Bessemer Avenue Presbyterian Sunday school, of this city, went into the pond with several friends and was enjoying himself swimming when he was seen to sink without a struggle.

It is believed that but for a constitutional weakness, the boy's life could have been saved. Those who were nearest to him remarked, when they had time to collect their thoughts, upon the fact that there was no struggle. His body became motionless quickly, and it is the generally accepted theory that heart failure was the immediate cause of death.

The boy drowned before he could be brought out of the water, although heroic efforts were made to save him. Mr. H. W. Wharton, superintendent of the Sunday school, plunged into the water and came near losing his own life in a desperate attempt to save the young fellow.

The body was recovered after a short search and carried to the home of Mr. Pat. Cunningham, with whom the boy had resided for several years. The funeral was held from Bessemer Avenue Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the service being conducted by Rev. J. W. Goodman, the pastor.

Mr. Goodman spoke feelingly of the kind friends who had taken the boy some six years ago to their heart and home. Among other things he said that Jesse Durham responded fully to their kind treatment and developed into a fine boy, repaying his adopted parents a full measure of love and confidence for all they had done for him.

Young Durham was an orphan, his only relatives in this section being a small brother, a grandmother and two uncles, all of whom reside at Proximity.

Mr. H. W. Wharton, superintendent of the Bessemer Avenue Sunday school, who worked heroically to save the boy, both before and after the body was carried out of the water, gives the following account of the deplorable occurrence that turned a day of brightness into gloom:

"Just before the sad occurrence, I was wading near the shore looking for an oar lock which had been lost, and from time to time I looked over the pond to see what the boys were doing, and had just warned them not to go out into deep water which I found was in the middle of the pond. Six or eight boys were in a boat some distance away, and three or four boys were swimming and diving near by and having a good time generally. Once when I glanced up I saw Jesse Durham apparently floating on the water, the top of his head showing, and I am now certain that he was then dead from heart failure. In a few seconds one of the boys in the boat called to me excitedly to come at once, which I did as soon as I could, swimming about one hundred yards. Just before reaching the boy, he sank without the slightest struggle. Reaching the spot, I almost immediately felt the body, but had considerable difficulty in getting a grip, as his body was very slick on account of being wet. Finally I got an insecure hold on his ankle and at once swam to the side of the boat, and when I reached up to catch hold, the body slipped away from me. Being so exhausted I was compelled to hold to the boat a minute to get my breath. In the meantime the boat had drifted some distance away. On resuming the search, I found that it would be difficult for me to find the body alone, so I began calling for help. Several men came out and directly Allie Highfield touched him with his foot, and we picked him up and rushed him to shore and went through the usual evolutions to restore him. But I am now satisfied that his death resulted from other causes than drowning. Six or eight persons saw him floating in the water several seconds before he disappeared, and all of them unite in saying that he made not the slightest struggle. Added to this is the fact that, while heroic efforts were made to get the water from his stomach, not a drop came.

"Jesse was a loyal member of the Covenanters and a mainly Christian character. Not the slightest whisper of wrong doing has ever reached my ears concerning this lovable lad. His memory will always be held in loving remembrance by the Covenanter band."

GROVER CLEVELAND DEAD.

Grover Cleveland, twice president of the United States, died at his home in Princeton, N. J., this morning. He had been in failing health for some time and several weeks ago was desperately ill. Apparently he partially recovered and it was reported that he was rapidly regaining his strength. He was over 70 years old.

Cigar Factory Changes Hands.

The local management of the Greensboro factory of the American Cigar Company has been notified that the plant has been sold to Seidenberg & Company and that the purchasers will assume control of the property July 1st.

The officers of Seidenberg & Company are as follows: President, R. M. C. Glenn; first vice president, A. Schneider; second vice president, W. A. Willingham; secretary, F. N. DeRossett; treasurer, G. G. Finch.

The office force is now busily engaged in taking an inventory of the plant, changing the signs to Seidenberg & Company and making all the arrangements preparing to making the transfer on the date mentioned.

The factory will continue in full operation and the change will not affect the daily output of cigars.

Baseball Team at Home.

After losing three straight games to Greenville the latter part of last week, the Greensboro baseball team returned home for a week's stay, playing Anderson the first and Spartanburg the latter part of the week. The locals took the first game from Anderson Monday by a score of 6 to 0 and won again yesterday by a score of 2 to 1.

Following is the standing of the clubs in the Carolina League:

	Won	Lost	Pct
Greenville	31	14	.689
Spartanburg	26	20	.565
Greensboro	22	21	.512
Winston	20	25	.444
Anderson	18	27	.400
Charlotte	17	27	.386

Excursion to Wilmington.

Messrs. J. E. Tomlinson and Garland Daniel are arranging for a big excursion to Wilmington, by way of Sanford, on Wednesday, July 15, returning the 16th. Train will start from High Point at 7:30 A. M., and leave Greensboro at 8:30 A. M. Fare for the round trip will be $3.50. There will be ample time at Wilmington for a trip out to the ocean as well as the many places of interest near the big city by the sea. Look out for further announcements next week.

Mrs. S. M. Transou, of Ashe county, the mother of Mr. W. M. and Miss Carrie Transou, of this city, died in Wilkesboro Monday night. She was returning home from Greensboro, where she had spent several weeks for medical treatment. The body was carried to Ashe county for interment.
