the home of Mr. John W. Ealsley, at White Oak, aged 30 years. The funeral is to be held this afternoon and interment made in Greene Hill cemetery.

the Greensboro postoffice, and his brother, Mr. W. H. Jones, of Norfolk, of Jamestown.

Saturday was "tag day" with the Y. W. C. A. of Greensboro, many of the members of that organization selling tags for the benefit of the boarding home to be opened in this city in the near future. About $700 was realized for the fund.

Among the prominent Democrats here yesterday with the Kern party were United States Senator Overman and Walter Murphy, candidate for elector at large, of Salisbury; Maj.
W. A. Graham, of Lincoln county, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, and State Auditor Dixon.

by the pastor, Rev. F. M. Harr.

Judge Boyd convened the regular October term of United States District court Monday morning. There are 86 cases on the docket, having to do principally with alleged violations of E. Hunt, of Lexington, is foreman of the grand jury. The term will continue for two weeks, unless the docket should be disposed of in a shorter time.

Mr. William A. Gilmer, a well known citizen of Mt. Airy, died at his home in that place yesterday morning, of pneumonia. He was well known to many people in Guilford county, where he had many relatives, among them being: Ex-Sheriff J. Henry Gilmer, Mr. Robert A. Gilmer, Mr. S. L. Gilmer, Miss Jennie Gilmer and Mrs. George R. Kennett. The funeral is to be held in Mt. Airy this afternoon.

Thacker & Brockmann intended having a nice exhibit at the Fair next week, but had to give it up because they have been so busy they could not find time to get up the display.
But they are giving everybody who comes to the Centennial next week a cordial invitation to visit the store and take a good look through their splendid lines of dress goods, dry goods, and notions, underwear, shoes and carpets.

GREAT DAY FOR DEMOCRACY.

Democratic Candidate for Vice-President Speaks at Battle Ground and Greensboro.—Address by Col. J.
Hamilton Lewis.

Yesterday was militant Democracy's day at Guilford Battle Ground, many people from Guilford and surrounding counties gathering on this historic spot to hear speeches by Hon. John Worth Kern, the Democratic candidate for Vice-President; Hon. A. L. Brooks, the nominee for Congress in the Fifth district, and Governor Glenn.
The speakers made strong statements for the cause of Democracy and each received an attentive hearing. Governor Glenn had no more appreciative listener than his aged mother, who drove out from her home in this city to cheer her devoted son by her presence.

Maj. Charles M. Stedman was the presiding officer of the meeting and introduced the first speaker of the day, Mr. Brooks, in one of the prettiest speeches heard hereabouts in a long while. Mr. Brooks began speaking about 11 o'clock and held the undivided attention of the crowd for about an hour. He discussed the issues of the campaign in a dispassionate and interesting manner, paying special attention to the tariff, the guaranty of bank deposits and the publicity of campaign contributions.

The speaker declared that Mr. Taft has been frightened away from the Republican platform, as shown by his utterances since he was nominated at the behest of President Roosevelt, and asserted that it is impossible now to get a Republican to say the platform of his party as written is all right.

Mr. Brooks referred to President Roosevelt's action in "rushing into the campaign in an unseemly debate and an unrighteous wordy war", and contrasted the position of Taft, the creature of Roosevelt, and Bryan, who is exalted by the American people.

In closing his address Mr. Brooks referred to the charges and rumors that have been circulated against him by his political enemies, declaring that his record is open to the world.
He said: "I challenge any man to meet me in joint debate or to say over my signature that I have ever been false to any obligation. In vain have I lived if a sneak or an assassin is to be allowed to destroy my reputation and character." This utterance brought forth what was probably the most enthusiastic applause of the day.

Governor Glenn Speaks.

Mr. Brooks closed his speech by introducing Governor Glenn, who entered the crowd until Mr. Kern arrived and dinner was announced.
The governor took for his text the Biblical words, "By their fruits ye shall know them," and started out by saying that it was not his purpose to abuse or misrepresent anyone. He said he believed Taft to be an honest man of medium ability, but he is too much of a "me too" kind of man to suit the great body of the American people.

"Mr. Taft stands too near the monopolies and too far from the masses of the people," said the governor. "We want for president a man whose heart goes out to the masses of the people and who will not respond to the dictator of any class."

Governor Glenn declared that Bryan is the equal of Calhoun and Webster as a statesman and superior to Patrick Henry and Henry Clay as an orator. While twice defeated for election as president, he has returned Democracy's banner unsullied and today is stronger with the people than ever before.

Mr. Kern's Fine Speech.

Mr. Kern and his party arrived in Greensboro shortly before 1 o'clock, and were carried to the Battle Ground by automobile, arriving a few minutes before the crowd was invited to partake of the free barbecue provided by the committee.

Mr. Kern began his speech about 2:30 o'clock, after a most appropriate introduction by Col. John A. Barringer, Democratic nominee for the state senate. The candidate for vice-president caught the attention of the crowd by recalling the fact that, in the days of reconstruction, when the heel of the oppressor was upon the necks of the Southern people, there was a man from Indiana in the United States Senate—Thomas A. Hendricks—who never failed to raise his voice in behalf of the rights of the people of the South. Later, when the South was threatened with the force bill, Voorhees lifted up his voice to stay the hand of the Republican administration.

Mr. Kern declared his creed of Democracy in this language: "I am a Democrat because I believe the eternal principles laid down by Jefferson and re-declared by the Democratic national convention in Denver are essential to the welfare of the American people. If these principles were essential in Jefferson's time, they are a thousand times more so today."

After explaining the systems of taxation in vogue in this country, Mr.
Kern entered into an exhaustive discussion of the tariff. He called attention to the fact that the tariff tax today is nearly twice what it was during the civil war and explained how the tariff has destroyed domestic competition and placed the American people at the mercy of the trusts. He followed this with illustrations of what has been done by the steel trust, the sugar trust, the meat trust, the Standard Oil Company and other gigantic combinations of capital.

The speaker made a local application by saying that there is no more appropriate place to engage in a dis-ussion of the rights and liberties of the people than the battlefield of Guilford court house. He made a happy hit, in referring to the coterie in Congress that has thwarted the will of the people, by saying: "Then there is Uncle Joe—dear old benevolent Uncle Joe—but all of you know him." There were relatives and old-time acquaintances of the speaker of the house in the audience.

In closing his speech Mr. Kern declared with great and effective eloquence:
"It is not a matter of consequence whether I am elected or not, but it is of consequence to you that this government be restored to the people and that the rule of plutocracy cease. We have a man as a leader on our side—God bless him—William Jennings Bryan."

In the Auditorium Last Night.

Mr. Kern spoke again last night to a crowd of 5,000 or 6,000 people in the new auditorium, making an eloquent and effective plea for Democracy.

Mr. R. R. King called the meeting to order and presented Governor Glenn as the presiding officer. Governor Glenn presented Maj. Charles M. Stedman, who introduced the candidate for vice president. Mr. Kern was greeted with a most enthusiastic demonstration, the applause continuing for several minutes. His speech was along the line of his argument at the Battle Ground in the afternoon, special attention being paid to the tariff and the trusts.

When Mr. Kern had concluded, Hon.
A. L. Brooks introduced Hon. J. Hamilton Lewis, of Chicago, a former member of Congress from the state of Washington. Mr. Lewis is one of the most eloquent speakers in the country, and he fully sustained his reputation for oratory in a masterly address on the great issues before the people at the present time.

The speaker assailed the Republican position on the tariff and trusts and took a full out of President Roosevelt and candidate Taft.

Messrs. Kern and Lewis left the city this morning for Winston-Salem, where they speak this afternoon. They were accompanied by a delegation of Winston-Salem Democrats and quite a number of people from Greensboro.

STOKESDALE HERE IN FORCE.

Want Road Macadamized From Summerfield to Rockingham Line.

A big delegation of citizens from the Stokesdale section, numbering over 60 men, appeared before a joint meeting of the county commissioners and the highway commission Monday and requested that the public road between Summerfield and Stokesdale be macadamized instead of the road leading from Summerfield to Oak Ridge. The delegation requested that the road be run from Summerfield to the Rockingham county line by the J. L. Ogburn place and reaching the Flat Rock section of southwest Rockingham. It was pointed out that this is the finest tobacco section tributary to Greensboro and the proposed road would be of great benefit to the local tobacco market and the city of Greensboro generally.

The plan was advocated earnestly in speeches by Dr. C. W. Taylor, Dr.
B. T. Biting and Messrs. J. M. McMichael and J. R. Dwiggin, representing the Stokesdale community. Maj. Charles M. Stedman and Messrs. F. B. Ricks, O. J. Denny, R. W. Harrison and C. A. Bray, spoke for Greensboro, including the Chamber of Commerce, the Retail Merchants' Association and the Tobacco Board of Trade.

After hearing the matter discussed the joint meeting called a meeting for Monday, October 26th, when all parties interested are invited to be present.
The meeting will be attended by another big delegation from Stokesdale, and it is understood that several Rockingham farmers will be present also. It is presumed that Oak Ridge will be well represented.

AN EXPLANATION.

We had fully intended having a display of goods at the Central Carolina Fair, which comes off next week, and has so announced in a recent issue of the Patriot, but have been forced to give it up for this year. We have simply been overwhelmed with business for the last two or three weeks, and most of the articles we had intended showing at the fair have been sold, and it will not be possible to get new goods here in time to get up the exhibit. Besides this, we are so busy in the store every minute that we could not possibly spare time to arrange a creditable display. While we hate to give it up, we are certainly gratified and agreeably surprised at the splendid turn for the better in trade. Our September business was decidedly the best we have ever had, and it looks as if October sales will be better still. When you come to the Centennial drop in and look at our new goods and see how busy we are.
THACKER & BROCKMANN.

NOTICE.

Owing to the general elections occurring on Tuesday Nov. 3rd., the consideration of road matters by the board of county commissioners is postponed until Thursday, Nov. 5th, 1908.
J. A. DAVIDSON,
Chairman.

produce for fair and centennial week.

of grapes just received.

PROMINENT CITIZEN DEAD.

Walter D. McAdoo Answers the Final Summons.—Funeral Tomorrow.

Mr. Walter D. McAdoo, one of Greensboro's oldest and best known citizens, died last night in a hospital in Richmond, Va., where he had been critically ill for several weeks. He had been in failing health for two or three years, suffering from intestinal trouble, and had made several trips to the hospital for treatment. The remains were brought to Greensboro today and the funeral will be held from the First Presbyterian church tomorrow.

Mr. McAdoo was the eldest son of Calvin Nicks McAdoo, for many years a leading merchant of Greensboro, and was born in this city in 1840. At the outbreak of the civil war he left college and enlisted with the Guilford Greys. He was severely wounded at the battle of Sharpsburg, September 17, 1862. After spending some time in a hospital, he was transferred to the Fifty-third North Carolina Regiment, where he saw service until the close of the war. He fought bravely in the battles of the Wilderness, Spottsylvania and Gettysburg. In recognition of his bravery and gallant service, he was commissioned a major, but did not accept the office.

Returning from the war, Mr. McAdoo was engaged for a few years with his father and brother, the late Victor C. McAdoo, in their extensive mercantile business. In 1870 he built the McAdoo hotel, which he operated in connection with other business interests for nearly a quarter of a century. He was a man of great energy and perseverance, and amassed a considerable fortune.

Mr. McAdoo married Miss Josie Moore, of Richmond, Va., who survives him, together with a son and daughter, Mr. William D. and Miss Mary McAdoo.

Before his death Mr. McAdoo expressed the wish that Capt. Neil Ellington take charge of his funeral arrangements and that the following friends act as pall bearers: Col. J. T. Morehead, Capt. J. W. Fry, Judge R. M. Douglas, J. A. Odell, W. E. Allen, R. R. King, J. W. Scott and E. P. Wharton.

Woman Kidnaps Her Son.

Mrs. Lottie Taylor, of Oklahoma, the divorced wife of Oscar Taylor, a native of Guilford county, was arraigned in the mayor's court Monday on the charge of kidnaping her eight-year-old son, who is making his home with his grandmother, Mrs.
Adeline Taylor, of this city. After taking evidence in the case Mayor Brandt continued the hearing until Saturday, the 17th inst. In the mean time the boy is to remain in the custody of his grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were divorced three years ago, the court giving the custody of the boy to the mother.
Last year, this ruling was reversed and for some time the child has been in the custody of his grandmother in this city. The mother came to Greensboro last week and Monday morning intercepted her son as he was on his way to school with the intention of returning with him to her home in Oklahoma. Mrs. Taylor has retained counsel and will remain in Greensboro until the hearing on the 17th.

would be thoroughly satisfying in

A WORD TO FARMERS

Every farmer ought to put his surplus money in a bank. It encourages thrift, insures safety, increases his independence. Deposit a little each week, each month, and watch the account grow. We give the depositor a small bank book in which is kept a record of the money deposited and taken out, and this book is valuable to keep, since it shows the amount of money you handle.

Then encourage your boys and girls to have a bank account.

Many of the best farmers in Guilford county have favored us with their patronage.

If you have not opened an account with us, do so now.
