STRONG DEMOCRATIC SPEECH.

Hon. T. W. Bickett Makes Eloquent Address to Large Audience—Strong and Convincing Argument.

One of the most eloquent and effective political addresses heard in Greensboro in a long while was delivered in the county court house Thursday night by Hon. T. W. Bickett, of Louisburg, Democratic candidate for attorney general. Mr. Bickett is an orator of force and power and held the undivided attention of his audience for over an hour and a half as he presented in an entertaining and convincing manner the issues of the campaign. The court house was well filled, the crowd numbering 700 or 800 people.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. A. Wayland Cooke, who referred in a complimentary manner to Mr. Bickett's worth and work.

In beginning his speech, Mr. Bickett made a plea for enthusiasm and activity on the part of all loyal Democrats, and said he brought no new or sensational doctrine, for Democracy is of no date. It was and is and shall be. "When our great leader was named for the presidency for the third time," said the speaker, "my thoughts traveled to that grave where sleeps the great Vance, and I recalled the words of his last message to his people: 'Democracy is immortal and can never die.'"

The spirit of Democracy has ever wrought mightily for the uplift of the human race. Moses was the incarnation of that spirit, and today the same spirit of Democracy stands with flaming sword in hand and demands of the Pharos of greed and graft freedom for all the people. Democracy makes no plea to passion, but it demands even-handed justice, and the people are hearkening to that cry.

Everywhere men who love justice and equality are laboring for the success of Democracy in this election, and there is absolutely no reason why any man with a drop of Democratic blood in his veins should not rally with enthusiasm to the support of his party.

The Republicans are alive to the situation, declared the speaker, and are trembling in their strongholds and resorting to the most desperate measures of intimidation and bribery to thwart the will of the people. But the people also are alive to the situation and are not to be deceived.

Mr. Bickett laid down the proposition that, unless the principles of Democracy be enacted into law and a stop be put to the consolidation of wealth and the centralization of power, the government of the people will perish and we will have an oligarchy, or the human mind will swing back to the other extreme and land us in the lap of socialism.

The speaker declared the Democratic party believes fundamentally in the least government possible and in allowing to every man the greatest exercise of his individual will consistent with public safety. Republicanism stands for the greatest amount of government and is essentially paternal. While the tendency of the Democratic party is to make people hot and self-reliant, the tendency of the Republican party is to make parasites of men. The typical Republican believes in his heart that the government owes him a living, and many members of the party spend the greater part of their time in trying to collect the debt. The typical Democrat believes the government owes him nothing but equality before the law—an open field and a fair fight. The Republican prays (when he prays at all): "Oh, Lord, kill this bear for me." The Democrat prays: "Oh, Lord, just see that I am not interfered with, and I'll show you the damndest bear fight that ever happened."

In illustrating the consolidation of the wealth of the country that has taken place under Republican rule, Mr. Bickett recited the fact that, whereas in 1890, 10 per cent. of the people owned 50 per cent. of the wealth, today they own 90 per cent. of all the wealth of the country.

The speaker asserted that the Republican party is unalterably opposed to the enactment of any law against the consolidation of wealth and the centralization of power and introduced as his first witness President Roosevelt, who declared in a message to Congress that the representatives of predatory wealth had banded together to prevent any legislation in behalf of the people. Every representative of predatory wealth today is lined up for Taft. They control absolutely the policies and shape the destinies of the Republican party.

Discussing the panic, the speaker showed how it has brought upon the country by those who are opposed to any law for the relief of the people and quoted ex-Secretary of the Treasury Shaw as authority for the statement that it is the greatest financial panic the world has ever known.

Mr. Bickett made a strong defense of the last legislature in the railroad rate matter, saying the sworn reports of the railroads show that the position of the legislature was right. He declared the great sin of the railroads in North Carolina to be discrimination in freight rates, and declared that, when elected attorney general, he will try and see that the railroads deal fairly with the people of this state.

"In the face of the facts," said the speaker, "we find J. Elwood Cox, the Republican candidate for governor, going to Washington and swearing before a committee of the United States senate that there is no complaint of freight rates in North Carolina and saying he would rather trust the railroads to do justice than the representatives of the people. If nothing else were necessary, this alone would mark the end of all his hopes of being elected governor of North Carolina."

As a single illustration of the discrimination against North Carolina points in the matter of freight rates, Mr. Bickett cited the fact that the Greensboro postoffice was discontinued as a distributing point for postal supplies for the sole reason that the Postoffice department could not afford to pay the excessive freight rates demanded by the railroads for the shipment of supplies to this city.

Mr. Bickett closed his speech with a magnificent tribute to Bryan that was received with vociferous applause.

"The Supreme court in a case from Franklin county, brought to enjoin the collection of a tax for schools which carried a tax upon the poll of $2.60, which is 60 cents more than the poll tax limit for state and county purposes, sustains the lower court in holding that this limitation upon the poll tax which may be levied refers only to state and county purposes, but has no application to any special taxing district created by the legislature as a special school district, whenever the tax imposed has been approved by a vote of the people of such district."

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, I uniformly cure all curable cases of this horretore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

Read the Following Unsolicited Testimonial

Pomona, Guilford County, N. C., March 27th, 1908.
Mr. Sides, Dear Sir: I am thinking you would like to hear how I am getting along after using the new remedy you and Mr. Yates so kindly had me to use. After nearly four months of suffering with rheumatism and kidney complaint, and everything done for me which only relieved for the time being, I am now using the Band, which seemed to help me at once. At the time my feet, knees and hips were so swollen that I could not walk a step. As soon as I put it on there was a heating sensation all over my system, and in one week I was surprised that the swelling was going out, and I could sleep. In two weeks I could walk around the room, the third week I could go where I pleased. I feel still in my knees somewhat, but that is going out fast. You may think this is quick work, but it is nevertheless true. My family and neighbors will testify the same. They all know I have suffered all winter, and I feel very grateful to you both, for what this remedy has done for me, and will recommend it to all suffering as I have.
Respectfully yours,
A. D. V. LEIGH.

Why don't you profit by the experience of others? Your family doctor is all right, and will do all he can for you, but he cannot cure that rheumatism. I have cured hundreds of hopeless cases with my wonderful Band, dozens of them right here in Greensboro, and in Guilford county. Write today for full information and terms.
