Ex-Governor E. C. Stokes, of New Jersey, is a visitor in the city. He is one of the wealthiest men and leading Democrats of his state and is prominently mentioned as a candidate for the United States Senate.

FURS, FURS—I have a large order for mink and muskrat furs which must be filled by January 10. Want all I can get by that time. Bring them in at once and get guaranteed New York price.

A few select single Comb R. I. Red Cockerels for sale to quick buyers at $1, and $2 each. Can spare a few late hatched pullets at $1 each.

Mr. Melvin Hamby and Miss Annie Scarborough were married Sunday morning at the home of Rev. W. F. Staley, who performed the ceremony. The newly wed couple went to Burlington Sunday afternoon on a visit to relatives.

The Greensboro post of the Travelers' Protective Association will give a banquet at the Benbow hotel tomorrow night. The banquet will follow a reception to be given in the parlors of the hotel at 8:30 o'clock in the evening. Mayor Brandt will be the toastmaster.

The pastor, Rev. J. W. Goodman, will begin a protracted meeting at Bessemer Presbyterian church next Sunday in which Rev. S. M. Rankin will assist. The Sunday services will begin at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M. Weekday services will begin at 3 and 7 o'clock P. M.

Mr. J. W. Wall, of Bluefield, W. Va., a well known engineer on the Norfolk and Western Railway, is paying a holiday visit to his mother, Mrs. P. Wall, on North Greenstreet. Before returning to his work in West Virginia, Mr. Wall will visit a brother in Atlanta.

Miss Mattie DeWitt and Capt. Jas. A. McIver were united in marriage last night at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. DeWitt, on Fields street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Shuford Peeler, in the presence of the family and a few friends. The bride and groom go to Sanford today to visit relatives.

Dr. E. L. Stamey's many Greensboro friends will be interested in the statement that he is now located at Hookerton, a short distance from Ormondville, where he has been living for several months.

He went to Hookerton to take the practice of Dr. Robinson, who goes West, and has a very desirable new territory in addition to the one just vacated.

During the unusual electrical storm which visited this section Christmas day lightning struck a hay stack on the farm of Mr. Will Holton, ten miles southwest of the city, and burned it to the ground.

Mr. Holton was away from home at the time and the women of his household had difficulty in preventing the flames from communicating to a barn nearby.

Mr. B. G. King, who is connected with the Leak-Halladay Company, and Miss Marguerite West, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. West, were married at the home of the bride's parents, on North Cedar street, Monday night.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. L. White, pastor of the First Baptist church, in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Lambeth, who have been living in Richmond for several years, spent a portion of the holidays with friends in Guilford.

Mr. Lambeth will take a good position with the Southern Railway which is in the nature of a promotion.

Mr. L. M. Julian, of Wichita, Kansas, who went with his parents from Randolph county to the West 53 years ago, is on a visit to old friends and relatives in this section.

Many old and new friends are glad to give him a cordial welcome to the scenes of his boyhood.

Mr. Julian was a schoolmate of Mr. J. A. Odell, of this city.

Mr. Enos A. Mills, of the forestry department of the United States Department of Agriculture, will be in Greensboro next Tuesday and deliver two or more lectures on the subject of forest preservation.

He will speak to the students of the Greensboro high school in the afternoon and in the evening will address the public at the Carnegie library.

Mr. Mills lectured in Greensboro about a year ago and greatly pleased those who heard him.

Christmas was observed in Greensboro quietly and orderly, as it should be. Perhaps it was the quietest Christmas experienced here since the place was a small county town.

There was little or no disorder, the police having no more work to do than on a normal day.

During the week Christmas entertainments and exercises of various natures have been held in the churches, and the presence of many holiday visitors has added to the pleasures of the social side of life.

The annual report of the United States commissioner of education, which has just been issued, contains an interesting and instructive sketch of the late Dr. Charles D. McIver, embodying an appreciation of his service to the cause of education in North Carolina and the country in general.

The sketch was prepared by Prof. Charles L. Coon, at present the superintendent of the Wilson graded schools, but a member of the staff of State Superintendent Joyner at the time the article was written.

Scarcely a week passes that the Patriot does not receive unsigned communications designed for publication, despite the fact that we have explained some dozens of times that we will not print any communication unless the name of the author is known in this office.

This week we consigned to the waste basket a batch of items from Pine Grove for the sole reason that the editor was not in possession of the name of the writer.

We are convinced that the millennium will arrive before all the people learn that reputable newspapers do not publish anonymous communications.

Mr. John M. Hammer, of Asheboro, a well known life insurance man, who formerly resided in Greensboro, and Miss Genevieve Jennings, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jennings, were quietly married yesterday at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. T. J. Ogburn, pastor of Grace Methodist Protestant church.

It was not generally known that the marriage was to take place at this time and the ceremony was witnessed by only a few close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammer went to their home in Asheboro yesterday afternoon.

Rev. Robert Fleming, of Streator, Ill., and Miss Pennie Ward Daniel, formerly of Roanoke Rapids, were married yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Moore, on West Market street.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. L. White, pastor of the First Baptist church, and was witnessed by a number of the relatives and friends of the couple.

The maid of honor was Miss Ada Ward, of Greenville, and the best man was Mr. Paul Davenport, of Pacoletus. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Fleming left for Chicago, where they will spend a few days before going to their future home in Streator.

Fine Farm for Sale. A tract containing 45 1/2 acres, just outside the town of Randman in Randolph county. Land well suited for grain or trucking.

ATTRACTION FREE PRIZES. Demonstration of Majestic Ranges at Crescent Hardware Store.

The Majestic Manufacturing Company, of St. Louis, has an expert from their factory at the Crescent Hardware Company's store here this week demonstrating the superior merits of the Majestic range, which is in operation every day during the week.

To stimulate interest in the demonstration the Crescent Hardware Company is offering several valuable free prizes to lucky guessers who may visit the store, and the name of each one using a Majestic range will entitle you to an additional guess.

To the one furnishing the largest list of Majestic users will be given $2.50 worth of anything carried in the store.

No one party can receive more than one prize and it is further agreed by all entering this contest that in case of a tie they are to draw for the prize from numbers arranged by disinterested parties.

The lucky numbers will be displayed in the store on Wednesday, January 6th, the week following the close of the contest, and unless the parties holding these lucky numbers call for their prizes during the day they will go to the second nearest and so on until prizes are disposed of.

Hospital Commission Meets Here. The state hospital commission, created by the last legislature by authority of the Bickett bill, held a meeting here yesterday to prepare its biennial report to Governor Glenn and to make recommendations to the legislature, the members of the commission present being: Mr. C. A. Webb, of Asheville, chairman; Dr. J. W. McNeill, of Fayetteville, secretary; and Messrs. E. F. Aydtleton, of Charlotte. The commission decided to ask the legislature for authority to advertise for bids for the erection of three colony buildings at the state hospital for the insane at Morganton, the cost not to exceed $30,000, and for the erection at the central hospital in Raleigh of a building to be used as a common dining hall, the cost not to exceed $10,000.

Reward for Lost Dog. I will pay a good reward for the recovery of a beautiful lemon and white setter bitch which strayed from my residence last week.

J. F. JORDAN, Greensboro, N. C.

Congregational Meeting. The annual congregational meeting of Buffalo Presbyterian church will be held next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The roll of members will be called, and everyone identified with the church is urged to be present.

WINS DONKEY AS PRIZE.

Valuable Present From Meyer's Department Store for Doris Golter.

Little Miss Doris Golter, of 121 Frisco street, won the live donkey which was given away by Meyer's department store for writing the best letter to Santa Claus.

The following is the letter which she wrote: "Dear Santa Claus—I don't know if you will read my letter as I am just a little English girl, my dada says I was born in London all among the smoke, but as I have lived longest out here perhaps you will forget I was born over the sea. I saw such a sweet little donkey outside Dick's Laundry with a pretty red cover on it and a real live Santa Claus leading him, and a horse saw him and was so afraid that he kicked and wouldn't go at all. The little donkey wasn't a bit afraid of the horse. Mama says you are to give him to some little girl or boy. I would like him to ride to London to get my dear old granny and bring her back on the donkey cause she is afraid of the sea. I want her to see my baby brother. He's a little 'Mexican man.'—God sent him to mama, but he forgot baby's toothies, and so he can't eat or walk. I would call the donkey Neddly Meyers, cause mama says he stays there. I was bad last week. I got under mama's bed and cut my hair all on one side. I wanted to send some to grandpa. He hasn't got any; dada fixed it on the wall, and said Santa would see it and not give me anything, but mama said if I was good and played with baby she would take it down. I did try to be good, so mama took it down. Dear Santa, I would like a nice book and a doll too, and please put something in all the poor little girls and boys' stockings, cause their mamas and dadas have no money, and give baby brother a drum; he don't like dolls, and some toothies as well, and mama says I must not write too much or you won't have time to read all the little boys and girls letters. If I get Neddly Meyers I will put him in the stable and give him some corn and sing 'Gee-up Neddly, gee-up Neddly,' the best little donkey that ever was born. Now good-bye dear old Santa, don't forget I'm Doris Golter. Good bye. P. S.—I forgot to say there was a mean old brick in our chimney, but mama had it taken out, so you won't get hurt when you come down."

"DORIS GOLTER."

DISTRICT STEWARDS MEET. Conference of Methodist Church Workers Held Here Yesterday.

A meeting of the Methodist stewards of the Greensboro district was held in West Market Street Methodist church yesterday for the purpose of apportioning the conference assessments and mapping out the work of the coming year.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. W. R. Ware, the presiding elder, with Rev. N. R. Richardson, pastor of Spring Garden Street church, this city, acting as secretary. The salary of the presiding elder and the regular conference assessments were fixed the same as last year.

Presiding Elder Ware, Rev. N. R. Richardson and Mr. J. A. Odell were appointed a committee to apportion the additional assessments placed on the district by the recent session of the Western North Carolina Conference in Asheville.

The district stewards' meeting was followed in the afternoon by a meeting of the district laymen's missionary movement. The meeting was presided over by the district president, Mr. G. H. Miles, of this city, and was devoted principally to a discussion of the best methods to be used in advancing the missionary spirit throughout the district.

The principal address was delivered by Mr. W. B. Stubbs, of Nashville, Tenn., general secretary of the laymen's movement in the Southern Methodist church.

Last night Mr. Stubbs addressed a large audience in West Market Street church on the work of the laymen's movement.

Ex-Judge Spencer B. Adams, chairman of the Republican state executive committee, is being urged as the successor of the late Judge Thomas R. Furness as judge of the United States District courts in the eastern district of North Carolina. He is strongly endorsed by what is popularly known as the Republican organization in this state, and it is predicted by many that he will receive the appointment. His only formidable opponent is District Attorney Harry Skinner. A majority of the members of the Greensboro bar have signed a petition endorsing Judge Adams for the appointment. It is expected that the appointment will be announced within the next few days.

Would Mortgage the Farm. A farmer on Rural Route 2, Empire, Ga., W. A. Ford by name, says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw; one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold. I would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only 25c at all drug stores.

Mixed Peas for Sale. We have 100 bushels of mixed and colored peas for sale. Better buy now while you have a chance to get all you want at the right price. FOSTER-MOFFIT CO.

WANTED—White oak timber for hoghead hoops. Call at Wilson & Co.'s factory, 245 Belmeade street. 51-4t. A. A. CHANDLER, Secretary and Treasurer.

PROTECT YOUR SAVINGS

Hoarding your money earns you nothing. By hoarding you assume risk of loss from carelessness, thieves, fire, and poor investments. Your savings are absolutely safe in this bank. Why not open an account and earn an income rather than hoard money in an insecure place where it will bring you nothing.

We pay four per cent interest on savings compounded quarterly.

Engineer Satterfield Killed in Wreck. A misplaced switch caused the derailment of mail and passenger train No. 35 on the Southern Railway at Stokesland, Va., six miles south of Danville, at 5:50 P. M. yesterday.

Engineer A. P. Satterfield, of Spencer, was killed and Fireman Davis, colored, and three postal clerks were injured. No passengers were injured. The train ran into a switch that was turned into the Danville & Western tracks which connect at that point with the Southern, although the signal light was properly displayed. The engine, baggage car and mail car turned over.

Telegraph Operators Wanted. Greensboro Telegraph School opens in Southern Life and Trust Building on January 1st, in charge of railway operators with years of experience. We have received a telegram asking for fifty operators at salary of fifty dollars per month, eight hours work a day. Our school in Danville, Va., has learned and secured positions for fifteen operators in the past few months. Southern Railway main line train and message wires run direct to our school. We have every known facility for quickly teaching students. For further information address the undersigned or call at the school room. Greensboro Telegraph School, Box 514.

Timber for Sale. I have 500,000 feet of good timber on the stump for sale at my place four miles east of Greensboro. 37-4t. W. A. FIELD, 437 Arlington street, Greensboro.
