All the fun you need at Pleasant Garden high school May 17 for 10 and 15 cents.

IT WAS demonstrated at the Chicago world's fair that Trinity township, Randolph county, is one of the greatest sections in America for the growing of wheat. Trunkers are proving that it is also the greatest trucking section. On May 18, at 1 o'clock, we have many truck farms, ranging in size from 2 to 10 acres, which we are going to sell at public auction in this same community. Come. Our terms will suit you. John M. Hammer, real estate, Ashboro, N. C. 19-2t.

Harness Department.

I desire to announce to my friends that I have connected myself with the Townsend Buggy Company, where I can be found at all times with a full line of first-class hand-made harness; and if you want a special job, I think I can please you. Come and see me.

JULIUS A. KIRKMAN,
With the Townsend Buggy Company.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the firm of Jones, Allen & Co., later changed to Jones & Allen, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent and J. S. Allen resumes all responsibilities.

Notice, List Your Taxes.

The tax assessors for the various townships of the county will be at such convenient places as may be advertised by them from May 1 to May 31, 1912, for the purpose of listing all polls and property subject to taxation as required by law. After above dates the books will be closed and the penalty enforced for failure to comply with terms of this notice. 18-5t.

New Harness Man.

We have just secured the assistance of Mr. Julius A. Kirkman to make harness for us. All who know him know that he does not know the art of common work. It must be O. K. when he finishes it. See him at the Townsend Buggy Company.

HEFLIN ON UNDERWOOD.

Alabama Congressman Speaks Eloquent For His Associate.

Hon. J. Thomas Hefflin, of Lafayette, Ala., representative in Congress from the Fifth district of Alabama, and one of the South's most eloquent and forceful orators, addressed a large audience in the court house last night in the interest of Hon. Oscar W. Underwood's candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination. The speech pleased and enthused all Democrats who heard it, for it was pitched on a high plane. The general opinion is that it was not only a good Underwood speech but one of the best Democratic speeches heard in Greensboro in a long while.

Mr. Hefflin was presented to the audience by Mayor Thomas J. Murphy in a very appropriate speech and was greeted with applause.

Mr. Hefflin told of the great record of the South in the political history of the country before the war. Since that time this section has been in a political wilderness, and he pointed out Oscar W. Underwood as the political Moses, who would lead us out of this bondage of non-recognition. He reviewed the political history of the floor leader of the party in the last session of Congress, pointing out the large number of bills he engineered through the lower house, notably those that provided for a reduction of the tariff on the necessities of life. He gave the figures in millions that the working man of the country would have been saved had the bills passed the presidential veto and the Republican senate.

The distinguished Alabamian stated that since the Republicans got into power in the last election on the party pledges that they would revise the tariff downward, and had broken their party pledges, the tariff would be the main issue in this campaign, and he called attention to the fact that the Democrats have never lost a fight when the tariff was the issue. The fight that our revolutionary forefathers made against the English tax on tea, on account of the principle of the law, was mentioned. "What would these fathers who fought because a tax was laid on one article think, could they raise from their graves and find that their descendants are paying a tax on four thousand articles?"

He told of the protection of the infant industries till they became giants in strength, when they stuck their hands into politics and with the power of their campaign contributions to the Republican party, kept the high protectionists in power, and thus swayed the economic destiny of the millions of people of the nation.

"The Democratic party believes that this should be changed, and under the leadership of a man who has studied this tariff question for eighteen years, we will win this fight. When the tariff was put on steel Carnegie was worth ten million dollars. After three years operation of this law he was worth three hundred and sixty million. Now he is giving libraries all over the country, distributing this wealth they allowed him to get from all users of iron. The Democratic party says to such men let the people keep their money in their pockets and they will build their own libraries. (Applause.) Out of every $109 that the man of small means pays for necessities of life, $65 goes to the tariff barons. Who is the man that is bearding the lion in his den? He does not come from the North, the East or the West; but from the South, and he is Oscar W. Underwood." (Great applause.)

The speaker said that he had met a number of men who asked him if Underwood really had any chance to get the nomination, these men stating that they were for him, provided they thought he had a chance to win out. "I have only heard that question in the South. All the well informed men in Washington, men from all sections of the country say that he has one of the finest chances. He has grown more in popularity than any man I have ever seen, and we ask North Carolina tonight, that she turn and help give him a chance. It is the first time in a half century that the South has offered a candidate for the presidency, I call on every Democrat to give a chance. Every man in the field is a good man. If I can't win this fight without winning it over the broken and bruised bodies of those running against Mr. Underwood, then

I don't care to win it." (Great applause.)

Mr. Hefflin predicted that the Chicago convention would split up and name two candidates. The conservatives will name Taft, and a rump convention will name "Rosenfelt." Underwood has united all the discordant forces in the Democratic party in the great leadership of the majority in the house of representatives. The Baltimore convention will name "br" one man. Champ Clark will lead on the first ballot, according to the prediction of the speaker, and Underwood will come second. Wilson will be third, and Harman and others bringing up the rear. The first few ballots will reveal the strength of Underwood, and then the Southern delegation will come over to him. Texas will get restless and break away from Wilson. Then when Champ Clark sees he can't win out, he will say that in his judgment the best thing to do is to give his strength to the Southerner, a man with whom he has worked for years, the man who has been floor leader of the Congress over which he has presided. Clark will want to retain his seat as speaker and will know that if Underwood does not win out, he will be strongly advocated for the speakership. Everything in the political trends towards Underwood. "You say he has no chance. Look at McKinley, floor leader, chairman of the ways and means committee, the presidency, Underwood floor leader, chairman of the ways and means committee, the presidency."

Again in the latter part of his speech Mr. Hefflin went into a discussion of the tariff, telling of the death of competition and pointed out that Underwood was the best equipped man in the race to make the race on the tariff issue.

W. R. Land For the State Senate.

After being importuned by many of his friends throughout the county, Mr. W. R. Land was prevailed upon to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the state senate, announcing his candidacy at what might be termed the eleventh hour. Mr. Land is one of the best known citizens of Greensboro and has been a working Democrat ever since he reached his majority. He has been identified with affairs of Guilford county for 25 years, and during all of this time has been an active and willing worker in the ranks of the party. He has served as a member of the county executive committee and of the board of elections, but has never asked the people for an elective office. His party record is straight and clean.

The friends of Mr. Land believe he is in position to represent Guilford in the state senate with credit both to himself and to the county.

I. L. Blaustein's New Store Now Open.

Mr. I. L. Blaustein, who has returned to Greensboro to engage in the mercantile business, opened his big new department store at 320 South Elm street yesterday under the most favorable auspices. The crowd was waiting when the doors were opened and the store was crowded throughout the day with anxious buyers. The big advertisement on pages 12 and 13 of this issue of The Patriot will give the readers an idea of the real bargains to be secured at this store. Mr. Blaustein is an enterprising merchant and always promises to give his customers the advantage of any special prices he may be able to make.

Melver Statue Unveiled.

Four hundred students of the State Normal and Industrial College went from here to Raleigh yesterday to participate in the exercises attendant to the unveiling of the Charles Duncan Melver statue in capitol square. Many notable men were present and had a part in the exercises, including Bishop Robert Strange, Dr. C. Alphonso Smith, of the University of Virginia, President Julius I. Foust, Dr. J. Y. Joyner and Governor Kitchin. The program included music by students of the State Normal College, addresses by Dr. Smith, President Foust, Dr. Joyner and Governor Kitchin, and a poem by Prof. Stockard.

Mr. D. A. Moose, 53 years old, died Thursday at his home in Hickory. He was a brother of Rev. J. R. Moose, Methodist missionary to Korea, and W. J. Moose, of Greensboro.

THE DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY.

Ticket to be Voted on by Guilford Democrats Saturday.

Everything is in readiness for the Democratic primary Saturday. The candidates are making their last appeals to the voters, and doubtless the voters are pretty well determined as to whom they will support. The only candidates for county offices without opposition are Register of Deeds W. H. Rankin, Coroner W. W. Wood and Surveyor J. R. Edmunds. Capt. F. P. Hobgood, Jr., had no opposition for the state senate until a week ago, when Mr. W. R. Land announced his candidacy. The withdrawal of Mr. T. R. Dillard from the race for business reasons leaves five candidates for the house of representatives. There are ten candidates for county commissioner, the latest to enter being Mr. W. G. Balsley, of this city.

The ticket to be voted on for state, judicial, legislative and county offices is as follows:

- Congressman—Charles M. Stedman.
- Governor—Locke Craig.
- Lieutenant Governor (vote for one)—Walter E. Daniel, John G. Shaw, Joseph D. Boushall and E. L. Daughtridge.
- Associate Justices Supreme court (vote for two)—William A. Hoke and George H. Brown.
- Secretary of State—J. Bryan Grimes.
- State Treasurer—Benjamin R. Loy.
- State Auditor—W. P. Wood.
- Attorney General—T. W. Bickett.
- Commissioner of Labor and Printing—M. L. Shipman.
- Insurance Commissioner—James R. Young.
- Commissioner of Agriculture—William A. Graham.
- Corporation Commissioner, full term, (vote for one)—A. J. Maxwell, A. B. Justice, George P. Pell and W. L. Arendall.
- Corporation Commissioner, short term, (vote for one)—E. L. Travis, S. G. Daniel and L. C. Bagwell.
- Judge of Superior Court, Ninth Judicial District—Howard A. Foushee.
- State Senator (vote for one)—F. J. Hobgood, Jr., and W. R. Land.
- House of Representatives (vote for three)—J. M. Davis, William Cad England, Thomas J. Gold, E. J. Justice and J. R. Gordon.
- Sheriff (vote for one)—D. B. Stafford, George P. Crutchfield and George T. Lane.
- Register of Deeds—W. H. Rankin.
- Treasurer (vote for one)—G. H. McKinney and J. H. Barker.
- Coroner—W. W. Wood.
- County Surveyor—J. R. Edmunds.
- County Commissioners (vote for five)—T. A. Wilson, C. U. Hinshaw, W. G. Bradshaw, C. A. Wharton, J. A. Rankin, L. A. Walker, W. C. Boren, W. C. Tucker, John H. Wolfe and W. G. Balsley.

Greensboro is State Headquarters.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the North Carolina Sunday School Association held in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night, it was decided to move the state headquarters from Raleigh to Greensboro. The change will be made July 1.

Dr. W. A. Harper, president of Elon College, was named as chairman of the executive committee for the ensuing year. This place has been acceptably filled for many years by Mr. N. B. Broughton, of Raleigh, but he declined to serve longer.

Rev. J. Walter Long, of Andrews, was chosen executive secretary, succeeding Rev. J. Van Carter. Mr. Long has filled the place before and made a good secretary.

Much credit is due President Hood and Secretary Burgin, of the Chamber of Commerce, for the executive offices being moved here. They had been working on the matter for some time.

City to Run Opera House.

The city commissioners have decided not to lease the Grand opera house in the future but will conduct it themselves. Mr. Charles G. Harrison has been selected to have charge of the booking of theatrical attractions next season. Mr. Harrison expects to give theatergoers an even better class of attractions than was given under the Schloss management. It is a notorious fact that, taken upon the whole, the shows of last season were of an inferior grade. Shows will be booked with the American Theatrical Exchange and Klaw & Erlanger.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Roosevelt Forces in Full Control—Delegates to Chicago.

The Republican convention of the Fifth congressional district was held in this city Tuesday, convening in the court house at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the object being the election of two delegates and two alternates to the national Republican convention to be held in Chicago in June. The convention was presided over by Mr. John T. Benbow, of Winston-Salem, chairman of the Republican executive committee of this district.

The convention was for Roosevelt first, last and all the time. When a resolution was offered instructing the delegates to vote for Roosevelt as long as his name should be before the convention, there was a weak protest from a Surry county delegate, a Taft man, whereupon the steam roller proceeded upon its way. After this the Taft adherents, if there were any left in the convention, were silent in seven languages.

The following were placed in nomination for election as delegates to the Chicago convention: R. J. Petree, of Stokes county; James N. Williamson, Jr., of Alamance; John T. Benbow, of Forsyth; H. G. Gallowsay, of Surry; N. W. Brown, of Orange; Gilliam Grissom, of Rockingham; J. A. Hoskins, of Guilford, and R. A. Burch, of Person. Messrs. Williamson and Benbow were elected as delegates and Messrs. Hoskins and Petree as alternates.

The convention was in session a little over an hour, adjourning in time for those who desired to do so to take the afternoon train for Raleigh, where the state convention met yesterday.

White Oak Store Opening.

The Proximity Mercantile Company's magnificent new store at White Oak was formally opened yesterday, and in celebration of the event a special sale will be conducted in all the departments for the next ten days. This is one of the largest and most complete department stores to be found in this section of the South, and those who have not visited the place will not be prepared to believe that such a gigantic and perfectly equipped mercantile establishment exists in this section. The building is modern in every particular and the equipment is as complete as any used by the most up-to-date stores in the larger cities. The page advertisement on the sixteenth page of The Patriot conveys an idea of the bargains that are being offered in celebration of this opening event.

It is a matter of regret that Mr. John J. Phoenix, general manager of the Proximity stores, who had planned wisely and worked energetically for the opening of this new store at White Oak, is unable to see for himself the fruits of his labor, being kept away by illness. In spite of his illness, however, he has directed the work and his assistants have carried out his instructions in an admirable manner, judging by appearances and results.

The sixth anniversary of the Church of the Covenant, the youngest Presbyterian church in Greensboro, will be celebrated the first Sunday in June with appropriate exercises. Rev. R. Murphy Williams is the popular pastor of the church, which is enjoying a steady and healthy growth.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF FORM.

Matters of Interest to Readers of The Patriot Far and Near.

Dr. G. W. Norman, of Pomona, who recently underwent an operation at St. Leo's hospital, has recovered sufficiently to return to his home.

Randleman News: Mrs. T. A. Compton and children, of Greensboro, arrived in the city Tuesday, where they will reside with Mr. Compton, manager of the Naomi Falls store.

Mr. A. F. Powell and Miss Mabel Miller, both of this city, were married Sunday afternoon at the home of Rev. Shuford Peeler, who performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends.

Mr. George H. Thompson has resigned his position as organist at the First Presbyterian church to become organist of the leading Methodist church in Danville, Va. Miss Margaret Callum will succeed Mr. Thompson at the First church.

Quite a severe cyclone swept over the central part of Randolph county Saturday afternoon. At Spero, five miles out from Randleman, two barns were turned over and a number of trees uprooted. The men who were in one of the barns were slightly injured.

The congregation of Westminster Presbyterian church, having decided to build a new and larger house of worship, is offering the present building and the pews at the cost of the pews. The building is a neat structure and in a good state of preservation, and the pews are as good as any to be found in the city.

His friends learn with pleasure that Mr. John J. Phoenix, president and general manager of the Proximity Mercantile Company, who has been ill for several weeks, has shown signs of improvement during the past few days. He is receiving treatment at St. Leo's hospital and hopes to be out soon.

Llewellyn Brothers, who have been successfully engaged in the harness manufacturing business in South Boston and Farmville, Va., for a great many years, have opened a store in Greensboro and are located at 537 and 539 South Elm street. The business is under the management of Mr. N. J. Llewellyn, who has spent his life in the harness business and knows every detail of it.

The Men and Religion Forward Movement has taken a strong hold on the churchmen of Greensboro, and those in charge of the general organization say that no city in the country has shown more interest in this new phase of religious work. A plan is now on foot to have an executive secretary employed to reside in Greensboro and give his entire time to the further extension of the work. The matter was discussed at a luncheon given by Mr. A. W. McAllister at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday complimentary to the pastors of the city churches and a number of representative laymen.

At McFarlan, Anson county, some days ago, A. B. Moore, town constable, served a warrant on Earl Simmons, colored, who was wanted for an assault with a deadly weapon on another colored man. The officer deputized his cousin, A. V. Moore, to assist in the arrest. Simmons drew a brick on the men and said he would not be arrested. A. V. Moore fired on him and instantly killed him.
