Public Good Above Public Office.

Brandon, Vt., June 27.—Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, speaking at the unveiling today of a statue of Stephen A. Douglas, referred to President Wilson's relations with the senate and compared them with conditions when President Buchanan and Senator Douglas joined issues. He said in part:

"Senator Douglas signalled his entrance to the United States senate by a break with the president of the United States—James Buchanan. Douglas demanded the distribution of public offices in support of his policies. President Buchanan differed from Douglas and permitted the patronage to be used against Douglas. "President Wilson presents the opposite attitude. He puts the public good above the public office, and declines either to give out offices to senators as compensation for their support, or to penalize those who oppose him by denying them public patronage."

LIGHTNING BOLT FATAL.

W. J. Faucett Killed as He Was Entering His Home.

Mr. W. J. Faucett, who lived alone on Dairy street, in the southwestern suburbs of the city, was struck and killed by a bolt of lightning during a severe storm Saturday evening. It is supposed that he was struck as he was inserting the key in the lock of his front door. The bolt left a hole in the hat of its victim and seared his forehead, making a wound like that a bullet would inflict.

A neighbor discovered the dead body lying on the porch early Sunday morning. Coroner Wood and Dr. W. M. Jones, county superintendent of health, were called in. The splintered weather-board by the side of the door and the other evidences, including the singed hair and seared flesh of the body, made an inquest unnecessary.

Only the circumstances under which Mr. Faucett was killed enabled those who found the body to determine the time of his death. He left the home of Mr. W. P. Thompson, his cousin, about 7 o'clock and said he was going home. The key which he had inserted in the lock of the door had dropped and caught barely in the notch of the key-hole, showing that he was stricken before he really had time to more than start to open his house.

Mr. Faucett was a widower without children, his wife having died about two years ago. He had lived in Greensboro about eight months, coming here from Mebane at the solicitation of his cousins, Messrs. James F. and W. P. Thompson. He sold his property in Mebane and bought an interest in a grocery business west of this city. He had sold his interest in the store, however, prior to his death. Mr. Faucett died possessed of a considerable amount of property.

The body was carried to Long's chapel, Alamance county, for burial Monday.

Board of Education to Hold Annual Meeting Monday.

The annual meeting of the county board of education will be held Monday, at which time Superintendent Foust will submit a report of the past year's work and plans for the ensuing year will be outlined. The committeemen for the various school districts will also be appointed. Under a new law passed by the recent session of the legislature women are now eligible to serve, and it is very probable that the board of education will name several women to serve on district committees for the coming year.

The board will also appoint an attendance officer for every township in the county in compliance with the new compulsory school attendance law. The law provides that every child, between the ages of eight and twelve years shall attend school at least four months each year, and it will be the duty of the attendance officer to see that this law is obeyed. The attendance officer will also take the school census.

The city commissioners have appointed Chief of Police Ira B. Iseley school attendance officer for Greensboro.

Miss Margaret Yates Dead.

Miss Margaret Yates, of this city, died unexpectedly Tuesday at the Broadjoaks sanatorium, in Morganton, where she had been a patient for some time. Her condition was thought to be improving and her death came as a great shock to her relatives and friends. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock from the residence of Mr. D. L. Hagan, on Church street, the service being conducted by Rev. R. Murphy Williams, of the Church of the Covenant. Miss Yates was a daughter of Mrs. Martha Yates and the late Charles G. Yates. She was a sister of Mrs. D. L. Hagan, Mr. Peter P. Yates and Mr. James F. Yates.

Herbert, Hayesville, Clay county; E. H. Franklin, Franklin, Macon county.

MAY SETTLE ESTATES.

Committee of Creditors Investigating Affairs of W. H. Ragan.

Pending efforts that are being made to adjust matters, Judge Eoyd, upon request, has postponed signing orders of adjudication in the bankruptcy cases against W. H. Ragan and the Columbia Furniture Company of High Point, and the Mount Pleasant Manufacturing Company, of Kimesville. The creditors have named Messrs. D. P. Stern, of this city; W. C. Jones, of High Point, and E. E. Gray, of Winston-Salem, members of a committee to gather information and formulate a plan, if it be found feasible to do so, to settle the estates outside the bankruptcy court. This committee is now at work and probably will be ready to report to a meeting of creditors within the next 15 or 20 days.

It will be recalled that the failure of the Columbia Furniture Company and the Mount Pleasant Manufacturing Company resulted from the embarrassment of Mr. W. H. Ragan, who was the financial manager of these two concerns. Mr. Ragan's financial troubles have preyed upon his mind until his health has become broken, and his relatives and friends are concerned as to his condition. It is understood that he is now in retirement at Old Point Comfort, Va., and it is hoped that through rest and quiet he may avert a physical and mental collapse.

Two Big Celebrations Tomorrow.

Everything is in readiness for the Fourth of July celebration at Guilford Battle Ground tomorrow. There will be varied forms of entertainment and the prospects are good for a big crowd. The war department has promised to send a troop of cavalry from Fort Caswell and the drilling of the soldiers alone will be an attraction worth while. The management has arranged for a free balloon ascension and other amusement features. The address of the day will be delivered by Governor Craig. Short addresses will be made by Hon. John M. Morehead, of Charlotte; Col. James T. Morehead, Judge James E. Boyd and Mayor Murphy.

Extensive preparations have been made for the picnic and celebration tomorrow at White Oak park, given complimentary to the people of Proximity, Revolution and White Oak. In the forenoon there will be a number of short addresses, and following the big dinner, there will be a number of athletic contests.

Storm's Damage Near Colfax.

A severe storm Friday afternoon almost totally wrecked the home and surrounding outhouses of Mr. Sim Adkins, who lives on the Kernersville road, near Colfax. A huge tree in the yard was blown down, damaging the home, and the wind finished the almost total destruction of barns and house. Mr. Adkins' family was in the home at the time and members of it were badly shaken up and bruised. Luckily no great harm was sustained by any of them. The worst damage to a living thing was the injury to two horses which were housed in the barns that were destroyed. The horses were painfully if not seriously injured.

Fogleman Bond Refused.

John E. Fogleman, who was convicted of second degree murder at the recent criminal term of Superior court and sentenced to the penitentiary for 30 years, is still in jail. He is held under a bond of $7,500 pending an appeal to the Supreme court, but so far has been unable to furnish bail. The defendant's father has offered a mortgage on his real estate, which is listed for taxation at $2,630, and three friends—C. B. Wilkerson, W. L. Hepler and W. S. Shoffner—agreed to become surety for $500 each, but the bond was not satisfactory to Clerk of the Court Gant and was declined.

A baseball game at Cone park Tuesday afternoon between teams representing the county court house and the United States court building furnished amusement for a good crowd and demonstrated that some of the players can at least "hit and run." The county team was defeated by the score of 16 to 11, though some of the defeated players say the result would have been different if the federal team had not been strengthened by several good players from the ranks of the R. F. D. mail carriers.

NEWS OF THE OLD NORTH STATE

A Survey of What is Transpiring in the Commonwealth.

The Southern Railway shops at Spencer resumed work on full time Tuesday. The shops had been on short time for a month.

It is announced that Senator Overman will recommend Clyde R. Hoey, of Shelby, for assistant United States district attorney for the western district of North Carolina. The position is now held by ex-Judge A. L. Coble, of Statesville.

Brooding over troubles said to be imaginary, Dorsey Walls, 18-year-old son of Deputy Sheriff H. T. Walls, of Cary, borrowed a pistol and blew out his brains. The deed was committed by the roadside and his dead body was found next day.

W. W. Cooper, who committed suicide in a sanitarium at Statesville recently, left an estate valued at from $60,000 to $75,000, including property in Statesville, Marion and elsewhere. Mr. Cooper had no children and his estate will be divided between his wife and his brothers and sisters.

Spencer Watkins, who was employed by the Southern Express Company at Albemarle, was electrocuted by the rungs of the iron ladder at the semaphore at the Southern depot at Albemarle Monday, while he was attempting to climb the ladder to get a signal for an incoming passenger train.

Will Christopher, of Haywood county, died Sunday morning in a hospital in Asheville from the effects of a gunshot wound inflicted by his cousin, Jim Christopher, in the mountains of Haywood county one day last week. Officers are looking for Jim Christopher, who escaped after the shooting.

Miss Lillie Branch, a 20-year-old employe of the Erwin cotton mills, of West Durham, committed suicide Monday afternoon, drinking an ounce of carbolic acid, from the effects of which she died within 20 minutes. A love affair is supposed to have been the cause. She quarreled with her sweetheart the night before.

Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the state board of health, is instituting plans preparatory to a two weeks' visit to Panama Canal for the purpose of observing the health methods of a section of the world completely revolutionized from the throes of disease and pestilence to that of one of the world's healthy spots.

The report of the Baptist orphanage at Thomasville for the past year shows that 397 children were cared for at a per capita cost per month of $8.52 1-22. The grocery bill was $10,189.47 and dry goods $1,700.28. The entire expenses of the year were $41,366.61, but this was reduced to $40,662.78 by products raised on the farm by the children and sold.

Buildings were moved from their foundations, the tower of a cotton mill was blown down, telephone and telegraph wires were put out of commission and homes, were damaged when a storm of cyclonic proportions visited Mayodan, Rockingham county, about 7 o'clock Saturday evening, doing damage estimated at $10,000. The Methodist and Episcopal churches are among the damaged structures.

At the missionary conference at the Methodist Assembly grounds at Waynesville Saturday, a voluntary collection was taken for mission work and $106,000 was subscribed. Women gave diamond rings and gold watches. The same day the women, in a separate collection, raised $9,600 for missions. Later the total amount subscribed was increased to $140,000. One man gave a 500-acre farm and there were several gifts of $10,000.

A press dispatch from Wilmington says the three hotels at Wrightsville Beach may close their doors on account of poor and diminishing patronage, due, the managers of the hotels assert, to the prohibitory laws relative to selling beer. The managers of the hotels say they are losing money at the rate of something like $100 a day. No beer has been sold at the hotels this season, but it was to be had easy enough in past seasons. The authorities propose to enforce the law this season.

The Moravian Church Synod, in session at Nazareth, Pa., last week, adopted a resolution to the effect that the minimum annual salaries of clergymen in towns of less than 5,000 inhabitants shall be $700; in towns up to 10,000, $850, and in towns over 10,000, $950.

VETERANS AT GETTYSBURG.

Great Reunion of Soldiers of the Blue and the Gray.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 1.—In the pitiless glare of a sun that sent the mercury bubbling over the hundred mark and made clothes a burden and a bath only a delusion, the armies of the North and the South today began the formal exercises set to mark the semi-centennial of Gettysburg.

Veterans to the number of 15,000, the army officers estimated, filled into the big tent set apart for the exercises, sat in the haze of heat for two hours and shook the camp with their cheers when the speakers made reference to a reunited nation. Every seat under the canvass was taken long before Secretary of War Garrison and Governor Tener, the orators of the day, came chugging up in their automobiles.

Although the men in Gray were far outnumbered by those in Blue, there were possibly 1,000 Southerners in the amphitheater and what they lacked in numbers they made up in lung power. When Governor Tener finished his speech, Gen. Bennett H. Young, commander-in-chief of the Confederate veterans, rose slowly and bowed to him.

"I can give you something that no one else can give you," he said. "We will now give you the rebel yell."

Nine famous Confederate generals and 1,000 veterans of the South gave it so loudly that it was heard far back in the camp toward Gettysburg.

When General Young stepped forward to deliver his address, he was greeted with wild enthusiasm, the Union veterans, led by Commander-in-Chief Beers, giving him three lusty cheers and a "tiger." He took as his keynote the conviction of each side in the great struggle that each fought for a principle which each believed was the truth.

It is estimated that over 50,000 men are quartered in the camp, which was intended to accommodate 40,000. Gen. Julius S. Carr estimates that at least 1,800 North Carolina veterans are in attendance.

Two hundred tons of fuel oil on board the steel tank steamer Mohawk, owned by the Standard Oil Company, exploded Friday while the vessel was at anchor off Tompkinsville, Staten Island, in New York bay, killing five persons and injuring six others. The explosion is said to have been caused by a helper carrying a lighted candle into a dangerous place.

Farmers and Business Men

Rapid strides have been made in agricultural lines during this generation. The successful farmer of today must not only be a good agriculturist but a good business man as well. Farming has become a business and, of course, it is the biggest business in the country with the greatest competition.

The man who makes a real success of farming must be as well posted in his line as manufacturers and merchants must be in theirs. The Monthly Crop report issued by this Bank will prove of great value to the farmer who realizes the necessity of being well posted regarding all crops in all parts of the country. These reports will be sent to you monthly if you desire them.
