STANDPATTERS IN SADDLE

THE OLD GUARD IN COMPLETE CONTROL OF THE G. O. P. ORGANIZATION.

Correspondence of The Patriot.

Washington, Feb. 9.—With the complete capture of the G. O. P. by the Penroses, Barnes, Cannon, Smoot, Mann, Illinois McKinley, Rodenberg, and the other Aldrich lieutenants, who absolutely dominate the organization of the party in Congress and out, there is a well-directed and well-financed movement on the part of the beneficiaries of the old protective tariff system, which has for its object the control and possession of the federal government. There are evidences at every hand that the favorites of the protective system, who preyed and fattened on the public at will during the operation of the Payne-Aldrich bill, are shelling out, and that they are generously backing a nationwide propaganda to again get control of our government.

The Aldrich crowd that wrecked the Republican party and has again gained control of it, the Republican and reactionary press, and the various agencies of the old reactionary outfit by busy just now throwing mud at the president, who has stood steadfastly at his post of duty, wisely directed the government in the most turbulent and distressing period in the history of the world, and who, above and before all things, has kept us away from war and at peace with the earth. Discredit the great man in the White House, and we may have a chance! That is the game of the tariff plunderers and the crowd which have manned and recently taken possession of the Republican party and its organization.

Money—well, that is no object. There will be a full treasury, and even at this early date there is not wanting evidence of financial ability and abundance to put forward the propaganda necessary to bring about a restoration of the Payne-Aldrich law. The Pittsburgh Post has had something to say of the movement. Editorially this paper said in its issue of January 11:

"When Senator Jacob H. Gallinger a few days ago introduced a resolution in the upper branch of Congress providing for a substitution, exactly as it was written, of the Payne-Aldrich tariff for the Underwood law, the general impression was that the New Hampshire statesman was indulging merely in flippancy. However, it turns out to have been the entire act of a studied program of the standpat element of the Republican party for the 1916 presidential campaign—a high-tariff propaganda which is to be pushed persistently until the day of the Republican nominating convention. A large fund, it is understood, has been raised to defray the expenses of this preliminary campaign to stir up discontent with conditions, and, if possible, to create a public sentiment favorable to a return to the days of a high protective tariff. The struggle is to be momentous, since those promoting the campaign must foresee that, unless a victory can be won both in the nominating convention and later at the polls in 1916, the high protective system, as it existed in the days when Sereno Payne and Nelson W. Aldrich were dominant in the legislative councils of the country, will be gone forever.

"The standpat leaders apparently have closed their eyes to the fact that, in demanding the restoration of the Payne-Aldrich tariff, they are slapping the insurgent movement of but a few years ago, which element marked the first big line of cleavage within the Republican party. They are doing this, it is said, because of a belief that they can at this time club into line those who disagree with them. The organization of the propaganda is understood to have been under way since shortly after the last election. Some of the old-time methods are to be employed. Already members of Congress who voted for the Underwood tariff law, particularly those from debatable states, are receiving written requests 'get in line and assist in the re-enactment of protective tariff laws.' Printed cards also are coming in signed by constituents in the home districts."

Try This For Neuralgia.

Thousands of people keep on suffering with neuralgia because they do not know what to do for it. What you want to do is to soothe the nerve itself. Apply Sloan's Liniment to the surface over the painful part—do not rub it in. Sloan's Liniment penetrates very quickly to the sore, irritated nerve and allays the inflammation. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25 cents of any druggist and have it in the house—against colds, sore and swollen joints, lumbago, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief. adv.

THE NEW REVENUE ACT HAS BUT FEW CHANGES.

Representative R. A. Doughton, chairman of the joint finance committee of the legislature, which has just reported the new revenue act, says the measure is expected to increase the income of the state about $300,000 a year without adding to the burden of taxation.

The biggest change from the old revenue act is explained to be in the inheritance tax, in which the New York graduated scale of taxation has been substituted for the flat rate heretofore applied.

Some of the other more important changes follow:

The tax on moving picture shows and vaudeville theaters is increased 50 per cent. For instance: In cities of more than 15,000, the present tax is $100 per annum. The new tax provides for a tax of $150.

To section 31, which covers attorneys, physicians, dentists, etc., has been added pharmacists—hitherto exempt.

Its going to cost a little more to die under the new revenue act, because the license fee for undertakers has been increased 100 per cent. It is now $25 in cities of over 15,000. It will be $50.

Sewing machines ought to be a little bit cheaper when the act becomes effective. Section 42 reads:

"Every person, firm or corporation selling machines in this state shall pay an annual license tax to the treasurer of $100 (instead of $150.) If addition to the license tax above required, every person, firm or corporation selling sewing machines shall pay a tax of 80 cents (instead of 40 cents) on every hundred dollars received from the sale thereof."

The license tax on mercantile agencies is reduced from $350 to $250.

Section 46 is amended to include palmists to the list of gypsies or fortune tellers. The tax is $25.

On cotton compresses the state tax has been reduced 20 per cent, the county tax reduced 60 per cent.

Soft drinks will be more in demand when booze goes out. So the new act provides for an increase of 50 per cent in the license for bottling works.

"Every person, corporation or association that conducts contests and offers a prize or prizes to obtain subscriptions to newspapers, an annual license tax of $50 (instead of $10) for weekly newspapers and $150 (instead of $25 for each daily newspaper in which said contest is advertised."

The tax on soda fountains is reduced one-third. A new tax of $2 is placed on all persons selling bottled drinks. This does not apply to soda fountains.

An act of justice is done automobile manufacturers and agents by the addition of the following paragraph to Section 72: "Provide, further, that if at the expiration of a state license issued under this section to any manufacturer or person selling automobiles in the state, such license shall have been in force for less than six months, then upon a renewal of such license for the following year the manufacturer or person shall be allowed by the state treasurer a rebate of $250 on the new license."

The franchise tax on corporations is reduced from $7.50 to $5.

Section 87, covering misappropriation of taxes, is amended by constituting the crime a misdemeanor instead of embezzlement.

The biggest change from the old revenue act is explained to be in the inheritance tax, in which the New York graduated scale of taxation has been substituted for the flat rate heretofore applied.

Cotton Loan Plan Ended.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Loans under the $135,000,000 cotton-fund plan have been closed, and the plan virtually ended its existence tonight with an announcement from the central committee—the federal reserve board members acting as individuals—of the procedure for the future. Applications for loans from cotton producers in the South amounted to $28,000.

Subscribers to the fund, the committee points out, have not been released from liability for their proportionate share of the $28,000, though, if all loans are paid, it probably will not be necessary to call subscriptions.

In its announcement the committee shows that the actual subscriptions to the fund aggregated $101,036,100.

BILLY SUNDAY COSTS PHILADELPHIA $100,000.

Philadelphia, Feb. 9.—Facts and figures completed today show that $100,000 is the price Philadelphia will pay for the harvest of souls reaped by Billy Sunday.

It is altogether probable that the free-will offering of Philadelphia will be at least $50,000. Out of this amount Mr. Sunday will pay immediately $1,000 to the members of his party and will put aside one-tenth for charitable purposes—God's tenth, he calls it.

That there will be other donations by Mr. Sunday to the members of his party and to religious and charitable work is asserted by those who are close to him. It is probably well within the facts, however, to say that Mr. Sunday will take approximately $40,000 from Philadelphia as his share of the contributions made on the last day.

Including tonight, the total number of those who streamed down the aisles and grasped the outstretched hands of the evangelist today was 20,543. Of this number 5,292 were children. About 65 per cent of the trail hitters have been men and 35 per cent women. Billy is well styled the "man's evangelist."

Among those who have heard him there is scarcely any division of sentiment worth mentioning. Emphatically and almost unanimously they agree that he has done work of real service for Philadelphia. Judged by the supreme test of service, namely, sincerity, he is generally hailed as a great leader. His tremendous vitality and his sustained enthusiasm have been tonics to hundreds of thousands. Almost without exception those who hear him come away his active partisans.

That the majority of those who have not heard him grant his sincerity and believe the work he has done is good is proved by further careful investigation. Tests made in widely varying groups of persons and in all sections of the city show the proportion of Sunday partisans to be about 3 to 1. Those who oppose him violently are few in comparison to those who are his ardent champions.
