FRANK HOLT KILLS HIMSELF IN JAIL.

Glen Cove, N. Y., July 6.—Frank Holt, the Cornell University professor, who shot J. P. Morgan in his home near Glen Cove last Saturday, committed suicide in the jail at Mincola tonight.

While several of the jail authorities declare that Holt killed himself by climbing through the opening at the top of his cell door and then plunging to the narrow court below, Holt's keeper said he was positive that the prisoner was killed in his own cell, where he said he found the body.

There were many conflicting reports as to the manner in which Holt met his death, but it was definitely established through Dr. Cleghorn, the jail physician, that Holt died of a fractured skull.

Several of those about the jail said they heard an explosion, the report coming from Holt's cell. This noise, it was believed, was due to the falling of boards from the top of the cell.

Jeremiah O'Ryan, the keeper detailed to watch Holt, said he was 15 feet away from the cell when he heard a loud report. He looked in the direction of the cell but it was dark. Entering, he found Holt's body in a pool of blood in the corner.

The excitement that followed the noise brought Warden Hulse and other jail authorities to the scene. District Attorney Lewis J. Smith and Dr. Cleghorn, together with several constables, were soon on the scene and immediately began an investigation.

Dr. Cleghorn denied a report that Holt had killed himself by chewing a percussion cap.

He repeated that death was caused by a fracture at the top of the skull. An explosion which would have blown his head off would have followed an attempt by Holt to chew a percussion cap, the physician said.

A thorough examination of Holt's cell failed, according to the jail authorities, to disclose any weapon or implements of any kind which Holt could have used to kill himself.

Coroner Walter R. Jones, after viewing the body, said:

"Undoubtedly a suicide, and undoubtedly the man jumped. I cannot give an official version until an autopsy is performed by the jail physician, Dr. Cleghorn."

An evidence of the great confusion which followed the report and the finding of Holt's body was a second statement by Keeper O'Ryan to the effect that he was not sure if Holt's body was found in his cell or in the corridor. This tended to strengthen the theory of District Attorney Smith and Warden Hulse that Holt had killed himself by jumping from the top of his cell into the court below and that while doing so he had dislodged a couple of boards which fell to the floor with a loud report.

District Attorney Smith reached Holt's cell immediately after arriving at the jail and found a letter written on yellow paper. This letter, which Holt must have written before he attempted suicide early this morning when the pencil with which he tried to sever an artery was taken from him, was addressed to "my dears" and follows:

"I must write once more. The more I think about it the more I see the uselessness of living under circumstances such as these. Bring up the dear babies in the love of God and man. God bless you, my sweet. Affectionately, Frank."

"P. S.—All please pardon me for all the heartache I have brought you. Pray with me that the slaughter will stop. My heart breaks. Good bye."

Search in Vain For the Slayer of Georgia Man.

Macon, Ga., July 5.—An all day search by officers and an armed posse of farmers failed today to reveal the whereabouts of the negro slayers of Silas Turner, prominent planter of Jones county, who was shot Sunday near Round Oak. Two negroes were killed by infuriated friends of Turner shortly after the murder, but quiet prevailed in the county tonight and the authorities said they expected no further trouble. Sheriff Etheridge said he had heard that several negroes had been killed in the race riot Sunday night, but that he had seen the bodies of only two, Alonzo Green and his young son, of Wayside. "They had nothing to do with the murder of Silas Turner," added the sheriff.

AMERICANS HONOR THE MEMORY OF LAFAYETTE.

Paris, July 7.—The annual Independence Day pilgrimage of Americans in Paris to the tomb of the Marquis de Lafayette in the ancient Picpus cemetery, was honored yesterday for the first time by the official participation of the French government.

Raymond Poincare, the president of the republic, Alexandre Millerand, the minister of war, Theophile Delcasse, minister for foreign affairs, the prefect of police and the prefect of the Seine were represented. The ministers of the republics of Argentina, Brazil and Chile also were present.

H. Cleveland Coxe, a delegate of the Empire State Society of the Sons of the Revolution, draped the tomb with the Stars and Stripes and deposited around it a wreath and flowers.

William Graves Sharp, American ambassador to France, made a speech, briefly alluding to the sympathies of Americans for the "Nation that gave birth to so noble a figure as Lafayette."

"I can easily understand the nobility of Lafayette's character because I see behind me all these days figures patterned on his model. The association of the names of Washington and Lafayette more than ever are appropriate today when the curse of war like a dark threatening cloud lowers over the noble nation from which Lafayette sprang."

Referring further to the war and addressing those French present, Mr. Sharp said:

"Among all your noble citizens today is there any doubt that France will survive? No, because your destinies are guided not by an only but by a thousand Lafayettes. Yes, France will survive and become greater and more beautiful than ever."

Alluding to the simplicity of the tombs of both Lafayette and Washington, Ambassador Sharp concluded:

"No tall shafts rise towards the clouds to perpetuate their memories. Their monuments are in the loving, grateful hearts of their fellow men."

Frederic Masson, of the French Academy, historian of the Napoleonic epoch, delivered an oration in which he acknowledged the sympathy of Americans. He compared the effort France was making today "fighting for the liberty of Europe" to the war for independence in the colonies.

M. Masson paid eloquent tribute to the Marquise de Lafayette for her devotion to her husband in the trying days of the Revolution, leaving fortune and luxury to share his prison in Austria.

Penn Tobacco Company Will Enlarge Plant.

The F. R. Penn branch of the American Tobacco Company has definitely decided to enlarge its manufacturing plant at Reidsville and will at once begin the erection of a large addition comprising 12,000 square feet of floor space. It will add at least 300 operatives to the pay roll of the Reidsville plant. For some time the company has been unable to fully supply the demand for tobacco and at this time is said to be nearly 1,000,000 pounds behind in filling orders.

The new building will adjoin the present building on the northwest corner, three stories and basement, 50x59 feet. It will cost about $20,000, not including equipment. Material has already been ordered and work will begin as soon as possible. It is hoped to have the new building completed and the new machinery installed in five or six weeks.

Alleged Suicide Snows Up.

Wilmington, July 6.—It is reported in Wilmington on good authority that young Matt Walker, who about four years ago, in a sensational manner, was reported to have committed suicide by jumping from the railroad trestle over Bank's channel at Wrightsville Beach at a late hour one night, returned to Burgaw yesterday and is visiting relatives in Pender county. Walker left a note purporting to assign a reason for his deed and at that time he carried large life insurance policies, payable to his relative, Alex Rowe, who has since left the city. These policies have never been paid in full and it has been reported here from time to time that Walker was still alive and living in Florida.

HOPE TO HURRY ALONG NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 6.—Action to hurry along the movement for national prohibition by amending of the federal constitution was taken by business men connected with the Anti-Saloon League of America, which opened its 16th annual convention here tonight. It was planned to appoint a committee of 100 men prominent in business and manufacturing for the purpose of raising funds and otherwise to further the movement for the adoption of the Hobson-Sheppard amendment.

Thirty-five states, it was announced, were represented at the luncheon today, where this action was taken.

Rev. P. A. Baker, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, said the league aimed to have the prohibition amendment inserted in the national constitution before the next congressional apportionment is made, following the census of 1920, as there will be an increase in the membership in the house of representatives and much of the increase will come from the larger cities, where prohibition is not so strong as it is in less populated communities.

Bishop Luther B. Wilson, of the Methodist Episcopal church, was re-elected president of the league today. Nine of the 12 vice presidents were re-elected. New members are Rev. John McNeill, Denver; Rev. George W. Truett, Dallas, Tex., and D. C. McMullin, Tallahassee, Fla.

Durham to Have Court House.

Durham, July 5.—The board of county commissioners practically decided this morning to build a new court house that will cost about $150,000.

They will purchase the property to the east of the present court house, on which the Arcade theater is now located and will also purchase the Rigsbee property, south of the court house next to the union station.

The new court house will be erected in the middle of the block, and will be in every way fitted to the needs of the county.

Try Coble's Croup and Pneumonia Remedy for all cold troubles. It's liquid; you rub it on. If it fails to relieve instantly, you get your money back.
