

Would You Name A Friend as Trustee?

Often it is the desire to keep an estate under the supervision of a friend or member of the family, and yet not burden him with its management. If you appoint a friend or relative as co-executor and co-trustee with the Greensboro Loan and Trust Company, your estate will have the desired personal attention and will be relieved of most of the burden of work and responsibility. Caring for estates and trusts is one of the primary objects of this Trust Company and it has every faculty for managing them safely and advantageously.

MODERN HIGHWAY FROM WINSTON IS ADVOCATED.

High Point, June 26.—That a permanent surfaced road between Greensboro and Winston-Salem is not only needed but is a vital and paramount necessity, is the official opinion expressed by D. W. Harmon, highway engineer to the Forsyth county board of commissioners, in a letter received to-day by officials of the local chamber of commerce. Primarily, the letter concerns the selection of the best route between this city and Winston-Salem, and the engineer urges the route by Kernersville, since it would cut the entire distance on a ridge and not cross a stream of sufficient size or potentialities to cause the construction of a bridge. The selection of the Kernersville route to High Point would enable the Forsyth commissioners to kill two birds with one stone, so to speak. "We have said there is urgent need for a modern highway to High Point. There is an absolute and imperative need for a modern highway between Winston-Salem and Greensboro. The commercial needs alone between the two cities would justify its construction at this time. We have a hard surfaced road already constructed from the court house in Winston-Salem through Waughtown and Centerville. Continue this line to Kernersville and from Kernersville construct two roads, one to Greensboro and the other to High Point," is the way the engineer expresses himself.

The Forsyth viewpoint has a great number of followers in this city and section. The Kernersville route is practically free of grades and the road would follow almost a straight line. Then, too, the road would be over well drained earth, something that has a bearing on the life of the pavement. All these facts are now under consideration by representatives of the state highway commission and the boards of commissioners of Guilford and Forsyth counties who will hold a meeting in this city at an early date to definitely decide upon the route from High Point to Winston-Salem. Indications now are that Kernersville will be penetrated and that the first link toward giving Forsyth county permanent roads to both Greensboro and High Point will come in the near future.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Ida S. Causey.

On May 16, 1919, the death angel visited the home of Mr. Cicero Causey and took from him his beloved wife, Ida. She was a well known Christian woman and a member of the Pleasant Garden Methodist church. She was formerly of Pleasant Garden until about a year ago she moved to reside with her uncle, Mr. J. C. Hanner, who was in the hospital at the time of her death. She professed early in life to be a Christian woman of which she lived up to until her death.

In 1887 she was married to Mr. Cicero Causey. Before she was married she was Miss Ida Hanner. She is survived by nine children and her husband and several brothers and sisters. The children are: Mrs. C. T. Swain, of Pleasant Garden; Mrs. Cecil Reynolds, of Alamance; Mrs. F. W. Patton, of Pilot Mountain; Charlie, Ruby, Annie, Luke, Garland and Willie Causey, who was in France at the time of her death. The remains were carried to Pleasant Garden Methodist church, the service being conducted by her pastor, Rev. C. F. Starnell. The pallbearers were Messrs. M. D. Taylor, D. L. Smith, P. M. Riley, F. W. Paschal, H. L. Coble and Jesse Freeman. The flowers-bearers were Misses Minnie Hicks, Fay Adcock, Geneva Taylor, Jennie Coltrane and Mrs. Callie Swain. She was 46 years and three days old. To the old she was kind and true, to the young she was patient and gentle. Her advice was always good. Her life was a godly one. She leaves scores of friends who mourn the loss of her death.

A loving one from us is gone.

A voice we loved is still.

A place is vacant in our home

Which never can be filled.

A FRIEND.

KITCHIN THINKS CONGRESS SHOULD KEEP CONTRACT.

Washington, June 27.—Many prohibitionists feel that Congress will be guilty of breaking faith with the people of the United States if it retains the war time prohibition act. Some of those who feel that way will vote for an amendment to repeal the act, if it is offered on the floor of the house. Representative Claude Kitchin, former Democratic leader of the house, is very emphatic in his views on this subject. He would follow the recommendation of the President and repeal the law if his vote would bring about the result. "I think that Congress should keep faith with the country in this matter," said Mr. Kitchin. "I think that Congress should keep faith with the people interested in the liquor business. When the house considered the resolution to submit the prohibition amendment, it was understood and so stated by the prohibition leaders, that a full year should be given the manufacturers and sellers of intoxicating liquors from the time the amendment was ratified until it goes into effect. The war time prohibition act was passed for the war time. The war is over and it should be repealed. I say this as a prohibitionist. The government should keep its contracts."

Mr. Kitchin believed that all he and others say will not stem the tide the house judiciary committee is set on putting over.

Mr. Paul Andrew, son of Rev. J. D. Andrew, was in to see us Friday. He was on his way home from Camp Lee where he was mustered out.

These are the days of man with the get-rich-quick schemes, trying to separate the farmer from his hard-earned savings. President Vaughn, of the American Exchange National Bank, has a word to farmers along these lines in his space on the third page to-day. Don't lay this copy of The Patriot aside until you have read it.

Safety and interest for your money is what the Greensboro National Bank offers you in opening an account. What more can you want in disposing of your money. In its change of ad. to-day in this paper this bank also calls attention to a new line of savings banks on display in its front window, and tells you how to get one. You couldn't do a better job for yourself.

The phenomenal growth of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company during the past few years should be gratifying to every citizen of North Carolina, for it is purely a North Carolina institution, owned and managed by North Carolinians, and has in force to-day more than $37,000,000 of North Carolina insurance, with a total of more than $90,000,000, and still gaining. Mr. Julian Price is president, and Mr. Charles W. Gold is treasurer, two as clever and businesslike men as you will meet anywhere. Turn to page six and see the growth of the Jefferson Standard since 1907. It will more than pay you for the time it takes.

A number of Guilford ladies who had inspected and priced many stocks of squares and rugs in the city wound up by buying them at Thacker & Brockmann's, telling these gentlemen that they found their prices lower than elsewhere. There is a good reason why Thacker & Brockmann can sell floor coverings, curtains, etc., so cheap. This being a side line to their dry goods and shoe business it is handled with little additional cost, and no extra rent account. By discounting all their bills they are enabled to buy at the lowest possible figures—hence can sell cheaper and still make a legitimate profit on their investment. With long years of experience in the mercantile business in Greensboro Messrs. Thacker & Brockmann know the wants and desires of our people, and are untiring in their efforts to supply these at the very lowest possible prices. When you want good, reliable goods at reasonable prices don't fail to give this store a call. Their new ad. will be found on the fifth page to-day.

They Bought Squares Here

Several times lately ladies who had looked over pretty nearly all the stocks in the city wound up by buying Squares and Rugs at this store, telling us frankly that our prices were the lowest they found anywhere.

For very good and sufficient reasons we are in position to sell not only Floor Coverings and Curtains but Merchandise of all kinds at lower figures than the average store. We pay cash for every dollar's worth of goods handled, which enables us to buy at the lowest possible prices, and our store expenses are the lowest of any house in the city doing anything like the same amount of business. Add to this the facts that we have had long experience in buying and are satisfied with very modest profits and you can see that we are real and truly able to make good our claims of SELLING GOOD RELIABLE GOODS AT VERY REASONABLE PRICES.
