FHE DURHAM TOBACCO PLANT.

DEMOCRATIC ALWAYS AND UNDER ALL CIRCUMSTANCES.

VOL. VII.----NO. 35.

A MALE AND

THE ABIDING. ONE.

Some hearts are like a quiet village street, Few and well known the passers to and fro; Some like a basy city's market-place, And countless forms and faces come and go.

o my life unnumbered s'eps have trod,

Coming and going-ah! there lay the pang, That when my heart had blossomed and untening car. But on! there came step, So soft and slow, which said, "I pass not by, But stay with thee forever, if thou wilt, Amid this constant instability."

Still do the countless footsteps come and go ;

Her Lord and Master.

BY M. R. C.

One look at Ethel Sinclair's face, as

Still with a sigh the echoes die atay

But One abides, and fills the solitude

piness he was feeling.

Lis wealth to greet the loved familiar step it was gone and only echoes mocked locked

Though brief that life, and nearing now

S. H. WEBB,

Attorney at Law, DURHAM, N. C.

Will practice in the Superior C mance, Orange and Person, promptly attended to. JONE, WATEDN

Will attend Durham every Wednesday, and can be seen at his office in Chapel Hill every other day.

. GRAHAM, Α.

Attorney at Law.

HILLSBORO, N. C. Will be at Durham every Wednesday, where he can be seen at his office over Styron's store. Office also at Hillsboro. Claims collected in al. parts of the State.

BUMPASS & LUNSFORD. ATTORNEYS AT LAW, ioned arm chair, would have told you fore the passion in his eyes. She knew 35-1y. Royboro, N. C.

the happiness, the excitement she was then how positively he loved her, and experiencing; and one look at Row- with the knowledge came an emotion ALFRED M. MORING, TOTIN AF MORENGE OF CHATHAM, OF ORANGE, MORING & MORING land Hart's face, as he stood leaning she could not analyze, as being a comagainst the end of the old fashioned mingling of delighted pride and satis-Attorneys at Law, wooden mantlepiece, looking at the faction that he cared for her, and DURHAM, N. C. girl with his heart in his eves, would wondering vagueness of self-question-

All business entrusted to them will receiv 50-if have told you the misery and unhap- ing as to whether she loved him, realprompt attention.

TR. J. D. DAVIS,

find the girl so excited over her de- tried by him ; so that at forty, hand- who was to save him against her sist parture on the morrow, so little loth some still, immensely rich, exceeding- erhood for all time. to leave him behind, that his confes- disgusted and surfeited with the He went to her the day he heard of FROM THE DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMworld generally, he was nevertheless her defection, finding her in the midst sions were frozen on his lips. Yet it seemed to him he had never the catch par excellente, the bright, par- of her magnificent luxury, with Beseen her so bewitchingly lovely-with ticular star in the cavens matrimoni- tram Brandon's ring dazzling on a fin- To the Democrats and Conservatives of the pirk bloom on her cheeks, the al, to which the ers of aspirants were ger of the cold trembling hand she exclose, At first, the forms of phantesies and dreams, And then the varied tread of friends and foes. the pirk bloom on her red lips, the blue sun-invariably directed by anxious guides, tended to him. He utterly is shine of her eyes. Roland Hart knew philosophers and friends. He utterly ignored the appealing that when she came back, if she ever At the very first Ethel had been look in her face as he came into her did come back from the allurements dizzil prapturously happy in the presence. He went straight up to Convention, and upon the fortunate than one-fourth of a million. No, no, of city social life, it would not be as she went-heart-free, care-free, frank, fearless. brillia, pay life to thich she had piness, she never is worth all the exquisite hap-piness, she never is worth had the exquisite hap-ger, anguished face. "Ethel, is it true you are engaged mantleshelf, looking down on her pret- soul's silent boast, that the time was question that commanded her reply. tiness. 'For your own sake, because coming whe she should go back to "Roland, oh, Roland you must not you will find out, to your sorrow and him as she had left him, "inspoiled, look at me like that ! I -----" disappointment, the hollowness, and unspotted from the world." With music and with beanty, night and day. -Miss Blatchley, in The Christian. falsity, and cruelty of society. That for your sake, Ethel, darling," and his saw but who suffered from her com- ed so well in him. voice thrilled and quickened, "and for parison of him with Roland Hart. " My answer, please! One word will my sake-oh, Ethel! what shall I do > men's hearts, this fascinating man of She threw her hands out in a help- advancement regardless of the intrests the past. He has served you most society, bowed down at her shrine, lessly agonized way, and then he saw gratifying her vanity, pleasing her the gleam of Bertram Brandon's dia- is essential to success in any undertak- resolutions of your Convention, but as pride, appealing to her favor, until it mond.

DURHAM, N. C., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBR 10, 1878.

"How I wish you were not going!" entertained ...

seemed to her the night Roand Hart A white pain went over his face. had kissed her and held her to his There was a quick darkening of his heart was an episode that had hap- gray eyes, a compression of the firm pened to her in another sphere lips-then he accepted his fate.

of existence, until the right when "Yes, I understand what you were the first time in nearly twenty years tax on State Banks, against the con-Bertram Brandon led her down the both afraid and ashamed to admit, the Democrats will have a majority in traction of the currency, for a reducly, truly, as she thought women should aisles of the greenhouse, with the air You have disgraced your womanhood the United States Senate in the next tion of the tax on tobacco, and for ev-

warm and fragrant about them, the by accepting a man you care nothing Congress, so that all must see the ne- ory measure that might afford relief

Stirring Address.

MITTER OF THE FOURTH CON-CRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

the Fourth Congressional District:

Your executive Committee congramlate you upon the harmony that prevailed in your deliberations at your late party, and to your country. Let there of your glorious victories. We therebe no wavering in your lines, no strag-He interrupted her in a quiet, inorganization. Do not be led astray by, ty. It is of the highest importance to carry out the principles embodied

$1.50 PER ANNUM

plish more, or derive greater benefits from this fleedgling, this mushroom of a party, of a doubtful origin and uncertain aims, than from your own great party, which numbers in its ranks a majority of the Governors of the several States, a majority of the next Senate, and which two years ago elected the President of the United States by a popular majority of more nomination there made. Your manner fellow Democrats, you cannot. Be has been entrusted to safe hands, to not deceived. It is but a snare of the one who twice before has led you on to enemy to lead you astray. Defeated victory, and who will again lead you on to by you in open fight, they now seek only be true to yourselves, to your to sow dissensed in your ranks, and fore urge you to stand firm, hold fast gling, no desertions, but with serried to your faith, resist the insidious wiles ranks and solid columns move on to an of the enemy in whatsoever form they assured triumph. Presserve intact your approach you, and give to your gallant standard bearer, Joseph J. Davis, or be made the dupes of, any man your undivided support. He has made whose selfishrambition seeks only his you a most efficient Representative in of his party or country. Organization faithfully. He not only endorses the ing, especially with a political par- your representative he has endeavored just now that you should hold fast to in them. He voted for the remonetiyour party organization, and give to zation of silver, for the repeal of the your nominee your united support. For Resumption Act, for the repeal of the

be married ?" At the first there was no man who tensely masterful way, she remember-had asked or wanted to ask.

and crush them both.

Then-oh, that was a pitiful day for settle, everything 'between you and without you? How can I spare you ?" Ethel Sinclair-this charmer of wo- me. Is it yes, or no ?" - All the saucy mischievousness sudwork warranted to give satisfaction. Office one door west of Smith's Drug Store Willremain in Durhag until 8th, of May. 1 will be at my office in Chapel Hill until the 21st, then in Durham for two weeks.

EYE AND EAR,

RALEIGH, N. C

Miscellancous.

NATIONAL HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS Equal to any in the City. Board, $2 Per Day.

ATTACHED.

BILLIARD ROOM AND BAR

Delightfully situated next to Capitol Squa3e C. D. OSBORNE, Proprietor.

I have recently fitted up my Barber Saloon place-Detween Smi h's drug - tore & Marble

OHN SAUL'S

Catalouge of New, Rare and Beautiful Plants,

Will be ready in February, with a colored plate Many new and beautiful Plants are offered for the first time, with a rich collection of Greenhouse and Hothouse plants; Bedding plants; new and choice Roses; Dahlias. Well grown and at low prices. Free to all my customers, to others 10 cts.—a plain copy free. JOHN SAUL, 11-tf Washington, D. C.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE. A lot of land 21/2 miles from Durham contain ng 115 acres on which there is a new cottag sidence neatly built, painted and finished a good style. The land is adapted to th growth of corn, wheat, oats, cotton and especial v tobacco. Also an acre lot on which then a newstore house at the forks of the road miles from Durham on the Roxboro road. The tract of land lies a few hundred yards from the

She was a pretty girl, a very pretty love. girl, with a fresh, delicate bloom on He had come nearer to her in that her fair face, and a joyous, healthful moment when her eyes dropped swiftsparkle in her blue eyes -eyes that ly beneath his. He was standing close Roland Hart had never seen so bright beside her chair, his hand on her as to-night-to-night, the last evening shoulder, watching her expressive he expected to spend with her in the face until she lifted it frankly to his. old Barton farmhonse, from which "I am so glad you will miss me, Ro-Ethel was to go, on the morrow, out land! I was not sure you would. I am she sat there in the comfortable cush- denly died out of her sunny face be-

into the gaveties and dissipations of so glad." the world whose alluring paths her "Tell me what to do without you, young feet were yearning to tread. Ethel! Tell me you love me, to com-It hurt him to see how delighted she fort me while you are away. Tell me was at the prospect before her, and you will come back to me just as you yet, despite his heart hurt, he tried to are to-night?" Roland Hart could not." feel how purely natural it was that the The sweet seriousness of her face girl should long to try her wings in deepened. the social atmosphere that would "I dare not tell you so, Roland, be give Mr. Brandon not an immediate an- him.

surely be so much more congenial to cause," and the girls face dropped in Refers to the State Medical Society and to her, with her beauty, her grace, than to a low, thrilling tone that made his the air of her quiet, comfortably dull pulses leap -- "because I might not be home-the only home she had ever able to keep my promise, I might - known, and yet not her own home, for _ He interrupted her, almost fiercely-Because she did not love Bertram truth. the Bartons were only distant relatives "Don't speak of it, then. Only anof the Sinclairs, who had taken the swer me this : Ethel Sinclair, do you little sobbing child from her dead love me? Oh, my darling-my own mother's breast, long years ago, and darling-don't say you don't love me! magnificent terntation a sassailed her, heart's content." No, no, don't tell me that !"

taken her to be their own. She had been a merry, happy child For he saw her answer, gentle and -a bright, winsome girl-the life and pitiful, though firm, mirrored on her light of the old farmhouse, the idol frice. of her foster parents' hearts; yet, with "I will not have you tell me that!

early maturity there had come to her I will wait any time-for all time-to such longings for another life than the have you come to me at last and say, home, from him.

one she had led, such yearnings that Take mel I belong to you because I again and again and-won. would not be dismissed, that when, all love you!" of a sudden, some of her father's peo- Then a little happy snile parted ple came to see her-rich, aristocratic, her beautiful red lips, as she felt the haughty, who had therefore totally ig- quiver of some new, subtele-responsive nored her existence, and who had thrill all long her veins. She sent heard in some miraculous way, of her him one glance. It needed but that knew her captivity to heartlessly de- day will have no seriously permanent nominee, and do your duty in retaining on Main Street at considerable cost in first beauty and attractiveness, and came one to set his heart athrob. everything kept in best style. Dont forget the to her and ind invited her for the sea- "I do not think there is any doubt everybody congratulated her. The obliged to add to the sensation just son to their mansion in London-the but that I will come back to you." girl was eager and prompt to accept He stopped suddenly, and almost the invitation, laughing at the idea lifted her from the chair in an eager that the Bartons urged against it, that embrace, kissing her sensitive lipsthe Sinclairs had not been her friends the first loves kisses ever imprinted Ethel revelled in the fullness of her husband without love." when she most needed them. there.

She carried her point, as she always "Yes, you will come back to me, ry widest extent the splendor and glocarried it, in her sweet, persuasive way, my darling, and I will wait-impatient, and to-night, when Rolard stood look- but trusting." ing at her flushed, anticipative face, Later, he went away, all the gloom was the eve of her departure from gone from his face, all the eager lover's delight there instead-went away

. He thought, to-night, as he looked to begin his period of lonely waiting, back on the past, that he could not while Ethel entered on her fairy dream remember the time when he had of happiness, that was enchantment to not loved her. Ever since she had her, with her exquisite esthetic tastes, it all came home to her day by day- of scene, the memory of her sin, had declared? Is there anything therein their places to get a living? come to the farm, fifteen years ago, her capacity of enjoying the elagancies the utter weariness of everything, in vain worked to stump her image to which any member of the "Nation- Why a mule's bones are all solid, when she was a baby of two years, and luxuries of life.

soft music of the fountains playing, for. You know you love me-you cessity of retaining our majority in the to our oppressed people. His experithe dim lights in the tinted globes know it Ethel Sinclair. I read it in House of Representatives. No meas- ence has fitted him to serve you more shining mellowly on them, that night every glance of your eyes, every turn ure of reform or of relief can be adopefficiently in the next Congress, and when he asked her to be his wife-the of your head, every quiver of your ted without the concurrence of both the advancement of your interests deonly woman, he told her, he ever hands. I know it, and instead of re- the House and Senate, for at the last mands his re-election.

proaching you for your faltless falsity session of Congress, such measures It seemed to her that to refuse to yourself, or begging you to be true having passed the Democratic House would have been the sheerest folly, to me, to your own heart, I tell you were defeated by the Republican Sensheerest madness, so perfectly indis- that I thank heaven I am saved from ate. With a hostile Senate the Demopensable had all the dainty luxuries the woman whose principles are so cratic House have reduced the approof this butterfly existence come to be weak, whose ambition is so strong." printions of the general government utmost of their ability. And let every to her-the daintier the sweets which He took up his gloves and turned in the last three years the immense voter consider himself a committee of this man could give her, and which to go. He had not so much as sum of more than eighty-eight millions one, and do his duty.

touched her hand, not so much as spo- of dollars-an amount greater than I am glad she was true enough to ken one word of kindness, and her than ten dollars to every voter in the tingly take Roland Harl's happiness in arm, her white, tearless face upraised have reduced the expenditures of the one hand and her own in the other, to his, her voice a passion no man Government, and as far as possible recould have heard without believing its lieved the burdens of the people, but Brandon as she loved Roland. " Roland do you want to kill me ! thus been, they have not been able to Roland was lord and master, and her Oh, I do love you-I do, but-" afford to all the relief desired. Howsoul recognized him as such, and she "But other things vastly better. 1 ever, with the next Congress Demo-

"in the older time," and a revival in all kinds of business. And will you

We call upon the County Executive Committees to perfect their organization, but upon the various township committees do the most important duties devolve, and we especially urge them to discharge their duties to the

In conclusion we congratulate the Democrats of the country upon the enherself even for solide use was true enough to ken one word of kindness, and her than ten dollars to every voter in the couraging signs of the times overyopposition of a Republican Senate and majority in the next House of Represwer-glad she dared not unhesita- She sprang after him, grasping his President, the Democrats in the House sentatives, and we can not believe that the Democrats of this, the Metropolitan District, will desert their brethren and fail in doing their duty ; but that mindful of their fame and of the great opposed and hampered as they have interest involved, they will so acquit themselves in the coming contest, as to be entitled to claim a share in the great victory of November next, and their voices swell the joyous acclaim dared not, even in the face of such a hope you will enjoy them to your cratic in both branches, we may hope that shall go up from the hearts of a at least to obtain that relief and retrue and loyal people.

> H. A. LONDON, JR., Chairman.

Information Wanted.

Will some benign being explain to

Why a dog alwuss turns around three times before he lies down? Why a hoss alwusss gits up from the ground on her hind feet fust? Why, when a man gits lost in the woods or on the plains, he alwusse walks in a circle?

Wny a guse stands fust on one leg and then on tuther?

Why rabbits have short tails and kats have long oncs?

Why most of birds build their nests out of different materials? Why a hen alwuss knows her little ones from another's and why she wilk hatch out a dozen duck eggs and think they are her own chickens? Why a bear alwass klimbs down a tree backwards? Why a turkeys egg is speckled and does not every good and true man only things that I know ov with aniheartily approve every principle therein mal life that don't have to move out of al" or "Greenback" party cannot as- and their ears are twice as long as a not to command envious admiration, the gentleman who has just gone out, chalice of triumph, realized to the ve-though, when Mr. Brandon put a mag- her.

and womanly in her nature.

venge that was quick to come-that country. A bronzed, handsome man which you object? On the contrary, Why an oyster and a clam are the came like a wave of desolation over stood by her side.

the girl's heart, as the weariness of The excitement of travel, of change coupled with such heartsick yearnings from his heart. It was Roland.

parti she had made was too desirable experienced by your interview with and for awhile -a week or so after the and which I had the awkwardness to announcement of her engagement- overhear, by declining to become a

Her punishment was bitter-more ry of the position she had secured by bitter than at first she thought she the abandonment of all that was true cauld bear but she fought hard against her rebellious heart and won.

be so foully false to her woman's heart So he went from her, showing no form so long demanded by an oppress-

So she told Mr. Brandon she had no signs to her of the mad, despairing ed people. We may then hope to see answer for him ; and ho, so utterly we and hot pain of disappointed love our country once again prosperous as tion it gave him, pressed his suit he left her, white as the dress she now endanger all these longdesired

Yes, Ethel was vanquished. Roland ger, to receive Mr. Bertram Brandon, lose our majority in the House, by de-unused to having hesitation shown that shook him from head to foot-him by a woman, enjoyed the sensa- went away, while Ethel stood where

But nature and while Sinclair's Two years passed by, and found her by the Convention and endorsed by its heart were to have their revenge-are- the mistress of a little school in the

Hart was deliberately cast aside-that a moment later, a calm content on his serting your party and running after is, to all intents and purposes; al- handsome face as he bowed before strange gods? And yet this majority may depend upon your votes. Will nificent ring on her fair finger, Ethel "I really hope the surprise of to- you not thus rally as one man to our the Democratic majority in Congress? served remorso begun. Of course, effect on you, Miss Sinclair, since I feel The next House of Representatives wore, cold as the diamond on her fin- blessings, now, within our reach, and may be called upon to elect a President of the United States, for by art, xii, sec. 1, of the Constitution that body has the power to elect in the event that no enc has a majority of the electoral votes. So that we cannot overestimate the importance of having a majority in the House of Representatives. We invite your careful consideration of the platform and resolutions adopted nomince. Is there anything therein to a duck's egg blue?

store house. For further particulars address C. B. GREEN, Durham, N. C., nov 13-t	and he a lad of twelve, he had been Amid the tropical warmth and for what she had delfberately cast a- Need we add that another month sent? We quote the fourth resolution; hors 's and the second	her firm friend, counsellor, protector, brightness of the society in which the way. In these two or three days that saw her his bride, and him her lord "We demand the retirement of the Why lightness never was known to
YOUR PORTRAIT!	admirer, and now lover. While she Sinclairs had plunged her, Ethel this especial feeling was upon her, the and master for life, all that miserable circulation of the National Banks; the strike a beach tree?
IN CRAYON.	had cared no more for him year after bloomed like some rare hothouse flow- sight of Betram Brandon was a horror time being buried in oblivion. substitution thereof of greenbacks, Why makes among the feathered
SIZES:	year, until now it seemed to her there er. She brought the precious charms to her. All her woman's heart was whose volume should be regulated by race do all the singing?
8x10, $4.00, 10x12, $5.00, 11x14, $8.00, 12x16	could be no man in all the world so of youth aud freshness, and perfect crying out against him and the golden A Datchman, in describing a pair of the requirements of trade and business. Why nature will allow one cross be-
$10.00, 14x17, $13.00, 18x22, $20.00.	good, so true, as Roland Hart. health and, and girlish haptiness with prize he held in his hands-all her horses he had lost, said: Dev was fer- and the repeal of the tax on State tween sun animals and then allow no
Copies from any kind of small pictures and all finely framed. Why send North when you	Yet no word of love, formally de- ber and men raved over her finding soul was in arms for love's and Ro- ry much alike specially the off one Banks, leaving their organization to more?
can have first-class crayon work done at home?	clarative, had ever passed between her such a rare tonic, exhilarant to land's Hart's sake. Von lookt so much like poth I could the will of the people of the different Where all the flies go to when cold
send your photograph to	them. I them-such a contrast to the listless Yet, despite this agony of heart not tell together from which, when I States and explicitly demand the re- weather sets in, and where they all
EUGENE L. HARRIS Artist. 21-6m. Chapel Hill, N. C.	Roland Hart had been living in deli- girls who envied her joyousness, her Ethel never once wavered in her opin- went after one I always catch the oder, peal of the Resumption Act."
and the second se	ciously patient expectation of a time untiring interest.
	to come when he should tell his sweet, Especially Bertram Barndon watch and Roland Hart must go, because the cause the other kick me. more? Why, then, desert your time it and a mink's haz?
CLASSICAL AND MATHAMATICAL SCHOOL.	saucy girl how precious she was to ed her, his world-worn heart warming flesh pots of Egypt had become too
CEDAR GROVE, ORANGE COUNTY, N. C.	him, and now, all of a sudden, he into something nearer a summer glow dear to her soul to be exchanged for 'Nother storm coming unless we are the glory of the past, is the protection hen's egg is pointed?
The next session of this school will begin on Monday, July 8th. 1878.	learns she was going to leave them all at sight, and sound, and knowledge of aught else; and love and Roland did $-* + y$, x, p, d, $y - \parallel 0$; ; ; , !!! x of the present and the hope of the fu-
Per session of twenty weeks
Board	He had come over to the Bartons ble. He had been too petted by wo- that night fully determined to tell men, too favored of the gods, too in- Sinclair was engaged to a rich gentle- well-developed bald head comfortable disaffected of all parties, with no re- who kan't answer correctly one of the
For circular address
	Ethel his hopes and wishes. He had dulged by fate and fortune, for there man-Ethel, his only one love, the one at the same time!-Rochester Demo- cord in the past and no guarantee for above questions-Gadsden (Ala)
12- tf CedarGrove, N. C.	come, full of eagerness and faith, to to be any source of pleasure left un- woman he had trusted-the woman [crat.]