National 4-H Week On Local Level

The collective social conscience of nearly 4 million boys and girls is very much in evidence this week. These young people are 4-H members celebrating National 4-H Week, October 4 to 10. More than 200 of them are right here in Swain County.

By pledging their head, heart, hands, and health to their club, community and country, these 4-H'ers demonstrate concern for their fellow man. Appropriately enough, they have selected as their theme for national observance "We Care."

Through their project work and club activities, they develop into responsible citizens, improve our environment, and build nutrition and health. They also engage in community development, strengthen family life, promote education, chart careers, and help spread the 4-H learn-by-doing idea around the world.

We note with pride the educational opportunities these young people receive through the 4-H program. Under the leadership of the Cooperative Extension Service, 4-H meetings, and activities are conducted by County Extension agents and volunteer local leaders.

These action-oriented boys and girls from 9 to 19 years old, and some 27 million men and women who once were 4-H members, know the meaning of involvement. To them we extend our sincere good wishes for success. We look forward to their continuing achievement in their varied projects in science, agriculture, home economics, personal development, community service, leadership, and citizenship. They are building a better way of life for themselves and the world.

The following articles were submitted by local 4-H'ers and tell about some of the project they have participated in.

Electric Congress

On July the thirteenth thru the fourteenth North Carolina 4-H Electric Congress was held in Durham. The Congress was sponsored by the power companies operating in North Carolina. Each company sponsored the delegates from the regions they operate in. Swain delegate was Phyllis Burnett. She was accompanied to Durham by Agriculture Extension Agent C.D. Bunn. Their trip was sponsored by Nantahala Power and Light Company. While in Durham the delegates stayed at the Durham Hotel. The Congress was highlighted by a tour of Burlington Industries, a swimming party, Electric demonstration, A magic Show, a dance, and awards banquet. All the delegates agreed that it was fun and very educational. Phyllis Burnett

4-H Club Congress

4-H Congress, formerly called 4-H Club Week, is a week of real fun for everyone that goes. The 4-H Congress is held on the campus of North Carolina State University. During 4-H Congress the state 4-H officers are elected. These officers are in office for the full year and then another election is held. During Club Week, there are various demonstrations. There are also various tours that are on campus and also tours into the town of Raleigh. On the tour to Raleigh, you see the Museum, Governor's Mansion, and on other years you may see other places and buildings. Among all of the confusion you will have very much fun and find many new friends and almost all of the faces you will see a big wide smile of friendliness.

4-H For Foods

The Foods and Nutrition project was designed to bring the youth of North Carolina a clearer understanding of the part food plays in our everyday life. It helps one to learn through doing and establish a feeling of accomplishment. Each person that enrolls in this project learns how to plan and cook meals. They also have the opportunity to go into competition with others their own age, for recognition of the talents that they have developed.

The Foods and Nutrition project will be helpful in the future to everyone from housewives, to dieticians and professional chefs.

4-H Camp

On Monday morning, July 6, 1970, a group of sleepy 4-H'ers arrived at the Federal Building, all thinking is it worth it or not. By the time all luggage and passengers were loaded on the bus, all came awake and begun.

The trip down there was fun with singing and everyone trying to find out everybody else's name. When we arrived at Swannanoa, we had the problem of getting our luggage to the cabin and getting our bunks made. After this we took a look around camp to see what this was all about.

A small dirt road ran up the center of the camp separating the girls cabins from the boys and at the end of the road is a large beautiful pool (the water is freezing) and all around are big grassy fields where we later had many kinds of sports and games. At the other end is a large building which served as recreation building, dining hall and you name it.

After surviving the camp, and campers from all counties had arrived, we took about an hours dip in the pool. We had a pleasant supper and that night had recreation: this is when we met our staff - Don, a manager, Nell, handicrafts, Gwen, wildlife, Sandy, recreation, Charlie and Betty, lifeguards. Don, the manager, talked and what stuck in my mind more than anything he said was "Now you all are thinking about what you will do this week, but before you know you will be thinking of what you done at 4-H Camp." How true was those words, that week whirled by so fast.

Oh we had so much fun. This could have been a persons schedule for the day.

Morning taps
Have bed made up and cabin cleaned and be down for flag raising at 8:00

Breakfast
Classes Swimming, recreation, wildlife
Lunch - 12:45
Rest period
Swimming
Field Sports
Flag lowering - 6:00
Supper
Restperiod
Recreation
Night taps
Lights out at 10:00

Time went by so fast and then the big night when we all put on our best duds and had a banquet. It was successful and everyone had a goodtime.

The next morning was very sad, so many friends and now we have to leave. As our bus pulled out and we waved goodbye many tears filled out eyes, but before you knew it everyone was happy and having a good time. The return trip was fun and now 4-H camp is only a wonderful memory that I hope all youngsters should be given the chance to cherish.

Fontana Conference
On June 1, 1970, I left for one of the best 4-H trips offered. The trip ventured to Fontana, North Carolina, where seven states met for the Fontana Resource Conference.

This meeting was held to evaluate the natural resources of the Tennessee Valley region. A mixture of business and pleasure was the agenda for the week.

The business part came in the form of classes. The word classes usually gives me a lump in the throat; however, these proved to be quite different. Human, minerals, soil and wildlife were the classes we studied. The classes were very informative and we had excellent instructors.

Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, and Tennessee all did their best to bring the pleasure part up to par. Allowing the 4-H'ers to use the facilities of the swimming, putt putt golf, and many other activities free, really made the delegates from North Carolina feel proud of Fontana. Of course when you put teenagers from seven different states together not even the rain (which it did all week) can keep them from enjoying a good time. We all really enjoyed the new faces and new friends made that week. I was chosen as the North Carolina member to the paper staff and thus made many new friends through interviews.

My week before the trip was hectic, since I had to take finals early, but all in all I think it was worth it. In other words if you have a chance to go, don't let anything stand in your way.

TO MY MANY FRIENDS IN SWAIN COUNTY

I wish to thank you for your support and confidence over the past 12 years when I have been your coroner.

I especially wish to thank those who have served as members of coroner's juries. You have made my duties pleasant. With the new Medical Examiner's Law, I feel the coroner need not necessarily be a physician.

Again, Thanks,
W. E. Mitchell, M. D.

God Is Not Dead
By Ronnie Reed Queen

What is man's place on earth.
If not to live then die?
Should we seek their higher law

For which our soul do cry?
Some have said that God is dead.

Yet this cannot be true.
For fire still burns and rain still falls.
And the sky o'erhead is blue.

For will to worship God separates us
From the beast, and do we not give Thanks at every Christmas feast?

Ah, God is real and is not dead.
Nor shall he ever die:
His great works, the earth and sky.

Cry false to man's great lie.
