Our Soldiers Graves.

Our lovely wreaths to deck the honored graves... With reverence place them o'er each patriot's head.

ed his care, are only remembered by their great sufferings, and their heroic endurance of them.

WILLIAM RUFUS STALLINGS. The brother of Dr. Stallings, was the first of our band that fell by a bullet.

ing to cry about." "I don't mind standing guard," said he, "but I made up my mind, when I joined the army, to do every duty faithfully; and I have tried my best to do it; and now I'm to be punished for not doing my duty.

Poor Norfolk soon yielded to that terrible scourge that visited our camp at Hobday's, and was carried to the hospital.

SERGEANT. The Lord's Wall. Somewhere about fifty years ago, one bitter January night, the inhabitants of the old town of Sleswick were thrown into the greatest distress and terror.

the toil that had strengthened them as they strove, it could never have been obtained.

Labor-saving receipts for warm weather. Somebody who proposes to publish a new House-keeper's Guide, sends to the Boston Commercial Bulletin the following extracts from the forthcoming work.

Plain sauce—An interview with a Saratoga hotel clerk. To make a good jam—ask any horse car conductor.

To "bone" a turkey—take it when the poultice is not looking. To corn beef—feed your cattle at a brewery.

How to select a fowl—ask the umpire of a base-ball match. A plain stew—a trip in an old-fashioned street railway car on a warm day.

WHAT IS LIFE?—What is life but a little crib beside the bed; a little face beneath the spread; a little frock behind the door; a little shoe upon the floor; a little lad with dark brown hair; a little blue eyed face and fair; a little lane that leads to school; a little pencil, slate and ruler; a little some, wise maid; a little head within his hair; a little cottage, acres four; a little old time-fashioned steeple; a little family gathered round; a little turf-heaped, tear-dewed mound; a little added to the soil; a little rest from hardest toil; a little silver in his hair, a little stool and easy chair; a little night and carolite gloom; a little cottege to the tomb.

SWEET HOME Theodore Parker says: I never saw a garment too fine for a man or maid; there was never a chair too good for a celler, or cooper, or king to sit in; never a house too fine to shelter the human head.

There," said the old woman, triumphantly, "do you not see, my son, that God could raise up a wall around us?" Truly, "with God all things are possible."

Be your Own right hand Man. People who have been bolstered up all their lives are seldom good for anything in a crisis.

The following is an order for supplies; for a fishing party of two: "Please to send by bearer the following article, which if you prefer it, you can deliver to either Mr. A. or Mr. B. Either is the safest: Four pounds of salt and a small cask of whiskey; one pound of ground black pepper and a dozen bottles of whiskey; four pounds of lard and a large jug of whiskey; four convassed hams and six quart bottles of whiskey; three stout fluting Hoes and a quarter of a hundred weight of biscuit pocket flaps of whiskey; one paper of large L m rick hooks, and a gallon of whiskey in any old vessel you don't need; also send one pound of white sugar; and a small jug of whiskey. P. S. As we shall be gone several days, and as we may get wet fishing, my doctor, who has just stepped in, suggested that we had better take a little whiskey. Send it, and enter it on your books with other items above."

WORLDLY GRIEF—It is said that the following letter was written to a lady by a bereaved and stricken widow in Cincinnati:

Dearest Louisa—Darling John died last night. Congestion of the lung, Our loss is his gain. I will join him on the other shore. I have ordered the loveliest mohair for the funeral—made with polonaise and trimmed with real point lace. Loss covered by insurance on the ten year plan; will be paid in sixty days. I know you sorrow with me. We had four doctors, at $2 a visit. Aunt Maria will not go into mourning because she has just bought her fall and winter things. Her bonnet is straw, There is a balm in Gilead; but my heart is nearly broken. Send me a cut paper pattern of that escuage of yours. Your devoted SARAH.

A POPULAR PAPER.—The way to make a paper popular is to pitch in.—Bat it must be no weak, wishy-washy pitching in. It must be a furious, fiery, roaring, tearing, rip-snooting, sky-acking and earth-bursting, pitching in. You must roar, roar, howl, bellow, and finally blow an awful, uncommon, r-bounding and exasperating blast. You must shout, sneer, revile, calumniate, repudiate, excoiorate, castigate, and even antedate. Nick-name nastily, knock down, drag out, dig him in the ribs, and hit him in the eyeball him. Gouge him, grit your teeth at him whoever he may be, and at length do bad to him unanimously. Above all roar, ride, rip, pl' gnash, gash, gander pull, and gradually chaw up, spit out and stamp him to death.
