The Orphan Asylum,

The above named institution calls loudly upon our people for a generous support. It is descrying, and if properly sustained will be of incalculable value to the hundreds of needy and ignorant orphans of our State. We have noticed this enterprise several in times in our paper, but feel that we have not said enough, nor do we think that too much can be said in its favor; having as it does for its aim the mental and moral culture of the fatherless and homeless little children, who but for this noble enterprise, would have grown up in ignorance, as waifs to drift whithersoever chance might direct.

The establishment of this home and school was a thought that could only spring from noble and good minds, and the carrying of that thought into execution was a charity almost divine. The reality is before us-a portion of the children are there - competent teachers at work, and it only remains for the whole people of the State to give of their substance so liberally that not one of the many unfortunate, who ask for admittance shall be refused. Already the "slogan" has been sounded and many have responded to the call. Liberal hearts have given, and willing | Wheoping Cough does a bay's lungs, hand and heads have labored; and yet the work is only begun. The ball has only been set in motion and it must not be allowed to stop; up hill it must continue to roll until it shall reach the summit. It seems to us that an endowment ought to be ra sed in the same manner, as for Colleges so that its success shall not be dependent upon the offerings that charity may at different times bestow. In this great work that has been begun too much praise cannot be given that ANCIENT and NOBLE ORDER of men who most of all are the patrons of this most commendable enterprise. The ladies of our State have at al times and under all circumstances shown themselves willing and ready to aid in whatsoever might be of service to the people, or of honor to their native State. And in the sustaining of this Home for the Homeless they will we are sure most nobly bear their portion of the burden, for when did Carolina call on her daughters in vain? For the ignorance and suffering of these destitute little ones they feel the deepest interest and will we are sure evince the greatest aid, as they who "rock the cradle rock the world."

Commencement Exercises of Louisburg Fe male College

Which took place on Wednesday and Thursday night the 9th and 10th was largely attended, and the exercises redounded most creditably to the

On Wednesday night the chapel was depsely crowded, white many were not able to get in. The three graduates Misses Furman, Hall and Harris, in their Essays acquitted themselves with the greatest credit.

The oration delivered by the orator for the occasion, Col. W. F. Gree .. and of which we have spoken elsewhere, was eraphatical the feature of the Commencement.

On Thursday night the Chapel was again crowned with the elite of the county who were in attendance on the Concert. The music, vocal and strumental was of a high order, the young ladies showing themselves thorough in this department.

FOR THE COURSER.

MR. EDITOR.-It has been remarked of your correspondent by one of his intimate friends that '-- has cotten on the brain'. It is a very good thing for one to have there, provided the said one has at the same time plenty of the same article on the market-unencunbered. (Your correspondent m rely imagines that condition which follows the word 'provided' for he cant speak from experience.) Otherwise it is not a pleasant thing to have on the brain. It one's crop is late and a drought prevails : if one's errp is very grassy, and there is great scarcity and demand for I companions of these sebooled ye have the second the second labor, and if one is working to pay out of debt, and got nothing on the market, then it is a bad thing to 'have cotton on the brain". A deuced bad thing M. Editor. The staple gets twisted and tied and tangled into the very substance of the brair. It tickles and it worries: One scratches his head-no relief. It irritates, it pains, and really sir it sometimes brings on a train of diseases. These complaints however wear away in a great measure generally after cool weather sets in; and whem one gets his little crep into market he improves rapidly, especially when he gets 13 cents for cotton that cost him 12, and after paying up accounts with his commission Merchant finds a leetle balance in favor of Cr., and actually chuckles that he has not got to go to the Poor House this time, but has one mo e char ce ____On mortgage.

We spoke just now of one's 'having cotton on the market unencumbered.'-We can idly told you Mr. Editor, we were unacquainted with the pleasure of that, And now we claim the privilege of saying we are not exactly of that class who suffer the perplexity entailed by this. And yet there are many mer, many good hard working men whose experience is this. Many have in proud old Warren, and perhaps just as many in dear old Frankliv. It is a bad picture, but while every body has 'cotton on the brain' there is no remedy or relief. You may write a column in your paper every week (and every Daily and Weekly, and Monthly in the South may do like-wise in every issue) urging the people to give attention in their agricultural persuits to the necessities of life, and you will not be heard. !Cotton on the brain' can no more be cured by Press prescriptions and appeals, than the Asiactic Cholora can be checked in its progress by the whistling of an M. D. The more you physic it the worse it will grow, let it run its course like the Whooping Cough. May be it will expand the Southern brain, just as the

We all down here (lown by the water courses; up if North is up) cu'tivate cotton and corn almost exclusively. Three fourths of the crop being cottor. Last year the difference was hardly to great this spring, the prace stimulated the farmers to plant more cottor, and much uplands which were in corn last year has been fertilized, and is now growing cotten.

Notwithstanding the draw back given our crops by w. t weather in Ma , they look flourishing, and are clean of grass; If this condition of crops in the South generally can be reported, we should regard it as ba', good-news. It would augur of course a large yield, which would (or might), put cotton down to a figure that would be rumous. But your Correspondent and the few triends of the same, and all the acquairtances of the same, and the acquairtances of the friends of the same, and all tru h-telling farmers in these good Counties of Frank in and Warren, are ready to acknowledge that hope exist (and are cherished) of Carerpillars, Boll wo mis &c , sweeping over the South-Warre , Franklin and a few of their sisters excepted. Not passing gently and harmlessiy in one place, and destructively in another, but just evenly cutting off every man's crop one half. Is this uncharitable and unchri tian Mr. Edi or? We think not!-What is the diff rence between an Hurdred bales of cotton 121 cents and 50 bales, at 25 cents. We are not wishing our neighbors bad luck : we are only wishing ourselves extremely good, in truth we are wishing well for all, for a short crop would really benefit the South, whereas a large one would prove disastrous. I guess we are all tired of this sulject just now: but what else shall I write about ? I could tell you that we live not far from the Halifax Line, fix or seven miles from the R. & G. R. R. who e nearest point is about half way between Macon and Littleton Depats; that we are surrounded by a set of industerious, hard-working, stayst home farmers, each intent on his own duties and business; that the country is tull of Stores, and that they all seem to be doing well, but I dont see how these thirgs would interest you. I might telt you of five Mills, that are all within seven miles of us and hight speak particular y of a large manufac uring mill with saw mill and gin attach d, very recently built 17 G. Branch Alstor; near his store on Little Fishing Creek, about one mile from where said stream enters Halifax. But what care you to know how fast Mr. Alston's saw cuts timber, or what nice fine meal his mills turn out, or how cleanly his Gin picks cotton; you will hardly haul the timber from here with which to build the new Courier office, y u will not send here to mill and I h v : no doubt with the 80 saw Gin in the House on the mill pord and your numerous other Gins in the County you can all gin your crops without hauling to Warren. All granted ! And you want to know why I write at all? Well here is a reason or two .-

We were born in dear old Franklin;

our school boy days were there. Many passed away, -some quietly, -some in the roar of battle-all we trust to happier homes above. There are many other ties stronger far than the memory of school-boy days and their friendship; there are many other ties far less strong. We love our native county. we love her people and her Institutions. We are proud of the successful enterprise of her business men. We feel interested in her schools, her Co'lege and her Churches : We want to see the one's prosperous and flourishing, and the others expan ling, extending in influence and good works.

t is a duil place for news where we live, Mr. Editor, -nothing but toil toil, with to-day repeating yesterday, but we think we must write sometimes, tor we are not quite willing to be entirely isolated from you all. This letter is already very long unless there were more in it, but before concluding, we beg to say this, viz, that while it is our opinion that every mun is (in the man;) architect of his own fortune no one is entirely independent, and no one man without sympathy and co-speration can build up an institution or enterprise intended to be pub ic, and no matter how mantuil", and nobly you may work in your undertaking to benefit your county through the poper that you have established, you can not build up and keep up a Journal of high s; andard without the sympathy, the good-vill and the assistance of your own home folks, -our countymen. Tue times are full of interest : replete with subjects worthy of profitable discussion, and there are scores of men in Franktin County who are able to discuss them to the englitment of the people. Throw open your columns to them, and pride in their county paper if nothing else will call them out. Lat every man in the county take the .paper and pay the patry $2,00, and then let him get his friends from another county to do like wise. If the Franklin Country does not prove a success, and prosper many years, the good people of Franklin will be ashamed of the failure.

Respectfully.

Rest

BY FATHER RYAN.

My feet are wearied, and my hands are tired-

My soul oppressed-And with desire have I long desired Rest-only rest.

Tis hard to toil - when toil is almost vain

In barren ways: Fis hard to sow, and never garner grain I harvest days.

The burden of my days is hard to bear-But God knows best, And I have prayed-but 'vain has been my prayer -

For rest-sweet rest. Tis hard to plant in Spring, and never

The Autumn' yield : Tis hard to till-and when 'tis tilled to weep O'er fruitless field.

And so I cry a weak and human cry, So hear:-oppr ssed: And so I sigh a weak and human sigh

For rest- for rest. My way has wound across the desert

And cares infest My path, and through the flowing of hot years

I pined for rest. Twas always so when still a child, I On mother's breast

My wearied little head; e'en then I prayer. As now, for rest.

And I am restless still; 'twill soon be o'er:

For, down the West, Life's sun is setting, and I see the shore Where I shall rest.

Cure For Toothache. Among the many virtnes of carbolic acid is that of giving relief from the pain of toothache. To one drachm of collodium flexile, add two drachms of Calvert's carbolic acid, full strength. A gelatinous mass is precipitated. A small portion of this precipitate inserted into the cavity of an aching tooth gives immediate relief. It may be kept in the cavity by means of a bit of lint dipped in the collodium.

A man out in Germantown purchased a sun dial last week and set it up in his yard according to the printed dir Amend section six of the third article ections, He is so fascinated with it that he goes out every night before retiring, and examines the dial with a candle, so as to set his watch by the correct time. He wants to trade that watch now, because he says it loses as much as thirty-five or forty hours every night since he got the sun-lial.
