Getting into a Court Room.

Among the crowd which surged and struggled at the doors of the court room in which the Beecher-Tilton trial was held was a young man who displayed more than ordinary energy in his attempts the enter the court. The room was already filled, and the officers had orders to prevent the entrance of persons not having business. Several times the anxious applicant for admission had almost forced his way in, but only to be hurled out when on the point of success. Repulsed but not disheartened, he stepped back to the stairway leading to the jury room for the purpose of planning a fresh attack. Presently a police officer in full uniform came along the corridor, and turning up the steps leading to the jury room divested himself of his coat and cap, and assuming an undress blouse went to the court room in the building to which he had been assigned. Hardly had the officer disappeared from the corridor when the anxious applicant for admission dived into the jury room. After a few moments he appeared clad in the policeman's coat and cap. Assuming an official air, he also approached one of the court room doors, and, selecting one or two of the most inoffensive looking citizens composing the crowd that surrounded it, he hustled them roughly, and ordered them in the gruffest tones to "get out of here." The genuine bluecoated gentleman at the door, filled with a feeling kindred to that which makes a baggage-smasher glow with pleasure when one of his fellows demolishes a costly trunk, smiled approval on his as of opposing his entrance to the court. Once inside the court the bogus policeman slipped behind the crowd, and, unseen, doffing his borrowed plumage, appeared once more in his own proper apparel. The bold trick was not discovered until evening, when the policeman, whose coat and cap had been taken, missed his property, and discovered it rolled in a neat little bundle under one of the back benches in Judge Neilson's court. As no one was seen leaving the court room coatless, it is presumed that the man who took the policeman's coat from the jury room wore it over his own and concealed his hat about his person.

Waking the Sleepy Ones.

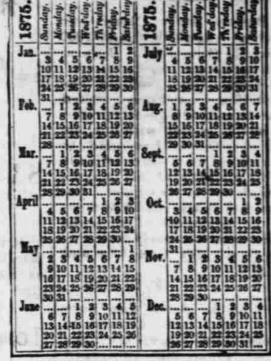

It is often more than a question of of the General Assembly of the State of Louisi- taste how far clergymen can, in the pulpit, afford to carry unceremonious address and familiar illustration. When it comes to gamboling therein, one would be apt to think that only a lunatic could be found guilty. Yet Mr. Spurgeon lately presented as a remedy for congregational sleepiness a game of battledore and shuttlecock played by the gentleman in the pulpit. A clergyman of his acquaintance did actually go through with this game before his dull congregation on several occasions, and did it, says Mr. Spurgeon, "with the deepest solemnity." When all the drowsy ones were wideawake and wondering at this sportiveness, he rated them soundly for paying more attention to his foolery than to his sermons. This recipe of Mr. Spurgeon's most ministers.

The course of study embraces grammar, arithmetic, algebra, geometry, reading, writing, drawing, composition, the ten science primers, and Overman's mechanics. The classes in these various branches recite once a week, the recitation being an hour in length. The lessons given are long, but the apprentices have ample time out of work hours not only to prepare them but to reflect upon and study their practical applications. All of the apprentices, numbering upward of a hundred, are compelled to go through this course of study, and as the term of apprenticeship ranges from five to seven years. they have time to become proficient in every branch taught, so that when their apprenticeship is over they have a thorough English and technical education so and SUPPORTER is now superseding all others, being adopted everywhere by the leading physicians, surgeons, drug-gists, army and navy, hos-pitals, gymnasiums, etc., etc. those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri sas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, The success and universal satisfaction they have given, as well as the great number of radical cures they have effected, has demonstrated the fact that rupture can be surely cured without suffering or annoyance, and without the danger of incurring Spinal Disease or Faralysis, often caused by the severe pressure of Metal Trusses and Supporters. It is the only sure cure for Hernia, as it is the only Truss in use that will hold the rupture securely in all positions in which the body can be placed. It will perform radical cures when all others fail. It can be worn with ease and comfort when no spring truss can be used. When once adjusted, no motion of the body or accident can displace it. These instruments have the unqualified approval of the most eminent practitioners in the profession. the profession.

From the numerous testimonials in our possession we append the following:

"After the experience of months, petieots testify strongly to its efficacy, as well as to the care and freedom from inconvenience with which the instrument is worn. With superior advantages, the Elastic Truss possesses in a high degree ALL requisites and qualifications claimed for other inventions. I have no hesitation in regarding it as an important means for the relief and cure of Hernic.

GEO. V. HOUSE, M.D., Superintendent Elastic Truss Co.

Dear Sir:—After suffering for thirty years, in my own erson from the use of every form of Metallic Truss procurable in this country and in Europe, I, two years ago, applied your Elastic Truss, and since that time I have experienced comfort and satisfaction, and been taught the truth, that the Elastic Truss is the only instrument that should be used for the relief and cure of Hernis; and now after more than thirty years' continuous practice, and having adjusted many hundreds of Trusses (and for the last twenty months yours exclusively), I gratefully declare it to be my deliberate opinion, that your Elastic Truss is the only one cutifled to the confidence of the public; that elasticity is the only power at all adapted to the requirements of a Truss or Supporter, and am convinced that your Elastic Truss actually cures a large proportion of all cases to which it is applied, not only among children, but in numerous cases within my own knowledge of patients from 50 to 75 years of age.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the na-tive herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BIT" TERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They
