FRANKLIN COURIER.

GEO. S. BAKER, PROPRIETOR. LOUISBURG..... NOVEMBER 19, 187

· LOCAL MATTERS.

More dangerous bridges in Louisburg than in any town in the State.

Dr. Nve, the Oculist, wil be at the Eagle Hotel on Monday next. See his advertisement.

Rt. Rev. Thos. Atkinson, Bishop of this Diocese will hold Divine service at St. Pauls, Church at this place on the 21st inst.

Heavy complaint about the condition of some of the side walks in town. Come out ye street commissioners and silence these complaints.

"Come sonny," said a fond Louisburg father to his little six-year old boy, "go to bed, and don't forget to eav your prayers, like a good boy, papa wants to go down 'own and play euchre.'

Maj. Geo. W. Grice, President of the R. & G. and R. & A. A. L. R. R. died suddenly at his residence in Portsmouth, on Friday the 12th inst. Maj. Grice was about one month ago elected to the above position, which offices he was filling most acceptably.

BEFORE THE EXAMINERS .- Question .- "Spell Bosom."

Applicant .- "Buzzum," "Correct," says one of the examinear. "Suell, handkerchief." Applicant .- " Hankehuft."

That applicant should ave received a third case certificate for his st ong spelling.

Our neighbour Baker the gentlemanly Editor of the Louisburg Courtsee, has "played quit" with patent out sides and is now running one of the best papers in the State The COURTER has been worth thousands to the neotle of Franklin county, and every citizen should be glad te p tronize it. -Oxford Torch Light.

Divine Services will be had at Prospect hurch as usual the first Sunday in December next, immediately preseeding the services a conference will be held in reference to repairing the Church, on which occasion a full turn. out is earnestly desired, the time having fully arrived when this repair is a necessity, it is to the help of the Lord your attention is invited.

W. H. HESTER, Jr. Louisburg, Nov. 16 1875.

Two Louisburg ladies went one evening after tea to visit a neighbor "When returning home, the elder one not seeidg very well, stepped over what she thought was a shrub. When lo! the ealf, (as it proved to be) sprang up carrying her some destance on its back be fore sitting her down. The friend see ing no harm done with much laughter asked her why she did not ride home holding on by the horns? Because she cuttly replied I wer'nt sitting that

LECTURE - Theo. N. Ramsey, Grand Lecturer for the I. O. Good Templars, lectured here on Tuesday night to a full house. His appeal in behalf of the innocent sufferers from the use of the fiery poison, was very touching at times moving his audience to tears, and his arguments against the traffic were conclusive and unanswerable. He is a faithful and zealous worker in the good cause, and we hope that his efforts will be crowned with success, that he will be the instrument in the hands of the Great Rule: of the universe, in removing the dark cloud that rests over and upon the home of the dru kard, and cause the sunshine of happiness and love to take its place.

After the lecture a number were initiated into the order. He left on Wednesday for Wake Forest College, where he spoke again at night.

Clubs of Subscribers to the COUR1-ER, are coming in every week, but we have a large mailing book and have room for more. Friends dont cease your efforts, until the COURIER is put in every family in the county

A Franktin county mas having drank very freely of R. G. Whiskey, went home with a friend to spend the night Next morning the Colonel sent un a basin of water for him to take his morn ing bath. The countryman turned the bowl up to his head drank it dr, and re-

"Ah! the Col. knows what a man wants," and terning to the waiter, who was showing two long rows of ivory said, " Now fetch me up a noggin of water to wash my face and hands in."

ADVERTISING .- Advertising is one of the powers of the world, and the business man who fails to avail himself of its advantages is far behind the age in which he lives. It will no longer do to say, "Oh, nobody reads the advertisements." The reverse is true --everbody reads the advertisementsand the advertisements alone in the local papers are worth many times the subscription price. A man too stingy or too indolent to advertise is too stingy to give you as good b rgains as you can get from his more wide-awake neighbors. Try it.

ESCAPED JAIL -Three unbleached Americans unde good their escape fr in Louisburg Juil, on Tuesday night last. They succeeded in overpowering the jailer, who very unwisely went with their supper without arms or assistance. This is the third time prisoners have escaped jail under the administration of the apresent jailer and it is a fact that the $12,000 granite jail built bere last, year, is considered one of the safest in the

REV. M. II. VAUGHAN. - This pious Divine who has for some time been Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church at this place, and who discharged every duty so well and faithfully, has tendered his resignation from this field of work to ge to Oxford. By is pious walk and carnest labors in his Church, he has succeeded in draw ing around him a large circle of friends. who will ever remember him as a faithful and zealous christian, genial and social gentleman, and where ever he may go, the prayers of the good people of his Church, will go with him, and the earnest and sincere wishes for him and his fa pily's happiness from his large circle of friends in CANDY FACTORY, - Messrs, A. D. Royster & Bro., of Raleigh, have established a large manufactory for eandies of all kinds. They have in their employ, Mr. Leonard, who theroughly understands the business. They keep a large supply, and guarantee their prices as low as any market North .-This is a great inducement to merchants in this section, as in the item of freight they will save a good per cent. These gentlemen are perfectly reliable, and will fill all orders promptly, and guarantee their goods to be fresh and pure. Then keep your money near home by sending your orders to Messrs, Royster & Bro., Fayetteville street, Raleigh, N. C., for anything you may want in the confectionery line.

WORK MUCH NEEDED .- The long bridge, running from the Town Scales to Clifton's store and which is used as a side walk, is in very bad repair, and if something is not done to it very soon, we will no doubt be called upon to chronicle & severe secident to some one, and then the town sued for damages, and a heavy tax levied to meet the judgment, which would certainly be given. Now there is and old but true saying, that a "stitch in time saves nine," and we tope our commissioners will act upon this principle. and bave this trap for breaking legs fixed up at once. And to the County Commissioners, We would suggest that they cooperate with the town and wall up the ragged and rough side of the Court square, which is an eye sore to every man in town. The cost would be very triffling, and the benefit very great. We do hope that our town and county Commissioners will unite and have this much needed work done without delay. We believe we speak the wish of almost the cutire community, in making the above re-

SCENE AT A REVIVAL.—Uncle Kin chen, an old colored gentleman had been up to the alter during the whole meeting. On the last day of the meeting, one of the brethren approached Uncle Kinchen, and said:

"Uncle Kinchen, I am sorry that we will have to adjourn the meeting and leave you with your sins still unforgiven."

"Uncle Kinchen looked up and said "I'll be bound you hears from me afore dis meeting journs."

SEPCIAL TERM APPLIED FOR .- Th board of commissioners of Halifax county, supported by the bar of the county, have petitioned Governor Bragden to order a special term of the superior caurt for the county, convening the first Monday in Lecember, and that Judge W. A. Moore of the second judicial district, be appointed to hold it. The petition will probably be

ARREST OF GAMBLERS - Deputy Shoriff E. F. Martin yesterday effected the arrest of fifteen persons charged with gambling.

These gentry, we understand have been playing their avocations here since the commencement of the Fair, and have been toe means perhaps of many of the unsuspecting losing large sums of money. The raid yesterday will have the effect of making things quiet no doubt for some time in this line. Wil. Journal.

A Posen,-Mamie and Johnnie, two little five-years-old cousins, of this city, were disputing the other day about the comparative value of their possessions. After a boastfully careful enumeration by each. Mamie at last exclaime "Well, I've got more dead kin folks than you have, anyhow?" Johnnie sat silent and puzzled for a moment, then triumphantly replied: 'I dou't care if you have; I cried enough at Mr. H-'s funeral, to make up for all your old dead kin !"-R. SENTINEL.

Fashion Notes.

The camels bair that came out first in suber quiet tints, -"natural colors" they were called-is now given us in "sholted and plaided tints," known as knicker-bookers. Ther another is mottled with white, like snow-fiakes, and is known as spitzbergen. Then there are color upon color of plaids, and there are plaided basket clothes, and the brightest and gayest of Scotch tar-

In wraps, we find everybody in love with the deep circle.

French sacques, plain, short and beautifully fitting in the back, long and pointed in front, are much word. They are trimmed with fur or velvet, or edged with fringe, and trimmed with a deep heading of basket woven

In hats, we find the prettiest are in felts, with broad brims of plush or beaver; also the pretty tongue; a shape that has won every heart. The broad brime requires but little trimming; it is rolled at one side, and slouches over the head the rest of the way; a roll of velvet, or soft basket swilled ribbon, trims the crown, and rich ostrich tips, or a long plume, with the wings of some gay-plumaged bird, mingied with bright flowers and autump leaves, finish the turned up side.

The tongue is worn further off the face than in bright sunshiny days, and is Snished with a roll or coronal of velvet, or a full wreath of autumn leaves. with bright berries.

In gloves, the prevaiting style is to match the costume; but where the very bigone taste that now prevails is carried to any extent. neutral tints such as real brown. myrtle, steel and plum, are the preference.

In ties; plaided (basket, of course) are chosen, also rich colors with embossed ends; and for more dressy wear, white ties, with ends of real point, or maltese and other laces, are considered the choicest and richest.
