

FRANKLIN COURIER.

GEO. S. BAKER, PROPRIETOR.

LOUISBURG, DECEMBER 24, 1875.

LOCAL MATTERS.

No PAPER CHRISTMAS.—Not wishing to depart from a time-honored custom, there will be no paper issued from this office next week.

A merry Christmas to all.

Fair and Festival, in the Court House to-night.

This is the season of the year for pulling up stakes.

Christmas Tree in the Court House on Saturday-night.

This is the season of the year when no matter which way you look, your eyes will see wagons loaded with every kind of household and kitchen furniture.

MARRIED.—On Wednesday afternoon the 22 inst., at Cedar Rock in this County, by the Rev. A. E. Bobbitt, Mr. Eugene S. Green to Miss Sallie G. Stokes.

The Patrons Cooperative store has changed its quarters to a more spacious building on Nash street. The business manager reports his sales as increasing rapidly.

Thursday was a brisk day in town, about 100 wagons, carts, buggies, Carriages and wheel-barrows on the street, loaded with every variety of articles for sale; from turnips to bales of cotton.

ANNIVERSARY.—We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to be present at the 41st Anniversary of the Ezekiel and Philomathesian Literary Societies of Wake Forest College, to take place on the 11th of February next.

We call attention to the advertisement of Mrs. A. E. Yarborough's school for girls. Mrs. Yarborough is a graduate of Dr. Snodgrass School, and has much experience in teaching and is thoroughly qualified in all the branches taught in her school.

PERSONAL.—Hon. J. J. Davis, Congressman from this District, arrived here on Saturday last. He will remain through the Christmas holidays.

Messrs. Fenner Yarborough, Robert Davis, and Arthur Arrington, who have been attending school at Chapel Hill, is also at home.

SATURDAY ITEMS.—Saturday was a big day—town full of folks of every hue; all seemed to be busy. A small amount of green rags paid for subscription to the COURIER.—The editor in a better humor than usual. Two buns bought a pair of license to marry a pair of sisters. No fights, either by men or dogs—benzene did not seem to flow very freely.

Hillsmat Morgan, the negro who killed John Crudup another negro, in this County, in 1871, was captured in Cumberland county on the 12th inst., by Mr. W. V. Clifton, he was shot in the thigh by Clifton, with a pistol before he could be taken. He is now in Cumberland jail. He will be removed to Franklin jail as soon as he recovers sufficiently from his wound.

A Louisburg man, who had partaken rather freely of good natured whiskey, was making his horse "stoop low," by tapping him on his fore legs. A number of little boys standing around, very much amused and entertained, was anxious for the good natured man to make the educated horse stretch out more. The good natured man finally said: "Well boys, he has stretched the very last inch."

We call special attention to the advertisement of Mr. M. S. Davis, in another column. The high standing of Mr. Davis' School is so well known throughout the State, that comment from us is entirely unnecessary. But we will say this, that there is not a town in the State, where more perfect health is enjoyed, and where the student has more advantages than in Louisburg. The community is refined, well educated and moral.

MOVED.—We have moved to the upper rooms over T. N. Carliles Store on Main street, where we will be pleased to have our friends call to see us.

COURIER.

Read the advertisement of Mr. W. J. Kings' school. Mr. King, as is well known to our people, is a thorough scholar. His school is in a healthy section, and the people are moral and refined.

A mule attached to a wagon on Main street, concluded to try his speed through several streets, on Monday, after spilling the sable driver he took a bee line for the river down Market street, but was stopped before any serious damage was done.

A little ragged boy approached a Louisburg gentleman some days back, and asked him for a penny. The well dressed gentleman looked down on the little fellow, with tears starting in his eyes and said, "my little fellow from the bottom of my heart I sympathize with you, but I am also in needy circumstances; yes I am poor indeed, so poor, that if salt was selling for 10 cents a sack, I could not buy enough to pickle a ton—tit."

A. D. ROYSTER & BRO.—On our visit to Raleigh, during the session of the Grand Lodge, we called to see our enterprising and energetic friends Messrs. A. D. Royster & Bro. These gentlemen by perseverance and will, have succeeded in establishing a factory for the manufacture of all kinds of candies, and judging from the display they make in their show windows, and show cases, their goods must be equal if not superior to any brought from the Northern markets. They guarantee their prices as low as any and their goods to be as pure and well made as can be had anywhere.

A MOST LAUDABLE ENTERPRISE.—The Memorial Associations of North Carolina, have agreed to unite with kindred Associations in other States, in one common offering, on the approaching first of January, to Mrs. F. A. Jackson and daughter, as a testimonial of their high appreciation for the memory of the illustrious chieftain.

The plan suggested is this: The President and Treasurer of each Memorial Association of North Carolina are constituted a committee—they appointing as many assistants as they choose. The moneys, when raised to be forwarded to the President of the Raleigh Memorial Association.

Miss Pattie Lewis is appointed assistant for this county, and will be pleased to receive any remittances which our worthy ladies are willing to bestow on this commendable object. We hope our ladies will prove themselves equal to this noble cause, and respond liberally to the call of their sisters in this and other States.

Any amount from twenty-five cents upwards, will be received. Contributions can be made through the Post-office to Miss P. A. Lewis, Louisburg, N. C.

Don't forget the ladies' Fair and Festival at the Court House to-night. The proceeds of this fair will be devoted to the Methodist Church. There will be tables of rich viands dealt out to customers by fair hands, for a small price. Let all come. It will be a gala time, and you will feel better for coming.

STATE ITEMS.

The telegraph office at Hillsboro will be reestablished soon.

Four new residences have been erected in Oxford in the last few months.

The Good Templars of Raleigh will have a big oyster supper new years night.

The average salary of the Methodist preachers in North Carolina is $535, it is said.

Some bad boys in Raleigh have been disturbing divine service at the Baptist church.

A negro girl about 10 years of age was burned to death on the 10th inst., near Sasfras fork.

There are now in North Carolina 230 lodges of the Order of Good Templars, with a membership of 10,000.

Big rabbit hunt in Atamance county on Thursday, 50 men and 50 dogs in the chase, 103 rabbits bagged.

The sentence of death passed on John Hall of Dan County for rape, has been commuted to 20 years imprisonment.

The gin house, and sash and blind factory of W. H. Uderhill in Goldsboro was destroyed by fire on the morning of the 20th. Loss $4,000. Insurance $1,500.—R. News.

HORRIBLE OUTRAGE.—On Saturday afternoon last Miss Cornelia Bedgood, an adopted daughter of Mrs. Peninah Bryan, living near Whitakers, in Edgecombe county, was returning from the house of a neighbor a short distance away she was waylaid in the woods by one Simon Ragland, a notorious negro, who blindfolded and throttled her and committed a nameless outrage upon her person notwithstanding her stout resistance and frantic appeals for help. Her screams were heard by persons living near by but they could not reach the spot in time to save her from the indignity put upon her by the ruthless devil. Mr. S. P. Hilliard, passing that way, heard of the affair and at once dispatched a messenger for Dr. Brodie, of Whitakers, who rendered necessary medical aid, but the young lady was so badly injured as to cause apprehensions for her safety. Her throat, neck and arms were terribly bruised and torn as the miscreant choked and gagged her.—For devilish brutality and outrageous inhumanity this case has hardly a parallel in the annals of crime and long may be the day before it is again our misfortune to record its like.—Reared and educated under the most favorable circumstances and possessed of admirable womanly traits which endeared her to her acquaintances she is highly respected and loved in her neighborhood.

The citizens of the vicinity were quickly aroused and a large number went in pursuit of the black devil.—He was arrested on Monday night and yesterday he was identified by the young lady. He had a hearing before Justice S. P. Hilliard who sent him to jail, the evidence being conclusive, to await trial at the next term of Superior Court for the county. If there is law and justice in this and it should be properly noted out to this miserably debased specimen of humanity.—We are an advocate of letting the law take its course," but in this instance we would have been glad to hear that Judge Lynch had intervened.—Roanoke News.

Miss Pattie Lewis is appointed assistant for this county, and will be pleased to receive any remittances which our worthy ladies are willing to bestow on this commendable object. We hope our ladies will prove themselves equal to this noble cause, and respond liberally to the call of their sisters in this and other States.

Any amount from twenty-five cents upwards, will be received. Contributions can be made through the Post-office to Miss P. A. Lewis, Louisburg, N. C.

Fashion Notes.

New suits are being made in the pelisse or princess polonaise, although the front is now trimmed to simulate the basque, while the back is quite the polonaise of former times.

New skirts, that have the band-box plaiting on the bottom, show the plaiting fastened to the skirt both bottom and top.

For children we notice no more tiny saques, but they are long, partly fitting, and within an inch as long as the dress. Some of them lace about halfway up the side seam, others have no trimming but the row of buttons up the front. With these saques, for extra warmth is a shallow cape. This may be edged with fur or a binding of silk of the same color. Tiny children wear with these a sash of brown or cardinal red, and either a shirred velvet close cap of the same color as saque, or a valencienne lace cap over a colored quilted lining.

New princess dresses for girls have kilted back, and are quite taking being so new.

Misses and tiny girls are wearing square-neck dresses, cut low, both back and front, and worn over a gathered or plaited blouse, high and tight in the neck, which is finished with a band of needle-work, or edge of rare old lace, and pulled into a belt at the bottom.

If you doubt what we say in print, cut this out and take it to your Druggist, Dr. J. B. CLIFTON, and get a sample bottle for 10 cents and try it or a regular size for 75 cts.
