AT DAGGERS POINTS.—W. A. Hearne, ex-supervisor of the government building at Raleigh, and Solicitor J. C. L. Harris, are trying to get up a little war, all by themselves. Hearne says some hard things about Legs, in the News. Legs meets Hearne on the street and with one hand in his hip pocket, calls him ugly names. Well as this is not our fight, we guess we had better occupy the same position the little boy did, when the calf run over him, "say nothing." We only stand off and say hurrah for the best man.

The Phrenologist, stated that most of the subjects examined here, had too large brain for their bodies, good failure.

Some good material, is being wasted by being directed in the wrong way, for instance, some would make good Ministers of the Gospel, who are engaged in the mercantile business, some would make good school teachers, who are following other avocations, some are honest some not, some are truthful and some are not. Get in the right channel and make great men of yourselves.

MARRIED.—Cooper—Perry.—On Wednesday evening the 23rd inst., at the residence of the brides mother, by Rev. Mr. Pettigrew, Mr. Daniel Y. Cooper of Henderson, to Miss Leah H. Perry of this county.

A sad tragedy occurred at Magnolia on Tuesday. It seems that Ashby Carroll, a boy about 13 years old and employed on the Duplin "record," had been reproved by mother for disobedience, when he went to his room, took a gun, and with the aid of a string placed around the trigger emptied the entire load in his head, killing himself instantly.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC. From and after date my business will be conducted on a strictly CASH basis, and by cash I mean that the money must be paid down when the goods are delivered. Of course in these times of scarce money I must offset my CASH system by a great reduction in price. This I have done. My goods will be sold so low that it will be to a man's interest to sell his produce even at present price in order to get the money to trade at my store. Come and examine my goods and prices. I am anxious to buy cotton and will give the highest price in cash or goods.

Respectfully E. W. FULLER.

THE FARMVILLE INSURANCE AND BANKING COMPANY.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the above company, shows that it is in a prosperous condition, and that the officers have managed it successfully and judiciously. The following figures show the rapid growth of the company in the past four years: 1st. Jan. 1873, $109,096.15; 1st. Jan. 1874, 112,369.66; 1st. Jan. 1875, 218,289.29; 1st. Jan. 1876, 250,716.39. Maj. Chas. Pickett, of Norfolk, Va., is the Gen'l. Agent for this State and Virginia, and Geo. S. Baker, agent for Louisburg and vicinity.

A HANDSOME TROUPE.—Senator Furlong of Mississippi who was a Col. in the Federal army, and now an independent Republican, contributed $50, to the Lee Monument, and in reply to the letter of the secretary of the association, acknowledging the receipt of the donation, makes the following eloquent response: If the Confederate cause had no other merit, it will at least live in all time through the fame of its soldiers, many of whom like Lee, possessed virtues unsurpassed and unsurpassable in the history of mankind, and they, as well as many soldiers of the Union in our late war, have shed new lustre on the American name. Books may be written, but they may be lost and forgotten, monuments may be erected, but they may be defaced and crumble into dust; but the pure glory that surrounds such names as that of Robert E. Lee will survive all existing government and be the common inheritance of all our posterity. If it were possible amidst the stormy ages which are now passing over us that Virginia should lose all place in the history of this country, tradition would still point to that ancient commonwealth and say, "Here flourished a State whose history commenced with a Washington and ended with a Lee."

THE GREAT NATIONAL WORK.

The Centennial History of the United States, from the discovery of the American Continent to the close of the First Century of American Independence. By James D. McCabe Author of "A Manual of General History," "The Great Republican," Etc, Etc.

There has long been a Great and universally-felt want of a History of the United States suitable for general use. This want is now being supplied by The National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, who have issued a handsome volume, styled "The Centennial History of the United States," by James D. McCabe, a well-known historical writer. This work will undoubtedly, take rank as the Standard History of the United States. It is no dry mass of detail—no bombastic effort to inflame the national pride, but is a clear, vivid and brilliant narrative of the events of our history, from the discovery of the American Continent down to the present time. It traces the evidences of that mysterious race, the first occupants of our country, and gives most interesting account of the Indians of North America, from the time of the coming of the white men. The voyages of Columbus, the explorations of the different nations of Europe and the final occupation and conquest of the land by England are told with graphic power.

Every step of our colonial history is traced with patient fidelity, and the source of those noble, and we trust enduring institutions which have made our country free and great, are shown with remarkable clearness. The causes of our great struggle for Independence are told with a logical force and ability unsurpassed in any work of the day. Then follows a clear and succinct account of the formation of the Federal Constitution; the establishment of the Union; the course of affairs until the breaking out of the Second War with England; and a full and comprehensive account of that war and its result. The events of our career from the close of that contest to the commencement of the Civil War, follow in their order. The history of the Civil War is related with intense vigor, and with a scrupulous fidelity to truth. The author proceeds to the cause of no party or section. He states facts, points out the lessons which they teach, and appealing to neither passion nor political feeling, trust to the good sense of his countrymen to sustain his views. The book contains an Appendix, giving an account of the approaching Centennial Exhibition.

It is comprised in one large, handsome octavo volume of 925 pages, and contains 442 illustrations on steel and wood of historical "personage" and "scenery." The price is so low that all can afford to purchase a copy, and each subscriber is presented with a superb lithographic engraving of the Centennial Exhibition Building and grounds. It is sold by subscription only, and the publishers want agents in every county.

OUR PROSPECTUS

FOR 1876. "Saturday Night"

The Best and Brightest of the Weeklies!

CIRCULATION STILL RAPIDLY INCREASING

In making our announcement for the coming year, we refer with great pleasure to the success which has steadily attended all our efforts to keep "SATURDAY NIGHT" far in advance of all competitors.

Last year our circulation increased with great rapidity, and this assurance of the public favor has determined us more than ever to relax no efforts, to spare no money, time, or attention, to make "Saturday Night" the best family paper.

Its Serials will be thrilling! Its Sketches will be entertaining! Its Miscellany will be interesting! Its poetry will be charming!

Nothing will appear in its pages that can offend the religious or political belief of any one.

Tens of thousands of dollars were paid last year to our exclusive corps of writers. In the coming year, which already shows a very large increase in our subscriptions, we shall not only retain all our old and popular writers, but we shall add to our exclusive staff such authors as may prove their claim to popularity and show themselves worthy to write for a paper which holds a proud pre-eminence over all competitors.

It is indeed that we ask a favor of our friends, but it would be a great advantage to us if each one of our readers would readers would draw the attention of some personal friend to the merits of "Saturday Night," and thus aid us in increasing, even more rapidly than at present, our vast circle of subscribers. Sometimes the loan of a single paper, or a word of commendation will succeed in putting a journal where ever afterward it becomes a welcome visitor.

We receive many letters of commendation—thousands of them—and for these we here return our sincere thanks, and request that those who so admire "Saturday Night" will do us the kindness to directly show and recommend it to their acquaintances.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE!

A Magnificent Chromo, in Twenty Different Colors, and 20x36 inches in size, will be presented to every yearly subscriber of three dollars to "Saturday Night."

Every device known in the art of Chromo Printing has been adopted to produce a finer picture than has ever been given as a premium to the subscriber of any paper.

This Chromo is a perfect gem of art. It would easily retail for six or seven dollars. It will cost in many thousands of dollars, which we shall never get back. But never having given a Chromo to our subscribers we determined that when we did so our Chromo should be as good a picture as the best artist could design and the most careful printing execute.

Remember, only those sending Three Dollars for a Yearly Subscription will be entitled to a copy of the Chromo free.

Parties wishing to take "Saturday Night" for a shorter period than one year, can have the paper mailed to them six months for $1.50, or four months for $1.00.

We pay all postage on both papers and Chromos.

THE FOLLOWING ARE OUR CLUB RATES: For $10 we will send four copies for one year to one address, or each separate address.

For $20 we will send eight copies to one address, or each copy to a separate address.

The party who sends us $20 for a club of eight copies (all sent at one time) will be entitled to a copy free.

Getters-up of clubs of eight copies can afterward add single copies at $2.50 each.

Send post Office Orders, for regular monthly letters. Write Name, Town, County, State, plainly.

We will send specimen papers free to any who will send us their address.
