'Mr. Post-office man, I want to pay the postage on this letter" "Single or double, miss?" "Double, Sir"(with a courtesy) "I was married last week."

"My dear,' said Mrs. Bumble to her daughten, "you must have something around you in the carriage." Miss B mentioned the request of her mother to her beau, and he immediately complied with it.

An exchange says : "It is not good taste for young men to stay after ten o'clock when visiting young ladies." Our devil says he never noticed any difference in the taste after ten o'clock He says it's good any time.

The principle of the Thing "Why don't you get down and lead the horse? That is the way to keep warm," said a gentleman to a boy one cold day. 'No,' replied the youth it a "b-b-borrowed horse, and I'll ride him if I freeze !"

A Milwukie widow, on being cautioned by her minister about flirting, said she knew that it was wrong for unmarried ladies to firt, but the Bible was her authority. It said 'widow's mite.' She was flirting awfully at last accounts her minister acknowledging that 'widow's mite'

An exchange gives the following as a sure way to drive bed-bugs from old bedsteads: "Take tomato vines, put them into a basin or tray pound them to pieces as fine as possible, then stain the bedsteads where they inhabit with the juice, fill the crevices with the piece of vine: lay leaves under the ends of the slats." If this is practiced twice a year not a bug will remain in the bedstead. THE ALPHYBET .-- An exchange save that the twenty-six letters of the, al phabet may be transposed 6:0,448,4-01,733,239,439,860,000 times. All the inhabitants of the clobe, by rough calculation, could not in thousand millions of years write out all the transpositions of the twenty-six letters, even supposing that each person write forty pages daily, each of which pages contained no less than forty transpositions of the letters.
