Hides Wanted

At the Holly Brook Tannery to tan on shares. One mile south of Lincolnton.

Grist Mill

At the Holly Brook Tannery. Grinding days: Tuesdays and Fridays. may 11th W. W. COBB.

Col. Wm. Johnston was elected Mayor of Charlotte by 50 votes over Davidson, the former Mayor.

The spelling-mat-h mania has reached town at last, and the orthography of our young ladies and young men was thoroughly tested on Thursday night.

We were shown a few days ago by Mr. J. B. Martin an old coin, unique in appearance and dated in 1746. It bore on its sides the insignia of Julius Caesar.

Capt. C. C. Renshaw.—We are pleased to know that this gentleman and his family have located in our midst. Mr. Renshaw will be a valuable acquisition to our town, and we extend to him a cordial welcome.

An old black woman reciting her "specimen," recently, said she had been to heaven. "Did you see any of de colored ladies dar?" asked a younger sister. "Oh, you git out; you spouse I went in de kitchen when I dar?"

Our young friend, M. Hoke, has for the past two or three days, been leveling the pavements and otherwise beautifying the surroundings about his mother's residence. Mike is a promising young man, and may yet become President of the United States.

Improvements.—Mr. J. B. Martin, of Beatties Ford, has been engaged for some time repainting the Odd Fellows Hall, and the residence of Mr. Thos. Wells and E. W. Cauble. Mr. Martin's artistic style of applying the brush has done much toward beautifying our town.

Personal.—Mr. H. M. Davidson, of Charlotte, one of the best Photographers that ever visited Lincolnton, arrived in our town on Wednesday last, and has opened an Art Gallery in the old Seminary building, room No. 5, second floor. We advise all who want a good picture of their "pliz" to give him a call.

Long Creek Gaston Co.—This old settlement shows signs of improvements from year to year. The lands are evidently better managed and cultivated—the crop of wheat looks well and abundant. It is a very healthy section and the children and young people are numerous. A first class Academy permanently established would certainly be a good thing in this section.

A Lively Place.—Lincolnton is sometimes called a dull place. If you want to see a lively place visit the saw mill and machine shops of E. W. Stubbs. There you will see many hands with coats off and sleeves rolled up plying their different vocations. We were shown through the pattern room not long since by his urbane clerk, Mr. McLean, and noticed patterns of every conceivable shape and design.

One of our oldest farmers who has just returned from Taylorsville, tells us that he has never seen such prospects for an abundant wheat crop all along from Lincolnton to the Catawba river as there is this year. This gentleman has been traveling between this place and Taylorsville for the last twenty years and says he has never seen such prospects for wheat. There are one or two fields that have been slightly injured by the late frosts.

Picnic.—Would it not be well for our different Sabbath Schools to unite sometime in this month and have one grand picnic? We notice that other towns have adopted this plan. Nothing would be more pleasant than to have the children to mingle thus together. Such a gathering would have a tendency to invigorate the different schools represented. Let their teachers arouse themselves to this suggestion, and thereby gladden the hearts of the juveniles.

The remains of Mrs. Nancy Cauble were interred at Salem Camp Ground on Sunday last. A large concourse of admiring friends and relatives paid their last sad tribute of respect to her memory by following her remains to their last resting place. Mrs. Cauble was a consistent member of the Baptist church—a true Christian and a loving mother. Her bereaved husband and children have the sympathy of all, in this, their sad hour of affliction.

Municipal Election.—The election on Monday resulted in a victory for the wet ticket. Whether the gentlemen elected will allow licensed bar-rooms or not remains to be seen. A better Council could not have been elected than the new incumbents—every one of them being eminently worthy of the confidence reposed in them. Maj. A. W. Burton especially will make an officer of the first water. He is a man of quick perception, and his long experience as a lawyer will enable him to devote his business in a manner that will prove satisfactory to all.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Chester and Lenoir Narrow Gauge Railroad will be held at Yorkville on the 12th inst. It is to be hoped that all feeling an interest in the completion of this road will be present. Dr. A. H. Davega, the President, informs us that the work is being rapidly pushed forward at each end, and that its success is only a question of time. The grading is nearly done to Dallas, and soon the sonorous notes of the locomotive will be heard in the town.

I. O. G. T.—Mr. Theo. N. Ramsey lectured on Temperance in the court house on last Saturday night to a small though attentive audience, after which he organized "Aspen Lodge," I. O. G. T. with the following officers:

James M. Templeton, W. C. T.; Miss Bettie James, W. V. T.; William V. Low, W. C.; George L. James, P. W. E. T.; R. H. Templeton, W. S.; Mrs. Sallie James, W. T.; David Hannon, W. M.; Harry Finch, W. J. G.; Robert Houser, W. O. G.; James T. Hannon, L. D.

Mr. Ramsey having concluded his labors in this place, left on Monday for Cherryville, Shelby and Dallas. The Lodge will meet every Monday night.

The South Fork River.—This stream was out of its banks four times during the month of March, and of course people whose lands were overflowed were in great dread of the evil influences so many freshets would have upon the crops to be grown the present season on them. But all is perhaps not so bad as was anticipated, or at least if the next crop shall be injured there is hope for a permanent improvement of the soil if a specimen of the deposit left by the high water on Maj. Caldwell's land and left in our office to be considered any evidence. There were four freshets and the deposit left with us shows distinctly the amount of fertilizer left by each one of them. We hope every person who owns land on this stream has received the permanent benefit that this specimen seems to show.

Carrington's Circus.—This circus is billed to exhibit here shortly, and as it is our business to expose humbugs, we would advise our readers to give it a wide berth, and thus save the price of admission. As a circus it is a failure, there being not a feature about it that is worthy of attention. It is an affair gotten up to make money, and those who are credulous enough to give it their hard-earned money, will sorely repent of it after they witness its would-be entertainments. About six months ago it disbanded in Charlotte, and failing to pay one Hall, an employee, its band wagon was levied on and detained by him. Such is the reputation of this so-called circus, and in order that the unsuspecting will not be taken in by it, we warn them to pass it by, and save the money that it is trying by flaming posters, to take from their pockets. When we look upon these posters it reminds us of a man selling patent medicines—a lot of smoke and no fire; or in other words, many promises and no fulfillment. We would also remind our citizens of the fact, that in order to evade the corporation tax, the blast of this "make-shift" will be out of town. Our citizens should note this fact, and turn a deaf ear to its hand organs.

A Want Supplied.—The subject of health and disease—how to preserve the one and prevent the other—are of paramount importance to every individual. A thorough knowledge of the conditions to be observed in the physical development of man—the avoidance of those evil practices that generate much of the misery to which humanity is heir, and the fulfillment of those duties required for the preservation of those wonderful health-trusts consigned to man by his Creator—should form the basis of a rational education. The American mind is active. It has given us books of fiction for the sentimentalist, learned books for the scholar and professional student, but few books for the people. A book for the people must relate to the subject of universal interest. Such a subject is the physical man, and such a book "The People's Common Sense Medical Advisor," a copy of which has been recently laid on our table. The high professional attainments of its Author—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and the advantages derived by him from an extensive practice, would alone insure for his work a cordial reception. But these are not the merits for which it claims our attention. The Author is a man of the people. He sympathizes with them in all their efforts and attainments. He perceives their want—a knowledge of themselves—and believing that all truth should be made as universal as God's own sunlight, from his fund of learning and experience he has produced a work in which he gives them the benefits of his labors. In it he considers man in every phase of his existence, from the moment he emerges "from a rayless atom, too dimly intuitive for the sight, until he gradually evolves to the maturity of those Conscious Powers, the exercise of which furnishes subjective evidence of our immortality." Proceeding upon the theory that every fact of mind has a physical antecedent, he has given an admirable treatise on Cerebral Physiology, and shown the bearings of the facts thus established upon individual and social welfare. The Author believes with Spencer, that "as vigorous health and its accompanying high spirits are larger elements of happiness than any other things whatever, the teaching how to maintain them is a teaching which has introduced an extensive discussion of the methods by which we may preserve the integrity of the system and oftentimes prevent the onset of disease. Domestic Remedies—their preparation, uses and effects—from a prominent feature of the work. The hygienic treatment, or nursing of the sick, is an important subject and receives attention commensurate with its importance. Nearly all diseases "to which flesh is heir" are described, their symptoms and causes explained, and proper domestic treatment suggested. To reciprocate the many favors bestowed upon him by a generous public, the author offers his book at a price ($1.50) little exceeding the cost of publication. Our readers can obtain this practical and valuable work by addressing the author.

Frankness is the child of honesty and courage. Say just what you mean to do on every occasion, and fake it for granted that you mean to do what is right.

Diad. On Saturday morning, May 1, 1875, after a lingering illness, Mrs. Nancy Cauble, wife of Robert W. Cauble, Esq.

"Death spread his withering wintry arms, And beauty smiles no more, Oh! where are now those rising charms Which pleased our eyes before?"

That once loved form, now cold and dead, Each mournful thought employs, We weep, our love from earth has fled, And withered all our joys.

Hope looks beyond the bounds of time, When, what we now deplore, Shall rise in full immortal prime And bloom to fade no more."
